

MOHAVE COUNTY MINES ARE ACTIVE

(Mohave County Miner.)

At the C. O. D. mine, Thursday morning last, the shift on the 200 foot level broke into the old works. When the drill broke through the water spouted out under such pressure that it knocked down one of the miners and rolled him over on the floor of the drift, but did not cause any injury. The pumps are handling the water nicely and it will not be long until the old works to the 200 foot level are drained. Splendid ore was found throughout the new ground and the ore in the breast of the east drift gave nearly two ounces in gold. The company has a car of ore on the way to the smelter that is expected to give better results than the shipment sent out a month ago. All second class ore will be left on the dump to be later handled by the mill.

Charles J. Hutchison was in Kingman this week from the Expansion mines, bringing with him a bar of bullion from a cleanup of twelve tons of ore that had been run through the new mill as a test. The saving was over $9 to the ton and the bullion was clean and nice. Mr. Hutchison is well satisfied with the result of the first run and believes the mines of the Expansion company will become the largest producers in the county. A much larger mill is needed on the property and it is probable that this will be forthcoming.

Work on the Cyclopic mine is said to be progressing rapidly and it will not be long until the main shaft will have reached the depth of 300 feet. The Cyclopic vein is large and carries fine values in gold. With greater depth it is the opinion that enough water will be encountered to supply the demands of any milling plant than can be put in. These mines are situated in the upper part of Gold Basin and in one of the best localities in that rich section.

J. P. Jacobs and P. H. Smith of Kingman, accompanied by J. N. Blair of Portland, Ore., visited the old placer mines in the Chemehuevi valley this week. It was expected that G. O. Hart, Will F. Spencer and W. McKean of Portland would also make an examination of the properties, but they arrived too late to join the expedition. Mr. Blair was well pleased with the appearance of the great bodies of semi-concreted placer, but the intense heat of that section precluded an extensive examination. The gentlemen will later visit the mines with an engineer and sample a large section, which is now held under location by Jacobson, Hedberg and others. If the ground is taken over by the Portland interests a great plant will be put to handle the millions of tons of rich deposits. Mr. Spencer, who was to examine the property, is interested in the sale of a large acreage of placer ground in the Altar district of Sonora, Mexico, which was recently purchased by capitalists of Spokane.

William Bennett and John A. Steele recently bonded to J. H. Engler and C. P. Topliff of Los Angeles, their three copper claims and two mill sites and water rights in the south end of the Chemehuevi Mountains. This week, S. J. Haynes and associates, of Los Angeles, located ten claims surrounding the Engler and Topliff properties, and it is understood that a consolidation of interests will soon be effected. Work on the group is to be commenced about the 1st of October, or as soon as weather conditions permit. Assays from the ore run from 5 per cent copper to 15 per cent, and also carries values in gold and silver.

Kean St. Charles visited the Mid-night mine at Chloride, last Tuesday, remaining over until Thursday. He is sinking a winze on the ore body on the 100 foot level and expects to exploit the rich body of ore into new ground. Heretofore the boys have been making a search through the big vein from the 200 foot level, and while they have cut much ore of a milling grade they have not cut into the rich shipping ore encountered above. By sinking on the ore body the development of the mine will be expedited. The vein is said to be in the neighborhood of 200 feet wide and in such a great mass of vein matter it is advisable to at all times keep on the rich ore shoot.

ARIZONA GUARD AFTER HIGHER HONORS

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Adjutant General Coggins of the National Guard of Arizona, issued an order, a few days ago, designating the officers and men who are to go to Fort Huachuca to compete in the matches for the selection of a team to represent Arizona at the national shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, in August. Those who are qualified to enter the tryout at Fort Huachuca are credited with records made of 80 per cent and over on the home ranges. Those from the several companies of the Guard are:

Staff—Major Carl T. Hayden, Phoenix; First Lieutenant Horatio G. Coykendall, Prescott; Second Lieutenant Caris Sigala, Phoenix; Sergeant Major Charles R. Plice, Phoenix.

Troop A, Morenci—Corporal Jesse J. Pascoe.

Company A, Phoenix—Second Lieutenant Albert D. Leyhe; First Sergeant Thomas L. Edens, Private Herbert Young.

Company B, Phoenix—Captain Earl W. Hill, First Lieutenant Lyman D. LaTourette, Sergeant George W. Peterson, Corporal Walter E. Milligan.

