

Knoxville Weekly Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1870.

SPECIMEN COPIES

Of the CHRONICLE mailed free to any address on application.

Take Notice.

Hereafter calls on gentlemen to become candidates, or matter of a personal nature, will be charged for as advertisements.

New Advertisements.

Munson & Bailey, the well known Real Estate, Insurance and Claim Agents, are prepared to execute any business entrusted to them. They are energetic gentlemen, and parries dealing with them can rest assured of having their claims attended to promptly.

We call attention to the card of the Continental Insurance Company. One of the most reliable in the country, a policy in it is as good as if the money was deposited in the bank, subject to draft.

We call attention to the advertisement of Page & Co., wanting to employ Shoemakers. The gentlemen composing this company are about to engage in the manufacture of boots and shoes, on a larger scale than has ever before been attempted in this community. We wish them success in their new enterprise.

Oldham & Hunter offer for sale a certain remedy against the disease now prevalent among the cattle in this vicinity. The preparation has been tried, and is guaranteed to cure the disorder.

Blanchard Churns.

Messrs. Hough & Church are making large shipments of the celebrated Blanchard churn.

Our Thanks.

Are due Mr. R. J. Allen, of Blount county, for a club of subscribers to the WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

Personal.

H. C. Tarwater, Esq., left this city yesterday for Missouri. He will make a tour of the Northwestern States before returning.

Family Groceries.

John L. Huddiburg makes it a point to keep on hand a full supply of staple and fancy groceries; also, fruit jars, wooden ware, and various other articles.

Making Cider.

There is an unprecedented demand for cider mills in this section, and Mabry, Turner & Co. are prepared to accommodate all who desire to engage in the manufacture of cider.

Merited Promotion.

We are gratified to learn that our young friend, Tip Thornburgh, has been promoted to a First Lieutenant in the regular army. He is now stationed in Arizona.

Fight at Coal Creek.

A fight occurred at Coal Creek on Saturday last, between two white men and one colored man. The latter was wounded by a pistol shot, though to what extent we did not learn.

Mad Dog Killed.

Policeman Parker shot a mad dog in East Knoxville on Sunday last. The brute was very tenacious of life, and received ten bullets before falling. He was a "yaller dog."

Burned.

Last Tuesday night, the residence of Mr. Thos. Masters, at Boyd's Ferry, was destroyed by fire. Everything in the house was consumed, including his crop of wheat—about fifty bushels.

Manufacturing.

Messrs. Clark, Quaffle & Co. are turning out twenty car wheels a day, which they guarantee to outwear wheels of Northern manufacture, on account of the superior quality of the iron of which they are composed.

Severe Fall.

We are informed that on Wednesday last a little daughter of Mrs. Hardee, about six years of age, living near Cane creek fell through a bridge, a distance of thirty feet and was seriously though not fatally injured.

Night School.

We are glad to know that the night school for young men, soon to be opened in North Knoxville by Rev. G. W. Coleman, is meeting with the encouragement it deserves. Such a school has long been needed, and is certain to succeed.

To Be Removed.

We are informed that A. J. White, Clerk and Master in Bradley county, is to be removed as soon as the Chancellor elect is installed, and that Capt. McKamy, late of the Confederate army, is to take his place.

California Fruits and Vegetables.

We were shown last night by Mr. Tilghman Haws, a specimen of fine quality oranges, lemons, onions and Irish potatoes, and native raisins. They are simply magnificent, and are no more than a fair average of the productions of that highly favored region.

Resignation and Appointment.

At the close of the session of the Federal Court on yesterday, Judge M. L. Hall, who has so acceptably discharged the duties of Clerk, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. His Honor, Judge Trigg, thereupon appointed Lillburn Trigg Clerk of the District Court, and H. M. Aiken, Clerk of the Circuit Court. Parties having business in either of said courts will note the change and govern themselves accordingly.

Apples as Food.

