

For the Fayetteville Observer.
NASHVILLE, TENN., June 2, '77.
N. O. Wallace, Esq.—Our city is all excitement, caused by the killing of Capt. Hooper, by the firm of Hooper & Co., by Bell Nance, on the morning of the 31st ult. The facts are about these: C. W. Nance is the President and principal owner of a pike entering the city through Edgefield. At the last session of the Legislature they passed an act requiring President Nance to move his toll gate back one-half mile. This he declined doing, alleging that his charter gave him the legal right to place it where it is, and that the act of the Legislature was void. Some who traveled this pike went round the gate, and refused to pay toll. Nance leased the ground and on the morning of the killing of Capt. Hooper built a fence so as to prevent the passing around his gate. Just as the fence was completed Capt. Hooper drove up, got out of his buggy, got an ax and attempted to knock the fence down. Nance protested; Hooper advanced upon him with his ax drawn in striking position. As soon as he approached near enough to strike he felled Nance to the earth with one blow of his ax, badly wounded in the head. About the time Nance struck the ground Bell Nance, the son of the stricken man, fired, shooting Capt. Hooper in the eye, killing him almost instantly. The news of Capt. Hooper's untimely taking off, spread with almost electric rapidity through the city, and threats of hanging the Nances were made on every hand. Last night the toll gate house was burned about eight o'clock, and rumor has it that the residence of C. N. Nance, four miles from the city, was also burned last night. We all deplore the death of Capt. Hooper. He was a good citizen and a clever gentleman. But at the same time we think the Nances have some rights that should be respected. The son would have set the deadly messenger of death, even before Capt. Hooper felled his father to the earth with the ax. They would not have waited until the blow had been stricken before shooting.

But one of the strangest things connected with the whole affair is that neither the American nor Banner has ever entered one word of protest against this house burning and threatened lynching of the Nances. They could certainly do much to allay public excitement, but not one word of protest from them. Mob law is deprecated under any and all circumstances, and our papers ought to have the independence to say so. We hope, notwithstanding our papers do not protest, that the "sober second thought" will quiet the excitement, and that no violence will be done, and that the law may be permitted to take its course. If guilty, punish; if innocent, acquit. Respectfully, Justice.

The Electic physicians of this county met in town June 4th, and organized an Electic Medical Society for the promotion of reform medicine and for the good of the profession at large. They meet again the 1st Monday in August next. The following are the officers—Dr. W. H. Halbert, President. Dr. T. U. Stephenson, Vice-President. Dr. W. H. Warren, Recording and Corresponding Secretary. Dr. J. M. Stewart, Treas.

The Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly in session at Lincoln, Illinois, has resolved to hold its next session at Lebanon, Tenn.

The flood of advertisements that deluges the OBSERVER to-day will greatly subside next week.

Our friend Rev. R. E. Travis has a card in this paper.

Our real estate transfers and one more.

A Card.
For the Fayetteville Observer.
That facts and circumstances may be understood, and the people know of things clearly, by permission of the editor of this paper I make the following note: Under medical advice and by the voluntary action of my Presiding Elder and Official Board, being physically worn and suffering much with nervous debility caused by incessant labor, I have been inhibited preaching and am recalled for some months from pastoral care. For the kindly offices done me during my illness, I tender the families who have shared most largely the care and all friends indiscriminately, the profoundest thanks of a grateful heart. It is due to say that no people could be more kind and hospitable than I have here seen exhibited in our midst. I did not seek a vacation, and could not in conscience accept of it but for my prostration being such that it would do me harm if I did not do so. I appreciate the motive of my people which led them to confer the favor, and as they refuse to employ another pastor during my absence, I shall, under the blessing of God, seek a speedy restoration, and return as soon as is prudent. I have, in assurance and promise, from three to five ministers, who have volunteered their service to my pulpit. This is greatly appreciated; and I commend them and the good people to the grace and guidance of the Holy Spirit.
RUFUS E. TRAVIS.

We had a call last Saturday from Mr. Cowan, a pleasant gentleman from northern Indiana, who has recently come to Tennessee. Before he left the north, about three weeks ago the mercury one day marked 110 degrees! Good citizens in the northern States who wish to live in a good country, among an intelligent and hospitable people, where the climate is temperate, ought to come to this State.

Sales before our Next.
Advertised in the Observer.
Next Saturday, the 9th, by W. A. Millard, sheriff, at the court-house, land in the 4th, 5th and 23rd districts.
Next Monday, the 11th, by A. S. Fulton, C. and M. and special com., at the court-house, the house and lot in Fayetteville occupied by Dr. S. M. McElroy at the time of his death.
By H. C. Wright, assignee, at the court-house, next Monday, the 11th, the interest of N. H. Whitaker in two tracts of land in the 8th district.

Prof. J. W. Hatcher, of the Female Academy, has been in delicate health for a few weeks, but it is hoped that the needed rest afforded by the vacation now at hand will speedily restore him. He has no superior as a teacher, and being one of the best of men, he has an army of friends who wish for his recovery.

We find the following notice of a former citizen of this place, in the Fort Smith (Ark.) Independent, of the 16th—
Mr. Tobe McKinney shipped a large lot of flour to Little Rock last Saturday by way of the L. R. & F. S. railroad.

A letter from Mr. W. J. Stegall, post-marked Dallas, Texas, says that the emigrants from Fayetteville are well. He reports the wheat crop looking fine, and a large decline in the price of grain.
Our esteemed friend H. C. Duff, Esq., called to see us on Monday last, with a supply of the "needful." His subscription to the OBSERVER dates from April, 1852—over twenty-five years.

