The many imitations of HIRE'S Rootbeer simply point to its excellence—the genuine article proves it.

When persons are weak and languid, from sickness or overwork, feel debilitated and depressed, it is an indication that the blood is out of order, and they need help to throw off the miserable feeling. The best remedy for this purpose is Dr. J. H. M. Lee's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It restores lost strength, gives vigor to the circulation, promotes good appetite and a flow of cheerful spirits. Price $1 per bottle.

In McClure's Magazine for May, Garrett P. Serviss relates his experience in climbing Mont Blanc in the midst of a terrible blizzard—an experience that put pluck and hardihood to another test, and which, in the relation, often makes the reader catch his breath. The paper is fully illustrated. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, in a paper admirable for its lightness and grace of touch, tells of the conflict she, as a young and ingenious author, all unwittingly raised among readers and reviewers by the publication of "The Gates Ajar." In the history of literature there are few more curious stories.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional medicine. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed it has a tendency to close, and the hearing is impaired. It is a common mistake to suppose that deafness is a permanent condition, and that it can be cured by local applications. The only way to cure deafness is by constitutional medicine. Lord Sholto Douglas is in Phenix having come down from his mountain haunts to get the taste in his mouth once more. Of course he has not been pointed out to no one would suspect a "lord" stood before him as a weak eyed imbecile goes gawking along the street. Lord Sholto is a curiosity for lack of attractiveness.—Gazette.

The democratic primary to-day was a very mild affair with a decidedly bluish tinge to it. The democratic outlook is too gloomy to infuse much enthusiasm into a primary and it partook more of the nature of a funeral than of an election.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bunte are rejoicing over the arrival of their first-born, a son, this morning. Mother and child are doing well, while Papa Bunte and Grandfather W. H. Ferguson are getting along tolerably well and will survive the event all right.

John G. Campbell and James O'Hara have been appointed adjutants of the Camp Verde military reservation. Just what will be gained by this appointment, in case the bill now before congress, to donate it to the territory for normal school purposes, becomes a law is not apparent.

Professor Ford and wife have concluded to locate here for the summer and run a dancing academy, and in order that all who wish to take lessons may do so he has reduced the price of tuition to seventy-five cents per lesson or six lessons for three dollars and guarantees to teach all the late dances.

The county hospital seemed to furnish just as many voters to-day at the democratic primary as it did at the republican primary, so that it was a libel on the institution to say that all the inmates are republicans. Wm. Thomas showed no partiality in the matter either as he brought the democrats in just as he did the republicans.

A Redwill, the enterprising piano dealer, has been out of Phenix only two days, but during that time has sold four pianos. It don't make any difference what condition business is in or what condition of the money market, Mr. Redwill can always find customers for pianos. It don't make any difference how many pianos he sells either, he always finds opportunity between sales to do good missionary work for Phenix. It is such an enterprising retailer as Mr. Redwill that builds towns.

F. C. Earl, the El Paso ore buyer, is in town.

Captain C. W. Anderson, the well known Lynx creek placer miner and returned populist orator, is in town to-day.

G. M. Porter, of the Bisbee Orb, was a welcome caller at this office this morning prior to his departure for home.

W. T. Rowe, one of the best known miners in the county was in town to-day, circulating among his friends and talking democracy.

S. H. Nesbit, father of Mrs. Geo. N. Gage, of Tempe, left this afternoon with his daughter, Mrs. Viola Kennedy, for their home at Charleston, Illinois.

Edward L. Merritt an agent of the interior department arrived yesterday and will go to Camp Verde to-morrow to appraise the military reservation there.

J. W. Wilson and Mark Bradley have returned from their recreation trip. They were gone nearly two weeks. The weather was so windy and the roads so dusty that they cut their trip short by about a week.

Born, at Whipple, Saturday, May 16th, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Hall, a son.

The new trains which will be placed on the S. F. & P. road will be veritable "Owls."

Next Saturday has been designated as recreation day again at Whipple. The two days heretofore set apart for this have been so windy that it was found necessary to postpone the exercise.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Williams and their charming daughter, Miss Ida, are sojourning at the hot springs on Castle Creek. Mrs. Williams is seeking relief by the use of these waters and is improving very much since going to that resort.

Sheriff Ruffner informs the Journal-Miner that the man who was shot recently at Crowned King was named James Derington. He was a miner aged about 45 years. He died, from the result of his wounds on Thursday night, May 14.

Surveyor General Geo. J. Roskrug and Miss Lena Wood daughter of Probate Judge John S. Wood of Pima county, were married last week in Tucson. The Journal-Miner extends its warmest congratulations to the bride and groom.

Thomas Holland, the genial host of the Castle Creek Hot Springs hotel, left for home to-day after a few days spent in Prescott purchasing supplies and circulating among his numerous friends here.

From Tuesday's Daily. And the hand played. Some people in town. It has caught the town. Everybody from everywhere is in town. Lend me a dollar "until morning."

Lock your doors and then bar them. McCoy's monkeys are not in it, to-day. The nimble-fingered goat is also prominent. What do you think of those horses Mr. Cowboy?

The hotels are full and all people are full of circus. Henry Brikkmeyer sold 350 loaves of bread to the circus. Wallace is the father of his country to-day with the boys. Don't fail to buy a ticket to the Mother Goose leap year ball.

In the number of people in town to-day, the 4th of July is lacking. Wallace has everything in his menagerie including a democratic freak. McKinley did not arrive this morning. Wallace's shows did, however.

The board of directors of the Prescott mining exchange will hold a meeting this evening.

There is much to see of the Wallace shows. It is out of our range to know how to commence or when to let go. D. E. Keating has filed a lease to the Leland Stanford Mining Company of four claims located on Groom creek.

The small boy is not having it all to himself to-day, as some very aged people were seen ornamenting the top of box cars. Wallace should have Cleveland in that nuisance.

Two cow boys came all the way from Tonto Basin to take in the circus. There are enough people in town to-day to make a good strong prayer for rain.

The pitiable condition of Yavapai ranges can best be considered by the disposition of cattlemen to either sell their herds or drive or ship the same to points far away. The drought this year is a severe one, and the hundreds of head of ferocious animals give to our stockmen terribles that alarm which even an abundant rainfall could not redress. Southern and western Yavapai are really suffering, and the number of beef cattle that are to be seen daily scuffling their way to the lot of those who follow the range an unfortunate future.

The Woman's club of Prescott held its usual meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. F. A. Tittle, the president, presided with her usual grace and dignity. Miss Florence Gould, the secretary, called the roll to which each lady present responded by a short critical review of the previous meeting. Mrs. Lieut. Gurovits, vice-president of the club, then called the programme of the afternoon which was rendered as follows: A paper on Marie Coutinotte and Her Court, by Mrs. Henry Goldwater; a paper on Opposing Parties and Leaders of the French Revolution, by Mrs. Tomlinson. Heretofore the preparation of a paper on current events has been assigned to an individual member of the club, but at yesterday's meeting the programme was varied by assigning a separate topic to each member.
