

EDITORIAL NOTES

Dom Pedro is reported seriously ill.

Calvin S. Brice has bought a railroad.

The Tombstone jail is without a single inmate.

There is an increased demand for California fruits in the east.

Sullivan thinks he can knock Corbett out in four rounds for $1,000.

General Nelson A. Miles has been promoted to be a major-general.

A Grand Army post named General George Crook has been organized in Los Angeles.

The Zulick board of insane asylum directors were to have turned over to their successors to-day.

A dinner was given at the White House by President Harrison to White-lay, Reid, minister to France.

Credod Haymond has decided to resign his position as general law solicitor of the Southern Pacific company.

E. H. Darrab, a wealthy resident of San Diego, was shot and killed by mistake by a deer hunter in Oregon.

S. D. Dye has revived the old Cufion Clarion, the first issue under his management having been received at this office.

Jas. Wilson Davis, familiarly known as "Dick Davis," died in Phenix last Saturday. Deceased formerly resided in this county.

Hope the board of supervisors will at their present session take up the question of repairing the road to the Bradshaw country.

Honors were easy politically at the recent election in Albuquerque. Out of eight offices to fill, the democrats elected four and the republicans four.

The entire force of the sheriff's office assisted by the guests of the county, was engaged in agricultural pursuits to-day in sowing grass seed in the plain.

Talk about the decision of the Supreme Court making a law of the Sunday rest bill is all buncombe. The bill was never signed by the Governor.

Flagstuffers are again agitating the question of dividing this county. When the county is divided it should be done amicably and on a basis of justice to both the old and the new counties.

Messrs. Campbell & Baker, of Phenix, have been retained by the Walnut Grove Water Storage company for the defense of the fourteen damage suits instituted against the company in Maricopa county.

Senford Stanford, of California, will resign his position as president of the railroad company and has announced his candidacy for re-election to the United States senate.

John B. Price, head bookkeeper for Hall & Wills, wholesale hardware dealers of Kansas City has absconded, a defaulter to the amount estimated from $4,000 to $10,000.

The hope expressed some time since by the JOURNAL-MINER that Col. B. H. Grierson might be promoted to a brigadier-general has been realized. Never was promotion more richly merited than in this case.

The Phenix Gazette has announced the candidacy of C. Meyer Zulick for the next legislature. Mr. Zulick's eminent services in securing the removal of the capital to Phenix, will, no doubt secure his election.

The San Francisco Chronicle of April 4th contains a very caustic letter from Colonel E. N. Robinson in regard to the construction of the Walnut Grove dam and some alleged civil engineers connected with the enterprise.

California papers are discussing the merits of the Mohave desert as a sanitarium for consumptives. There is little doubt that the extremely dry atmosphere there would be beneficial to those who can endure the heat, which equals that of Phenix in this territory.

The house committee on judiciary has appointed a subcommittee to visit Alabama and the neighboring southern states and make an investigation of alleged improper action of court officers instituting prosecution without reason for the purpose of collecting fees. It is also charged that sentences in criminal cases have been suspended without warrant.

Telegraphic advices from Russia are to the effect that a serious state of affairs exist there. Three attempts have recently been made on the life of the Czar, while a decoy train supposed to contain the royal party, was wrecked on a railroad. All universities have been ordered closed for a year. Such despotic rule, as has obtained for centuries, in that country, cannot much longer exist in such an enlightened age as the present.

On account of the large number of deaths from thirst, which have occurred on the desert between San Diego and Yuma, a movement is on foot at the former place to have the county supervisors adopt a system of guide posts, one line extending north and south and the other east and west and to be about a mile apart. The idea is to build them of iron about fifteen feet high with a cross, the arms fitting the direction and distance to the nearest water supply.

The Phenix Herald gives the following version of the attempted escape at the territorial prison recently: "Last week, after iron works between two cells had been cut and the bolt on the door sawed through, the superintendent actually discovered that eight men might have got out into the prison yard, superintendent Behan thereupon, with his rare presence of mind, removed those eight prisoners to other quarters. The prison yard was not materially injured."

Hon. C. M. Strauss, territorial superintendent of public schools under Governor Zulick, has decided to play quits with his present office, and turn it over to his successor, Hon. George W. Cheyney. Had he taken the good advice given him by the Citizen a year ago he certainly would have felt much better than he does to-day. Mr. Strauss is a Bourbon democrat, but notwithstanding this fact, he always believes in letting go when he can't hold on any longer.—Citizen.