Company C, Tempe—Captain William H. Woolf, First Lieutenant Charles W. Harris, First Sergeant Fred J. Fogal, Sergeant John Mullen, Sergeant Edgar C. Hitchcock, Sergeant Robert A. Woolf.

Company E, Prescott—Corporal C. M. Lyons.

Company H, Yuma—Second Lieutenant Henry G. Brady, Sergeant John Baker.

Company I, Flagstaff — Sergeant Charles Nickell.

Company K, Tucson—Second Lieutenant Millard G. Seeley, Quartermaster Sergeant Albert B. Cox.

Company L, Yuma—Sergeant John Furst.

Company M, Florence—Captain James E. McGee.

Lieutenant Coykendall and Corporal Lyons, who left Prescott yesterday for the southern shooting ground, were very enthusiastic over the coming rifle contest, and both state that they will endeavor this year to secure Arizona a higher rating than made in any previous tournaments. The National Guard of Arizona is now at the top of Class C. At the national shoot last year their skill outclassed Wyoming, Kansas, Rhode Island, North Dakota, Mississippi, Utah, Virginia, South Carolina, Nebraska, Florida, Montana, South Dakota, New Mexico, Arkansas, Idaho, the United States Naval Academy and Louisiana.

Lieutenant Coykendall also said that the public does not appreciate the disadvantages the Arizona National Guard labors under in this national shooting event, mentioning the one single instance that in the selection of twenty-five men as the maximum strength of one state team, New York has over 14,000 members to draw on, while Arizona has less than 600. The same ratio will prevail with other states, and while not as much of a handicap as in the case of New York, it will range to nearly the same.

The Arizona team last year made accordingly, a remarkable record, and from the constant practice indulged in since then, it is believed that the Arizona riflemen will reach Class B easily at the coming shoot.

It is understood that a deal has been made on the Blue Mary mine, sixteen miles easterly from Yucca, by which Los Angeles men take over the property and will soon be at work on development. The mines are owned by J. J. Jerome and Mrs. Edna Steen. Recently a fine streak of ore was opened in the property, and it is proposed to sink a shaft to a depth below the change and develop the mine to a considerable extent. The vein is a large one and the indications are that great bodies of ore will be found at depth. Frank L. Mahoney came in from the Alpha mine a few days ago and reported that in driving the lower tunnel on the property ahead some good copper-lead ore was encountered. Mr. Mahoney and Dan Hanly have taken a contract to drive the tunnel ahead 400 feet and raise to a connection with old shaft from the surface. It is expected that a great body of ore will be found on the lower tunnel level, as it is probable that it will cut the old ore body below the water level.

TALENTED YOUNG WOMAN DIES IN SAN DIEGO

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Miss Leora Czarnowski, the beautiful and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Czarnowski, passed away at the family residence, 208 Cleveland avenue, San Diego, Cal., at 9 o'clock, on Wednesday, July 20th, after a six weeks' illness, of nervous prostration.

Miss Czarnowski possessed a charming personality and gifted mind. She was a member of Senior B class in the Normal school, her brilliance and lovable disposition endearing her to all. She held a high place in the social and musical circles of San Diego.

The family resided in Congress Junction, this county, many years, where Mr. Czarnowski was heavily interested in mines.

Miss Leora grew into womanhood there and went from the district school to the Tempe Normal and later, with the family, removed to San Diego.

The passing of so promising a young woman at the age of 18 years will be a shock to her legion of friends, who extend their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

He brings the news that the Republicans of Santa Cruz county have prevailed upon Bruce Curtis of Nogales to accept the nomination for delegate to the Constitutional convention. It is expected that the Democrats will nominate Frank J. Duffy, who represented Santa Cruz in the last legislature.

PITCH PLAYERS FOUND NOT GUILTY

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Yesterday the long deferred trial of C. H. Shepard and Joe Webb, both of whom are accused of violating the anti-gambling laws of the Territory, was held in the District Court room, before Justice of the Peace McLane. A jury of six was entrusted with the case and after a few minutes' deliberation, a verdict of not guilty was returned.

The basis of the charge was founded on the accused being found engaged in a game of "pitch" in the rooms of the Manhattan Club on South Granite street, the stakes being beer and a small side bet in coin, 25 cents being the size of the individual stakes. No reference was made in the charge toward running any game, and none was proven. Both men are colored and the place where they were arrested is the "swell" resort of local Afro-Americans.

LeRoy Anderson represented the accused and P. W. O'Sullivan, the assistant district attorney, looked after the interests of the Territory. The case attracted much interest among the negro element.
