

ORIGINAL STUNTS LINED UP BY WAY OUT WEST MANAGEMENT FOR JUNE NINTH SHOW

(From Saturday's Daily) Events are piling up with real prodigality for the Way Out West show of June 9. The management of the show yesterday made public information regarding some of the attractions which will make the second Way Out West an all-round snappy article of its kind. Says the information: "Our own John Wilkes Flinn has agreed to take charge of the reception committee, and will be assisted by 10 or 12 of the most prominent citizens of Prescott and Yavapai county. A. B. Peach, the long, lean, hungry miner, will have charge of the parade, with at least five assistants. All Jaw West will be chief of police on the grounds and will see that all kids and non-participants are kept out of the arena during the show. Homer de Wood will be the arena director. Every act will be pulled off on schedule time, and there will be something doing every second and in several places at the same time. Professor Show House Martin will have charge of the opening ceremonies. "Doc Pardee, with able assistants, has charge of the immigrant train. This will be as great a thriller as the Smoki Indians' dance. Over 50 people are taking part. We have some of the original drivers who crossed the plains in the sixties. Edward Aitken and H. D. Southworth have charge of the early day characters, and when they get through some of the present day celebrities will know they have been busy. Prof. T. B. McKee will have charge of the stunts to add to the spectacular part of the parade. We have secured the services of Professor Mc-

Cash Levy, who will have one of the most unique burlesque bands, composed of 12 of the best artists in the United States. "In recent communications from the Smoki we have been assured there will be double the number of Snake priests and Antelope priests that there were last year. They have been particular in selecting the finest specimens of manhood among their entire tribe. The costumes of these dancers are the most wonderful lot of costumes ever collected since the beginning of time. (1) "These costumes cannot be seen, or will not be exhibited, on the streets, as they are strictly religious costumes, and the Smoki refuse to parade in their sacred regalia. Therefore, the management has furnished them each with a new black draped cover, to be used in the parade. Those wishing to see them in all their splendor will be compelled to go to the fair grounds. "Honest Dick Fagerberg will have charge of the concessions at the fair grounds, and will dispose of everything in the line of drinks, punk smokes, etc. The entire proceeds will go to the Way Out West. W. W. Pickerrill has turned over to the management his large dance hall, which will be wonderfully decorated, and a big dance will be given in honor of the Way Out West and the maidens who come from the Business Women's club and the Monday club, as well as any others who care to come in Indian costume. The entire proceeds will go to the Way Out West. Prizes will be announced later. "Bob Connell has a wonderful show this time—better than last year."

K. OF C. INITIATION AT BUTTE DESCRIBED

(From Friday's Daily) Attorney Robert E. Morrison has returned from Butte, Mont., where, as vice-supreme master of the fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus for the province of Junipero Serra, he participated last Saturday and Sunday in the initiation of a class of 270 candidates for the fourth degree, the highest in the order. On Sunday morning a procession of 1,000 Knights of Columbus marched from the club house to the cathedral, where a typical high mass was held, in which Bishop Gorman of Boise, Idaho, and Bishop Farrell of Helena, Mont., officiated. In the afternoon initiation work was held in the council chamber of the K. of C. club house, which Mr. Morrison yesterday described as one of the most wonderfully artistic chambers in the country. "Its color scheme," he said, "is delightful." Over 400 fourth degree men participated in a banquet in the evening at the Silver Bow club in Butte. The ceremony during the two days was described by Mr. Morrison as probably one of the largest ever held in Butte. It was participated in, he said, by members of the fourth degree from 10 or 12 states, including Supreme Secretary McGinsey, who has visited Prescott. Mr. Morrison's province as vice-supreme master of the fourth degree extends from Denver to San Francisco, and from Canada to Mexico.

