

SOUL MATE QUEST BY ADVERTISING WRECKS TWO

Coconino Girl Objects To Husband Who Won't Use Water.

WILLIAMS, June 30.—"A busted Sunday honeymoon, or the romance of a want ad. marriage," is the title of Miss Margaret Benninghoff, a comely young woman late of Detroit, but now a guest of the home of Sam Miller, adjoining Williams on the west, has in mind for a short story she is contemplating writing and submitting to Editor Bok of the Ladies Home Journal for the advice to girls column.

Legally Miss Benninghoff is Mrs. Arthur Young. Coldly Miss Benninghoff that was, and who is determined to be again, asserts she is the victim of one of the most clever letter writers in the country. "My romance ended when Arthur, I mean Mr. Young, refused to take a bath just after we were married at the Rouseville ranch a week ago Sunday," declared Mrs. Young. It was shattered into bits when he refused to even wash his hands and face, or if he did I discovered no evidence he had even made a stab at it. The romance crumbled into dust and ashes when I discovered half an inch of dandruff in his hair and he disdainfully refused to listen to a suggestion of a remedy.

"It's a case of two people being mismatched," is the way Young explains matters. "I guess Miss Benninghoff and I were looking for soul mates through a half and half conventional channel and trusted too much in a want ad."

The woman in the case is about to bring suit for annulment of the marriage through Attorney George W. Harben, of Williams. Young declares he will make no contest as he has no desire to coerce any woman into wifely duties against her will.

"Evidently we both made a mistake and the best way out of it is the quickest way," said Young.

It all began when a friend of Miss Benninghoff who married a resident of Arizona returned to Detroit for a visit and told a glowing story of the romantic State and its stalwart, romantic men.

"The description of my friend surely got my goat," said Mrs. Young, who is seemingly not at all downcast, over her shattered romance. "In a spirit of fun I wrote to the sheriff of Coconino county, telling him if he ran across any fine young man out this way who wanted a good housekeeper for a wife, to tell him to write to me. Instead of doing so he put a want ad in the paper. Well, I got replies enough to that ad, but none of the letter's were like Arthur's. Nice name, too, Arthur Young, and he sure knows how to peddle the bull, as you people out here say, on letter paper. I didn't have a chance after his first letter. He told me to wire collect whenever I felt like it, and say, I was so tickled to death with the thought I was getting a real prince I let them collect—at my end.

"Well when I got here and saw him—I had a lot of misgivings all right, but I was told if we weren't married right away the white slavery probers might get me, so Judge Rouseville pronounced the fatal word. I made up my mind to make the best of it, but it wasn't one hour after we were married I knew I was trying to face the impossible. I can put up with the ugliest man on earth, if he is a man, but there are some things a woman cannot tolerate. It's all over and I have fallen in love with the country. Just to think of it—I was looking for a tall pine of Coconino, like some of those cattlemen and others described themselves. It was just like some moving pictures I have seen."

ELOPING WIFE AND HUSBAND RECONCILED.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 28.—Five minutes after Mrs. Elsie Warnsdorfer, 27 years old, eloping wife of Joseph Warnsdorfer, a wealthy farmer of New Brunswick, N. J., told Assistant Chief of Detectives Schmidt she "never wanted to see Joe" again, her husband, who had been waiting in another room, entered. A reconciliation followed. Warnsdorfer yesterday arrived in St. Louis with Detective Ferguson.

His wife two weeks ago eloped with Francis M. Erwin, 26 years old, a contractor of Milltown, N. J. They were arrested Tuesday evening in a Kirkwood hotel. Erwin today will be taken to New Jersey to answer a charge of wife abandonment. He left his wife and four small children destitute, the police say.

LOOP COURSE IS RECOGNIZED BY THE A. A. A.

Time Made in Race On The 5th of July Will Be Official.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
The famous Loop route of the Prescott Auto Club wins the distinction of being rated as a professional racing course hereafter of the Auto Association of America, a telegram from Phoenix on Sunday giving this forty-four mile strip that distinction.

With that consideration, it will enjoy in the future a professional rating among drivers of autos in any racing event and the time made will be carried on the record books of that organization. The matter was hurried through a few days ago by George Purdy Bullard, of Phoenix, the Arizona representative of the national organization, in order that the coming auto races might have certain professional drivers participate. "Bill" Tremaine, accordingly will be permitted to drive his car, and it is said has expressed a willingness to enter. Other drivers in the same class are also to come to Prescott on the fifth to drive their cars and without infringement on the strict regulations which would have placed the Loop races in the amateur class.

General Bullard telegraphed Sunday that he would send from Phoenix a man to log the route and measure it, and the profile would be filed with the national organization and duly recorded. County Road Superintendent Clark has a force of men employed on the road and the track will be in fine condition for the race that is now scheduled for the morning of the fifth. He also will drive a Studebaker roadster, owned by D. C. Kayser, of the Prescott Auto Company. Another car that is being put in condition is the Pope-Hartford owned by Robert Young, which made its first appearance yesterday stripped and ready for the race. The driver as yet has not been announced.

