

SUPERVISORS ARE NOT PREPARED FOR ACTION

SO THEY POSTPONE TEMPORARILY ELECTION FOR NEW COURT HOUSE BOND ISSUE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Rescinding their action of the previous day, the members of the Board of Supervisors yesterday decided to postpone temporarily the election for a $250,000 bond issue for a new court house. As a result the election will not be held until after the Frontier Day celebration during the week of Independence Day. Originally, the date set for the election was June 25.

The arrangement for the redemption of the bonds as provided for in the petitions calling for the election, was mainly responsible for the postponement of the election date. Yesterday, when Supervisors Harry W. Heap and Alonzo Mason went over these details they came to the conclusion that the arrangement was not satisfactory. It was pointed out that some difficulty might be experienced in selling the bonds when it was learned that five of the 250 one thousand dollar bonds would be due on January 1, 1915.

A further cause for the delay was the desire of the two supervisors present to have Chairman William Stephens back in the city before final action was taken. In addition many of the tax-payers of the county are unfamiliar with the court house conditions in the city and the absolute necessity for a new structure. These people will be in the city during the Frontier Day celebration and will avail themselves of an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the conditions as they exist.

CRIMINAL CASES FOR JURY SESSION SCARCE

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Despite the predictions of crime and unsettled mind carried with the term of March and April winds, the indications for a busy criminal period during the quarterly jury trial session of the Superior Court next month, are of the most meagre sort. For the first time in over a year, there will be no murder trial to feature the session.

To date there are just two criminal actions awaiting disposal and both are of a minor variety. Bert McMahan who has a fourteen year parole sentence hanging over him in the State Prison, pleaded not guilty to the charge of forging two small checks in this city and his trial has been set down for June 9.

Taken up on appeal from the Justice court the case of the State of Arizona vs. Carrie Neal is set upon the calendar for trial before a jury on June 9. Carrie Neal was convicted in the lower court of peddling "dope" to local victims and heavily fined.

These are the only two actions as against the famous Leonard White murder trial last September, the Juan Fernandez and May Clark murder trials in December and the Francisco Torres murder trial in March.

However, the past three months have not been devoid of plenty of criminal activity. At Jerome Junction Juan Federa shot through the heart a fellow Mexican over a fifty cent bet in a poker game, and then made good his getaway. In Jerome, an insane Russian killed Guy H. Bailey, a banker and then sent a bullet through his own head. Carl M. Heim, a Jerome attorney was seriously injured in the same mix-up.

At least five or six shootings and dangerous assaults have been recorded in that period. In two of these the suspects were released, their actions being deemed justifiable. Several others have pleaded guilty in order to procure the minimum sentence.

The winds have also blown heavily in other directions than those claiming a tendency towards criminal action. In Humboldt a little girl was shot and killed by her six year old twin brother, accidentally and Ed. Hill, a prominent local young man was killed in an auto accident near Jerome.

ON THE RANGE.

(From Sunday's Daily.)
W. H. Cox, formerly a merchant of Jerome, was a visitor to the city yesterday, returning to the Mogollon mountains from a trip to the coast. He has sold his business in the above city and is now engaged in raising stock near Flagstaff.

THE GOOD ROADS COUNTY OF ARIZONA

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
How thoroughly the people outside of Yavapai county, and particularly those in Maricopa, appreciate what is being done in this county in the way of road making, is well illustrated by the following letter which Supervisor Harry W. Heap received yesterday from Jas. S. Griffin, a well known real estate man of Phoenix:

"Mr. Harry Heap,
Prescott, Arizona:
Dear Sir: I received your letter of the 11th with information as to the work now being completed on the road between Phoenix and Prescott. It was certainly good news to Phoenix people. In fact so good that one of the members of the Iron Springs Club asked for your letter so that he could have it published in the Arizona Republican.
"You people can surely be proud of your roads. They are, without a doubt, the best mountain roads I have ever seen. In my opinion, you should advertise Yavapai county as the "Good Roads County of Arizona."
"I expect to be in your city again this summer, probably about August.
"Yours truly,
"JIM GRIFFIN."

HAND CUFFED BUT THEY MAKE A GET AWAY

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Two members of the squad of fifteen United States prisoners took voluntary leave of absence while making the trip from Kingman to Prescott early yesterday morning and when the county jail in this city was reached, they were probably "heating it" for parts unknown. The squad of fifteen prisoners in charge of Deputy Marshall Price left Kingman Monday afternoon. The prisoners had all been bound over to await the action of the Federal grand jury which holds its session during July. Originally, the consignment to the local county jail numbered seventeen. The arraignment of two suspects was delayed causing their further stay in Kingman.

