

OUR NASHVILLE LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent.

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 27, 1870.

The week just past will long be famous in the annals of Tennessee, as making an era in the legislation of the State that will not soon be forgotten, and in which attempts have been made to do much, when the disagreeable fact returns to the Solons that, though they may flatter themselves that they have done much, the people will fail to discover it, and hold them to a strict account for the waste of time and money which they have squandered in the vain hope to accomplish a trip to Washington at the expense of the nation.

The men on the political chess-board are being placed for a great game, that includes the coming State election and the choice of Congressional representatives. The anxiety and care manifested in fixing things is amusing to an outsider who observes simply to chronicle the weak endeavors of small fry politicians to get themselves right on the record.

Individually, the game is to emulate the sage of Kinderhook, by a species of non-commitment that will make it difficult to locate any of them politically; but when they attempt to figure as to parties in the State, then comes the difficulty. The mixed character of the Assembly is a fair indication of the complexion of the so-called Conservative party of the State. The old school Democrats are jealous and afraid of the old line Whigs, and the way they are getting ready to disagree and fight is comforting to Republicans. Some of the original Democrats are getting restive. They cry out against the Cooper rule, as they term it, and in moments of confidence, decry in strong terms the yoke they are compelled to wear. They don't work with much pleasure under the aforesaid rule. They think it is about time to burst the hoops these accomplished mechanics of the Whig school have put about them, but it is doubtful in some minds whether they can burst the circumambient "tie that binds." That the Democrats are restive and chafe terribly is plain to be seen, but how they can help themselves is a mystery.

Those who discuss this sort of question, look knowing, wag their heads, and content themselves with waiting patiently for the grand split which is inevitable. In the words of the immortal P. Henry, Esq., we say, "Let it come; we repeat it, let it come."

The Coopers have taken the lead in all sorts of legislation, whether wisely or not we do not pretend to say; but if persistence and frequency of effort is indicative of talent, they have it in large quantities; as to the quality of the same we decline to express our opinion.

The Assembly is composed of two-thirds of old line Whigs and one-third old Loco Foco Democrats. If any man were to assert that this mixture of antagonisms can be made to move for any time amicably, lovingly, decently or fraternally, he would lose any reputation for sanity a life of sense might have given him.

The dish is composed of materials that have no chemical or political affinity; as well mix gun-cotton and nitro-glycerine, and expect to move it without an explosion. Nor is the rupture far off. It was feared by some that the election of officers at the commencement of the present session would bring on a fracas, but the family had determined to be happy, at least for a time, and thus the grand denouement is postponed.

The raid on railroad bonds is about terminating, and we may conclude that "tempest in a teapot" is about to subside. Cooper, of Bedford, finished the week by introducing bills to direct the Attorney General to bring suits in the Chancery Courts, to prevent the payment of bonds fraudulently issued, as well as making the act take from roads that have resorted to fraud to obtain bonds their charters and privileges. This is a comprehensive bill, and will accomplish just nothing. This sort of legislation that compels State officers to perform their official oaths is profitable to the dear people—in a musical instrument.

The insanity divorce bill is still hanging in the Senate, and is the special order for Tuesday next, when it comes up on third reading. If it passes, it then goes to the House, where we may expect another avalanche of eloquence for and against this pet scheme of certain admirers of the fair sex. We cannot learn that any young members, who are available for the matrimonial market, favor the bill. Look out for a rich time when the bill reaches the House.

The work done changing county lines and making new counties progresses finely, although the Constitution provides that no county shall have less than four hundred square miles; yet they keep slicing off, here, there and everywhere; and when it is remembered that there are no correct surveys of any of the counties, we should not be surprised if the provision of the Constitution was sadly stretched in some instances.

The work on Judicial Circuits may be considered finished, so that it will be impossible to elect Republicans in many of the Circuits; but it will not surprise us if, in the "new deal" that will soon come off, that the Solons will find they have beaten Radicals, as they term them, but the Democratic old liners will find they can't get a small judicial pap—they will discover, when they count the vote, that they have been "Coopered" beyond hope of relief.

Gen. Harrison, the new United States Marshal, has organized the work on the census in the Middle District in such manner as to insure its early completion, and when done the work will be found to have been done in conformity to law, and creditably. The Interior Department has issued a circular permitting Marshals to furnish the press the aggregate of the population of towns, cities and counties in advance of Washington advices. This is as it should be; people interested in the growth and prosperity of a city do not want to wait many months to learn the population of their cities.