Says Liebig on this subject: "The importance of apples as food has not hitherto been sufficiently estimated or understood. Besides contributing a large proportion of sugar, mucilage and other nutritive compounds in the form of food, they contain such a fine combination of vegetable acids, extractive substances and aromatic principles as to act powerfully in the capacity of refrigerants, tonics and antiseptics; and when freely used at the season of ripeness, by rural laborers and others, they probably maintain and strengthen the power of productive labor."

Cattle Mortality.

The fatal disease among the cattle in this city continues without abatement. A gentleman informed us that it was not the infection from Texas stock that was causing the depletion of cows, but that they were infected with ticks to such an extent as to cause their death. He says he has noticed a great many milch cows perfectly covered with the troublesome pests. In Europe cows are groomed as carefully as horses, and should be taken better care of in this country. A small sum invested in a curry comb and a few packages of condition powders would save many a valuable animal's life.

A gentleman who has taken the trouble to count them, says that within the past three weeks twenty-three cows have died in the fields between Vine and Aylum streets and Second Creek to Gay, whose value was upwards of $1,000. The murrain now prevailing is attributable to the Texas cattle passing through here.

The mail is now carried by steambath from Kingston as far as Rockwood landing.

CONSERVATIVE DEMONSTRATION.

Gen. John C. Brown, the Democratic Candidate for Governor, Serenaded.

About nine o'clock last night, the Knoxville Brass Band paid Gen. Brown the compliment of a serenade at the Lamar House. After playing a couple of airs, Gen. Brown was called for, who was introduced by Col. Alfred Caldwell, and responded in a few brief remarks.

He stated that he was a Tennessean by nativity and feeling, and that being so, he considered it a privilege to address his fellow-citizens of East Tennessee. He loved her sons, and he might add, her daughters, also. Her citizens had been divided during and since the war, but he hoped that they would be united hereafter in feeling, and that the only difference would be the honorable one of principle in politics as in the past.

The State had undergone a revolution—last August, many thousand freemen, hitherto admitted to the full rights of freemen at the ballot-box. But the State was not yet free, he added; the master minds of this Commonwealth were still proscribed and debared from holding office. He called upon all to unite against the common foe—Radicalism—which he stated was not dead yet, (he had evidently been reading the election returns from East Tennessee,) but only wounded. Democrats and Conservatives should be united—a name was nothing—Democrat or Conservative, either suited him. He used to be a Whig, but now was proud to be called a Democrat. He wanted no third party, neither did the majority of the people.

A convention to nominate a Conservative candidate for Governor would be held on the 13th of September. Both he and Gen. Quarles had been mentioned for the office, but as the latter was absent, he would close on that subject. He wanted to know what appropriations to benefit the State had been inaugurated by Republican Congressmen? What river improvement schemes had been gotten under way by them? and asked if the people would elect one Radical Congressman? He didn't think they would.

Having said this, the General closed his remarks, which were unmistakably ultra in their tendency, and recalled similar quotations less than a decade since. If the Democrats want an extreme man, Gen. Brown will suit them, and Gen. Quarles, if at all moderate in his views, will go to the wall.

Col. J. M. Fleming was then called for, who briefly responded, paying the speaker, who preceded, a glowing tribute, and alluded to the course taken by Gen. Brown in the late war. When the State needed, he went with his section, but was now a law-abiding citizen.

Some one called for "three cheers for Fleming," and the hip-hip was given, but only a faint hurrah, which was not repeated. The affair was a regular fizzle, but those getting up this very enthusiastic demonstration have the satisfaction of knowing that but few witnessed it.

Highway Robbery.

Last Thursday, Messrs. Matt Tensley and Warwick, residents of Hinds Valley, were assailed by two footpads and robbed of $5 in currency.

We learn the following facts in regard to this bold outrage from a friend of one of the gentlemen: Tensley and Warwick had gone to Beaver Creek Valley to purchase cattle, and were on their way back, when at an unfrequented spot between Beaver Ridge and their homes, they were confronted by a pair of armed desperadoes, who in technical parlance demanded their "money or their lives."

