City News ...In Brief

PHOENIX.

Will Use Pumped Water.
Satisfied, now, apparently with government pumped water for their lands, the Indians of the Gila River reservations have requested the reclamation service through Mr. Thackeray, agent at Sacaton, to complete immediately the project which was left unfinished last spring. Director Newell of the United States reclamation service left yesterday for Sacaton to look over the ground, taking with him Engineer R. E. Peabody of the Salt River valley force, who will examine the work and report an estimate on the completion of the project. The work now done includes seven pumps, finished, a well, canal and some laterals extending from the canal to the land lines of the Indians.

The fact the Indians are asking for the pump project does not necessarily mean they have given up hope of getting the San Carlos dam and reservoir. They still hope for that with a tenacious hope; but they also see the necessity of finishing the wells and canal lines so the floods of the river can be supplemented by clear water. The objection to the pumped water on the ground it contains salt in sufficient quantity to destroy the crops seems to have been forgotten, though there was a strong fight made before the congressional investigation committee on that matter last spring.

Was He Drunk?

Reading the report of Dr. A. C. Kingsley, superintendent of the state asylum for the insane, and issued by the board of control as its December bulletin, Carlos Romero was arrested last evening suspected of being drunk. Careful investigation of the prisoner when he reached the jail, failed to reveal the odor of red wine on his breath and while the charge was not lifted, there is a suspicion that some other influence than whisky may have turned his head.

Romero was seated upon the Santa Fe tracks, when the policeman who later arrested him have in sight. The officer paused and overheard words that sounded something like this: "It is the general belief that insanity, the most fearful affliction that besets humanity, is a hopeless condition and one in which prevention is of no value." The English of Romero was not good but the policeman understood and started in amazement.

When he revived from the first shock the apparently intoxicated man was reading something which sounded like "and many a person would be restored to health without having been committed to an asylum." There was a shudder noticeable spreading over Romero's frame as he quoted "From 30 to 35 per cent of insanity is directly or indirectly caused by alcohol or drugs." Then he turned a page and found where it says "Hard work never caused a nervous breakdown, only when one undertakes work that is beyond his mental or physical capacity is serious harm done." And when he came to the line "Worry is quite an important factor of some forms of insanity," he fell in a heap muttering "That I should worry and get wrinkles?" and then the patrol wagon rounded the corner and the man and the report were bundled off to the police station.

Cattlemen Want More Laws.
The cattlemen of Arizona are going to take a determined effort during the sessions of the next legislature to have a number of matters of importance to the cattle business attended to, and a number of remedial laws passed. These matters are now in the hands of the legislative committee of the Arizona Cattle Growers association and will be drafted into such shape as will permit them to be submitted to the legislature at least for discussion if not for actual passage. Many of them will also be submitted to Governor Hunt so that he may embody them into his call as subjects for the especial attention of the legislators.

DOUGLAS.

Big Cattle Deals.
William Riggs, member of the board of supervisors, and a large cattle dealer of the Sulphur Springs valley, is here today closing a big cattle deal which will involve the sale of about 6,000 head of cattle. Mr. Riggs stated that owing to the high price of cattle the ranchers would not place their stock on the market, therefore there was a great shortage and this was the largest sale, if it went through, for this year in the Sulphur Springs Valley.

Cattlemen From Texas.
R. A. Morris, a prominent cattle man from Amarillo, Tex., accompanied by his wife, is here looking over the cattle market and making purchases for his ranches in Texas. Mr. Morris says that the cattle market is higher now than it ever has been in the last 20 years, and that there is very little stock on the market in this vicinity.

He has several big deals on here which he expects to close in a few days, but refuses at the present time to give any of the details. He expects to be here for about a week before he returns home.

Poor Marksman.
Tuck Potter, a Sulphur Springs rancher, arrived in the city yesterday morning and told of a narrow escape from death which he had undergone but a few days previous. According to Potter, he was driving a team to Jim Hunt's ranch where he had some business to transact. On reaching a thicket near the place, he heard a rifle shot and a bullet whizz just over his head. This was followed by two more in rapid succession and turning about he saw a Mexican with a rifle pointed at him just in the act of shooting once more. At this point Potter alleges, his horses ran away with him and two more bullets whizzed by his head.

TUCSON.

Town is Growing.
The total value of buildings in Tucson, whose erection was begun in the year just closed, amounted to $207,753, according to the records of permits. This was $41,621 more than in 1911. If the $65,000 passenger station of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, which is projected, but for which a permit has not been taken out, is added, the total is $272,753, or $106,621 more than the preceding year.

The permits issued during December totalled $19,545. This included the $13,000 shops of the Southern Pacific. Mrs. J. K. Shahan took out a permit for a $3500 residence on south Fourth avenue and S. H. Brewster a permit for a $2000 residence on Sixth avenue.

Will Build Fine Homes.
One of the largest land deals recently made in farm lands in the immediate vicinity of Tucson has just been closed through the purchase of 500 acres of the Knapp and Benedict ranches, located on the Oracle road, 3 1/2 miles north of the city, by Nathan Kendall and William A. Talcott, son of Wait Talcott of Rockford, Ill.

These purchasers expect to improve the tract and to erect two of the finest homes in this section of the country. The entire tract will be put under cultivation and irrigation.

Road Fund Shrinking.
Scarcely more than $10,000 will be available from the state fund for the construction of highways in Pima county, according to the latest advices received by J. W. Estill, member of the board of supervisors. It was supposed last summer that $17,000 would be the share of Pima county.

Woodpile Pays.
It is estimated that the city saved between $200 and $300 by substituting a "city wood pile" for the chain gang, according to City Recorder Sowan. The bill for the wood that has kept violators of city ordinances busy for several months came yesterday and it was only $15. The recorder estimated that to have bought wood and hired laborers to cut it up would have cost between $200 and $300.

"It has not only been economy for the city," said the recorder, "but it has furnished splendid exercise for the prisoners and I believe that the man who has wielded an axe on a knotted section of mesquite will think twice before he commits an act that will send him back to the wood pile."

The city has a large supply of wood, enough to last all the winter and when it is split finely it makes splendid fuel, though a free American would not cut the wood for what it is worth. Chance remarks dropped by prisoners indicate that tramps as far east as Chicago and as far west as San Francisco know of the municipal wood pile, perhaps by letter or word of mouth from those who have served time here cutting wood.

ASK CHURCH FOR AID.
SALT LAKE, Jan. 2.—A committee consisting of Junius Rummy, H. S. Harris and O. P. Brown, representing Mormon refugees from Mexico applied to the church for financial assistance for establishing a Mormon colony in Texas.

HER FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE

The Results Made This Newburg Lady Glad She Followed Suggestion.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothrum, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a sallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief. A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited. I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women."

Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old. Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the woman's constitution.

Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength. Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.
