

Business Directory.

J. F. BAUMANN, ARCHITECT. Supt. of Buildings. Office at the East Tennessee National Bank.

FIRE INSURANCE. F. E. ATWELL, AGENT. Home Insurance Co., N. Y. Assets $5,754,314.

FAMILY GROCERIES. E. C. LOCKE, No. 23, east side Market Square. Commission Merchant and Dealer in Family Groceries.

NOTARY PUBLIC. CHAS. H. BROWN, NOTARY PUBLIC. Office at the East Tennessee National Bank.

PROFESSIONAL. O. P. TEMPLE, Attorney at Law, at his Old Office, East Side of Gay Street, near the residence of S. T. Atkin. Charges moderate.

"THE IMPERIAL" Coal Cooking Stove AND "The New Capitola" Wood Cooking Stove.

HAVE EVERY IMPROVEMENT OF Utility, Value and Beauty. THEY ARE NOT Surpassed by any Stoves sold in East Tennessee.

Call and examine, or write for prices. HAVEY, ROLEN & CO., Stoves and Tinware, MARKET SQUARE, Knoxville, Tenn.

Daily Weather Report. KNOXVILLE, TENN., June 11, 1879.

Table with 4 columns: Time of Observation, Barometer, Thermometer, and State of Weather. Data for 7 A.M., 11:30 A.M., 2:00 P.M., and 4 P.M.

Maximum Thermometer 81°, Minimum 70°. Barometer 30.0. State of Weather Cloudy.

INDICATIONS: For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, nearly stationary followed by higher pressure, variable winds, mostly southwest, nearly stationary temperature, and partly cloudy weather and local rains.

THE National Republican puts the new "Ohio Idea" a loyal uniform to cover a disloyal ticket.

THE six and seven per cent. bonds of Augusta, Georgia, are selling at a premium. This is more than can be said for a great many other cities.

A NUMBER of Congressional Committees are authorized to sit during the recess, and will go junketing around the country at the expense of the Government.

SINCE the Democratic backbone proves to be a very fragile fabric, it is thought that "Brigadier" Blackburn will hardly survive the dog days. The virus has "taken in" and his case is a bad one.

SOME of the Democrats in the Senate are opposed to the confirmation of Secretary McCrary as Judge of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, because he is opposed to State Rights, as defined in the Democratic lexicon. But they dare not reject him.

THE extra session of Congress has cost about $12,000 a day, but there is some compensation in the fact that it has made at least one thousand Republican votes for each day it has been in session, in localities where they will do the most good.

THE Democratic newspaper editors have been making themselves quite merry over the name of Gen. Hickenlooper, the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in Ohio. Some German has translated the name as "The man who wins." The Democrats will find the name a very appropriate one next October.

THE portly Deak, who writes the heavy editorials for the Nashville American went to a barbecue the other day in Robertson county, and for more than a week he has had a very metaphysical turn of mind. As a metaphysician he hasn't an equal in the State and he ought to abandon politics altogether, especially his sort of politics. Democratic politics and metaphysics is a strange combination.

PROCTOR KNOTT's long-looked-for anti-veto proclamation has at last made its appearance. In length it is formidable, but in no other respect. It is something unheard of in American politics, and all the men whose minds will be changed by it can get transportation in a single omnibus, without crowding the vehicle in the least. The Kentucky statesman is not the man to revolutionize public opinion in a country where most of the people can read and write.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Ben Hill Turns Loose on the McDonald Military Bill, Donald Military Bill,

And Works in an Explanation of His Secession Record.

Lengthy Paper from Proctor Knott on the Presidential Veto.

XLVI CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11. The Senate resumed the consideration of Mr. McDonald's bill, to authorize the use of troops in certain cases, and to repeal the election laws.

Mr. Hill began speaking on the McDonald Military bill at 12:35, saying that he intended to reply to a personal allusion, but not to retaliate nor to make a personal attack on any Senator.

Mr. Hill showed that his vote in the Georgia Convention was against secession, the secession resolution was adopted by the convention, and after that it was only a question of whether the citizens of the State should uphold its solemn action in the convention. He therefore signed the ordinance of secession after its passage, as did all his colleagues.

Mr. Hill showed that his vote in the Georgia Convention was against secession, the secession resolution was adopted by the convention, and after that it was only a question of whether the citizens of the State should uphold its solemn action in the convention. He therefore signed the ordinance of secession after its passage, as did all his colleagues.

Mr. Stephens, from the Coinage Committee, reported a bill for the adoption of a metric system of weights, measures and coinage.

