HOEK'S elimination from Congress becomes necessary as a sanitary precaution.

THE Boston Herald speaks of HOEK's poison speech as "a piece of driving idiocy."

HOEK, in his personal character, has attained that peculiar odor of over-ripeness which is by no means complimentary to East Tennesseans.

If the people of this district were easily moved to tears, they would weep copiously at the pathetic appeals made by HOEK against personalities in a political canvass.

FEDERAL officers are a great political force, but Mr. HOEK is beginning to suspect that they are insufficient to prevent the speedy collapse of his schemes. The plain truth is, Mr. HOEK is despondent.

THE HOEKITES are sick, they are desperate and are now proposing to trade Hawkins for HOEK. A HOEK-ite at New Market was heard to say to a Democrat the other day: "You vote for HOEK, and I will vote for Bate."

HOEK represents all the evils of bossism, and corruption and dishonesty in the Republican party, which, if persisted in, will make it a stench in the nostrils of every honest man. And it is the duty of those Republicans who would save their party for further usefulness to wipe out these evils and to do this now. And to do this HOEK must be beaten.

It is not believed that "L. Campbell" HOEK will take rooms at the Ebbitt House when he returns to Washington in December to fill out the three months of his present and last term in Congress. L. Campbell's exit from the Ebbitt House on the first day of September was too sudden for him to undertake to stop at that respectable house again.

Patti, the sweet songstress, has arrived in New York.

Diphtheria prevails to an alarming extent in Dinwiddie County, Va.

Five children died at Houston, Texas, from eating locust leaves.

Albert Harbison, Quartermaster-General, of Connecticut, has resigned.

The woman's missionary society is now in session at Cincinnati, Mrs. R. B. Hayes presiding.

President Arthur is now in Washington but will return to New York in time to vote in the State election next Tuesday.

Daniel Drawbaugh, of Pennsylvania, has just invented a telephone transmitter that is said to be superior to anything in use.

Myers & Marcus, wholesale dry goods merchants, Augusta, Ga., have failed. Liabilities said to be near two hundred thousand dollars.

Poor old Mrs. Soville declares that she is not insane, and is trying to have the verdict of lunacy, recently rendered against her, set aside.

It is thought that Mr. Hale, the Republican candidate for Governor of New Hampshire, will be elected by a majority of at least twenty thousand.

Hooker Stivers killed Burt Scully with a shot gun at Paris, Ky. The difficulty grew out of a dispute over an old hen and a brood of young chickens. The murderer was promptly arrested and jailed.

Mrs. Margaret Sargin, wife of a prominent New York physician, deliberately shot and killed her three children, two boys and a girl, and then took her own life. She is supposed to have been laboring under a temporary fit of insanity.

A party of fifty colored persons sailed from New York on last Tuesday for Liberia. Upon their arrival there they will be given $250 each and shelter and clothing for six months, after which time they are expected to be self-sustaining.

HOEK IN 1865.

To the Voters of the Second Congressional District of Tennessee.

Fellow Citizens:—Maynard is a candidate. He was in Congress during the first two years of the war. What did he do for the soldiers? He voted to condemn the President for calling out troops to suppress the rebellion. He voted to condemn Major Anderson for defending Fort Sumter.

He is in favor of negro suffrage! He says no man can give a good reason why the negro shall not vote. I am opposed to negroes and rebels voting!

Now look at Maynard! He has asked to have four offices in the last six months. First, he requested the President to give him a foreign appointment. He did not get it. He then asked Tennessee to send him as a senator to Congress. He then asked Johnson to give him a Cabinet appointment. He did not get that. And now he comes back here and wants you to send him to Congress.

Remember what I say! I will be elected, and Maynard can desert from the militia, or go to school teaching if he desires.

I am, respectfully,
L. C. HOEK.

