

THE BULLETIN, Bolivar, Tenn.

G. W. ARMISTEAD, Editor & Prop'r. THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1881.

Mrs. Garfield, the wife of the twentieth President of the United States, is a daughter of a Maryland farmer, Zebulon Randolph, whose uncle, tradition says, fought in the Revolution, and, going to France, espoused the cause of Napoleon, and became Marshal of France, the gallant and unfortunate Ney.

The whole amount of snow which has fallen in the North and West during the months of December, January, and February, reaches the extraordinary figure of 9 68 feet, or adding the snowfall of November, 1251 feet. The average depth of snow remaining on the ground all winter, in consequence of the absence of any prolonged thaw, has been from two feet in the first half of the winter to four feet in the latter half.

The difference between the position of the Readjusters and their opponents in Virginia on the debt question, which is made so prominent now by the contest in the Senate, is about as follows: The McCullough, or debt-payers' bill, fixed, with the consent of the creditors, the debt at thirty-two millions of dollars, and made coupons receivable for taxes and other dues to the State, and the bonds non-taxable. It fixed the rate of interest at an average of 4 per cent. Riddleberger's bill, which the Readjusters stand by, fixed the debt at less than twenty million of dollars, made coupons not receivable for taxes, made the bonds taxable, and the rate of interest, 3 per cent. It was proposed to make this bill a law without the consent of the State's creditors, on the ground that it was just to both the creditors and the State. The Readjusters' bill excludes from the State debt the interest accumulated during the war and reconstruction period. The McCullough bill includes this.

CONGRESS.

The past week was spent by the Senate in wrangling over the resolution for the election of officers of that body. All efforts to go into executive session to consider the pending nominations signally failed. The contest degenerated into low partisan warfare on the part of certain extremists, and the spectacle afforded the country was humiliating indeed. Some of the Senators were swayed by passion to the verge of personal assault. The immediate cause of this exhibition of sectional violence was the carefully prepared speech delivered by Senator Mahone, in support of his position and that of the Virginia Readjusters. In the general debate which ensued, the Republican Senators Logan, Daves, and Hoar, indulged in severe strictures upon the Southern democratic policy, and they were effectively answered by Senators Lamar, Brown, George, Voorhees, and others. Senator Lamar made a most eloquent defense of the South against the charge of oppressing the colored race, and other calumnies, and closed his speech by saying that it had been his conception that there should be two grand republics on this continent, but that was gone. It had passed forever out of sight. Another one had come in its place. It stood before him now, simple in its majesty. It was that of a grand, mighty, indivisible republic on this continent, too mighty to be unjust, too good to oppress, throwing its loving arms around all sections, omnipotent for protection, powerless for oppression, cursing none, but blessing all. The "dead-lock" as to the election of Senate officers continues, and is not likely to be overcome, save by adjournment of the special session. Mahone's speech has apparently had the effect of strengthening the determination of the democrats in the fight. They consider it an assault on the entire democracy, and especially on the South, and say they will never yield and allow the election of Mahone's friend Riddleberger.

To Live Long and Get Rich.

A Sun reporter visited Mr. Peter Cooper, and asked two interesting questions. One was how he had managed to live so long, and the other how he got rich.

In answer to the first question Mr. Cooper said: "I should put it in two words: Live soberly and righteously. We are required not to eat too much, nor to drink too much, nor to play too much. We are living on earth under beautiful and beneficent laws, laws designed in infinite wisdom for the elevation of mankind. I infer that just in proportion as we live in obedience to these laws we shall have health and comfort. If we disobey those laws we shall pay the penalty. The penalty of disobedience must be paid somewhere, at some time."

"How did you get rich?" "In the first place, I learned three trades. I learned to be a brewer, a coach maker, and a machinist. All before I was 21 years old. I worked three years at $1.50 a day, and I saved enough out of that to get a start in life. I was making machines to shear cloth. Then I bought the patent right of the machine and made them for sale. That was before the war of 1812. "What general rule have you adopted in business?" was asked. "One was that I determined to give the world an equivalent in some form of useful labor for all that I consumed in it. I went on and enlarged my business, all the while keeping out of debt. I cannot recollect a time when I could not pay what I owed any day. I would not spend money before I earned it. Another rule I had was to keep clear of the banks. I never asked them for accommodation. I never got them to discount notes, because I did not wish to incur any obligation without a certainty of being able to pay it. In that way I managed to keep clear of panics. My rule was: Pay as you go. I can't remember the time when any man could not have had for the asking what I owed. Another thing I wish to say: All the money I ever made was in mechanical business and not in speculation."

TAXATION.

Rates for State and County, Under the New Law.

The American yesterday prints the following synopsis of the revenue law: Section 1st of the revenue law provides that there shall be a tax of 40 cents on every $100 worth of taxable property for the year 1881, and for every subsequent year thereafter, 30 cents of which shall be for State purposes and 10 cents for school purposes. The section provides that the county courts shall be authorized to levy an annual tax on every $100 worth of taxable property for general county purposes, not to exceed the State tax, exclusive of the tax for public roads and schools.