The promotion of Col. E. H. Grierson of the 6th cavalry, to the rank of brigadier-general will result in the following promotions: Lieut. Col. John K. Miner, of the 8th cavalry, to be colonel of the 10th; Major Edwin V. Sumner, of the 4th cavalry, to be lieutenant-colonel of the 8th; Captain Wirt Davis, of the 4th cavalry, to be major of the 5th; First Lieutenant Cunliffe H. Murray, of the 4th cavalry, to be captain in the same regiment; and Second Lieutenant John M. Neall, of the 4th cavalry to be first lieutenant in the same.

A Washington special says that by a party vote of 7 to 5 the house committee on election of president and vice-president and representatives in congress authorized a favorable report with amendments on McCammas' bill to prevent gerrymandering of congressional districts. The bill also provides that representatives to the 52d congress shall be elected from the districts composed of the same territory and having the same boundaries as those from which the representatives in the 51st congress were elected. The minority of the committee will submit a report in opposition to the bill. From this it will be seen that the democratic minority do not favor purity of elections and justice so much as they do partisan advantage.

A telegram from El Paso dated April 2d says: At 9 o'clock to-night a most cowardly murder was committed across the river in Paso del Norte. W. S. Bolton and a man named Clayton, both cattlemen, met S. H. Cavitt, another cattlemen, on the street. They picked a quarrel with him, and without giving him any warning Clayton and Bolton drew their revolvers and began firing at Cavitt, who attempted to retreat, but his assailants followed him up, continuing the fire upon him until he fell dead, riddled with bullets. Clayton and Bolton were arrested, and are now in jail at Paso del Norte. People on both sides are very indignant, and threats of lynching the murderers are openly made. Cavitt was a very wealthy and popular young man. A lawsuit is said to have been the cause of the affair.

The war department has received dispatches from Colonel Grierson, in command at Los Angeles, giving details of the pursuit and capture of the five Indians who killed Freighter Herbert, near Fort Thomas, on the 20th. Two were killed and three captured by Lieut. Watson's command on Salt River. Col. Grierson characterizes this achievement as one of the most complete and successful that has occurred on the frontier in many years, and he says that it reflects great credit upon the officers and men engaged. He recommends the prompt reward of brevets and medals usually given in cases of gallantry to these men and says the great success, in conjunction with the removal of the disaffected element to Fort Union, has very probably prevented an outbreak, and will tend to quiet the Indians on the San Carlos reservation.

The department of agriculture send out the following bulletin, which seems to answer Senator Voorhees' demand for an investigation as to the cause of the present agricultural depression: "There have been five millions of immigrants in the last ten years. The interior of the continent has been divided into three farms, cultivation has invaded the Rocky mountain areas, meadows has been produced in larger ratio of increase than population, and bread has been cheapened by similar excess. At the same time there has been imported within twelve months, sugar and molasses, animals and their products, fibers, fruits, barley, tobacco and wines, to the value of about $245,000,000, all of which might be produced by our farmers with the aid of sugar mills, deodorizers, and distilleries. The report exhibits the fatal error of continuance of farmers in the old routine, the same limited range of effort, following in the same furrows their fathers turned, and predicts far worse depression in the future unless speedy and extensive and persistent diversification is at once entered upon."

That the democratic party of Arizona is responsible to the people of the territory for the great financial loss occasioned by their great desire to "hold on" there is ample evidence in the fact that the recent decision of the supreme court has brought territorial warrants to par at a single turn. While that party has charged the republican party with being responsible for the political middle and the consequent depreciation of territorial credit, it will now admit that the republican party has created the territorial warrants to par? Or will it claim that the democratic party put them to par by receding from its unjust position and by getting out of official positions they could no longer maintain? How will it account for the fact that the day the supreme court of the territory announces that the territorial government shall be administered by the republican party, our territorial warrants go from eighty cents on the dollar to one hundred cents on the dollar? Here is a chance for some figuring on the part of our democratic friends.—Herald.

