HON. S. M. DYER writes a caustic letter to the Dandridge Watchman, in which he pays his respects to the anonymous Nashville correspondent of that paper, who has been attacking the majority of the Republicans in the Legislature for voting as they did on the State debt question.

The Heir of Prussia's Throne. Baltimore Sun's Berlin Letter. Uneasy is the head that not only wears, but wants a crown. I am not sure but the good old Emperor William of Prussia would be much more happy than he is if his heir to the throne was an amicable adjustment. Prince Henry of Prussia, the second son of the Crown Prince, now in the Asiatic waters following his profession as a sailor, is talked of as being very much desired at court here. The death of Prince Waldemar has left the question of succession to the throne an open question in the order of following the Crown Prince. There are here Prince George and Prince Alexander, of Prussia, two venerable, snuffy and well-smoked old bachelors, who long since have waived any pretensions to rule over Germany—'laus Deo!' Besides these, there are the two male heirs, the sons of the Crown Prince, the ambitious son of Prince Frederick Charles, and the more ambitious son of Prince Albrecht. Now, the paralyzed health of the elder brother of Prince Henry of Prussia, is extremely precarious; and so is the succession to the throne in these days, when a young Prince is away at sea, where ships and men are sometimes made to go down against their will. Hence he is recalled ere it be too late.

INDICATIONS: For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, nearly stationary, followed by rising barometer, warm southerly winds, generally shifting to cooler northerly, cloudy weather and numerous rains, accompanied by local rains.

Island Home. As there has been great curiosity and numbers of the most prominent farmers of East Tennessee have expressed a desire to see the new world-renowned McCormick Self-Binder in practical operation, we have, through the kindness of Col. Perez Dickinson, made arrangements by which all can have the pleasure of witnessing the work of this unrivaled labor-saving, grain-saving implement in grain which, for mammoth growth and yield, is rarely seen in any country, and admirably suited to thoroughly test the capacity of any machine as it is standing lodged and down on level and rolling ground.

When Commodore Vanderbilt succeeded. The Way Commodore Vanderbilt was running steamboats he beat all rivals that a visitor to this model farm alone, will richly reward and benefit you. As we can not, at this time, tell the exact day the grain will do to cut, notice will be given hereafter. S. T. Post & Sox, Agents for McCormick Reapers, Mowers and Self-Binders. July 1st.

What Are the Profits? This is the absorbing point that is of chief interest in every business transaction. By the combination system of operating in stocks, Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., unite the orders of thousands of patrons, in various sums, into one immense amount, and operate them as a mighty whole, thus obtaining all the advantages of the largest capitalists and best skill. Profits are distributed pro rata among shareholders every month. In this way large gains are secured in short periods, and capital from $10 or $15 to $50,000 can be used with equal proportionate success. $20 will make $100 in 30 days, $150 will pay $1,500 profit, or 10 per cent. on the stock, and so on, according to the market. A citizen of Troy, made $315.75 on an investment of $50. Many customers are doing better. The new circular has "two unerring rules for success," and full details so that any one can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. KNOXVILLE CITY SCHOOLS. Successful and Auspicious Winding Up of the Examinations. Yesterday was the culminating day in the public examinations in our City Schools, and the entire week's work, which commenced bright and early Monday morning, was brought to a close in a very satisfactory and auspicious manner.

At the Bell House, in the rooms of Prof. D. B. Johnson and E. P. Moses; at the Peabody in Prof. S. A. Craig's room, and in Mr. J. S. Fowler's room at the colored school, all in the higher and finishing grades, the exercises were concluded at the end of the morning session, and they closed with appropriate ceremonies. At the Hampden Sidney building, in other words the Girls' High School, Miss Helen Hoadley, Principal, and her assistants, Misses Cynnie and Bella Boyd and Miss Rosa Leftwich, gave the finishing touches to their examinations in the most advanced branches, such as the languages, sciences, etc. The attendance of visitors increased to the very last, and the interest manifested was more and more intense.

The following constitute the "Roll of Honor" in Miss Hoadley's department: Misses Mary Davis, Mary Madden, Cora Deaderick, Lizzie Grove, Jessie Rayl, Mollie Ross, Litsy Joynes, Tillie Knabe, Mary Odell, Annie Odell, and Maggie Smith. This is quite a large roll indeed, for the number of students in the room, and speaks volumes, both for the young ladies and their excellent and accomplished instructors. They should value the distinction very highly also, for it is indeed no empty honor to be on this roll, in such a room, where all are so well taught and disciplined.

Mr. W. P. Washburn, of the Board of Education, made very encouraging and appropriate remarks before the final dismissal. Thus the record of the week is made up, and it is certainly an enviable one in all respects. Knoxville has abundant reasons for being proud of her public schools, which are rapidly approaching the zenith of their glory, and the amount of good that is being accomplished through their agency is literally incalculable. Suppose the reader should just stop and reflect for a moment, for a few years back, and compare our schools then with those of to-day. In fact there is no comparison whatever, and it is almost impossible to realize what rapid strides of advancement have been made.

It would hardly be safe perhaps to say that our schools are perfect, and have no equal in the land, but after a close observation of the accomplishments in all the grades, as mirrored through these examinations, it seems hardly possible that the system of instruction or the grade of the schools could be improved upon. It is the universal verdict of all that they have never seen anything to equal it, and it is actually a matter of profound astonishment just to witness how much knowledge the youthful minds will contain, and what a perfect system is observed in every room and class, from the lowest to the highest. It is safe to say, however, that never was so much progress made in one year, and never before were the examinations so universally satisfactory, and, if the point of perfection is not reached, it is certainly not far distant. Never before was such a general interest manifested either, and the number of visitors to these examinations is perhaps double those of any former year. This is as it should be, for then the people are prepared to appreciate the schools properly and know just what they are accomplishing.

To Prof. R. D'S. Robertson, the Principal, is due, in an overwhelming degree, the credit for this near approach to perfection. Since he took charge of our schools, one year ago, he has been a zealous and untiring worker, and has certainly accomplished wonders in the way of systemizing and perfecting the plan of teaching. His efforts are also seconded by an eminently efficient and well chosen board of teachers, who assist him all in their power.

The classes in the various departments will go right along with their recitations till Wednesday June 11th, which closes the term. On that date public exercises will occur at the Opera House, and a class of 10 young ladies from Hampden Sidney and one young man from the Bell House will be graduated. The written examinations for promotion will begin next week in all the schools. The Examining Committee held a meeting at the conclusion of the exercises, at which the work of getting up reports of the several schools was allotted to different parties, who are to report to Col. Jas. M. Fleming on or before next Wednesday, and from there he will make up an official report.

It is by regulating the bodily organs and promoting digestion and assimilation, that the complexion has indicative of its health, is banished from the cheeks.