NO NEED FOR NEW VOTE BOX

(From Friday's Daily) Inasmuch as the purpose of the legislature in passing a law setting primary day as the date of the special election on constitutional amendments was to save money, there is no reason to believe that extra ballot boxes or, in fact any extra election machinery must be provided, to handle the amendment election. This is the substance of an opinion rendered to the board of supervisors yesterday by County Attorney Sullivan. It is understood that a salesman for a firm dealing in election supplies recently told the board of supervisors that they would have to buy some extra ballot boxes for the vote on the amendments. A separate ballot is to be printed for this election. The board asked Mr. Sullivan, who entertained the belief that no added expense should be incurred, but he in turn consulted Attorney General Will Galbraith, who, in an informal opinion to Mr. Sullivan, confirmed the view that the legislature never intended that separate machinery be created for the amendment election.

ENSIGN SUES FOR WAGES AS KEEPER

(From Saturday's Daily) Payment of sums alleged to be due for his services as caretaker of mining properties in the Tip Top district is demanded in a suit filed yesterday by O. H. Ensign. The total amount prayed for is $710.40. Named as defendant is F. L. Carlisle in his own name and as trustee for C. E. Brennan, H. C. DeSellen, Harry W. McIntosh.

SCHOMBER VERDICT HAS BEEN AFFIRMED

(From Sunday's Daily) News of a decision of the supreme court affirming a judgment of the superior court for $4,500 for the estate of Roy Schomber, Santa Fe brakeman, killed in the wreck of a passenger train and a cataloupe special near Kirkland on July 9, 1920, was received here yesterday by O'Sullivan & Morgan, counsel for the administrator, J. O. Hopkins. The Santa Fe appealed the case after a verdict in the Yavapai county court.

KIRKLAND GRADUATES PRESENTED DIPLOMAS

(From Friday's Daily) Diplomas were presented to eight graduating pupils of the Kirkland school at exercises held there Wednesday night. The pupils who graduated from the eighth grade with honors were Betty Rigen, Evelyn Sharpnack, Edna Ritter, Beth Carter, Wayne York, Otis York, Marion Sathite and Elmer Riggins. The school room was tastefully decorated with flowers and boughs of evergreen, and in this setting the commencement exercises were held. First, Edna Ritter, dressed as a gypsy, read the palms of her classmates, a unique way of carrying off the time-honored institution of the class prophecy. The valedictory was pleasantly delivered by Betty Rigen, who recently won county honors in the forest service county geography contest. Following a talk to the pupils in which she pointed out the value of books, not only for study but as friends, Mrs. Ward H. Wheeler, county school superintendent, presented the diplomas. Then Evelyn Sharpnack in an excellent address expressed the appreciation of the class toward Mrs. Clarence Crose, the teacher, by presenting her with a silver pie-plate, the gift of the class. Following this, the graduates were presented with gifts from each other and from parents and friends.

OIL REFINERY TO BE BUILT IN PRESCOTT

(From Sunday's Daily) Prescott is to have an oil refinery of 1,000 gallons a day capacity. That was settled yesterday with the announcement of S. O. Lewis, president of the Tex-O-Kan Oil company, of the purchase of the 80-acre tract of the Commercial Trust and Savings bank where the old brick yard used to be west of town. The erection of the refinery is to begin at once. The organization expects an enthusiastic rally to the cause which it has sponsored and its officials declare that Prescott's splendid reputation for loyalty and devotion to the interests of those who offered life and limb for home and country will result in a generous donation to the fund for the sick, disabled, jobless and penniless soldiers and sailors who answered the call to the colors. Every man, woman and child is asked by the veterans to buy a Flanders poppy tomorrow or place a poppy wreath in home or office. A large percentage of the funds collected will be used for relief work in Prescott. The Flanders poppy has been chosen as a memorial flower also by veterans organizations of Great Britain, Canada and Australia, and in the United States, besides the Veterans of Foreign Wars, it is recognized as such by the Daughters of the Revolution, the Sons of the G. A. R., the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. A. R., the Women's Relief Corps, the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary. A quarter of the product will be gasoline and the rest will be lubricating oil, kerosene and fuel oil. Only about 17 acres of the 80-acre tract will be used for the oil refinery. The rest of the land will be divided into half-acre tracts and placed on the market, Mr. Lewis said yesterday.

