

Fayetteville Locals.

Our Wheat Crop.

From the latest advices we have we conclude that but little over half a crop of wheat will be harvested in any of the Southern States, and especially is this the case in our own State.

But we are not farming—we offer these suggestions gratis, and while we have no business intermeddling in agricultural pursuits, we think we do know something about the dry goods business, and whether the price of wheat is high or low if you will go to JIM LUMPKIN'S you can get the value of every dollar you pay him; whether you want Dry Goods, Clothing, Groceries or Furniture, he is determined to give you value of your money, even if wheat is not over seventy-five cents a bushel.

Music hath Charms, &c.

On these beautiful moonlight nights, when the gay young Troubadours visit the homes of the young lady friends, discoursing sweet music for their edification, then pater familias arises and peeps through the lattice viewing the moonlight scenery and drinking in the sweet sound—for you must know that he has an ear for music—then the band strikes up the "Girl I left behind me," he commences skipping and dancing through the room, his nether garments gyrating through the air, his better half peeping from under the coverlid religiously watching him with one eye; in his capers he falls over the historical rocking chair, she cries out "stop your nonsense, Murray, the neighbors will think you crazy," then it is that he is reminded that his greatest forte is in selling the bay state shoe & leather boots and shoes, every pair warranted to neither rip nor let out until worn out, his ready-made clothing and ladies' hats at cost, his cottandees and jeans at ten to twenty cents per yard, the greatest drive ever offered to the people of this county. Then take a look at his carpet exhibitor and see the different beautiful patterns representing a stock of twenty thousand dollars worth of carpets, his men's and boys' wool, saxon and fur hats bought by the case with trade discount off, enabling him to sell them fifteen per cent cheaper than is bought by the dozen from the jobber. By these things (even if he is not an elegant dancer) he is enabled to pay the fiddler.

Blackberries are ripening very fast, and large quantities are daily brought to town.

Tillman Guards will meet at Bright Hall to-night at 9 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Five car loads of stock were shipped from this place Friday for the Louisville market.

Mr. J. E. Caldwell's kitchen caught afire last Sunday morning from a stove pipe, but was soon extinguished.

The threshing of the new wheat has progressed far enough to satisfy us that ours is not half a crop, and the grade is generally poor.

An old farmer suggests that the recent cool weather is attributable to the large quantities of ice recently brought to Fayetteville.

Those who don't wallow in wealth could keep cool last Friday. Ice was delivered anywhere in Fayetteville at 1 cent per pound.

We understand that a movement is on foot among the young men to organize a cornet band. We hope that the enterprise will prove a success.

A Teachers' Institute for the benefit of colored teachers will be held in Fayetteville to-morrow—Prof. Bennett, of Fisk University, presiding.

This is a Nation of liars or else the summers yearly grow warmer. Every hot day we hear some one swearing it is the warmest weather we ever had.

The hot weather has most effectually squelched the marriage boom. Not a marriage license was issued to a Lincoln county couple during the past week.

Elk river at the old ferry below town is lower than it has been for eighteen years. It is caused by the washing out of the mill dam two miles down the river.

Catalogues have been issued for the third Fair of the Lincoln County Agricultural and Mechanical Association, beginning September 15th and continuing four days.

A Normal School for the benefit of the Lincoln county public school teachers was opened in this place Monday, with Prof. Halbach, Himebaugh and Bradshaw as associate principals.

The colored excursion train to Winchester on last Saturday, was made up of four crowded passenger coaches, and of course was a financial success. We are told that the net profit was $90.

Very many cows have died in this vicinity during the past week with murrain. This disease, for which there is no remedy, is caused by cattle eating the very dry grass and having no access to water.

The first cotton bloom of the season is on our table from the farm of Messrs. Rawls and Griffiths, near Blanche. It was pulled on Friday, the 18th. We also have one from the farm of Mr. J. C. Kelson, raised by Cato Kelson, colored, found 22nd inst.

The population of Fayetteville in 1870 was 1,206. The census just being finished will show it to be now over 2,100, being an increase in ten years of full 80 per cent. There are few towns in Tennessee that will exhibit a larger increase.

Mr. Alex. Bates, near Boons Hill, last Monday, was seriously injured while at work in Mr. E. S. Wilson's field. He was caught in a mower, and one of his legs fearfully mangled. Several pieces of bone were taken out, and amputation may be necessary.

At different times during the last month we have added largely to our job printing establishment. We have new style faces of various kinds and size, all modern and attractive. Additions are frequently made to our stock, to meet the demands of our increasing business.

Our people cannot be too careful about their diet at this season, as cholera is reported to be in various sections of the country. It is said not to be Asiatic but simply sporadic cases, but that is only a distinction without much difference, as a sporadic case sometimes kills a man before it "lets up" on him.

Prof. F. A. Dickinson who has had charge of a school at Fayetteville, returned to the city last week and will remain some time with his family. He has been offered a good school in Edgefield and he will go there soon and the people may congratulate themselves upon securing so excellent an instructor.—Pulaski Herald.

We have received a copy of a book entitled, "Sheep Husbandry: A Work Prepared for the Farmers of Tennessee, by J. B. Killebrew, commissioner of agriculture, statistics and mines, for the state." The book is a treatise on the general subject of sheep husbandry, and particularly of the capabilities of Tennessee for that industry. It contains 294 pages of reading matter, including a table showing the quantities and values of raw wool imported into the United States from each foreign country, from 1874 to 1879 inclusive, and a statistical account of the present condition of sheep raising in this state. The latter consists of answers from sheep growers in about 70 counties, to 21 questions propounded by the commissioner, and will give about all the general information any one could desire on the subject, from Tennessee.

Prejudice Kills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by a simple remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had pooled at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.

The patent fly fan sold by A. M. Tenison, Nashville, has improved clock-work, stronger and more effective than heretofore used. The new tubular corrugated stem, nickel-plated, gives great strength and symmetry, and will not rust. The fan is the best agent yet invented for keeping away an annoying pest, and its reduced price places it within reach of every family.

Ripe peaches appeared on our market a few days since, but were sold at such high prices that none but Astors or cousins in the Vanderbilts could buy them. We took a long, lingering, loving look at a basket full and could not restrain the wish that we were rich, or could lose our appetite for peaches.

We have a letter from Greenville, Texas, without signature, which reads—

"When I pay for a thing I want it."

Good! That's the way with us. Now, if the OBSERVER has committed an error or omission, let the correspondent say so, over his own name, in order that a corrective may be applied.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate have been made since our last report: Wm. Lock to Robert Smith, 500 acres in 18th dis, $150.

They Ask, Why? Mr. Editor.—A few weeks ago a call appeared in the OBSERVER asking Frank Ezell, Esq., to run for Floater from Lincoln and Giles. Why don't he answer? Many of us would like to vote for him.

UNQUESTIONABLE.

The Herald, Detroit, Mich., says of Warner's Safe Liver and Kidney Cure: "Its efficacy in kidney, liver, and urinary diseases is fully acknowledged, that it is not worth the questioning. It is a safe, reliable, and private life medicine strong enough to convince the most stubborn doubter." May 13-3m.

The Masonic lodge at Shiloh will give a picnic to-day. There will be a public procession, and speaking by Col. W. H. Holman and others. We hear of a great many Fayetteville folks who contemplate going.
