

Subscription Price $1.50 in Advance.

We hereby announce that subscribers will receive the Bulletin at the old price, $1.50, but this must be paid in advance.

Beautiful weather for fishing. Many of our citizens are enjoying this delightful sport, and with much success.

Don't rely on cotton, as war between England and Russia is threatened. Cotton would be very cheap in such an event.

Col. M. T. Polk has placed his interesting daughter, Miss Annie, in a Catholic convent at St. Louis to be educated.

Sunday the Rev. W. S. Cochran will preach at Whiteville. Last Sabbath he served his congregation in Salsbury.

The death of Mr. Kemp Stallings was caused by a sudden attack of apoplexy after a heavy supper last Sunday.

Marcus Kahn has returned home, and with him, his nephew Elie Kahn Jr., of Philadelphia, who made Bolivar a visit last year.

Mr. John S. Miller, brother of our venerable friend, Peter Miller, Esq., was in town last week. He is a wealthy and enterprising citizen of Jackson.

Judge Filpoin having left an ill child at home, came Wednesday, and returned next day leaving his court in charge of Jesse Norment, Esq., an able and efficient substitute.

We are glad to know that Rev. Levin Savage, who has been very ill, is now much better. Our people would greatly miss a useful man. We have too few to lose even one.

Postmaster Barham, of Toons, was in town yesterday. He reports the young people of his section, brimful of fun and enjoyment, and the old men intent on cropping and merchandising.

Rev. J. G. Acton, Sunday-school agent of the Memphis Conference, delivered a very able and convincing address last Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church. Subject: "Sunday-School Work."

We return thanks to those friends who so warmly commend the policy of the Bulletin. We have no other aim but to do good and be useful; hence recognition of our services is always gratefully appreciated.

Children Cry For Dr. Duncan's worm Syrup—it is safe, safe and pleasant to take, and never fails. Try it. For sale by R. M. Hamner, drugist.

There is an enterprising farmer near Bolivar who has now seventy lambs fattening for market. Such stock-raising is an open highway for independence to our farmers. Glad to learn that so many are enlarging their flocks.

Col. Horace Polk informs us that his strawberries and other fruits are looking finely and indicate an abundant yield. Col. Polk is personally devoting his whole time to farming, and his labors will reward him most handsomely.

Last week a farmer near Whiteville brought a small load of sweet potatoes to market and realized more money therefrom than an equal acre of cotton would have brought him. Nothing pays better than potatoes at $1.50 per bushel.

Glad to hear that Mrs. Barbara Sheets, who advertised for a home through the Bulletin, has secured a good comfortable one. Nothing like making one's own way to the public through such a widely circulated and popular journal as the Bulletin.

Our young friend, A. L. Gardner, has returned to his old home and is now night operator in the telegraph office at the depot. He is very active and reliable in business, and is fitted to do well in any community. Mr. J. R. Rawlings, an expert telegraphist, has charge of the office in the day, and his uniform obliging disposition commends him to all.

Mr. J. W. Smith writes that he has just added to his herd of Poland-China and another fine four from Messrs. Shepard & Alexander, Charleston, Ill. He is grandson of the celebrated Sweepstakes on one side and Dick Hayworth on the other. Mr. Smith now has three fine bears and fourteen sows, and hopes to be able to supply the demand, something that he was unable to do last year. He says he has some fine pigs now about ready to ship.

Special Notice. To all persons who are troubled with old Ulcers, Boils, Cuts, Burns, Piles, Ring-worms, Itch, Eruptions, Chapped Lips, or other skin ailments, and all eruptions of the skin, can be cured instantly, by using Dr. C. P. Duncan's Ointment with Carbolic Acid, possessing the most wonderful healing powers of any Salve that has ever been made, and so pronounced by all who have used it. It is effective in all cases. Horses with Sore Backs, Shoulders or Scratches, cured instantly. Try it. For sale by R. M. Hamner, drugist.

Our town subscribers are especially requested to leave word at this office whenever they wish getting the BULLETIN. The Carrier is instructed not to overlook any one. Please attend to this.

Many farmers have planted cotton. Regular monthly term of the County court meets next Monday.

A. J. Sveinbroad, has a brother visiting him from Middle Tennessee.

We have many interesting letters received for next week. Be patient, friends.

Send a cash subscriber and get a beautiful picture.

Miss McNeal of LaGrange, has been visiting Miss Mollie Adams.

We have a large lot of those choice pictures, at cash subscribers.

Rev. Ed. Smith, of Jackson, is visiting his brother, Rev. N. K. Smith.

Road State Superintendent Trosdale's letter to County courts on Public Schools.

Glad to see yesterday Squire J. W. Wilkes, our efficient agent at Cedar Chapel.

Squire J. B. Young, of Piney, called. Glad to see our worthy friend.

Mr. Romaine, keeper of a popular restaurant in Salsbury, was in town this week.

Mrs. J. G. Fentress and children are visiting relatives in Middle Tennessee.

Mrs. Amanda Coates is gone on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Lucy Morrison, in Texas.

Artis Ross is charmed with Whiteville. Such is the case with all who visit that place.

Dr. Robt. Tate has lost his riding-horse: strayed or stolen. See advertisement elsewhere. This is the great Executive year, and we expect to get one more upon an active canvasser of the county in the interest of the Bulletin.