Just how the two men made their getaway is a mystery. Deputy Price had his eyes on the entire group during the stay-over at Ash Fork and he failed to notice the decrease in numbers until he was ready to make the start from Ash Fork for Prescott, shortly after 1 o'clock in the morning. The fugitives were handcuffed and bound together.

With the arrival of the batch of thirteen prisoners the capacity of the county jail has become crowded as never before in the history of the institution. There are over eighty-five prisoners now in the building, establishing a new record. With the prospects of both a summer and fall Federal Court session in Prescott, the indications are that the jail despite its ample proportions, will be found inadequate to handle both the government and county business at the same time.

CROSSES DESERT BY HARDEST ROUTE

(From Thursday's Daily.)
For the fifth time Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dougherty have made the trip across the desert in auto, arriving yesterday from San Diego, Cal. They are to remain for the summer.

They traveled over the Yuma route, for the reason that ferry accommodations are excellent across the Colorado river, while such is not the case via Needles. Speaking of the Old Trails route Mr. Dougherty states it is the coolest, shortest and most convenient for autoists to travel, but when the Colorado river is reached at Needles, the wayfarer faces obstacles that are disagreeable. There is no ferry service whatever, while the bridge of the Santa Fe is barred to vehicles. The only recourse is in awaiting the arrival of a flat car to carry a machine across to either side and this proves uncertain as to when a traveler may be afforded this accommodation, even at an exorbitant price. For this reason he took the warm route, stating that he did not care to be held at the pleasure of anyone and under conditions that are vexatious in time lost and expense incurred. Unless there is a remedy applied to the situation in the north, it is common talk in southern California that the southern route in Arizona will be the popular one for trans-continental tourists during expedition year.

ADD TO HOLDINGS ON THE SANTA MARIA

(From Thursday's Daily.)
The individual holdings of Mrs. Josephine Thorne on the Santa Maria known as the Hermosa group have been acquired by the Santa Maria Valley Mining Company, the deed being recorded yesterday.

Previous transactions in this mining deal included the Nigger Ben group owned by Mrs. Thorne, and her step-son, D. C. Thorne, Jr., the entire deal representing it is said, the sum of $60,000. The purchasing company has assumed charge, and development has been started, as well as the twenty-stamp mill of the Big Stick Company been leased to treat the output.

Mrs. Thorne is the widow of the late Dan C. Thorne, the original owner and locator of these gold mines, and is residing in New York City. The consolidation of the entire holdings is to take place, with the purchasing company as sole owner.

HE TOOK MONEY UNDER FALSE PRETEXTS

(From Thursday's Daily.)
Prescott's reputation for being an "easy mark town" was given another boost Tuesday evening when a big, fat, over-grown imitation of a cinder track runner took into camp, a slim, 135-pound, million-dollar cattleman for the princely sum of $50.

It all happened so quickly that the officers didn't even get a chance to arrest Al Everts, the winner, upon a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Everts and his friend, Henry Ritter, were enjoying a quiet little chat when Ritter laughingly remarked that Everts was too fat to run. "That's so, you foolish man," commented Everts. "Bet you that I can beat you in a 100 yard dash," replied Ritter who was there with the coin and wanted to produce a $2.50 side bet. Everts objected and Ritter raised the ante to $10. "If you want to gamble," called Everts, "I'll bet you $50."

Ritter left the place and returned two minutes later, slapping the money down on the table and said, "Let's go."

Without any further ado and allowing no time for change of clothes or costume, the two men followed by a crowd of their admirers and rooters, left for the 100 yard track on the east side of the plaza. Everts who is a fireman, was familiar with the track, having practiced with the hose cart there.

Everts picked up a pair of baseball shoes with spikes on route to the scene of action while Ritter, confident that his smaller amount of avardupis would bring home the candy, stripped from his ankle downward. In other words, he decided to run in stocking feet. He did.

"Get ready, set, go" thundered Starter Jim Ehle. The two runners started like frightened jack-rabbits. Just how Everts ever forged to the front is a mystery. If his "corporation" played any part in the proceedings at all, it certainly acted for the best. Instead of being ballast, it must have been a windbag for the way in which he sailed through the air was a caution.

Neck and neck they went for 25 yards and then Ritter was ahead a few inches. Everts, with a desperate spurt, passed the lighter man at this point and from then on he was in the lead. A crowd of admirers extended congratulations at the end of the trip. In fact the timer had the audacity to declare that the distance had been negotiated in twelve seconds flat.

