

COMMENCE IN TIME.—Last winter we did all that we could in public print to convince our planters that cotton was no longer king, and that the despoiled monarch would prove a bitter pill to those who persisted in giving up all or nearly all of their lands to its growth. Go back, if you will, and note the cost of your bacon, your meal and flour, your sugar and coffee, your corn, hay, your potatoes and beans, your canned fruit and your butter, your lard and your clothes, your plows and your hoes, your trace chains and your harness, your wagons and mules and you will see that for all these and even more you paid Northern manufacturers and Northern producers terribly exorbitant prices, simply because you were compelled to do so. Make up your account, see what one bale, five bales or ten bales of cotton cost you; then see what the cotton is worth at present prices, and if you do not bring yourself out in debt the experience of the next six months will: Let us wish to say to our readers is this: Let us support and encourage home enterprise of all kind; plant less cotton; devote more ground to the production of clover and grasses; take care of the stock of every description, sow wheat and plant corn, and thus dispense with as much of the unprofitable negro labor as you can. Plant grape vines and fruit trees on sandy slopes and give the valleys up to pastures. This is the only remedy for hard times. As long as the people of the South mismanage unprofitable negro labor, and continue to work half starved mules and milk raw-boned cows for the purpose of producing a large cotton crop, just so long they will be subjects of the soulless skinheads who live in "brown front" palaces and lord it over countries that creak beneath the weight of ill-gotten gold. There is no excuse under heaven why the State of Tennessee should not be a producing State instead of a consuming one. Her mountains are rich with minerals, she has league upon league of coal fields, broad rivers, a perfect network of railroads, fine producing soils and the best of seasons. Notwithstanding all this if we want a ton of coal it must come from Pittsburg; if we want a bar of iron it must come from Cincinnati; if we want a yard of bagging it must come from Louisville; if we want a barrel of flour it must come from St. Louis; if we want a pound or two of bacon it must come from a Northern swill-pan; if we want a sack of corn it must come from "Bellevue"; if we want a yard of domestic it must come from cloven footed Massachusetts; if we want a bushel of oats, a dozen eggs, a pound of butter, a brace of chickens, a mule, a horse, a shirt, a hat, pair of boots, a toothpick, a diaper-pin, or a broomstick, it must come from "the East." There is not a word of this but what every man and woman in this county knows to be true. Then let our people resolve to remedy the evil as far as possible. Become self-sustaining and let cotton and the two and a half cents, the negro, and Northern corn cribs go to the devil, or else the cry of "hard times" will be heard for many a year to come.

Glorious News.

The elections that came off in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa on the 8th inst. resulted most gloriously to the Conservative cause. The Memphis Public Ledger of the 9th says: The returns from the Northern elections, and will be hailed with rejoicing by every enemy of the infamous Radical party in the land. The Democrats claim Pennsylvania by 20,000 majority, and Forney's Press virtually gives up the contest. The city of Philadelphia—the home of the notorious Judge Kelly—has astonished the country by going largely Democratic, giving upward of 3,000 majority. This is glory enough for one day. And in gallant Ohio, where Vallandigham is the best of Democracy, the Conservatives have, by an overwhelming majority, defeated the negro voting constitutional amendment, and doubtless carried the State. The Cincinnati Commercial (Radical) admits that the result is doubtful. Gen. Cary, a Johnson Republican, taken up by the Democrats in Cincinnati, is elected to Congress over the Radical nominee, Mr. Smith, editor of the Gazette. The Legislature is considered doubtful. Everywhere the Democrats have made large gains; everywhere Radicalism is being hanged its ghastly head before the march of the grand Conservative column. The lesson of Connecticut, California, Montana, Maine and Kentucky is here repeated by Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa. This settles the question for New York in November, and settles the question for Radicalism every where.

