FIFTY-SECOND YEAR

KANSAS COWBOY IS NOW HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION OF WORLD

By Associated Press.

HAVANA, April 5.—Jack Johnson, exiled from his own country, today lost his claim to fistic fame as the heavyweight champion of the world, the title being wrested from him by Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy and biggest man who ever entered a prize ring.

The fight probably has no parallel in the history of ring battles. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and pounded Willard at will, but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on. Johnson stopped leading and for three or four rounds the battle between the two big men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white and black gladiators. So it was until the 25th round, when Willard got in one of his widely swinging windmill right hand smashes to Johnson's heart. This was the beginning of the end.

When the round closed Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all in and told her to start for home. She was on her way out and was passing the ring in the 26th round when a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumple on the floor of the ring, where he lay partly outside of the ropes until the referee counted ten and help up Willard's hand in token of his newly won laurels.

There was much discussion tonight and probably will be for some time among the followers of the fighting game whether Johnson was really knocked out. In the sense of being smashed into unconsciousness, he certainly was not put out.

The consensus of opinion is that he expected, and knew there was no possibility of his winning, so when knocked down he chose to take the count rather than rise and stand further punishment.

Automobiles to the city from the fight flew white flags and thus the news spread far and wide that the white challenger had defeated the negro champion. As Willard came along the crowds on the streets waved flags and handkerchiefs tied to sticks. At one point a group of negro children, who evidently heard that Johnson was the victor, waved black flags at the white champion, who was much amused. Willard is probably the most modest champion who ever stepped out of a prize ring, taking his victory as philosophically as he looked forward to the fight. Neither he nor Johnson showed much evidence of having engaged in a heavy-weight championship battle. Willard's lip, right ear and left cheek showed slight cuts, but at no time was more than a drop or two of blood in evidence.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS

Round One.
Time was called at 1:53. Johnson landed a left on Willard's jaw. The latter is nervous. Johnson laughed. Willard drove two lefts to Johnson's body. Johnson drove a right to Willard's body.

Round Two.
Johnson blocked Willard's lead, feinting him out and landing a left to the jaw. Willard sent a right to the negro's body. Johnson hooked a left to Willard's stomach and three lefts to the body.

Round Three.
After much feinting, Willard missed a right swing. Both men laughed. Johnson rushed and sent a left to the body and a right to the jaw. Willard asked, "Is that the way you do it?"

Round Four.

Round Five.

FATHER'S DEATH CALLS FOSTER TO OHIO

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

D. C. Foster, whose death occurred on Saturday night at Urichville, Ohio, was quite well known in this city, being the father of Frank W. Foster, president of the Sam'l Hill Hardware Company. The deceased had made a custom for many years to make frequent visits with his son. During last October and November he was here and indulged in a month's hunting trip in the Mogollon mountains. News of his death comes like a shock to his son and friends, as his physical condition was said to be perfect, and he passed away without any warning.

Mr. Foster was prominently known in Ohio, and had been elected for four terms as mayor of Urichville, being in office when the summons came. He made quite a number of friends in this city, who will regret to learn of his loss. His son left Sunday afternoon to attend the obsequies, and stated he would be away indefinitely.

NO WAY OUT OF IT, CLEAN UP YOU MUST

CITY WILL DO WORK IF YOU DON'T AND ADD THE CHARGE TO YOUR PROPERTY TAXES.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Prescottians must clean their premises on or before Cleaning Day, April 10, or the task will be undertaken by the city and the bill attached to their property taxes.

Such was the decision reached by the city council last night after the question was brought up by Wm. Greenwood of the clean-up day committee, as to whose jurisdiction forcible cleaning on that day came under. It was decided that if people will remove garbage and other refuse into the alley, in receptacles, the city will have it hauled away. Manure and trimmings from shrubbery will have to be carted at the expense of the owners and in case of failure to comply, the violators will be dealt with under city ordinances.

The controversy as to whether the matter came under the head of the health officer or the chief of police will be decided according to under what ordinance the offense is committed, and where the offenders do not comply with the health department's demands for proper sanitation, the chief of police will be called.

Whether the business men or the city is to pay for the sprinkling of the streets adjacent to the plaza was taken under consideration by the council, and in the meantime to keep down the dust, the proposition which was offered by the sprinkling committee, was accepted. The city is to put $50 to $25 donated by the county and money subscribed from business men and pay for the sprinkling until it can be decided whether it is advisable to buy a sprinkling wagon and run it with one of the city's teams.

Action on the suggestion by the fire chief that 1,000 feet of new hose be bought to fill up the hose wagons, which are all shy to a certain extent, was postponed until the chief gets into communication with certain rubber hose companies and receives definite prices. Six fire signal bells which are to be installed in different parts of the city were authorized purchased by the council.

A request by Dr. Strecher for city water for his newly established sanitarium was taken under consideration. This about concluded all business of any special interest. Water collections for March were $2,138.27. Unsold license blanks for the years of 1913 and 1914 turned in by the auditor were valued at $5,332. The tax collector's report for the month of March included $72.98 regular tax collections and a collection of $454 for the grading and improving of Mt. Vernon street.

Thirty-three arrests were made by the police department and 11 dogs were impounded and destroyed. One dollar was collected on impounded stock and $39 on dog licenses making a total of $40 collected, other license collections amounting to $506.25. The treasurer's report showed cash on hand March 28, was $39,128.44. Bond forfeitures and fines paid for violation of the law brought the city $144, according to the city recorder's report.