INVITE SESSION TO BE HELD IN PRESCOTT

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
With a view of procuring if possible the "three cent session" of the Corporation Commission for this city next month, John H. Robinson representing Mayor William H. Timmerhoff yesterday left for Phoenix to present a formal invitation to the Corporation Commission.

Prescott's popularity and growing cognomen of "The Summer Capital" jumped several pegs with the announcement that Judge Sawtelle would hold his Federal Court session here this summer instead of in Phoenix, where the warm temperature made the session practically out of the question.

At least sixty men of high standing in railroad circles of the southwest will attend the "three cent session" called by the Corporation Commission in the fight to lower the rate of railroad fare per mile in this State. These high officials will journey to the session from every nook and corner of the southwest and the meeting is deemed a "prize package" for the city capturing the same, in every sense of the word.

FURNITURE FOR COURT WILL BE MODEST

Although numerous stabs have been made in the direction of bringing to a head the plans projected by the Elks, for a suit of elaborate furniture to grace the new Federal Court quarters in their building, decisive headway is still to be made. Suggestions advanced to the Chamber of Commerce and Northern Bar Association by the Elks to the effect that financial assistance should be rendered have to date fallen upon deaf ears.

Originally, the Elks appropriated $750 for equipping the court room with furniture. Later, it was decided that such a figure, would not be sufficiently elaborate to satisfy the "aristocratic" taste of the Federal officials. In the contract with the Federal government, it was stipulated, however, that $750 worth of furniture should be installed.

When the point of elaborateness was questioned the Elks decided to double the amount and procure a $1,500 outfit of furniture. But the treasury was not in a position to stand the increase so the Bar Association was interviewed but the appeal for a $500 donation fell upon unheeding ears. The matter was referred to the Chamber of Commerce and a similar fate is practically assured. The indications therefore point to a Federal Court session in quarters which will be modest in point of furniture.

LOS ANGELES ROAD RACE SHELVED

(From Sunday's Daily.)
With the plans for a Los Angeles to Prescott race practically shelved for this year's celebration the members of the auto racing committee are now devoting all their efforts toward attaining a brilliant success in the big auto race around the outer loop which will feature one of the Frontier days.

Communications received from L. T. Shettler, J. S. Mitchell and G. P. Bullard, while tending to boost such an enterprise like a Los-Prescott race, nevertheless have cast a dampening effect upon the whole thing. Mr. Shettler in his communication points out emphatically several obstacles which cannot be surmounted. A guarantee is desired, too great in proportion to the ability of the local club to raise. Then again but a very brief space of time is available in which to prepare for that event.

But the ball has been started a-rolling and the indications are that when the plans for the 1915 Frontier Day celebration are formulated, plans will be advanced for the big auto classic six months before the days of the celebration, affording plenty of time in which to secure the most famous drivers, map out the course, procure special prizes and the cooperation of the towns through which the race would pass and permit the local club to shape its plans as it best sees fit.

From the tone of the letter from the Western Automobile Association, represented by Mr. Shettler it would be gleaned that all the arrangements for a Los-Prescott race would be made by that organization, leaving the local club to provide its share of the lucre and guarantee a policed course through Arizona.

There Will be Doings.

The shelving of the Los Angeles race simply means, however, that the race around the loop will be all the greater in magnitude and that the committee will afford this event its undivided attention. At least six entries are assured from the Salt River valley, three more from Prescott, one or two from Tucson, the same number from Springerville and possibly a representation from Los Angeles. A total array of fifteen machines is expected.

The course will be for ninety miles the start being made from the St. Michael hotel, thence east on Gurley street to Mount Vernon street and out past Whipple barracks. Two trips around the loop will be made.

Chairman Dad Clark of the committee has a force of surveyors completing the survey of the course and the sanction of the "Triple A" will then be procured for the meet and State Representative of the Contest Board, G. P. Bullard will be called upon for permits for the drivers.

Durability Runs.

The committee also has a "bee buzzing in its bonnet" tending towards an arrangement whereby durability runs will be arranged from Tucson in the south and Springerville in the north. It is planned to hang up several prizes for the winning cars in both of these events.

STATE-WIDE AUTO RUN FOR BIG CELEBRATION

(From Friday's Daily.)
Prescott during the Frontier Day celebration, will be made the scene for all autoists in Arizona, if the project promoted by T. G. Norris, president of the Arizona branch of the National Highways Association materializes. A State-wide run, with cars coming to Prescott from every nook and corner of Arizona, is among the features proposed. The executive committee of the organization will hold a meeting within a day or two to prepare a definite set of plans.