Our Hope.—It is plain to the mind of every observing man that the people of the South, in order to vindicate and protect themselves, must profit by the experience of the past. Cotton, once the boast of the tiller of the soil, is now a baneful growth, unprofitable and uncertain. It costs too much money and labor to produce it; consequently other pursuits will engage the attention of farmers. What we need now, in order to meet the necessities of the times is a well organized agricultural association. It is a fixed fact that such organizations always tend to the advancement of the planter and farmer interests. Diversified crops, the raising of horses, mules and stock of every description, together with fowls and fruits, and the encouragement of home manufactures, will bring about a great change in the South—a change that will free us as a people from the galling yoke of dependence. We hope some of the friends of home industry and home enterprise will express their views through the columns of the Bulletin.

The Okolona (Miss.) News, 19th states: On last Saturday night an arch across the heavens was plainly visible from this place. It extended from the North to the South, and was only visible for a few minutes.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Memphis and Ohio railroad was held in Memphis on the 7th inst. All of the old directors were re-elected by large majorities.

For the Bolivar Bulletin. MEMPHIS, Oct. 7, 1867. Mr. Editor.—Your correspondent from Huntsville, Ala., under date of 28th ult., notwithstanding his sound judgment in most of matters, and all who know him respect, widely overtook the mark in his estimate of the cotton crop; and such figures, over such a signature, have weight with others—enough with other influences to greatly prejudice the interest of that, these times, unfortunate class, cotton planters. It is true the general ravages of the worm, occurring since his writing, has no doubt caused him to reduce his estimate; yet with as favorable a season as we could have possibly had, with the plant two or three weeks later than usual, there is no good foundation for 3,250,000 bales. In fact the general belief is, and was, that it could not exceed by any probable events at furthest over 33 per cent more than last year, which, as near as can be estimated, about 1,500,000, the excess in receipts over that amount being old cotton held over. It is hard to tell now how much the worm has damaged the crop, but from the reports from all quarters, the more general impression is that one-fourth will cover it. Taking into consideration the backwardness of the crop and the fact, owing to this, that many of the bales would not have matured no way, perhaps one-fourth is too much. At all events, we offer our humble estimate of 2,000,000 at the outside, and await time to develop who is nearer right. He that as it may. Of one thing we have the assurance, that prices must rule low. The sceptre of King Cotton—if it now be king—has departed from us. Other countries, foreign to us, have been developed, that takes his robes of office, and it now stands stripped of all its pristine excellences. Let our planters however take courage; divert their labor, if they have labor at all; sow grain and grasses, raise stock, in fact, make their own living at home, and as the political waters become still, a more prosperous future awaits them. Why longer waste their substance in pursuit of a delusion—cotton? Why spend what little they have left to produce an article on which they are unconscionably taxed by the government 10 to 12 per cent of its value? It becomes him to look more to his own interest; patronize all home institutions and home markets. Memphis offers to all the country tributary to it more advantages for the sale of cotton than any market accessible to them, and its convenience to them admits of their business being under their own eye and conducted by responsible men, known to them and identified in interest with them. Yours, etc., SCHUMER.

WORK FOR HIS HONOR.—At the next term of the Circuit Court, 4th Monday in this month, Judge Bond will have brought before him for trial the following persons, all of whom are now confined in the county jail at this place: John Burke, white, charged with house-breaking; committed by G. A. Woodson, Esq. William Burns, white, charged with horse stealing. Committed by G. A. Woodson, Esq. Timothy Buckley, white, charged with grand larceny; committed by C. H. Anderson, D. J. Northern, Esq. Andrew Martin, colored, charged with stealing $5 in money; committed by G. A. Woodson, Esq. William Johnson, colored, incest; committed by C. H. Anderson and J. H. Bills, Esq. Sam. Fleming, colored, grand larceny; committed by C. H. Anderson and J. H. Bills, Esq. Bob. Frierson, colored, petit larceny; committed by C. H. Anderson and R. E. Carter, Esq. Alex. Brown, grand larceny; committed by C. H. Anderson, J. H. Bills, and B. F. Usery. John Sineau, colored, petit larceny; committed by C. H. Anderson. Scott Mitchell, colored, malicious mischief, wantonly killing a cow and "cutting up generally"; committed by J. W. Wilks, Esq. The chances are that the above named candidates for the stone yard at Nashville will be elected for various terms. Sheriff McCauley will doubtless be found in the City of Rome before many moons with a quiet squad of invincibles from old Hardeman.