TURKEY IS GROWING TIRED OF LOSING

Looking For Nice Soft Place To Fall

DESPITE DENIALS IT IS BELIEVED SHE IS NOW SEEKING AN OPPORTUNITY TO NEGOTIATE SEPARATE PEACE.

ROME, April 5.—In spite of denials that preliminary steps have been taken to conclude peace, especially by Austria and Turkey without consulting Germany, the report that Djavid Pasha, Turkish minister of finance, who is in Switzerland is on a mission of peace finds much credence here.

It is pointed out that Djavid Pasha was one of the first Turkish envoys to undertake at Ouchy, Switzerland, the conclusion of the Italo-Turkish peace and that he conducted the preliminary negotiations by roundabout methods through neutral diplomats.

While he has denied that he is at present engaged on a similar mission, it is considered here this denial must not be taken too seriously because he scarcely could admit at this time that his government seeks a cessation of hostilities. Similar denials were made by him when he first undertook to bring about an agreement between Italy and Turkey.

MOTHER DOOMED HER CHILDREN IN WANT

MRS. NATHAN LEVY ISUES APPEAL FOR RELIEF OF THREE BOYS AND TWO GIRLS.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

With the mother in the county hospital, clinging hopelessly to the delicate thread of life, her five children, all under the age of fifteen years, are in want of clothing and other necessities. To soften the pangs of poverty and alleviate physical discomforts, Mrs. Nathan Levy, president of the Associated Charities of this city, appeals to the charitably inclined to come to the assistance of the three boys and two girls, who are in need of something to wear. Immediate relief is desired, and any donation may be left at her home, or by telephoning all offerings will be cared for.

The misfortune to overtake the mother is a serious affliction, to which must be added the greatest of all crimes being abandoned by a wifely husband, with the care of the little ones a difficult duty to fulfill without a home and without friends. Mrs. Levy asks for prompt action to this appeal, the case being extremely urgent.

INDIANANS COME ON IMPORTANT MISSION

WILL PARTICIPATE IN DEDICATING THEIR BIG DAM AND OUTLINE LARGE LAND WORK.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

For the purpose of making a final inspection of the completed dam on Granite creek and the large land holdings in Lonesome valley of the Hassayampa Alfalfa Farms Co., brought to Prescott yesterday four of the principal stockholders in John Barbazette, the president, Jacob Finkelstein, Fred Smith and R. A. Roscreans, all of Indiana. The party left the train at Jerome Junction yesterday morning and traversed their holdings in auto.

Speaking of their observations, Mr. Barbazette was quite elated over the success made in the initial development of the soil, and which, he says, has passed the stage of being rated as an experiment. Today the visitors will inspect the dam, which is to begin storing the flow from this creek, which measures fully 600 miners' inches, if not more. The gates are laid, and with the removal of the machinery Lake Watson goes on the map of Yavapai county as a reality at last. During the visit of the party many material matters are to be considered, among which will be the letting of a contract for digging over fifteen miles of canals and laterals, and the building of the second storage dam on Willow creek. Several contractors from outside the city are here to make investigations of the work, the cost of which will run into the thousands.

From a personal standpoint the completion of the big dam is gratifying to Mr. Finkelstein. He has been the wheel horse of this undertaking from its inception nearly four years ago. Yesterday he completed his eighteenth trip from Terre Haute, Indiana, to Prescott, in only two years' time. "I made up my mind at the beginning that I would stay to the end to see the walls of the big dam rise to the top, and yesterday I saw this prophecy fulfilled. I will remain with the company, as the start has only been made, and as the future teems with wonderful possibilities in reclaiming the barren waste," he informed many of his Prescott friends yesterday.

Sebastian claims the accusations are a plot to injure his chances of election as mayor.

By Associated Press.

NEWPORT NEWS, April 5.—Greater activity by the officials of the Washington government in relation to the German raider, Prinz Eitel Freiderich, is evident than at any time since the arrival of the cruiser in port, nearly a month ago. If the Eitel is to make a dash to sea in an attempt to escape the allied fleet off the coast, it is the conviction here that it is a perilous effort which must be made at once.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 5.—The case of the 27 Terre Haute men charged with conspiring to corrupt the election last November, went to the jury in the Federal court late today. U. S. Makes Note Public.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The United States government made public its note to Great Britain announcing it could not admit either the right of the allies or their claims for justification in placing an embargo on all commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries. "To admit it," says the communication, "would be to assume an attitude of unneutrality towards the present enemies of Great Britain which would be obviously inconsistent with the solemn obligations of this government under present circumstances. For Great Britain to make such a claim would be for her to abandon and set at naught the principles for which she has consistently and earnestly contended in other times and circumstances."

Great Struggle in Carpathians.

LONDON, April 5.—The attention of the public at this time is being directed toward the great struggle for the Carpathian passes where the Russians are apparently making steady progress, despite the obstinate resistance offered by the Austrian and German troops. Even the Austrian official report admits that fighting is now taking place in Laboreza valley, which is south of Lupkow pass, while the Russians tonight announce the capture of Cizna, an important station on the high mountains between Lupkow and Uzsook passes where they captured a great stock of war munitions and provisions.