The third section provides that merchants shall pay an ad valorem tax upon the capital invested by them of 30 cents on each $100, a privilege tax of 30 cents on each $100, provided that such privilege tax shall not in any case be less than $10, and they shall pay a privilege tax of 10 cents on each $100 of their capital, so invested, for school purposes.

Section 4 provides the following rates of taxation: On plumbers and gas fitters keeping stock for sale, as on merchants annually; on brewers, $200; artists and photographers in towns and cities of over 3000 inhabitants, $25; in towns of less than 3000 and more than 1000 inhabitants, $7.50; on banks and banking in cities of over 10,000 inhabitants, $120; on brokers (except real estate brokers), $1500; on real estate brokers, $5 and 1 per cent, on commissions from sales and rents, and such brokers shall file a bond with the clerk of the county court, as required of merchants; on brokers for commissions on merchandise, the same rate as charged other merchants; pawnbrokers, $100; butchers, including all offices and stores for the sale of meat at retail, in all towns or cities of over 1000 inhabitants, $30; bagatelle, billiard, Jenny Lind and pool tables, and ten-pin alleys, a privilege tax of $30 for each table and alley, the tax to be paid by every saloon-keeper or other person who keeps such table or alley in connection with his or her business and for the use of the public, whether the same is charged for or not; on circuses and menageries combined for exhibition, for each day and night, or day, or night, $150; on exhibitions for profit, except circuses, menageries and theaters, $7.50 for each day and night, or for each day or night; on exhibitions of sleight-of-hand, legerdemain, each day and night, or day or night, $7.50; sideshows and other shows and concerts, in connection with circuses or menageries, or circuses and menageries shall be taxed separately under their appropriate heads, provided they charge a separate or additional entrance fee; on hacks, carriages and wheel vehicles, except drays, that run for profit, without reference to the residence of the owner, $10 each, when drawn by two or more horses; express wagons and carts (except those of express companies, which pay a privilege tax), carts and wagons hauling coal or pig iron as a regular business, shall pay, when drawn by one horse, $1 per annum each; each additional horse, $1; omnibus and express wagons, $10 each.

Sample sellers, $10; lucksters to be taxed as other merchants; dealers in live stock, $30; lumber dealers as other merchants; claim agents, $30; each pen in stock yards, $3; each stall in livery and sale stables, $3; fruit stands as other merchants; shooting galleries, $10.

Hotels, taverns and boarding-houses, for each room except two, $1; restaurants, from $30 to $15, in accordance with the population; eating-houses, $10.

Express companies, from $100 to $200; intelligence offices, $40; sellers of patent rights, $10 and $5; peddlers of patent medicines, $10, $20 and $35; peddlers of merchandise, from $10 to $25; wholesale liquor dealers, $150 and taxed as other merchants; retail liquor dealers, from $150 to $200.

Skating rinks, from $10 to $150; steam ferries, from $25 to $150; peddlers of sewing machines, $20; dealers in securities, 3 cents on each dollar employed, the privilege tax to be not less than $20; dealers in stocks and bonds, other than brokers, the same as above; theaters, from four hundred to forty dollars, according to population; sleeping car companies, for each car, seventy-five dollars; telegraph companies, five dollars in addition to the privilege tax; variety shows, thirty dollars per annum; race tracks, from seventy-five to three hundred dollars; cigar-stand keepers are taxed as merchants; lightning-rod dealers, one hundred dollars for State and five dollars for county purposes.

Incomes derived from stocks in corporations, with are by their charters exempt from an ad valorem tax, or incomes from any bonds not exempt from such tax, 5 per cent.

THE FISH BILL.

It is Not Harsh, but an Exceedingly Liberal One.

However much a few discontented ones may rave and rile at the passage of the much needed bill, protecting fish in the waters of Tennessee from wholesale destruction by pot fishers and vandals, there are many others who will rejoice, and be grateful to our Legislators who made the law, and to Col. Geo. F. Akers for suggesting it and so persistently laboring in obtaining its passage.

REED'S SALT EDGE TONIC. Is a Thorough Remedy. In every case of Fever and Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbance of the Animal Force, which debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It is not to be confounded with the trifling compounds of cheap spirits and essential oils, often sold under the name of Bitters. For sale by E. D. Moore, Druggist, Bolivar, Tenn.

Great Names. Jennie Lind was famed as a vocalist, Henry Ward Beecher as a minister, Bull Dog as the driver of Goldenhilt Mail was known the country over, but one other name attracted as much or more attention, and together with the title of Doctor prescriber should read Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup, for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, etc. As an expectorant for Consumption, it is unexcelled, and stands without a rival for above disease. Reader, we only ask a trial of one bottle to convince you that we speak the truth. Trial bottles free. Regular size $1. For sale by MOORE & HARVEY.