Mr. Norris proposes an invitation which will be directed personally to the auto enthusiasts in Douglas, Nogales and Yuma on the border as well as to the autoist in Kingman and Springerville. "Let everybody come and after they come, let us take care of them," that is Mr. Norris' slogan.

If the president's suggestion is carried out, a half day during the celebration will be given over exclusively to the autoist and his pet hobby, good roads. At this joint convention, when the road boosters and autoists from every nook and corner of the State will be present a general discussion will be in order. The secretary will take notes and after the convention, the different Boards of Supervisors throughout the State will be directly communicated with relative to desired and necessary improvements.

Every autoist who makes the trip to Prescott in his machine, will be requested to keep a record of the distance traveled, roads negotiated, condition of the roads and the improvements he believes urgent. It is further proposed to hang up prizes for the auto enthusiast giving the most valuable suggestions and most interesting reports. Another prize will be hung up for the county having the best roads. Yavapai county's recognized supremacy in this respect will eliminate her from the contest out of fairness to the others.

WATER MEN VISIT AND INSPECT VERDE

(From Friday's Daily.)

For the purpose of making an investigation of a new canal taking water out of the Verde river, to irrigate about 2000 acres of land, occasioned J. P. Orme, the president of the Salt River Valley Water Users Association, and his chief engineer, W. R. Elliott, to make a visit to the Verde valley yesterday.

Later in the day both returned and were communicative over their mission. Mr. Orme stated their observations were hastily made, and nothing of significance was arrived at. As to their motive, both emphatically stated they do not propose to disturb those lands or canals enjoying rights that are known and well established, neither do they intend that any legal troubles whatever will follow.

To arrive at some estimate of the approximate flow per hour of the flood waters of that stream, was their object, as well will they examine records covering any appropriations made of flood waters since the reclamation act went into effect. Under no conditions whatever is the natural flow of the Verde river to be molested, or prior rights affected.

This movement, both stated, is due to the broad question of ascertaining what volume of flood waters passes down that stream, and necessarily to guard against any land locations absorbing the flow of the future from that source to any appreciable extent.

Practically speaking, these men are here to arrive at some conception of the volume of water carried in that stream, and for a future plan of conservation on the Verde, that is under consideration in Maricopa county. They stated that soundings are to be made at a certain point between the Horseshoe ranch in Yavapai and the Sears ranch in Maricopa counties, for a projected dam.

During the past year the approximate loss of water from the Verde reached to a total of 150,000 acre feet, which was carried away and unused during the flood period. Their efforts are centered to bring under reclamation an additional 30,000 acres of land from this source water being abundant for the lands under the Roosevelt dam for about 180,000 acres.

RUNNING STEADILY.

(From Sunday's Daily.)
W. A. Felder, a business man of Humboldt, was in the city yesterday at the Prescott hotel, and states the rebuilt plant of the Consolidated, is running steadily, and with a good output of copper bullion. Commercial conditions are moving ahead, and the outlook for a prosperous community is excellent.

OFFICERS CLEAN UP JEROME JUNCTION

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Stirred to drastic action by the occurrence of another periodical "insurrection" in the Mexican quarter of Jerome Junction yesterday morning, Sheriff Charles C. Keeler and other officials "cleaned up the town" in handsome style. During the invasion two women and two Mexicans were "pinched" another directed to leave town and a saloon keeper arrested upon a charge of selling liquor to a minor.

Jerome Junction several months ago was the scene of one of the most cold-blooded murders in the annals of Yavapai county crime, a Mexican killing a fellow Mexican over a fifty cent dispute in a poker game. Lately at regular intervals, word has come down from Jerome Junction that the Mexicans have simply been raising havoc about the town; that the disturbances have at times bordered upon "insurrections" and that considerable blood was shed. Several arrests were made but in every instance no evidence could be procured, the Mexicans holding the lid down tight when it came to producing information for prosecution among their number.

Shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, another hurry call came in. Sheriff Keeler and Deputy Sheriff Frank Burgett caught the north bound train for the Junction while Justice of the Peace Charles H. McLane, Assistant County Attorney Joseph H. Morgan and the Journal-Miner "war correspondent" left shortly afterwards for the front.

Jerome Junction was in a turmoil. Nobody appeared to know "what was what". Several rows in which blood had been shed, had taken place in the forenoon, but no principals could be found ready to be arrested.