Mr. Carlisle, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported Senate bill allowing vinegar factories, which were established and operated before the 1st of March, 1879, to continue their business by the use of alcoholic vapor, even when within 600 feet of the distillery or rectifying house, which was prohibited by the existing law, under regulations to be prescribed. The bill was passed.

Mr. Carlisle also reported a bill directing the Attorney General to adjust or compromise the claim of the United States under the will of Joseph L. Lewis. Passed. (This is the case in which Lewis, formerly of Hoboken, New Jersey, left an estate of about one million of dollars to be applied to the reduction of a note or debt.)

HOUSE.

Mr. Stephens, from the Coinage Committee, reported a bill for the adoption of a metric system of weights, measures and coinage.

Mr. Carlisle, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported Senate bill allowing vinegar factories, which were established and operated before the 1st of March, 1879, to continue their business by the use of alcoholic vapor, even when within 600 feet of the distillery or rectifying house, which was prohibited by the existing law, under regulations to be prescribed. The bill was passed.

Mr. Carlisle also reported a bill directing the Attorney General to adjust or compromise the claim of the United States under the will of Joseph L. Lewis. Passed. (This is the case in which Lewis, formerly of Hoboken, New Jersey, left an estate of about one million of dollars to be applied to the reduction of a note or debt.)

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Proctor Knott, of the House Judiciary Committee, submitted to the House to-day the Committee's report upon the President's message vetoing the House bill No. 1,382, known as the "Military Interference Bill." The document is six or seven thousand words in length, and takes up and examines in detail all the objections made by the President to the bill in question. It begins by stating that the danger to be apprehended from the presence of troops at the polls is sufficiently apparent and has been repeatedly pointed out. Long ago as 1863 Congress found it necessary to pass a bill to obviate it by strictly prohibiting military interference with elections, except upon the call of a State, or to keep peace at the polls. The bill was approved by Mr. Lincoln, and is now in force. As sections 20,002 and 5,528 of the revised statutes the words, "Keep peace at the polls," and were not in the original draft of the bill, but were added in the Senate against remonstrance, a majority of its supporters, who feared that they would be misconstrued, and that it would be used as a pretext to evade with impunity the penalties prescribed, to remove that pretext and prevent the recurrence of the practices already shown to be dangerous, the present Congress, in making appropriations for the support of the army, struck out the words in question. The President thereupon returned the bill without his signature, because in his opinion, first, it was unnecessary; second, it would prevent civil officers from using civil force to keep peace at the polls; and third, the method of repealing the clause in question was not in harmony with the Executive's taste. The first two objections the committee for the present passes without remark, but with regard to the third the report says the manner of the repeal was in strict conformity to the Constitution and rules of the House, and justified by numerous precedents in the annals of Federal legislation. The latest of these precedents was contained in the Army Appropriation bill for the present fiscal year, which the President signed without objection, notwithstanding the provision contained therein proposing the use of the army as a posse comitatus. It might not be improper, therefore, for the President to devote some attention to the consistency of his own record if not to the ordinary proprieties hitherto observed by the Chief Magistrate in communicating with the Supreme Legislature of the country." The report then recites the proposition, and the passage of a separate measure of the same nature with a view to obviate the President's objections to the method of repeal and says it too was returned without approval.

It then takes up and examines in course the President's reasons for vetoing the measure in question. With regard to the first of them, that the bill is unnecessary, the report says: "Whether the opinion of the majority of the Representatives of the people is entitled to any consideration at the hands of the Chief Executive is of course a matter to be determined by himself, but it is impossible to read the two veto messages together without being struck by their marked difference in tone as regards this objection. The inevitable conclusion to be drawn from the first message was that all authority to use the army at the polls, even in aid of the civil officers, was tacitly, if not expressly, abjured. In the second message, however, there is no such disclaimer. It is admitted that elections ought to be free from military interference, but no intimation as to such interference would be unlawful. On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

On the contrary, the inference from the second message is, that under certain circumstances it would eminently proper. The entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the President's assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with elections during his administration."

VIRGINIA.

SALEM, June 11.—At the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of Roanoke College, Rev. W. E. Hubbard, of Virginia, was elected President, and Rev. L. A. Mann, of Maryland, orator for the next year. The Association resolved to raise an endowment fund of $25,000, and a committee was appointed to solicit contributions and to have the Association incorporated. The Commencement passed off successfully.

