CHANGE OF C. R. R. TIME CARD.

The time in the running of the passenger trains on the Illinois Central railroad, went into effect Sunday at 2:10. Hereafter trains on that road will arrive and depart as follows:

DEPART: Cairo, 7:25 a.m. Mound City, 8:10 a.m. Eldorado, 8:35 p.m. ... ARRIVE: Mound City, 7:15 a.m. Eldorado, 7:40 p.m. ...

UNFORTUNATE NEGLECT OF DUTY. Mr. James Johnson, the gentlemanly agent of the Illinois Central Railroad company in this city, sent us, on Saturday last, a new time schedule, and requested us to notice the changes and inform the public. We neglected to do so, and the consequence was that, on Sunday, Mr. William James, a colored gentleman, missed the train. He was going up the road to join himself in wedlock to Miss Dinah Johnson, and he was of course greatly disappointed. He is going to commence suit against the company for unjust discrimination, although he was advised by a celebrated lawyer of this city, to go after them for libel. He will also sue THE BULLETIN for assault and battery, with intent to commit burglary, because of the neglect on the part of this paper to make publication of the change that had been made in the time of the departure of trains.

COMMUNICATED.] DIED. In this city Monday morning, May 19, at 6 o'clock, Annie Margaretta, daughter of E. A. Burnett, and grand-daughter of Charles and Hannah Lane, aged 1 year and 9 months.

Dear little Bettie was a sufferer six weeks, with whooping-cough and measles—our little rose-bud bloomed but a day, and has joined her mother above.

When we see a precious blossom, that we tend and cherish so true, suddenly taken from our bosom, How our aching hearts despair!

Round little grave we linger, Till the setting sun is low; Feeling all our hopes have perished, With the flower we cherished so.

We shall sleep but not forever, As we here and silent gaze, Blessed be the Lord that taketh, Blessed be the Lord that giveth.

In the bright, eternal city, Death can never, never come! In his own good time he'll call us, From our rest to home, sweet home.

MIXED ITEMS. The Qui Vive Coterie are to have a party at the St. Charles hotel Friday evening next, which promises to be a grand affair.

By leaving Cairo on the 11:30 p. m. train, passengers get into East St. Louis at 6 o'clock in the morning, and into St. Louis at breakfast time. This is a good arrangement.

The reported case of small-pox sent to the Sisters' hospital turns out to be a case of measles—only that and nothing more. There is not a case of small-pox in the city.

Most of the churches of the city were well attended yesterday. The funeral sermon on the death of Chas. C. Mann, delivered in the Presbyterian church by Rev. H. B. Thayer, attracted a large audience to that church.

A gentleman came into our office yesterday with a cowhide in his good right hand, but he did not use it. At first we suspected that he was one of the Cairo Madocs, who are airing at us from their little lava beds; but he was not.

The Shores imbroglia has subsided. The many bad men who were seeking to drive Mr. Shores from the work to which he was called many years ago, have retired in defeat. This is it always. Goodness and virtue always triumph in the end, over badness and unvirtue.

DEATH.

HARVEST OF THE SKELETON SCYTHE SWINGER IN ALEXANDER CO.

"DEAD FOR A DUCAT," AND WHEREFORE.

THROW PHYSIC TO THE DOGS. We learn from the Commerce (Mo.) "Dispatch," and other sources, that alarming facts prevail in different portions of this county contiguous to the Mississippi river.

At Gosport and Santa Fe a number of deaths have occurred during the past week, and in the vicinity of Commerce, on the Mississippi shore, the ravages of the disease is also alarming. The "Dispatch" says: Some five or six persons we could name, have, during the past two or three weeks, gone to bed in perfect health and woke up dead in the morning. One was the case of a young fellow who, on Tuesday evening, the night and hurried his parents by word of mouth in the morning; another was a woman who went to bed well, and in her death struggle succeeded in raising her husband, and just in time to see the last gasp of life; and three or four cases at or near Gosport Island, of men who retired to bed after their usual day's work and were stark dead before the hour for commencing another day's work had come around. The cause of death in these cases must remain a mystery, as no symptoms have been witnessed except those in articulo mortis.

As the prevailing epidemic, meningitis, is proving itself to be a pathological phantasmagoria, and charges head with the rapidity and the kaleidoscope, in its symptoms; and as it seems to have taken up and forged nearly all the weapons of the medical profession, such as neuralgia, rheumatism, pneumonia, purpural fever, tetanus, etc., into thunder-bolts, and to lay these such on deaths at its door. As this disease is under the espionage of medical men we are compelled to cry woe unto it.

Since the above was written, we learn that there were two more victims to the insidious destroyer.

Accompanying the same information was the following letter: SANTA FE, Ills., May 12, 1873.

