

FASCILETIES.

Regular Spring weather. Ogden Bros. are receiving New Books every day.

There is something of a relaxation in business and bustle since the rush of the Stockholders Convention.

Ogden Brothers are paying special attention to ordering Books not in stock.

Dawes & Jackson yesterday received one thousand pounds of Fresh Venison Hams. Call and get one to-day, before they ship them.

There is nothing in the whole world that gives so much Pleasure or does such lasting Good as Good Books. Ogden Bros. have a choice selection.

A rumor being afloat that it is contemplated that a new jail shall be erected in the court house lot in Chattanooga, the Times enters a strong protest against such a proceeding.

A white swan, measuring 7 1/2 feet from tip to tip, with a neck over two feet long, was recently killed by a fisherman near Chickamauga, and exhibited in Chattanooga, according to the Times.

Capt. P. Maples, of Catsletsburg, Sevier county, landed at the wharf yesterday evening with 450 bushels wheat, 50 bushels peas, 65 turkeys, and other miscellaneous freight, such as butter eggs, etc.

The colored Odd Fellows turned out in a body yesterday to attend the funeral of their brother, John Hardin, at the house of Mr. E. T. Wadlow, west of the city. They left the city about 11 o'clock, marching with the brass band preceding them, and returned about 4 o'clock.

Another beautiful day yesterday, and the ladies took advantage of the same to visit Santa Claus at Cullen & Newman's. They were surprised at the display of Holiday Goods, and many left their orders, while others assured them that they would come at an early day and make their purchases.

Chattanooga had five deaths last week, one white and four colored. In connection with the mortuary report, of scarlatina reported, one on B street, between McCallie and Gilmer, the other on James, near East Terrace. The former supposed to have been contracted in Knoxville, the other believed to be indigenous—both non-malignant—and both are convalescent.

The Executive Committee of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, of which Hon. E. A. James, of Chattanooga, is chairman, has issued a call for a convention of the people interested in the improvement of the Tennessee river, to assemble in the city of Huntsville, Ala., on the 8th day of January, 1880, for the purpose of taking such action as they may deem necessary to push the work to an early completion.

The grand isolated suburban residence being erected by our enterprising fellow-townsmen, Mr. J. D. Cowan, just west of the city, forms a popular Sunday afternoon stroll to city people. It is well worth a stroll to see it, too. The substantial work of the building is about completed, and it will now receive the finishing touches. It will be a magnificent structure in all its appointments. Mr. Cowan is also devoting a vast amount of time and funds to the beautifying of the grounds, and it will present a charming appearance by the time he is ready to occupy it.

Improvements Down Towards Scuff. The west end of Main street, down towards what is commonly known as "Scuff," is beginning to reanimate somewhat, and begins to wear a more cheerful and thriving appearance than for some years. We notice some substantial improvements going up in that part of the city, chief among which is a handsome two-story frame residence, which will soon be completed for Mr. J. C. Luttrell, Jr., on the north side of Main street, adjoining the residence of Alex. Allison, Esq. Another improvement is being made on the corner west of Mr. Luttrell's building. That property has been purchased by Mr. S. H. George, and is being put in first-class repair throughout.

A. L. Green, Trustee, vs. Geo. Bellow; transferred to heels of docket of Third Circuit. Jas. Ketchen vs. E. J. Sanford et al.; transferred to heels of docket of Third Circuit.

Bank of Tennessee vs. G. W. Churchwell's Adm'r; continued. Court adjourned till 9 o'clock this morning.

Like to Obtain. No doubt the public would like to obtain what it requires at as cheap a rate as possible, and many times are induced to purchase cheap articles, which are in reality the dearest in the end. Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts costs a few cents more, yet they are the cheapest, for they require much less in quantity.

Smith, and Mr. John Ellison—butehers in our market, besides keeping their stalls always well stocked with the best and freshest of meats, are also doing a live and thriving business in the way of putting up bacon. They purchased Monday, from Cusick & Pickens, of Sevier county, one of the finest lots of hogs ever brought to this market.

There were sixty-six head of them, and they averaged 310 pounds. These they will kill and put down in bacon, using the trimmings, etc., to make up in lard, sausage, etc., of the very finest quality, for their market trade. These gentlemen have already killed and put down in bacon about 300 hogs this season, and will continue in the business. It gives us pleasure to note such prosperity in business, which is always sure to come of the enterprise and close attention to business exhibited by these gentlemen.

Obituary. Mary Nena, late daughter of J. D. and M. T. McCallum, aged 4 years, 4 months and 18 days.

Death, whose iron hand tortures all hearts and darkens all homes, has again struck from our earth, another of those little sunbeams that gladden all things upon which they shine; yet, like the stars that go down, so has she, after accomplishing her little task, gone to shine in other skies. A beautiful child, the pride of fond parents, of a sweet, gentle disposition; she has by these and by words of wisdom, characteristic of one far beyond her years, taught lessons of love, resignation, reverence and of hope which will never be forgotten. Of her, though but a child, it can be truthfully said, "She hath done what she could."

To her sorrowing parents and her absent brother, whose dearest idol she was, we would say in her own memorable words, though it is dark to you now, and though she can never return to gladden your hearts by her sweet smiles, yet "God puts us here to stay but a little while," and up there you will find your little treasure. He who said "suffer little children to come unto me" has taken her to himself. Look up, and know, that beside the beautiful gate she is waiting and watching for you. Aler that "little white" it will all come right again, for God knows the best.

There are hopes beyond our earthly hopes That end in glad fruition.