TONTO CATTLE CUT BY BUYERS

(From Sunday's Daily) Although cattle in the Globe district are bringing prices averaging around $21 for yearlings, $28 for two-year-olds and $34 for three-year-olds, many cattlemen of the district have had their herds cut from 10 to 50 per cent in recent sales, according to C. K. Cooperrider, assistant grazing inspector of the southwest district of the national forests, who was in the city yesterday. Mr. Cooperrider has just come from making range appraisals in that district, and states that the spring movement of the cattle is beginning. About 3,000 head have been shipped from around Globe already. Stunted growth of cattle in previous seasons, lack of range on some ranges due to carrier drouths, are given by Mr. Cooperrider as reasons for the cuts. These have not been sustained by all, or even half of the growers, but were heavy on cattle coming from the Tonto-Basin country, where the ranges suffered especially from the drouth. In the Salt River cattle are being sold by the pound as well as the head. Prices average about five cents per pound, with the extreme top price eight cents, according to Ray Cowden, of Babbitt & Cowden, Phoenix breeders of pure-bred bulls, who was also here yesterday. Prices ranging from 7 to 7 1/2 and 7 1/2 cents are being paid for corral finished yearlings. Head prices are about the same as around Globe, $21, $28 and $34, he said. Several sales have been made at these prices. So far, all the lower range cattle are in good condition, as are the ranges generally on the desert. The grazing season is over until the summer rains in July. Mr. Cowden is in the city in the interests of his firm, which has supplied pure-bred bulls to many Yavapai herds, including those of Charles Carter at Walnut Grove, the Big Bar ranch at Ash creek, and the Diamond Two at Kirkland. They have also sold to the San Rafael ranch, of this state, which has the largest registered Hereford herd in the United States. Babbitt & Cowden hold Arizona's best blue-ribbon bull, Cowden said, and have also captured six first prizes and three championships in various shows throughout the country.

POPPY DRIVE FOR VETERANS

(From Sunday's Daily) By HARRY JULIANI "Honor the dead by helping the living." Under the sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars a "poppy drive" will be conducted in this city tomorrow and memorial day, the proceeds of which will be used for the benefit of the sick, jobless and penniless ex-service men. President Harding, the governor of Arizona, and governors of 32 other states, fully endorsing the drive and the purpose of the organization to assist the ex-service men and their dependents, have given the drive the stamp of a patriotic movement. The Veterans of Foreign Wars has officially selected the Flanders poppy,

FOUR BRIDGES GOING UP NEAR EDGE OF CITY

(From Friday's Daily) Construction of four small bridges is going ahead just outside of Prescott, on federal aid project No. 36, comprising five miles from the junction of the Jerome and Ash Fork roads through the Fort Whipple reservation to the city limits. This final stretch of the Prescott-Jerome short-line will enter the city through the government reservation and over these bridges, which have been designed and are now being built by Herbert J. Mann, architect and construction engineer of Phoenix. The largest of the four, 24 feet long, spans Government canyon. The others are located over washes en route, the last of the four being on the other side of the site of the Granite creek bridge. A camp of 50 men is located at Government canyon, near the camp of the Morgan & Ford forces who are constructing the highway. Excavations for the bridge over Government canyon have gone down 11 feet. Seven feet of water was encountered in this work. In addition to the four bridges, six concrete culverts and a number of corrugated iron culverts are to be installed. The highway itself, in addition to completing the Prescott-Jerome short-line will be the main entrance into the city from the east, and will be the course of the Ash Fork to Prescott road, the northern end of the main north and south state highway. Traffic from Jerome and the Verde valley, from Ash Fork, and from the Mayer and Humboldt section will all enter Prescott over this stretch.

