Last week the board of equalization sorely wounded the feelings of numerous self-asserted paupers by informing them that they were rich enough to pay taxes.

Saturday night's picture show catastrophe in the East is added proof that the best place for the fool that rocks the boat, the unloaded gun idiot and the maniac who cries "Fire" in a crowded theater, is the state asylum for the insane.

Watch the next report of the Western Union and see if you can notice the profits made by the company on the Arizona Statehood fight? "How much commission are you getting, Brady?"

Unfeeling comment has been made that the rope of the court house bell fell a victim to the exuberance of the statehood jollification enthusiasts on the 21st of August. If the rope had not given way, let us hope that the bell would have suffered the same glorious fate which befell the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia on the night of the Fourth of July, 1776.

THE UNDESERVED

A Chicago man the other day refused to permit his son to reenter the home which he had left in a rebellious rage, on the ground that his son didn't deserve a good reception at the hands of his father, whom he had treated outrageously.

Perhaps not. There are frequent cases of runaway sons and daughters who are declaimed against by irate and sorely-trying fathers and mothers, with usual accompaniments of disinheritance and the threat to disown such prodigals as members of the family.

Now there is often reason for thinking that the runaway son has something to say on his side of the case. On the face of it, a man who will disclaim his own son proclaims his failure to make a good citizen of him, and thereby discounts heavily his indignation. Any man who will disown his own child gives ground for suspicion that the child probably had some good reason for getting out from under when he did.

But suppose that the fault is entirely that of the son—or daughter, which is sometimes the case. What then? Who among us can stand on his own record and refuse to give to other men any more than their bare deserts? Is there a man in Prescott who has never received anything that he was not entitled to because of his own worth? What sort of a world would it be if the rain fell only on the acres of the just? Pretty much desert, probably, and the man who sets out to live by the hard and fast balance of what is owing and deserved, is going to run up against a pretty hard reckoning in his own case. And it is not a very good plan to start out to disown and disclaim any one else until we get out of the skylight houses ourselves.

PRESCOTT RAINS

During the session of the board of equalization the reason why it rains in Prescott and not in Yuma and Needles formed an interesting piece of testimony.

Clouds containing 90 per cent of moisture rise from the Gulf of California, are uplifted by the San Bernardino mountains and driven by the prevailing winds into Arizona.

The heat which rises from the desert around Yuma and Needles causes these clouds to expand and ascend to a higher air stratum. This stratum is about a mile above sea level and when clouds in this stratum, which is the same altitude as the city of Prescott, reach Yavapai they come in contact with the cooling breezes, condense and give us our valuable summer rains.

YAVAPAI'S AREA

Some idea of the great area of Yavapai county can be derived from contemplation of the figures which were brought out during the trials of the land assessment of the Santa Fe railroad and the owners of the Baca land grant, before the board of equalization last week.

The 300,000 acres owned by the railroad company in Yavapai, if consolidated into one block would make a rectangle 36 miles long and 12 miles wide. The Baca grant of 100,000 acres is a single parcel of grazing and timber land 12 1/4 miles square.

Taken together these two parcels make a total of 400,000 acres, or exactly one-half the total area of one of the thirteen original states, Rhode Island. (1,250 square miles).

Arizona is approximately 390 miles north and south and 350 miles east and west. Which all goes to show that when the infant state grows to manhood it will be one of the most powerful states in the Union.

Notwithstanding the adage, "that every dog has his day," The Job Chasers Union selected Saturday night—and it rained.

GIRAND INSPECTS SURVEYS FOR HIGHWAY

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Territorial Engineer Girand has just completed a two days' trip over the territorial road running south from Prescott. He inspected the work of the two surveying parties now in the field laying out the road which will in time connect Prescott and Phoenix.

Contracts for the building of some of the heavier sections of the proposed road will be let by the Board of Equalization, at Phoenix, on the 31st of this month. Those sections where there is now no road whatsoever will receive attention first. One of the heaviest sections of all is that over and around Mount Union.

Within six months a good road will be thrown open to traffic which will connect Prescott and Phoenix. Other sections of the road will be built during the next year and the completed territorial highway between Prescott and Phoenix will in all probability be finished in time for the 1913 Territorial fair.