Dr. H. H. LYNCH—Dear Sir: We have a disease in the vicinity of Macleod's mill, which we attribute to something the patients have eaten. Dr. Lawrence and myself, by investigating the matter, ascertained that all the patients had been eating the same meat, which they bought at a country store in the neighborhood.

We have you a microscope of sufficient magnifying power to examine the contents of the stomach, if you have, you will confer a great favor by sending it to me or by informing me of the fact, and I will bring some of the meat over. Yours, &c., J. W. RENNOLD.

THE BEST SHOW TRAVELLING. The "Great Chicago Show" has come and gone, and we are loath to let it go to the management of that concern, to say that it is, beyond all doubt, the best entertainment of the kind that has exhibited in this city for years. All the appointments of the entertainment are complete in the broadest sense of that term. There was no delay between the different performances—everything being so arranged as to have the different features of the show follow each other in quick succession. The Stokes family, with their trained horses, form not the least of the good parts of the show; and the riding of the trained dog is something, to say the least, new and novel; but the most prominent feature of the circus performance is the bare-back riding of Mr. Robinson, who is acknowledged to be the most expert bare-back rider in the world. He accomplishes many of the most difficult feats with so much ease, as to relieve the audience of all that fear usual on such occasions, where the rider should be thrown to the ground and mangled, it would not at all surprise the audience. Mr. Robinson justly deserves the renown he has won for himself throughout the world, for his superior achievements in bare-back riding. Taken all in all, we are free to say, we believe the "Great Chicago Show" to be the best travelling exhibition now in the United States.

Weather warmer. Ice cream is ripe. Soda water is fizzing. Sweating time has come. Big crop—empty store boxes. Big show in town yesterday. Door-step parties will soon be in order. Cairo has gone back on base ball. Good. Pack your tins and wooden goods in camp-bur.

Farmers are beginning to look for a hired man. The season so far has not been a good one for plenties. Book-ber will soon have a gone where the woodbine twined.

THE BULLETIN now has a larger circulation in this city than any other daily paper published in Cairo.

Benj. O. Jones, editor of the Metropolis "Journal," is a candidate for county clerk of Massac county.

The circus procession yesterday delighted the boys and girls and darkeys. It was a great success.

A man employed in the ice house near the St. Charles hotel, died of cholera morbus yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Kyle and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sio will return to Cairo today by the steamer "Pat." 5-17 1/2

The boys and girls have been driven from the streets by the fierce assaults of McHale's celebrated city hog cart, between Washington and Commercial Avenues.

The Massac County Agricultural Association must have proved a failure. The fair grounds were offered for sale at auction on the 10th inst.

If you expect to have Cairo a big city, don't hold your tongue late at prices so high that people will be compelled to leave the other points where they can locate advantageously.

An exchange says: The South is not the only place that raises cotton—the many ladies in Southern Illinois raise several pounds every time they take a long breath. How is that for high?

The Mississippi Valley Universalist Convention will meet at Golconda on Friday, the 23d inst., and continue in session over Sunday. The friends and members of the Universalist Church are invited to attend.

Every day of the week a number of small boys who ought to be at school may be seen tramping the streets. Whether they are sent to school and do not go, or whether they play truant, or "long tag," as the boys have it—or a fishing, is, of course, a question.

The following is a verbatim copy of an order recently received by a hardware house in Paducah: The names only are suppressed: "Ballard County, Kentucky, May 1—'Messrs., Paducah—Send me by my driver a pair of trace-chains and two long door-lings. Jane had a baby last night—also two padlocks. Yours, etc., etc."

The question is, who is the daddy of the padlocks?

The Memphis "Appal" says: "From many correspondents we receive instructions to send our river report as furnished by the signal officer so that we can tell how much the river at Cairo lacks being at high-water mark, say of 1867. Now we are told how at it is above low-water mark, information that avails those nothing who have cattle in the swamps and would rescue them from possible coming overflows. We submit the case to the signal bureau."

The cholera is making sad havoc in New Orleans, and its presence may be anticipated at an early day in this city. Our city authorities should be warned by this fact, and at once put the city in order for the coming of the disease. Havana, alarmed by the violence of the disease in the Crescent City, has established quarantine and allows no vessels from there to approach the city, unless they have had fifteen days off that port. If Havana is so careful, why should not Cairo take warning, and profit by that city's example?

While the Health Officer, Mr. Weston, is doing everything in his power to force those persons in the city who have dirty premises to clean up, we cannot help insisting upon the strictest enforcement of the ordinances relating to sanitary affairs. The sun's near approach to terra incognita will soon assist in converting much of the filth of certain localities into deadly miasma, which will be carried into parts of the city, where there has been a partial effort to be clean. The health of a town is directly to cleanliness. The Bible says "it is next to godliness." Who says we don't read the Bible?