This letter is long enough. In conclusion, let us all emulate the patriot who "trusted in Providence and kept his powder dry" at the same time keeping an eye on the well Coopered Democrats. Who knows but by August the lines may be drawn with such clearness as to give Tennessee a National Republican party, mustering in its ranks all of the patriotism and intelligence of the State!

Pension Disbursements.

We are indebted to Dr. D. T. Boynton for the following statement of the disbursements for last fiscal year, at the Pension Agency in this city. This shows over half a million of money expended for the benefit of those who have endured all for the Government:

October, 1869	36,884.16
November, 1869	17,730.06
December, 1869	18,907.61
January, 1870	9,006.73
February, 1870	19,703.69
March, 1870	44,795.85
April, 1870	117,807.51
May, 1870	20,458.83
Total	$312,355.70

The Plymouth, Ind., Democrat learns of the mysterious death of a child whose parents live in Stark county. It appears that the child ate some lettuce that had recently been picked, was taken ill and soon died. An examination of the lettuce revealed a considerable number of potato bugs' eggs, which are supposed to have caused the child's death.

They fine men fifty cents for being drunk in Wilmington, Delaware, and charge them with the costs when they beat their wives.

Price 25 Cents per Box.

Dr. M. Lytle's Elixir!

Diarrhea, Dysentery, Bloody Flux, CHOLERA MORBUS, PAINFUL PURGING, SUMMER COMPLAINT, CRAMP AND COLIC.

The want of a medicine of this character has long been felt by the community, and has induced the proprietors, by over thirty years' trial in private, to introduce it for the benefit of the public as a staple family medicine. It does not act as an astringent alone, but by reducing the acidity of the secreted membranes of the bowels, reduces the inflammation, hence performs a thorough cure.

The proprietors take the liberty of stating to the public, that no more perfect or reliable medicine is guaranteed for the cure of the above-mentioned diseases exists in the world, being entirely vegetable and containing no sugar of lead or other noxious drug or mineral. And they would further say—that the preparation has met the hearty approval of numerous physicians who have used it.

DIRECTIONS:

To adults, a tablespoonful after each passage, or four times a day. To children under ten, a half-teaspoonful as required. To children under five a teaspoonful. To children under two or three, a half-teaspoonful, as required, and by carefully administering as directed it will never fail.

Hart's Magnolian Cough Drops

PRICE PER BOTTLE 25 CENTS.

This medicine can confidently be recommended for all diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, and Lungs. It is invaluable as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice, Sore Throat, Influenza, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Spitting of Blood. It does not profess to cure consumption but from the largely demulcent and balsamic character of the ingredients of which it is composed, it is claimed that it will do all for this dire disease that any Cough Medicine can do.

This medicine contains NO OPIUM, or other ingredient of a deleterious character, and may be given with the utmost confidence and safety in every stage of the disease and to patients of every age. Dose from ten drops to a teaspoonful, according to the age of the patient, and repeated in every instance as the urgency of the case requires, in one, two, three or four hours.

Damon's Stock Powders.

THESE POWDERS ARE PREPARED FROM

Medicines which possess Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties, and when administered to Horses produce the most beneficial results. As a laxative, they expel from the stomach and intestines all foreign substances. As a tonic they increase the tone and strength of the system; and as a purifier they cleanse the blood and lay the foundation for a strong and healthy circulation. They are a preventive of Lung Fever, and an excellent remedy for all the diseases to which this noble animal is subject. Their use strengthens the lungs and gives a smooth and glossy appearance to the skin, and by increasing the appetite, give vigor and strength to the whole system.

Price, 25 cents per Box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

For Lung Fever, or any symptoms of the disease, give a tablespoonful three times a day.

For Glanders, Hooves, Dietsenper, Founder, Gout, and other complaints to which the Horse is subject, give a tablespoonful three times a day until a cure is effected—which is generally produced in a few days.

These powders, if used two or three times a week, during the spring and winter months, will prevent your horse from being attacked by these dangerous diseases and greatly increase their usefulness.

DAMON'S STOCK POWDERS FOR MILCH COWS.

These Powders are valuable in increasing the quantity of Milk in the Cow, and should be used by every farmer. It increases the appetite and fattens and strengthens the animal, and while increasing the quantity of the milk, makes the butter firm and sweet.
