

45 Years Before the Public. THE GENUINE Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are not recommended as a remedy for all the ailments that flesh is heir to, but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia, and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

ACUE AND FEVER. No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine. As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

Beware of Imitations. The genuine are never sugar-coated. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression, 'McLANE'S LIVER PILLS'.

Entered at the Post-Office at Knoxville, Tennessee, as Second-Class Matter. WEDNESDAY, FEB. 25, 1880. DRUNKENNESS A DISEASE.

We suppose that there are few, if any, of our readers who can not recall to memory, if they do not now know of such cases, men who were dying by inches as it were, the most horrible death imaginable, from the excessive use of intoxicating drinks.

After the Pennsylvania republican convention selected Grant delegates to Chicago, and adopted the unit rule, we expressed the opinion that New York would follow. The convention which meets at Utica to-day will verify that prediction. The convention will be composed of 410 delegates. Up to Saturday evening, according to the New York Times, 374 delegates had been chosen. Of these 217 are for Gen. Grant, being a clear majority of the full convention.

MARCH MAGAZINES. The leading article in the North American Review, for March is by ex-Judge Jerry S. Black, and is entitled, "The Third Term," being a reply to ex-Senator Howe's paper on that subject in the Review for February.

something of how this cure is regarded there: "The Brooklyn Clergyman's union met at Thompson's, in Clinton street, last evening, and listened to accounts by Dr. B. C. Miller and another gentleman, of the cure of the throat for alcoholic liquors by the use of Chin-chona rubra. The second speaker was a young man who was recognized by one of the clergymen present as one who had seemed to him for years an irreclaimable drunkard. The young gentleman stated that he first began the use of liquor in the army. It relieved the pain of his wounds, and cheered his drooping spirits. From a moderate use of it he came at last to use excessively, and after his return to private life he found the habit so firmly fixed upon him that he could not shake it off. His nervous system became shattered at last, and he lost every prospect of success in life. In January last he was put under treatment with Chin-chona rubra, and he is now entirely cured of the taste for liquor. He was glad to appear before the clergymen at last, and he lost every prospect of success in life. In January last he was put under treatment with Chin-chona rubra, and he is now entirely cured of the taste for liquor.

This remedy has been tested for two or three years, and the experience of scores of persons shows that it is a remedy. THAT CONGRESSIONAL SCANDAL.

The scandal which has gained publicity in Washington recently, in which a number of senators and representatives are implicated, is a most disgraceful affair. And the disgrace does not rest alone with the parties implicated. It extends also to their constituents. If the fountain is impure, the stream will be tainted. As long as the people support for high offices, men of notoriously corrupt morals, they may expect to see their law-makers engaging in practices disgusting to decent persons.

And who will say that such reasoning is not well-founded? And how many of us can truthfully claim that we have not assisted, at some time or other in our lives, in the elevation of such characters to office? When men who say they hate vice cease to vote for vicious men for office, then there will be fewer complaints about such scandals as this which comes to us from Washington, and which, if true, ought to damn those who are implicated.

After the Pennsylvania republican convention selected Grant delegates to Chicago, and adopted the unit rule, we expressed the opinion that New York would follow. The convention which meets at Utica to-day will verify that prediction. The convention will be composed of 410 delegates. Up to Saturday evening, according to the New York Times, 374 delegates had been chosen. Of these 217 are for Gen. Grant, being a clear majority of the full convention.

The fourth article is by Rev. Dr. Bellows, and treats of civil service reform. The author recounts what has been done in Britain to reform the civil service of that country, and shows how the experience of British statesmen may be turned to advantage by American lawmakers. Professor Simon Newcomb, in an article on "Political Dangers," calls attention to the danger of the political tribunal for the determination of contested elections. He looks on the presidential struggle of three years ago, and the recent excitement in Maine, as symptomatic of a diseased political condition which calls for remedial measures very different from those which have hitherto been employed.