THE friends of Mr. E. A. Burnett sympathize with him in the bereavement he suffers by the loss of his youngest child, an interesting little girl of twenty-two months of age—a bereavement made doubly sad coming so soon after the death of the little one's mother, Margarita Burnett died yesterday morning of whooping-cough, with which disease she has been afflicted for some weeks, and she had scarcely recovered from the measles and from the continuation of diseases her frail life succumbed.

FUNERAL SERVICES. The funeral services of Mr. Charles C. Munz at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning were attended by a tremendous concourse of our citizens. Every inch of room was occupied and many failed to find seats. The sermon was preached by Rev. H. B. Thayer and was published yesterday on the first page of the "Sun." It was delivered in an elegant and impressive manner, during which the speaker had the marked attention of the audience. The music was beautifully rendered by the choir, and was most excellent. The entire services were mournful and touching beyond expression. The hearts of those present went out in great sympathy for the stricken young wife, and his grief-battered father who has lost the pride of his heart, his only son, and his aged grandfather, who, while himself still nearing the portals of the great hereafter, commits one after another of those who are dearest to him to the charnel tomb, in hope of immortality and eternal blessedness. In fact, the sympathies of our citizens are heartily given to all the relatives, while each who knew "Charlie," as all were wont to call him, silently mourns the loss of a good friend, a kind-hearted, generous youth, a devoted Christian, and a model young man.

At 12 o'clock p. m. a large procession moved from the church to the I. C. R. R. depot, where the remains were placed on train to be transported to Chicago, where they will be interred in Rose Hill cemetery.

Good, true, noble heart, farewell. May the flowers bloom above his last resting place, and his memory be green with those that loved him until the last trump shall wake the sleeping casket to immortality.—[Sun.]

RELIGIOUS. The ceremony at the Catholic church on Sunday were of more than ordinary interest. The most impressive, perhaps, was that of solemn high mass which was celebrated at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Father Thayer from Cape Girardeau celebrated as High Priest, and chief celebrant. The singing on the occasion was furnished by the best talent of the city, and we would be unjust in our notice did we not refer to the excellent singing of the reverend gentleman from the Cape. Possessed of a splendid voice—the special gift of nature, meliorated by the refined teachers of cultivation and practice, and presenting unusual attractions of person and manners, he is a genuine type of a noble Irish priest and every way worthy of occupying a high station in the community to which he belongs.

At a proper time, a cessation of ceremonies took place, which was proclaimed an able discourse on the immortality of the soul. He is a good preacher, and adding to the elegance of composition, clearness of diction, propriety of inflection, and all the graces of gesture and delivery does not fail to create a lasting impression on the minds of his hearers.

In the evening confirmation was administered by the 14-h p to a host of children nearly attired for the occasion. And at 7 o'clock he delivered a good lecture on the necessity of praying for the dead—that they may be loosed from their sins. Bishop Baltes is known throughout the state as one of the best theologians in the church, and we would not but admire during the course of his lecture that facility of expression so peculiar to every speaker thoroughly acquainted with his subject. We would be glad to hear him again. At the conclusion the benediction of the blessed sacrament took place and thus ended the solemnity of the day's services.

THE BAPTIST CAUSE IN CAIRO, NO. 2. Ought we to have a Baptist church in Cairo? I reply, yes; but not upon the principle suggested by the good editor of THE BULLETIN, who, by the way, we regard as a very wise and generous brother-in-law, and who says "churches are a good thing upon the principle that, like homopathy, if they do no good they will do no harm," but rather from the fact that there are many persons in the city who are Baptist in sentiment and who cannot be reached by other denominations. Now we ought to have a house of worship, live, earnest, spiritual, persevering Baptist church to gather them in. To work them up. When in the second place there are many Christians in the city who are Baptists and who cannot find a home in other churches without a shelter. A house of worship in which to gather them, and set them to work for Jesus, they would exert an influence upon the moral and religious sentiment of the city which would be beneficial, and seconding the efforts of their Christian brethren of other denominations, and would do something, at least, toward the future growth and prosperity of the city, which must always depend upon its moral and religious condition. In the third place, a large per cent. of the incoming population of Cairo will be Baptist, and an enterprising Baptist church living in offering a home to all Baptists who will settle here. It is safe to suppose that a large share of the incoming population of Cairo will be from the states of Missouri, Kentucky and Illinois.

In the state of Missouri we number over 90,000, and in the state of Kentucky about 120,000.

As with other denominations, so with ours. Among the most intelligent, enterprising and wealthy, we find many seeking the towns and cities for business, educational and religious privileges, and with the large number of members of Baptist churches in these three states, many of whom I happen to know, are seeking such privileges, it is not difficult to see how strong a magnet to draw them toward a flourishing Baptist church would be. Nor is it difficult to see the wisdom of the present effort of the church to build a house of worship, or their forecast in planning for a house at once attractive, convenient and an ornament to the city.