THE OLD PUDRY ROAD.—Ere long another and perhaps distant winter will be upon us. At present nearly every road in the county is in passable condition. But how will it be when the wet, cold season sets in? All of our townfolk remember the terrible condition the roads were in during the greater part of last winter and spring. For weeks at a time the Hatchie bottom was almost if not quite impassable. Especially does this apply to that portion between here and Statter's Ferry. Owing to the fact that people who live on the east side of the river could not get to Bolivar with their wagons and cotton, a new road was opened through to Middleton, a ferry established on the river a few miles above the old Purdy crossing, and the business of this place was made to suffer in consequence. Would it not be well to look after the condition of the leading roads? Certainly the route that leads from one county site to another should be kept in passable condition at all seasons of the year. For the benefit of Bolivar and the accommodation of all let the proper authorities take hold of this matter. And here we would call the attention of the corporate authorities to the wretched condition of the street that runs from the north side of the Public square to the top of the hill just west of the brick yard. At present it is impossible to travel that portion of the street below the residence of Gen. R. P. Neely with a vehicle of any kind. Even the former site of the old street is "growing terribly less," and if work is not done on it one or two more winters will serve to wash its very foundation away.

The Navy Department offered seventeen vessels for sale at New York on the 1st instant. Eleven were sold for three hundred thousand dollars. The remaining six were withdrawn, the price bid not being equal to the government appraisal. The old receiving ship North Carolina, sold for thirty thousand dollars. The great sidewheel steamer Rhode Island sold for seventy thousand dollars. The registration in Arkansas has been completed and foots up as follows: white, 45,673; colored, 22,112; total 67,790.

The Nashville Press and Times of the 7th says: "On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, a little boy—one of the employes in the bucket factory of Elliot, Westfield & Co., was caught by one of the main shafts, and fatally injured. He was playing upon the shaft while the latter was in motion, and his clothes becoming entangled, he was whirled round at a fearful rate, both his thighs were crushed, the left arm broken and the right arm torn completely off and left whirling round the shaft. His breast is also severely injured. His name is George Merch, son of a widow lady, living back of Edgfield. Drs. Burt and Lytle were promptly called to attend him, but there is no hope for his recovery. Thurlow Weed thus warns his party: "The day approaches—nor is it distant when the Republican party will deeply deplore its infatuations; when its eyes will be open to the dangers which threaten it; when the folly of committing it to the leadership of Sumner, Stevens, Butler, etc., will be apparent; and when the attempt to demoralize suffrage by the admission of masses of persons who, as it is admitted in a national appeal, are 'ignorant of the means by which suffrage is expressed,' will recoil, not merely to 'plague the inventors,' but to jeopardize, if not overthrow our Republican ascendancy. The Columbia Herald and Gazette of a late date says: "PUTTING IN WHEAT.—We are much gratified at the numerous inquiries that we have made for good seed wheat. It argues well for the next year. From what we can learn we are of opinion that forty per cent more wheat will be sown this fall than was last. If this is followed in the spring by a like increase in grass land, things will take a healthier aspect in this county. The farmers and planters of Hardeman, we hope, will take the hint and do likewise. RELEASED FROM THE PENITENTIARY.—Under the act of 1836, Chapter 63, Section 4 of the Code, providing for the pardon of all well-behaved convicts whose time had nearly expired, to prevent disability, Gov. Brownlow has ordered the following prisoners to be released: Victoria Sevier, of Knox county; George Henderson, of Weakly; James H. Miller, of Hardeman, and George Arden, of Rome. A serious riot took place in Jefferson City, Louisiana, on the second day of the election. It commenced in a dispute between a white and black man, and was followed by a melee in which firearms were freely used. Two whites and four negroes were seriously wounded. The military were called upon and soon quelled the riot. A good many of the negroes in Mobile hesitated about voting in the recent election, as they were under the impression that, should they vote, they would be liable to be drafted in the army, which they believe is going to be sent against Mexico. The Legislature met last Monday. Brownlow's message has been received. It is a counterpart of all of his former acts and is not worth the paper on which it is written. It is damned already, as he will be in the world to come. At the tournament which came off at Durant, Miss., on the 25th ult., Mr. J. R. Haggie, of Carroll, won the first prize, a splendid gold watch. Miss Susan Gillum was crowned Queen of Love and Beauty. It is said that Albert Pike, editor of the Memphis Appeal, will withdraw from that paper at an early day and go to Louisville for the purpose of occupying the editorial chair of Prentice's Journal. At the Methodist church in Franklin, in this State, a great revival is going on. Over one hundred persons joined the church up to last Saturday. Dr. A. L. P. Green is officiating. The Murfreesboro Monitor says that in Rutherford county a great many families have to go miles for the necessary water to cook with, and stock water in many localities cannot be had. The total scholastic population of Nashville is 6,224. Whites, 4,008; negroes, 2,216. It is said that in case of a revolt in Rome the Pope will fly to Civita Vecchia. The pardon of Alexander H. Stephens has not been signed by the President. Young men who idolize young women always long to be "joined to their idols."