BOILERMAKER LODGE SUING FRED BENNETT

(From Friday's Daily) A lawsuit involving a writ of garnishment and one of attachment yesterday was filed and completed in the superior court in an effort on the part of the Thumli Butte lodge No. 655, International Brotherhood of Boiler Makers, from Ship Builders and Helpers of America, to collect money alleged to be due the order from its recent secretary, Fred Bennett. Pay due to the defendant from the Santa Fe was garnished and his Ford automobile was attached by the sheriff. According to the complaint, authenticated by H. S. Haynes, president of the lodge, and filed by C. C. Norton and F. H. Eckert, Bennett was secretary of the lodge between April 12, 1919, and February 28, 1921. In that time the defendant is alleged to have had charge of the collection and disbursement of money, was paid a salary and was supposed to keep an accurate set of books. That he failed to keep the books is one allegation; that he appropriated $328.65 for his own use is another. For the failure to keep books, the lodge is damaged in the sum of $105, the complaint says. President Haynes and F. H. Harrison signed the bond on garnishment as sureties for the boilermakers. GRAZING INSPECTOR LOOKS OVER RANGES

(From Sunday's Daily) C. K. Cooperrider, grazing inspector of the national forest service for the southwest district, has arrived in Prescott from his headquarters in Albuquerque, and will be here for several days in connection with range appraisals now being made on the Prescott forest. With Supervisor H. B. Wales, Mr. Cooperrider yesterday went out to the Mayer country, where he will be for four or five days. Range appraisals are being made to reschedule grazing fees, according to the market value of ranges. At the present time the fees are charged at a flat rate, whereas the cost of handling stock differs considerably on various ranges, due to nearness or distance from shipping points, smooth or rocky character of the range, ease or difficulty of getting to water, and other considerations. When the value of the ranges is appraised, fees will be based on the actual market value of every range. All field reports now being taken will be completed by December, and the next year will be spent discussing the findings contained therein with the stockmen, preferably in organized groups such as the cattlemen's associations. Assistant Supervisor Robert Munro is in charge of the range appraisal work on the Prescott forest.

GOVERNOR WILL SEE FRONTIER THIS YEAR

(From Friday's Daily) A letter which is pleasing to the executive committee of the Frontier days is that of Governor Thomas E. Campbell, who has the distinction of having served as one of the first chairmen of the Prescott Frontier days. His acceptance to a letter from the Frontier days committee follows: Executive Office, State House, Phoenix, Ariz., May 24, 1922. Miss Grace M. Sparkes, Secretary Executive Committee, Frontier Days Contests, Prescott, Ariz. My Dear Miss Sparkes: Replying to your letter of the 10th instant, inviting me to attend the Frontier days contests at Prescott on July 3, 4, 5, and 6, will advise that I am planning to be there with spurs on for the celebration. Sincerely yours, (Signed)

FURNACE HOT AT CLARKDALE

(From Sunday's Daily) The week in the Verde valley did nothing but blow in the first reverberation at the Clarkdale smelter, nearly complete the cattle round-up of the Oak creek growers, and widen the smile of everybody in that district. Outside of that nothing much was accomplished. But business has already begun picking up. One line of trade alone will illustrate: the automobile dealers report increased sales and a tendency to more and more orders for future delivery. Many people are returning to the district after exile to other and less favored parts during the shut-down. Chairman Midgley of the supervisors says that while the cattlemen have not made any notable deals yet, the stock and range are in fine shape, and there is hope that prices will be better. Previous sales, he said, made the cow-growers feel that they had been donating their beef for the good of some unknown cause.

START MOVE TO PUT FRONTIER DAYS UNDER STATE PROTECTION

(From Friday's Daily) An office teeming with activity is that of the chamber of commerce. Aside from the usual work conducted by the Yavapai County Chamber of Commerce, now comes the season of the year when the Frontier days must be given serious consideration. Valuing the Frontier days as an institution, which is far more reaching than the mere confines of Prescott or Yavapai county, the newspapers of the Salt River valley, and especially the Arizona Republican, has gone to considerable effort to express its view respecting the excellence of these contests as a medium of advertising the romantic side of Arizona. That they should be kept and maintained ultimately as a state institution is now being a strong argument advanced by every one in the southland.