Finally, Francisco Laguna, a Mexican with an extensive vocabulary and some blood upon the front of his shirt, was located. Avistoso Dalgado said to one of the other principals in the skirmish of yesterday morning was also taken into custody.

The previous day had been "pay day" in Jerome Junction and the event was made particularly conspicuous by the presence in town of Carmalita Morales, a sporting woman who had arrived the day before. It is said that the row of yesterday morning was prompted not only by a flow of plenty of exhilarating liquid but by the enticing Carmalita, as well.

Off in the direction of the railroad depot was being enacted another scene. Fannie Carrol, a woman well known in that section, was between puffs from a self-rolled cigarette passing out sympathy to Charley Albertis, a construction camp worker who had let his thirst for whisky get the best of him earlier in the day. Charley was badly battered up around the forehead and eyes as the result of an involuntary fall.

Earlier in the day, he had been sent into Jerome Junction to trace, if possible, some stolen goods from the camp on the previous night. Charley, apparently could make no headway, so he drowned his sorrow with the net amount of a check he had received for pay, the previous day. The foreman of the camp took him in charge and rustled him back to safety. The woman however, was pulled in.

To wind up the day's proceedings with a boom and bang, F. G. Bailey, the section foreman, swore to a complaint charging Jack Nelson with selling liquor to Pedro Delgado, a ten year old boy. Nelson, the store keeper declares that the complaint is the result of spite work while Bailey avers that he has the necessary proof to convict Nelson of the charge.

The trouble-makers were returned on yesterday afternoon's train to Prescott and lodged in the county jail. All will be arraigned today. Nelson will be arraigned for a hearing in his case on Monday.

The officers believe that yesterday's "clean up" will restore quiet and peace in Jerome Junction at least for some time to come. The Huerta and anti-Huerta demonstrations have come so frequently of late that the officers declare that if yesterday's action does not remedy the situation, even more drastic measures will be taken.

TOTS INNOCENT SUFFERERS IN DRAMA

(From Friday's Daily.)
Five little tots ranging in age from four months to seven years, gazed innocently on as a domestic drama which affected their future lives, was being enacted in Justice of the Peace Charles H. McLane's court yesterday afternoon. Jose Valades, the father trembling with passion, exhorted the court to repair a shattered home. Several feet away was Mrs. Hilaria Esparcia Valades, holding in her arms an infant child while she looked dolefully first in her deserted husband to her affinity, Juan Garza, and then either at the court or attorneys. Garza sat alone in one corner his dusky Mexican brow wrinkled and eyes bearing a look of pain.

It was the same old story ever again. Garza, the tempter, appeared at the Valades home in Jerome. Shortly afterwards, there was a domestic quarrel. On May 2, Mrs. Valades gathering about her apron her five little tots, eloped with Garza. The two with their burden of tots, fled to the Alberto and Naiero wood camp about five miles west of Prescott. There the affinity found work and for two weeks, they lived together.

The deserted husband took exception to this course of procedure and started upon the warpath, doing all the sleuthing himself. On Wednesday, he finally trailed his faithless wife, lover and five children to the wood camp. He came to this city and swore out a complaint before Assistant County Attorney J. H. Morgan and Wednesday night, Deputy Sheriff Frank Wilson led for the wood camp to serve it. Several hundred yards away and trailing the official machine, was Valades in another car. In his inside pocket, he carried a big forty-four Colt. Wilson piled the entire family and its auxiliary into the official machine and was ready to start upon the return journey when Valades hove into sight. The deputy saw Valades make a move as if to draw the weapon and caught him just in the nick of time.

After being disarmed, Valades was sternly told to behave and permit the law to take its course with its violator.

Yesterday, the trial was held. The testimony indicated that Valades had been a trusting, well behaved parent while the woman had betrayed her trust. Garza when questioned declared that it had been his intention to save some money with which to procure a divorce so that he could snare his affinity. Garza was sentenced to six months in the county jail while no sentence has as yet been pronounced upon the woman. Justice McLane finds himself in a peculiar predicament. Ordinarily, he would sentence the faithless wife to six months but the five children make such a sentence practically impossible. Yesterday afternoon, "mediation" was resorted to, in an effort to reconcile the husband and wife. The reports are not yet in.

Mining Business.

R. M. Bond, one of the best known mining men in the county, and interested in the Bradshaws, was an arrival Friday from Crown King, on business, and is registered at the Prescott hotel.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. So he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.