Divorces Outnumber The Marriage Licenses During June.

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Mrs. Lillie Hill was given a decree of divorce yesterday in the Superior Court from S. P. Hill after somewhat of a spirited and lengthy contest, her attorney being R. P. Talbot and James Loy representing the husband. By the judgment rendered in her favor, Mrs. Hill retains the custody of the four minor children and the husband was ordered to provide for them at the rate of $10 each per month, payment to begin on July 1 and continue on that day of every succeeding month. This obligation was emphatically imposed upon the defendant to be complied with on the stated days.

When the divorce case of Hattie M. Schulze vs. August F. Schulze was called from the calendar the attorney for the plaintiff created some amusement by stating that his client had failed to "show up" and he was now in ignorance of where she was residing or what her disposition might be as to taking the legal action she was "warmed up" to instituting some months ago. Schulze against Schulze was then ordered dismissed by the court.

Another mismatched couple presumably some time ago was C. F. Biehl and Bessie Biehl. This case also went the same route as the case above, when a dismissal was ordered. June, as the month of brides, however, closed auspiciously when Cupid had the last say, by John Kimetich asking for a marriage license from Clerk Farley, his bride-to-be being Annie Starishnich, and both reside in Humboldt.

A poll of the records of the Superior Court shows about an even break for the month on marriage and divorces, the latter coming under the official wire one to the good.

OPEN AIR DANCE A FEATURE OF CELEBRATION

Young and Old Can Enjoy Themselves Without Charge.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
From a pleasure standpoint, the open-air dance on the plaza Saturday night of the Frontier Day celebration will eclipse anything in its line that has taken place in this city in many years, as well will it fittingly close the great three days' event. The laying of the platform of 52x75 feet begins today and will occupy Cortez street, beginning at the corner of Gurley, on the plaza, with a float especially reserved for the orchestra of ten pieces. "Jack" Jones, an authority on the dance, will personally conduct this novel feature, and has revived the old country quadrille, the memorable Virginia reel and all the other old-time "hoe downs" that are billed on the program, and which will not be deviated from under any circumstances. There will be plenty of two-steps and waltzes, in short there is to be a varied program to meet all requirements, from the youth of the day to the old-timer of the past. To add to the attraction of that evening, there will be no admittance cards issued and not a penny is to be asked to get onto the floor and dance to the heart's content.

BUYER SECURES BETTER PRICE ON SECOND SALE

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
Quite a heavy cattle deal was closed at Walnut Grove a few days ago, when M. H. Campbell sold to Joe Roderick, of Phoenix, for the sum of $25,000 all his range rights and live stock in that locality. Included in the transaction is certain personal property and several horses. Within a short time after acquiring the Campbell interests Roderick disposed of the same at an advance of $5,000 over the price he paid, Harry S. Knight being the second buyer. Another important range transaction that was closed in this city yesterday was the sale by Arthur Heath, of Camp Verde, to Edward Wingfield of a band of several hundred head of cattle, carrying half a dozen different brands, the number and the price paid, however, being withheld in the deed filed for record during the day.

THE PROPER PLACE.
Mr. and Mrs. William Bertram, whose marriage was recently solemnized in Phoenix, are now in Prescott to enjoy their honeymoon in the finest climate on this earth, and were greeted yesterday by many friends. The groom is an electrician of the Capital city, while his bride was formerly a resident of Prescott, and will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Hazel DeMund.

CASH IN TICKETS TO STAY FOR CELEBRATION

(From Sunday's Daily.)
According to reports from M. C. Harris, of the passenger department of the Santa Fe, a number of persons with limited tickets have turned them in for refund and expressed their determination to remain in Prescott until after July 5. It is too early to predict the number of persons coming from Salt River valley points, but it is conceded that the accommodations in Prescott will be heavily taxed to take care of all the visitors. A hundred strings of flags and banners arrived last night and are in the hands of Harry Brisley of the decorating committee. The decoration of the streets will begin at once. The Chamber of Commerce suggests that all merchants begin decorating the outside of their premises by Monday so that the city shall be in festal garb as soon as possible. Such activity will be sure to awaken enthusiasm and is bound to be the means of holding many visitors in the city. Probably 500 people will be passing through Prescott prior to the Fourth of July and if they see this city attired in bunting and flags it is quite possible that many will be induced thereby to stop off and join in the celebration. The response to the request of the Chamber of Commerce for a list of apartments for rent in private families has been slow and small, and the need for such a list is again emphasized. Telephone descriptions will not be accepted, as the office is too busy to list such messages. They must be written and give full particulars of the rooms for rent, number of persons that can be accommodated, location and price. Mining location notices for sale at the Journal-Miner office.

EXPORT LIVE STOCK.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The steamer Portuguese Prince prepared today to sail for Argentine, and will carry a cargo of live stock purchased in the United States, to be a nucleus of a government breeding station at Pergamino.