Democratic papers to the contrary notwithstanding, custom and precedent is in line with the Supreme Court decision in regard to the legality of laws passed after the end of a sixty consecutive days' session of the Legislature. There are numerous statutes on the books which were passed after the end of sixty consecutive days, the validity of which has never been called in question. Every man, woman and child in the territory knows, too, that the validity of the appropriation bill passed by the Fifteenth Legislature would never have been called in question had it not been for the attempt of Zulick's appointees to hold on to offices to which they had never been confirmed by the Council. The excuse of the illegality of the laws passed after the sixty days' limit, was simply trumped up and used as a peg for the Zulickites to hang on as long as possible. The Supreme Court decision has broken this flimsy peg, and the usurpers have dropped. It is only natural that they should do a little vigorous kicking over their fall. If every law passed by Arizona legislators after the sixty days' limit were to be declared invalid, there would be no end to the confusion it would create. There is just as much consistency in the Supreme Court declaring such acts of the Fifteenth Legislature valid as there is in recognizing the validity of previous acts of the same nature.

A Scheme to Benefit the Railroads.
An amendment to the inter-state commerce law has been introduced, which if passed will do away with sealed tickets, as it makes ticket brokerage a crime. The Cleveland, Ohio, Leader, in a very sensible article on the subject, has the following:
"The railroads of the United States, not satisfied with fast and increasing profits, have succeeded in getting a bill before Congress which is intended to directly increase the cost of travel, and enable them to raise their already exorbitant rates for passenger service. This is a monstrous proposition, which ought to be rejected at once. Railroad tickets, bought and paid for, should be no more sacred than other property, and as freely disposed of as postage stamps or newspapers. To be sure, the proposed amendment to the interstate commerce law provides that tickets, wholly or in part used, shall be redeemed at the cost price, or a proportionate part thereof, if returned to the company issuing them at any time within sixty days, but this clause does not justify the outlawing of such transfers as may be agreed upon by individuals.

The obvious intent of the scheme is to remove one of the best obstacles in the way of maintaining the stiffer sort of rates for passenger service. At present the business of the ticket brokers exerts a constant pressure upon the railroads in the direction of lower fares. The higher the price of tickets at regular offices the more travelers will look around for cheaper transportation, and the only way to compete with "scalpers" is to keep rates down. The clause providing for the redemption of tickets by the railroads would be likely to prove a delusion and a snare. Now a man wishing to dispose of an unused ticket can do so at once in any city, whereas under the proposed system he would probably be subjected to unlimited red tape annoyance. If it took as long to obtain the price of an unused ticket as it does now to get back admitted overcharges on freight, very few travelers would have the patience to wait and work for an ordinary fare. The best thing Congress can do is to kill the bill for abolishing the traffic in railroad tickets, and let things remain as they are, unless it can do something efficient in the interests of the public and lower fares."

City Council Proceedings.
City council met at 7:30 p. m. April 7th, all members present.
Petition of M. McCumrey requesting the council to fill up or enclose well therein mentioned, was granted.
James Butler, janitor, having resigned, Walter Pentland was duly elected janitor.
Petition of property owners on McCormick street for sidewalks considered and rejected.
Resignation of Wm. Wilkerson, as auditor, etc. accepted and W. C. Foster was appointed for the balance of the present year.
Application of I. P. Burnett et al for extension of water pipe from Willis street 300 feet north on and along Granite street, referred to the water committee.

Petition for sidewalk on the south side of Carleton street having been reported back adversely by the committee the same was rejected.
Petition of W. N. Kelly et al for franchise for a street railway was further considered and re-referred to the committee for the purpose of conferring with the petitioners.
The clerk was directed to advertise for proposal for a city map.

Who He Was.
McConkey, who killed Gresham at Redlands last week and then took his own life, was well known in early days in Tombstone where he erected the building opposite J. V. Vickers' office on Fremont street. McConkey was a sure shot and before coming to Tombstone, distinguished himself in New Mexico as shot-gun messenger on one of the stage lines leading out of Socongo. The stage was held up one morning by two men, but the driver refused to halt, lashed his horses and gave them their liberty. McConkey raised in his seat, turned around and before they were out of range, emptied one barrel and then the other of his gun, killing both highmen, as they stood dumbfounded on either side of the road, behind the flying coach.—Prospector.