There was a display of agricultural machinery on the Square last Monday, and the sales of reapers and threshers that followed it aggregated nearly $10,000.
On Mr. J. S. Edmiston's farm, on Cane Creek, a Durham calf was dropped on the 31st, that weighed, when 12 hours old, 128 lbs. This is an extraordinary size.

Mulberry Institute.
For the Fayetteville Observer.
Mr. Editor—Being idle last Friday evening, and remembering that the closing exercises of Mulberry Institute were on hand, we concluded to visit there and see what was being done. So early in the afternoon we procured a buggy and in company with the OBSERVER "devil" we made our way to the village of Mulberry. On reaching there we went immediately to the Institute and formed the acquaintance of Profs. Himebaugh and Roberts, with whom we enjoyed a pleasant chat. Supper being next in order, we were accompanied by Prof. Roberts to the residence of Capt. W. W. James, where we partook of an excellent meal, and were made welcome by the estimable wife of Capt. J. Our report of the exercises from Wednesday morning until Friday evening, we will have to give as was told to us. The exercises began Wednesday morning with the examination of the Primary Department—each class standing a thorough and rigid examination. Thursday the examination of the higher classes—Geometry, Algebra, Greek, German, etc. At night there was an entertainment consisting of declamation, essays, cantata, etc.
On Thursday there was a class examined in book-keeping, which Prof. Roberts boasts of—the class has only three months' experience, and did as well, if not better, than some of longer experience. Friday was devoted to declamations, essays, etc.
Friday night was one of the grandest affairs it has been our pleasure to witness for some time. The exercises were opened with an oration by Mr. D. E. Warren, subject, "Nobility of Labor," followed by another oration, "Education," by Mr. L. C. Ormit. Mr. O. handled his subject in such a manner as would be an honor to a person more advanced in years. Next, piano solo, by Miss Belle Himebaugh; "Select Reading," by Miss Emma Harrison and Miss S. C. Whitaker; Vocal Duet—Miss Emma Carrigan and Miss Lizzie Jones. The next on programme was a debate—
"Resolved, That party spirit is beneficial to the scholastic, ecclesiastical and national interest of the country." Both sides of the subject were ably handled, especially so by the young ladies. "Editing the Paper," by Miss E. Freeman and Miss Mattie Solomon; Essay, "When and where shall we meet again," by Miss Emma Carrigan. This essay was indeed beautiful, was well read and received with applause. Oration—"Eloquence," by Mr. Joe Whitaker. The entertainment closed with several beautiful pieces of music by Mr. H. Clay Higgins and Prof. Ben. Marshall. Prof. Himebaugh after returning thanks dismissed the audience in his usual happy style. The attendance was very large, and the behaviour excellent.
No better Institute of learning can be found anywhere than the one at Mulberry, and no better faculty, in every department, could be procured. Prof. Himebaugh is too well known as a teacher to require comment from our pen. The patrons of the school are convinced that their children have received the best instruction that could be imparted. We would be pleased to say more about Mulberry and the Institute, but space forbids. At some future time we propose to publish a lengthy article of its business, business men, etc.
M. QUAD.

A Grand Success.
The Performance of the Great Metropolitan Olympiad in this City.
Knoxville Chronicle.
The Great Metropolitan Olympiad Congress of Educated Heeres and Trained Animal Exposition. A rare combination of first-class artist and performers gave two of their inimitable performances in this city yesterday afternoon and night, and at the eight o'clock performance especially there was an immense gathering of persons, comprising in part some of the most influential and leading citizens of Knoxville, gentlemen and ladies, in fact the elite of the city was fully represented, and the crowd was so great that the canvass was crowded to its utmost capacity, and a large number had to be turned away, there being no room for their accommodation. And as plainly manifest at different stages in the performance, every one was honorably repaid for the amount invested, and were treated to a rare evening's entertainment.
They are certainly deserving of great success. It was the intention of Mr. J. H. Mack, the manager and General Director, who though quite young, is a veteran in the show business, having been connected with a number of distinguished troupes for some years, to make this something new under the sun, and to bring it above the level of a common circus, and we are happy to see that he has so well succeeded. The entertainment is entirely different from anything we have had through this country, and nothing is said or done to offend the most moral or fastidious, which secures for it the patronage of the elite of all communities where it exhibits. Besides, it was a subject of general remark as to the good behavior, etc., observed among the attaches.
There are in this office two stalks of blue grass from the farm of Esquire Pickle, on Cane Creek, that are noteworthy. One measures 5 feet 2 1/2 inches and the other 4 feet 9 1/2 inches. They are the longest yet known.
Wheat has declined in the Fayetteville market, and may now be quoted at $1.25, and nominal. No other change to note.
The number of people in town on the first Monday was smaller than usual for that day.

VEGETINE
Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.
Vegetine
Is not a vile, unwholesome compound, which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy which purifies the blood, and thereby restores the health.
Vegetine
Is now prepared in cases of Rheumatism, Dropsy, and other diseases of the blood, by means of the plant system, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.
Vegetine
Does not deplete the system, but builds up the system, and restores the patient gradually to perfect health.
Vegetine
Was looked upon as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent and successful supporters.
Vegetine
Says a Boston physician, "I have no equal as a medicine for the cure of Rheumatism, Dropsy, and all other venereal diseases, and I have used it in many cases with the most successful results. It is prepared from herbs, roots and fruits, and is entirely free from mercury and other poisonous ingredients. It is composed in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."
Vegetine
Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best preparation for the cure of all venereal diseases, and thousands testify in its praise who have been restored to health.