The Bulletin will be furnished on the following Cash terms: Club of two - 1.40, " 3 - 1.33 1/2, " 4 - 1.25, " 5 - 1.20, " 10 - 1.00.

TO MISS KITTIE M., OF HARDEN COUNTY.—BY A FRIEND. Was alone, but since you've crept within The threshold of my heart, I feel a warmer kinship than I ever knew before. A peace serene and sweet, Bristles the soul and leads the sad to sleep. Could man attempt the writing of it worth, I would perchance take compassing all 't' earth, Were all the stars that sparkle in the blue— Each twinkling jewel and each description drew Of your fair form, 'twould only roughly be The outline of what of half your party. No language yet of human tongue has fell, If woven in verse, would half your virtues tell. Your eyes, your blue eyes borrowed from the sky, An angel's soul seems peering from those eyes. With each feature of your faultless face Is mirrored splendor of perfection grace. I've but one wish—your confidence to gain; One only thought—that love's eternal chain May link our lives together—your heart and mine Bearing as one through ails of coming time. For the Bulletin.

From Toons. TOONS STATION, March 19, 1878. Messrs. Editors: We intended to write sooner, but Buncombe, Justice, and others have been so necessary in representing Toons, we thought it would be unwise to do so. We are now a doctor in our town in the person of W. F. Robinson who is now attending the patients for Dr. H. N. Noyes, who is a doctor destined to be a noted physician. T. J. Ruffin has just received the largest stock of goods ever received at Toons. The Bulletin is so popular and we are always delighted to receive it. Each week has its own share of interest. Each week has its own share of interest. Each week has its own share of interest.

From Piney. PINEY, March 20th, 1878. Messrs. Editors: As our representative has failed to make his appearance in this issue, we are sorry to hear that he is sick or out on a visit. We are like "Dick Dabbin'" dead drunk with grief. He is certainly not dead, as the news of such an event would rapidly fly all over our country. There is no doubt that he is in the city, and his correspondent in the visiting habits of the people of Piney. He has misrepresented us on the subject, but will represent himself during the next issue of the Bulletin. We are not for having hospitable pleasant entertainments, and no community here will count on many loved ones. Now spring approaches, smiling and sprinkling her dew blossoms along our pathway, the birds fly from tree to tree, with their sweet songs, the air is laden with the most fragrant perfume. The farmers are busy as bees, striving each to excel the other. A severe storm passed over this place on the night of the 9th, doing great damage, especially to farms, and unroofing houses, blowing down fences, and scattering the hands of our people. Betty Duke is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Nelson, in this place, her many friends give her a hearty welcome. Miss Sallie Rosen spent a few days in Falcon last week. She is training the young spring of humanity in a school near Ramey Station; we are glad to hear that she is doing well. We are glad to hear that she is doing well. We are glad to hear that she is doing well.

From Falcon. FALCON, March 10th, 1878. Messrs. Editors: I enclosed I send you three subscribers. I am proud of our southern paper and assure you nothing less than a want of means shall ever induce me to do without it, while it maintains its present standard, believing that it is worthy of the broadest patronage. I cheerfully join with the many who wish a bright and prosperous future. My old circulation continues to spread. We are long will bid farewell to winter which, we are glad to see, has passed away. From Grand Junction. GRAND JUNCTION, March 23rd, 1878. Messrs. Editors: Our little town is still growing. F. L. Pledge, Esq., has just completed the new railroad shed for the Mississippi Central railroad company. We have organized a new church here. J. M. Prewitt, one of our best citizens, was elected leader of the new church. Mrs. M. P. Irwin, wife of Mr. W. H. Irwin, was elected organist. We are making preparations for the second Saturday and Sunday in April. We expect the Rev. N. K. Smith, of Bolivar, to be with the pastor of the Presbyterian church on that occasion. Miss Fannie Richardson, a charming young lady from Bolivar, is on a visit to Mr. Pledge. Dr. A. J. Adams, proprietor of the Ashland Mills, has formed a partnership with H. Roseburg, from near Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Roseburg is a gentleman of means and enterprise. They are now paying cash for wheat, and will take the produce of the mill. We are glad to see that the new mill is doing well. We are glad to see that the new mill is doing well. We are glad to see that the new mill is doing well.

Prewitt, one of our best citizens, was elected leader of the new church. Mrs. M. P. Irwin, wife of Mr. W. H. Irwin, was elected organist. We are making preparations for the second Saturday and Sunday in April. We expect the Rev. N. K. Smith, of Bolivar, to be with the pastor of the Presbyterian church on that occasion. Miss Fannie Richardson, a charming young lady from Bolivar, is on a visit to Mr. Pledge. Dr. A. J. Adams, proprietor of the Ashland Mills, has formed a partnership with H. Roseburg, from near Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Roseburg is a gentleman of means and enterprise. They are now paying cash for wheat, and will take the produce of the mill. We are glad to see that the new mill is doing well. We are glad to see that the new mill is doing well. We are glad to see that the new mill is doing well.

From Grand Junction. GRAND JUNCTION, March 23rd, 1878. Messrs. Editors: Our little town is still growing. F. L. Pledge, Esq., has just completed the new railroad shed for the Mississippi Central railroad company. We have organized a new church here. J. M.