The Social Mirror

The marriage of Miss Mabel Norris and Burt H. Leonard was quietly celebrated at the home of the bride's parents Saturday evening. Only the closest relatives and a few friends witnessed the ceremony. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will reside in Wichita Falls, Texas in their pretty home which is in readiness for the happy couple. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Mr. Reid, of the Congregational Church. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Norris was very beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion in pink and white asters. The wedding march was composed by a classmate of Miss Norris, who is a graduate of Smith's College, and was composed for the play, "Much Ado About Nothing." The attractive bride was attired in an exceptionally handsome gown of French batiste elaborately trimmed with point de Venice lace and veil. Miss Norris' only attendant was Miss Lila Hawkins who was most becomingly gowned in white marquisette over chiffon. Mr. Frank Emerson, of Peoria, Illinois, assisted as best man. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served to just the family and Mrs. J. C. Herndon and Miss Florence Herndon. Few young ladies have more real friends than Miss Norris therefore one and all are sending their congratulations and wishing her the greatest possible happiness. Mr. Leonard, too, has hosts of friends who are sending their sincerest wishes for his future happiness. And presents! There's a wonderful display which has been sent to the interesting couple by their loyal friends.

The brilliant reception and dance that Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Josile, and the Messrs. Charles C. Miller, Jr. and George W. Miller gave Monday evening at the Yavapai Club in honor of Miss Mabel Norris and Mr. Burt H. Leonard was an elaborate affair and was quite the society event of the week. The club was elaborately decorated in white and gold—the hall room was festooned with white and gold streamers, and the lights were all covered with the same colors. The orchestra was hidden behind an arbor of white and gold from which hung large bunches of grapes, and here and there were cupids and hearts. The card room was decorated as a cozy corner and in this room those who did not dance enjoyed a card game. In one corner of the card room punch was served from behind a grape arbor. The dining room, where a delicious menu was served was also decorated in the same color scheme, and each table held a large bouquet of golden glow. Those invited to this most enjoyable affair were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Aitken, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Aitken, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, Miss Alice Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Blain, Miss Eunice Revell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brisley, Mr. A. D. Barnhart, Lieutenant David O. Byars, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Block, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Lieutenant and Mrs. Samuel T. Mackall were dinner hosts on Sunday evening at a very prettily appointed dinner. The center piece was a large fern and silken pink shaded candelabrum. Lieutenant and Mrs. Mackall had as their guests Mrs. P. M. B. Travis, Miss Ruth Oliver, Miss Harriet Jean Oliver, Captain John K. Miller, and Lieutenants William E. Hall, Rowan P. Lemly, Meryl P. Schillerstrom and David O. Byars.

Miss Mabel Norris and Mr. Burt H. Leonard were the honored guests on Wednesday evening when Miss Olive Fisher was a dinner hostess. Fragrant American beauty roses and pink shaded candelabrum ornamented the table around which were seated Mrs. Harry R. Trittle, Miss Mabel Norris, Miss Lila Hawkins, Miss Hazel Catherwood, Miss Theresa Fredericks, Miss Florence Herndon, Miss Winifred Fredericks and the Messrs. Burt H. Leonard, Frank Emerson, C. A. Peter, Jr., David W. Russell, Robert K. Porter, Fred C. Moore, and Lieutenants Meryl P. Schillerstrom and David O. Byars.

Mrs. J. C. Herndon entertained at a handsome dinner on Monday complimentary to Miss Mabel Norris and Mr. Burt H. Leonard. Masses of pink and white asters were used effectively in the table decorations, and the other decorative accessories were in tones of pink. Covers were laid for Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. Thomas G. Norris, Mrs. Mabel Norris, Miss Lila Hawkins, Miss Olive Fisher,

HONORED PIONEER CLAIMED BY DEATH

H. H. Cartter, Who Filled Many Public Offices With Credit, Succumbs To Paresis After Long Illness

(From Tuesday's daily)

After an illness of many years due to paresis, H. H. Cartter, one of the best known of residents of this city, and one of its most worthy citizens, has passed away, telegrams from Phoenix yesterday afternoon conveying this sad information. The death of this well known pioneer will be learned with sorrow, taking away as it does one of the most exceptional of men in official integrity of other days, and one of the most worthy citizens. In the hope that a change of climate might effect a desired change for the better, he was taken to the lower elevation a few years ago, but the progress of his affliction had reached that stage as to baffle any relief. Mr. Cartter was a man of exceptional ability, and so far as his public life is to be considered, he had a record in serving the people of this county that excites admiration when his past is recalled, and his purity of purpose is unveiled. For nearly twenty-seven years he was in office, and unlike the average public man of today, the office sought him, instead of the reverse being the rule. From sheriff, and Miss Lila Hawkins was a dinner hostess on Friday evening at a very charmingly appointed dinner in honor of Miss Mabel Norris and Mr. Burt H. Leonard. Miss Hawkins had as her guests Miss Mabel Norris, Miss Hazel Catherwood and the Messrs. Burt H. Leonard, Frank Emerson and Charles C. Miller, Jr.

