

THE DAILY CHRONICLE.

RULE & RICKS, Proprietors.

SUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 4, 1872.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION Of Any Daily Published in East Tennessee.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President, ULYSSES S. GRANT, OF ILLINOIS. For Vice President, HENRY WILSON, OF MASSACHUSETTS.

THE next States to vote are Kentucky, Montana, and Utah. They hold their elections to-morrow. The Democracy have the advantage in having the Democratic States vote first.

GRATZ BROWN.

The New Haven Palladium gives the proof sustaining the charges of drunkenness against Gratz Brown, the reform candidate for the Vice Presidency, while at New Haven. His maudlin speech was proof enough, but as the statement was disputed the proof has been made public.

In referring to the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, a supporter of Brown, says: The charge is repeated with such particulars and has such possibilities in the well-known weakness of Mr. Brown's constitution, that we think the burden of proof is changed by this evidence to the defence. Mr. Brown's friends ought, therefore, without delay, meet this question, either by evidence of the untruthfulness of the charge, or a frank confession of the justness of it, in withdrawing him from the high candidacy which he occupies before the American people.

EAST TENNESSEE.

We are glad to say that Thursday's election shows very decided Republican gains in nearly every county in East Tennessee. In some counties the majorities are very large, and show that our friends are united and in fine spirits. In every county these gains can be increased in November. Gen. Grant is stronger than his party, and we hope Republicans will in every county where it has not already been done organize Grant and Wilson clubs. Tennessee Democracy and the shameless Greeley coalition must be pointedly repudiated. We will be thankful to friends to send us promptly the official returns from every county, and hope efforts will promptly be made to effect a thorough organization in every county.

We supposed that after Thursday's vote the next move of the Knoxville clique would be to disfranchise Knox county voters, or set the county apart as a separate organization unworthy of the blessings of Nashville rule. The editors of the Greeley organ have not quite courage enough to charge upon the various election officers in the county, frauds in Thursday's vote, so they procure anonymous correspondents to do it for them. After two days' reflection it has occurred to the miserable ring that have tried to rule this county, to break the force of their defeat by charging frauds and assailing the colored vote as guilty of repeating and as ready for any corrupt bargains. The Greeley organ treats them as so many voters in the market for the highest price. Years ago it cried out in holy horror against registry laws, now it actually proposes them as an indirect way to control by intimidation and otherwise the colored vote. But this policy is not unexpected. Three or four times since the Democracy were restored to power have they insultingly and defiantly frustrated the will of the people of this county. The clique that assumes to run Knox county have secured more than once outrageous, corrupt and unconstitutional legislation at Nashville and we are not surprised that after their stinging rebuke at the ballot box they again look there for relief. Let them do their worst. The people will remember them.

THE HERALD AND LIVINGSTONE.

A few days ago the CHRONICLE suggested that the Livingstone letters to James Gordon Bennett, Jr., were not genuine. It seemed to us that upon their very face they bore badges of fraud. We suggested that the spirit and matter of the letters were not such as might be expected from the scholar and explorer. Our dispatches published this morning from Europe say that eminent geographers have discovered absurd geographical errors in the letters and the conviction is now rapidly gaining ground that Stanley never even found Livingstone. The London Geographical Association has not heard a word from him and it is thought strange that if alive and well he would not write to some of his English friends in a way to put the question of his safety beyond all doubt. On the point suggested by the CHRONICLE, the Baltimore American says: If the letters purporting to have been addressed to James Gordon Bennett, Jr., by Dr. Livingstone had been omitted, some credulous souls might have believed the story; but when the great explorer was made to appear as the author of such drivelling nonsense, every one who has read his delightful book of travels rebels at the mere suggestion. If Dr. Livingstone is alive, and wrote the letters which have appeared in the Herald over his signature, he has become a wretched old idiot in whose fate the people of the civilized world will cease to take the least interest. If it should prove that this whole expedition was a fraud, it will serve even more than the reported discovery to advertise Bennett and the Herald. As this is probably all he desired, his ambition will be fully satisfied. Three of the old and influential Democratic papers of Wisconsin utterly refuse to support Greeley and Brown. Not a single Republican paper in that State has bolted.

How About the Colored People?

MESSRS. EDITORS: In the Press and Herald of to-day appeared an article under the caption, "Can the purity of the ballot box be preserved?" over the assumed name of "Justice."

The writer of the article in question, we should judge, must have been one of the passengers up "Salt river," from the general tone of disappointment and falsehood which were the principle elements of his slanderous communication. After stating that the majority received in this county by the Republican ticket was illegally obtained, admitting, however, that "the tickets counted and reported were in the boxes," and then he directly charges the managers of the election of acting dishonestly. And he further says: "Under our loose system, the practice of repeating is a very easy one; to vote a colored man a half dozen times is no very difficult work."

Why, sir, is it that you charge that the colored man's vote can be repeated a "half dozen times?" Have not our race as much stability as any class of people in this community? Have we not proved this to be true in the election of Thursday by voting the Republican "straight ticket?" What "Justice" desires, as every man of color can plainly see, is to have the colored voter disfranchised. Oh, ye Democratic legislators, for the special benefit of "Justice," do consider his appeal (1) and pass some law; even if it is to return back to the old Democratic policy—to disfranchise the negro, so that the Democracy of Knox county may be triumphant in the next election for county officers. A COLORED MAN.