Accident to Capt. Jerry Coffey. We are sorry to learn from information which reached Knoxville yesterday through railroad circles, that Capt. Jerry Coffey, who was running as conductor on the road between Jackson and Castro, Miss., met with the great misfortune Tuesday of having his foot and ankle so badly crushed as to require its amputation between the knee and ankle. The manner in which it occurred, as we learn through Capt. Charley Toms, is about this: He was just boarding his train as it was leaving a station and came against an oil barrel on the platform which he did not see, and this threw him with his foot under the trucks.

The operation of amputating was successfully performed and he was reported to be getting along very well. Capt. Coffey was formerly a very popular conductor of our line of road, and has a host of friends in this section of country who will be pained to learn of this accident.

A Rape on a Large. A rape was committed on the 30th of May on the person of Mrs. Sallie Howell, wife of John Howell, at their home about two miles from Strawberry Plains, by a negro, who made his escape before he could be arrested. His name is thought to be Lucian Weaver. He is very black, about thirty years old, five feet ten inches in height, and weighs about 150 pounds. He had on at the time a suit of very old worn brown clothes, and black hat, turned up behind. The horrible deed aroused the neighborhood thoroughly, and search is being made for him. He seems to have went up the country, having been seen last at Morristown. He formerly lived at Morristown, it is understood. If anyone filing this description is found lurking around, it is hoped he will be taken up, so that justice may be meted out to him as he deserves. Gov. Marks, has, we understand, authorized the offering of $100 reward for his capture.

Step most Extraordinary. A special from Morristown, Tennessee, to a Cincinnati paper, under date of June 10th, says the most extraordinary elopement ever known occurred in that vicinity. Levi Marzay was a married man. He sold his sheep to get money to elope with Charlotte Vandegriff, aged sixteen, and employed Elijah Lawson, who was also married, to lay his plans. Mrs. Manzey discovered the plot and stole her husband's sheep money, and slipped out with Thomas Vandegriff, brother of Charlotte.

Elijah Lawson who had maneuvered for Manzey became enamored of Charlotte herself and eloped with her, at the same time her brother and Mrs. Manzey fled. The only one left out is Levi Marzay, the prime mover who is left without wife, sweetheart or money.

The Search for Felver. Mr. James P. Reeder, who, in connection with Lee Lewis, has been since Monday in search of the negro, Calvin Felver, concerned in the robbery of Recorder White's house last Sunday, returned home late Tuesday night. They followed Felver, and had accurate descriptions of him, till they reached Clinton, travelling on horseback. At this point, however, they lost the trail, and went out a few miles in every direction, but could not strike it again. It is more than probable that the fellow has put himself out of easy reach by this time, with his booty.

Prostrated by an Epileptic Fit. Shortly before one o'clock yesterday, Bud Elmore, son of Capt. Wm. Elmore, of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, was prostrated by something like an epileptic fit while engaged at his work as engineer at the works of the Knoxville Ice Company. He had just eaten a hearty dinner, and was apparently all right. Medical aid was summoned, and he was conveyed to his father's home. He suffered considerably, but was apparently improving at latest accounts.

Married. In the M. E. Church, Canton, N. Y., June 8th, 1879, by the Rev. W. C. Smith, of the Northern New York Conference, Rev. Carroll S. Long, A. B., President of Candler College, Asheville, N. C., and Miss Flora I. Smith, daughter of the officiating clergyman.

Fourth of July. We are requested to announce that there will be a meeting of Irish citizens this evening at the School House in North Knoxville, the object being to prepare for the celebration of the Fourth of July.

KNOXVILLE Steam Sash and Blind MANUFACTORY.

CO-OPERATIVE COMPANY. CONTRACTORS, BUILDERS

MANUFACTURERS OF Sash, Blinds and Doors, are prepared to make to order Sash, Blinds, Doors, Flooring, Weatherboarding, Mouldings, &c., &c., &c.

OFFICE AND FACTORY. 700th St. (North Knoxville) Orders by mail promptly filled. Address all orders to CO-OPERATIVE CO., Knoxville, Tenn.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN. Two Sixteen-Horse Power ENGINES, A LARGE BOILER, Two Steam Pumps, 400 feet 2 inch Wire Rope and other fixtures.

Apply to East Tennessee Coal Co., Knoxville, Tenn.

AT THE HOUSE. List of Arrivals to the City. The following is a list of arrivals at the city hotels for June 11th:

ATKIN HOUSE. Wm. C. Pierce, Rogersville; H. G. Mead, Louisville, Tenn.; A. J. Reams, London; Jas. Ebert, Columbus, Ga.; J. W. Richmond, Scott, Co., Va.; Ed. L. Patterson, Heiskell's Station; J. M. Hood, E. A. Ramsey, Maryville; J. T. Wilder, Chattanooga; C. D. Merritt, Morristown; John Daniel, Rutledge; D. K. Self, Midway.