Caught On. Killed the Other.
Last February, Billy and Frank Fox stole three horses from H. B. Crouch's ranch, in Pleasant valley. Last Friday, Frank was shot and buried on the edge of the Colorado desert, at Carissa creek, 60 miles east of Warner's ranch, California. To-day, Billy Fox was lodged in Maricopa jail. Sheriff Gray, Constable Blankard and Mr. Crouch had a long chase after the robbers, to Yuma, 30 miles down the Colorado river, to Tomacala, via Colton, to Warner's ranch and thence to Carissa creek. The thieves were found in Vall's cattle drive. They had sold one of the horses to a cowboy in the outfit. After dining together, at a given signal, Gray and Crouch grabbed Billy Fox, the more dangerous criminal. Blankard was unable to hold Frank, who broke away. The struggle proved desperate, both outlaws resisting fiercely. Two shots were fired and Frank Fox fell dead, with a bullet through his back. He was buried on the spot. Billy has confessed everything and exonerated Ed Jones, the colored man discharged yesterday by Justice Richards under the Best Spencer's lenient complicity. It was Frank who forged Spencer's endorsement to the $35 draft. Billy wrote the name of James Nelson under the forgery and passed the draft off to Derris Area.—Herald.

Mining Intelligence.
Superintendent Carlisle of the Black Horse mine has commenced drifting each way from the main shaft of the mine.
S. A. Smith has deeded eight mining claims in the Hessayampa mining district to the Senator Gold Mining company, for $50.
Henry Bowering has sold his interest in the California and one-third of the Fremont mining claims, to A. E. Williams, for $500.
A deed has been filed for record from B. T. Riggs to W. A. Linn, for the Lion mining claim, Tiger district, for $212.
The United Verde copper smelter at Jerome will start up again Monday, April 7.

One from the Cumberland mine, on Lynx creek, shipped through the sampling works, returned a value to the owner of $191 per ton. They will continue to take out and ship ore.
Deeds have been filed for record from Joseph L. Howells for one half of the Sunrise mine, and from Jas. Hartfield, for his interest in the Imposas mine, both to E. M. Sauter, for $150 and $450 respectively.
Ed. Roberts, who came in from Lynx creek on Saturday, reports great activity in mining there. The Dixie and the old Lowell mill are both running to their fullest capacity, while a large number of placer miners are at work. Mine owners are also developing their properties, and considerable ore is being shipped to the sampling works.

The mining interests between Phenix and Prescott and about the latter city are taking on a veritable boom. The old Tiger mine, which has stood idle for years, is reported sold and will again be opened up, and when worked it is one of the best mines in Arizona; the trouble with it has been water, and the heavy expense to pump it out, which the great cost of transportation up to the present time would not justify. The great hydraulic proposition near Prescott recently sold by Territorial Secretary Hon. N. O. Murphy and his brother, Mr. Frank Murphy, to an English syndicate, will be opened out and soon form one of the most extensive and best paying mining propositions in the southwest. It involves a large water storage proposition upon which work will soon begin; and as to the region to be operated upon, it has for years been worked on a small scale during the wet season, when water could be had, and has been fully demonstrated to be both extensive and rich. We are pleased to note in this connection that, while Hon. N. O. Murphy and his brother have sold the principal interests in this splendid property, they retained sufficient interest to make them each a fortune.

Outside of the winning propositions named, there are hundreds of others, all valuable, now being pushed, and upon the completion of the Phenix and Prescott rail road the amount and importance of the mining being done in the region above named will astonish the mining world, and Arizona will quickly pull to the position of the first gold and silver producing region in the United States. There is not the least doubt that she will now rapidly advance to this point; all she needs is some good, reasonable, legitimate investment and resulting development of her vast resources that in the past have been miserably abused by sharp practices and bare open frauds. If our next legislature is wise, it will enact a bill that will most thoroughly expose and punish rascally mining operations such as have too often abused that interest in this Territory in the past.—Herald.

In Combination, Preparation and Process of preparation, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.
"Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, '100 doses one dollar.' Other medicines require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla."
"Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes more cures than any other medicine, and has been the title of 'The greatest blood purifier ever discovered.'"
"Peculiar in its 'good name at home'—there is none of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers."
"Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has attained such popularity in so short a time. It

A. Wollenburg & Co.

STILL IN THE FIELD!
I am still in the field with the
Best Goods and Lowest Prices
Of any House in Prescott
I have been receiving since the first of the year, and will continue to receive, new goods in the lines I have heretofore been handling. I now have a very complete stock of Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Dress Trimmings, MILLINERY, HOSE, GLOVES, Spring and Summer Underwear, Gents' Furnishing Goods of All Kinds, Boys' Clothing, Boys' Dress and Riveted Shoes, and a complete stock of Ladies' and Children's Shoes of the most elegant and serviceable makes. I propose to give the Boot and Shoe Department
Special attention, and to make it an important feature of the business. I will keep the best and most serviceable goods to be obtained, and will sell at the very lowest prices. I have a fair share of the patronage of the people of Prescott and vicinity.