COMMERCIAL. The Memphis Appeal of yesterday says: The cotton market opened with a fair inquiry for all grades, and sales were made at the figures of yesterday evening, but more bad news arrived from the east, causing many to cover up their samples, but in other cases it caused more anxiety to sell, and the market fell about 1c on all grades. The closing Liverpool dispatch of the 8th, which did not arrive until this morning, announces a decline of 1/4 on uplands, with the market dull and a further tendency downwards. The same market opens today dull, but not changing prices. The 1 p. m. dispatch quotes the Liverpool market dull, with another decline of 1/16. The New York market opens with a decline: Uplands, 19 1/2; Mobile, 20 to 20 1/2; Orleans, 20 1/2 to 21. The noon dispatch quotes inland and dropping: uplands, 19 to 19 1/2. The major part of the sales in this market were effected before noon. About $5,000,000 in gold will have to be paid out on the first of November, as interest on the five-twenties. It is said that the widow of the late Abraham Lincoln will marry again.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE. A correspondent of the Paducah Herald, writing from Mayfield, Ky., under date of the 7th inst., says: Our quiet little town has been visited by a terrible conflagration, destroying some of the best buildings in town. About 1 o'clock, just night a fire broke out in the saloon of Mr. Toke Orr. The fire spread with great rapidity, soon raising to the ground the wooden buildings owned by Mr. F. H. Green. The Baptist Church on the east and Cagill's Hotel on the west took fire, and notwithstanding the exertions made to save them, were both entirely destroyed. Mr. Cagill saved most of his furniture. McNutt & Gardner, wholesale grocers, and Collins & Perry's dry goods house, and R. Pollard, Bush, saved most of their stock. R. W. Wash & Co., Druggists, Mr. Wade, Jeweler, saved but little. At one time it was thought nearly all the business portion of the town would be lost. The loss is very serious one, as I learn there is but little if any insurance. Mayfield, like Bolivar, had no fire engine or organized force. The Nashville Press and Times of the 7th says: "On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, a little boy—one of the employes in the bucket factory of Elliot, Westfield & Co., was caught by one of the main shafts, and fatally injured. He was playing upon the shaft while the latter was in motion, and his clothes becoming entangled, he was whirled round at a fearful rate, both his thighs were crushed, the left arm broken and the right arm torn completely off and left whirling round the shaft.