One of the enjoyable events of the week was the picnic supper Thursday evening. Those taking part in this affair were Miss Mabel Norris, Miss Hazel Catherwood, Miss Florence Herndon, Miss Lila Hawkins, and the Messrs. Burt H. Leonard, Frank Emerson, David W. Russell and Robert K. Porter.

Tuesday evening Miss Mabel Norris entertained a few friends in honor of her guest Miss Hazel Catherwood, of Chicago. Miss Norris had as her guests Miss Theresa Fredericks, Miss Ruth Dutro, Miss Helen Meany, Miss Winifred Fredericks, Miss Erma Lane, Miss Emma Dutcher, Miss Lila Hawkins and the Messrs. George Glass, Russell Mickleson, Walter Mickleson, Robert K. Porter, Leslie C. Derrick, C. A. Peter, Jr., Gordon Fetterman, Frank Emerson, Burt H. Leonard, David W. Russell, Jack Nelson and Charles C. Miller, Jr.

Twenty ladies enjoyed the gracious hospitality of Mrs. J. S. Acker, on Saturday afternoon. The ever-popular game of five hundred was enjoyed and a dainty luncheon, in which the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Nydia. To Mrs. C. H. McLane fell the honor of high score and she was awarded a hand-painted brass tablet. Mrs. Flinn scored for slams and received a hand-painted Haviland dessert plate. The guests were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. E. H. Meek, Mrs. Milton Tregellis, Mrs. C. M. Raible, Mrs. O. H. Tucker, Mrs. Milnes, Mrs. C. H. McLane, Mrs. G. N. Hoffman, Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Aila Love, Mrs. C. C. Keeler, Mrs. J. B. Tomlinson, Mrs. W. H. Timerhoff, Miss Wilkie, Mrs. Flinn, Mrs. Nelson and Miss Ellinger.

Mrs. O. H. Tucker is entertaining her friend, Miss Ellinger, of Topeka, Kansas, who is en route to California. Miss Lila Hawkins, Miss Hazel under sheriff, to clerk of the district court, probate judge, county recorder, treasurer and assistant treasurer, member of and clerk of the board of supervisors, he was called to duty not only once, but many times. In all, he filled every office in the county at one time or another, within the gift of the people or by appointment. A beautiful tribute of his official life can be pointed to without a flaw to dim his record, in that a suspicion or doubt as to his integrity was never even intimated. He was true to every trust, and his conscientious regard for the public welfare is firmly cemented behind a record that is without a blemish. He was strong with the people and his record made him a favorite for anything within their gift.

Mr. Cartter came to Prescott in the late sixties with his father, one of the most learned of lawyers, who passed away in later years after attaining a popularity that won for him, like his son afterward, a splendid name. The news of the death of Mr. Cartter will be received with sorrow by all and particularly so the Hassayamper, who knew him best.

Catherwood and Mr. Frank Emerson will leave today for a few days' visit at the Grand Canyon.

Miss Emily Daniel has returned home after a month's vacation spent at the Yellowstone Park and other points of interest.

Mrs. William H. Doyle and son Laird, have returned home from Buffalo, where they have been the guests of relatives for several months.

Mrs. Robert H. Burmister has returned home from several months' visit in Ocean Park.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McClung arrived in Prescott Saturday and will be the guests of Mrs. McClung's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Drake, for a few weeks before returning to their home in Phoenix.

Mrs. John K. Miller is spending a month at the Presidio of Monterey, where she is the guest of her sister Mrs. Edwin Bracken.

The Misses Annie Murphy and Kathryn Hickey are the guests of Miss Elizabeth Smith in Jerome this week.

PHOENIX LAWYER SUCCUMBS TO CANCER

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Edward A. Marshall, an attorney of Phoenix, passed away yesterday morning at Mercy hospital from a cancerous affliction of the stomach. With his wife and family he was spending the summer at Iron Springs, coming for the benefit of failing health. His condition became alarming a few days ago, and he was brought to the city for medical treatment, which proved unavailing. He had been a resident of Arizona for about six years and was highly regarded in his profession. He was 52 years old and a native of Charleston, S. C. The remains will be taken to Phoenix for interment.

MORE TIGER BULLION

(From Thursday's Daily)

The Prescott National Bank yesterday reported the receipt of another bar of gold bullion from the Tiger Gold company in the Bradshaws, valued at $1000. This is one of the regular semi-weekly shipments from that property, which in production is exceeding at present all former records. A large shipment of concentrates was also made. Twenty-stamps are dropping day and night, while the ore tonnage exposed assures steady operations for many months.