LAMAN HOUSE. Joseph Grigsby, G. T. Larkins, Morristown; A. H. Pettibone, Greeneville; T. Boyers, Jr., Gallatin; W. Brown, New York; J. M. Davidson, Miss. Millie Hoffmaster, Rutledge.

CENTRAL HOUSE. J. E. Hann, Philadelphia; John B. Morrissett, Graysville; J. A. Helas, Morristown; Stephen Roberts, Marshall, N. C.; J. A. Greer, W. W. Freshour, Maryland.

Circuit Court. The Circuit Court reassembled yesterday morning, Hon S. A. Rodgers presiding, and the following business was transacted: John Marshall vs. J. E. Price; motion to strike out plea in abatement disallowed.

J. J. O'Shea vs. G. W. Levere, John Crowley and Peter Conland; one month's time allowed to plead.

McNamara, Neil & Co. and H. Carlisle vs. J. D. Cowan et al; defendant's demurrer to plaintiff's declaration overruled and defendant allowed to plead so as not to delay.

Margaret Milwee vs. Knox county; defendant's demurrer to plaintiff's declaration overruled and defendant allowed to plead so as not to delay.

H. L. McClung, Jr. and Jno. A. Baxter were sworn in as attorneys in this court.

The business of the term having been completed, Court then adjourned till court in course, the first Monday in October next.

The Nature of a Miracle. A priest, after vainly trying to explain the nature of a miracle to a doubting Irishman, suddenly stopped, kicked him, and asked, "Did you feel that?" "Yes," said the Irishman. "If you hadn't," resumed the priest, "it would have been a miracle." Thus argument superior fails to convince, though every objection be fully answered. Like stubborn are the few who yet doubt the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Positive proof of merit has repeatedly been advanced. Testimonials from prominent citizens in nearly every town in North America have been published, certifying to the doctor's sincerity, honesty, and superior skill. Why longer doubt? If afflicted with a cold, cough, bronchitis, consumption, or any scrofulous disease or humor, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect your speedy cure. Give no heed to what some unsuccessful physician, or healthy "skeptic" neighbor may say. Decide for yourself. J. A. Alexander, M. D., of Broadway, Va., writes that he has thoroughly tested Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in an extensive practice, and has found them to possess superior merit, and to do all that was claimed for them. He further says that a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser should be in every house.

Who Has Lost One? A stranger boy, probably about 14 years of age, appeared on the street, who is deaf and dumb. He is a bright, lively youth, of fair complexion and good features—his clothing good, for a wayfarer, and his appetite magnificent. He is very reticent as to his history, home, name or destination; but intimates that he has lived in Clarksville, Tenn., and learned the signs at Knoxville. As he has probably friends who are anxious on his behalf, please call the attention of Knoxville papers to the facts stated here.—Interior Journal, Stanford, Ky.

ANNAPOLIS, IND., June 10.—The graduating exercises of the Naval Academy took place to-day. Judge M. J. Durham, of Kentucky, delivered the annual address to the graduates, and Secretary Thompson, the diplomas. R. H. Miner, of Ohio, took the first honors in the class of 42 cadet midshipmen, and Richard Gatewood, of Virginia, the first honor in the class of 28 cadet engineers.

COFFIN, WILSON & CO., Wholesale Grocers

Corner Gay and Reservoir Streets, Keep the Largest Stock of STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES.

KEPT IN EAST TENNESSEE, AND Allow no one to Undersell Them.

SOLE AGENTS FOR HAZARD RIFLE AND BLASTING POWDER.

LEWIS & CARHART, WHOLESALE GROCERS.

KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE. A LARGE AND VARIED STOCK OF STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES,

Which we offer to the Trade at N. Y. Prices, Freight Added.

HAVING REMOVED TO OUR LARGE DOUBLE STORE

We have ample room to store Produce For our Customers free of Charge

Agents for Holston Salt and Plaster Company AND Lenoir's and Rockford Cotton Yarns.

BARGAINS IN Spring Goods

MATT. NELSON & CO.'S, GAY STREET, FOUR DOORS

Elegant Stock OF THE ROUND HOUSE.

ARRIVING, AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, NEXT DOOR

AND an examination of the same in solicited.

Come and examine our goods and prices and you will be sure to purchase.