The Jeannette Inquiry.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., November 3.—The Tribune has a report of an interview with Dr. D. F. Collins, brother of the late Jerome F. Collins, scientist of the Jeannette expedition. Dr. Collins says: "We have evidence that DeLong used his official position as commander of the expedition to persecute, in a very conservative way, some of the members of the commission. My brother was placed under arrest for no reason whatever. This, Lieutenant Danenhower admitted to me. DeLong refused to allow my brother, at certain times, to do any kind of work, and purposely allowed all notes, photographs and records of the expedition prepared by my brother to sink. We have evidence that the captain forced him to remain behind when he volunteered to go ahead with Winderman and Noros to search for relief, my brother being in the best condition of any member of the party to do so. We have evidence that Bartlett, now in Liberia, of the expedition, is in possession of valuable facts, but we believe he has been kept in Liberia purposely by the officers of the expedition, so that his testimony may not get before the public. We are also in possession of full information that on Melville finding the bodies of the DeLong party, he used the most blasphemous and scandalous language concerning my brother's body. We also have reason for believing that reports made by Melville as to the condition of the weather, which he alleged prevented him from going to the relief of DeLong's party, were false, for on the dates on which he declared the weather bad, it has been shown to have been good. Dr. Collins further asserts that jealousy existed between certain officers of the expedition, the troubles first beginning, as he learns, over an order to the effect that all the men should undergo physical examination. Neither Markley, Collins, nor Davenhows were permitted to assist in the retreat. Dr. Collins adds: We happen to know that Kasnah requested Melville to go to DeLong's relief, and to send some one, and Melville would do neither. He first gave the order to Danenhower to go, and then commanded it. Kasnah and Shagra were fifteen days making the round trip to Belum from the spot where Melville's party was. Two days each way was ample time for the journey. During the trip these men got drunk, and Melville knew it. While they were gone in search of DeLong, Melville and his men made chess men and checker-boards, and amused themselves, leaving the work of searching for their companions to two ignorant and drunken natives. We have reasonable grounds for being certain that there was a considerable amount of intoxicants drunk during the fifteen days they waited for the return of the two natives. We know from conversation with surviving members of the expedition that certain letters and papers which we believe were on my brother's person have never been produced. We want to know what has been done with these papers. If Melville had gone with the natives as he ought to have done, no doubt, DeLong and his party would have been saved. He would have seen the beacon fires that have been lighted, as stated in DeLong's journal, which was found, even if he had started when Kasnah and Shagra were over due. We therefore make the charge that had Melville done his duty instead of spending his time in playing chess and checkers DeLong and his party would not have died. Melville left them to die and he is responsible for their deaths." Dr. Collins will lay his statement, with documentary evidence, before Congress.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 3.—The News' Dallas special says: Bradstreet's reports for the week ending to-day, from the northern and central counties, show that it has been a week of fine weather for the maturing and picking of cotton. One dollar to one twenty-five per hundred is offered for picking. Hands are scarce. No fewer than five farmers returning home after selling their cotton have been robbed by highwaymen at the point of a pistol.

World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not so pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters, as it is not a whisky drink. It is more like the old-fashioned bone-set tea, that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right, try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News.

Death of J. W. Simonton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from Napa City, Cal., announces the death, at his residence, near that city, of James W. Simonton, one of the proprietors of the San Francisco Bulletin and San Francisco Morning Call, and late general agent of the New York Associated Press. He died of heart disease last evening. Mr. Simonton was born in Columbia County, New York, in 1824, was educated in the public schools of New York City. He became a law reporter for a city newspaper in 1845, and shortly afterwards went to Washington and was Congressional reporter for the Courier and Enquirer. He went to California in 1850, and was for a time one of the editors of the San Francisco Courier. He was one of the original staff of assistants to Henry J. Raymond at the establishment of the New York Times, and for seven years was the Washington correspondent of that paper, during which time he was influential in the exposure of several noted cases of bribery and corruption on the part of members of Congress, and was in custody several weeks on an order of the House for declining to give to its committee the services of his information. He again went to California in 1857, and became editor and one of the proprietors of the San Francisco Evening Bulletin. He was its war correspondent during the rebellion, and became general agent of the associated press in 1866, still retaining, however, his interest in and active connection with his San Francisco newspaper. The proprietors of the Evening Bulletin having about 1869 purchased the San Francisco Call, he resigned the general agency of the Associated Press in July, 1881, and removed to Napa County, Cal., where he had purchased a considerable estate, upon which he was residing at the time of his death.

Star Route Bribery Case.

WASHINGTON, November 3.—In the United States jury bribery case of the United States against Arthur Payne the examination of witnesses in the half of the government closed to-day. The defense had no witnesses, and after a brief summing up by Mr. Davis for Payne, and by Mr. Ker for the government, both sides rested.

Judge Snell reserved his decision until Wednesday.