Having only $5, Mr. Tensley at once gave up his money to one of the robbers; but when the other made a similar demand on Mr. Warwick, he refused to deliver, and a lively tussle ensued, during which both of the assaulted parties ran, and were fired on by the soundrels, who were joined at that juncture by a third desperado. They, however, made their escape, with the loss of the small amount taken from Mr. Tensley.

It is their opinion that the soundrels knew these gentlemen were going to buy stock, and that there is a regularly organized band of thieves in the neighborhood.

The Barren Rocks Yield Bread.

Yes, the rugged cliffs of the ocean strand produce something that, if not bread, is more nourishing and fattening than the staff of life itself. The Sea Moss which carpets the rocks on the shores of Ireland, Iceland, and the coasts of Northern Europe, is as truly a food staple, when properly prepared, as wheat, rye or Indian corn. This Irish variety, locally known as Carragheen, is now manufactured under a patent into one of the most nutritious, palatable, digestible and delicious elements of sustenance the world has ever seen. The article has been patented under the name of Sea Moss Flour, and the extensive mills of the Sea Moss Flour Co., New York, are now turning out immense quantities of this economic luxury, which has already taken a prominent place among the commodities of the American produce market. Its price is almost nominal; and the puddings, custards, jellies, creams, blanc mange, and other light table luxuries prepared from it are superior in flavor (as well as in cheapness) to those made from corn starch, oatmeal, ravenella, or any of the other gelatinous extracts of grain.

A Heroic Sister.

Our readers will remember the drowning of Miss O'Donnely, near Strawberry Plains, the other day, in the heroic effort to save her two small brothers from drowning, in which she and both of them lost their lives, and when found beneath the murky waters in which she perished, her arms were found to firmly entwine either brother. We have heard some of our celebrated violinists play a beautiful, sad, plaintive air, entitled the "Three Sisters," the sweet tones, as drawn forth from the instrument, ever has had the effect to fill our mind with melancholy reflections and sadness. Let the name of the music be changed; let it now be called the "Angel Sister," in memory of her to whom should be erected a monument as high and as lasting as the pyramids of Egypt. Let her deeds be embalmed in music, in poetry, and in song.

Personal.

Mr. T. Haws returned to this city yesterday, having made the transcontinental tour of North America. He spent most of his time in the Golden State, which he says is a good place to emigrate to.

We had a call yesterday from Col. N. T. Beale, Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue for Hawkins county. Col. Beale is entitled to credit for the interest he has displayed in improving the quality of stock in East Tennessee. He has for some time been successfully engaged in raising Chester hogs, and is now about to enter into raising the finest breeds of cattle.

Steambath Accident.

The Kingston East Tennessee announces serious accident that befell the steamer Hugh Martin, on Wednesday morning last, near Pond creek, six miles below Loudon, resulting in the breaking of her crank, bursting and shattering her cylinder head, which will necessitate her stoppage for several weeks for repairs.

The Murderer Davis Dead.

The Chattanooga Times says that Henry Davis, the negro murderer of Policeman Merriam, the particulars of whose arrest we published last week, died by fall in that city on Saturday evening, from the effect of the wounds received at the time of his arrest.

Valuable Map.

We are indebted to Senator Braxton for a splendidly engraved map of North America and Eastern Continents, showing the telegraph lines in operation, under contract and in process of erection.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

Celebration at Thorn Grove—Addresses Delivered on the occasion.

Saturday morning we rose with the lark to be in readiness for an early start to Thorn Grove, to attend the Sunday School Picnic at that place. After a pleasant drive of nearly fifteen miles, our destination was reached about ten o'clock, and the first gentleman we met was Maj. John L. Murphy, the orator of the day. A large number were already on the ground, and were constantly augmented by the arrival of others. In a few moments the strains of music were heard in the distance, and soon a column of Sabbath School scholars emerged into view. Three schools were represented—Thorn Grove, Pleasant Hill and Lamo Creek—and with banners streaming, and all dressed in excellent appearance. Mr. M. M. Callen acquitted himself as marshal of the day, and superintended the exercises in a manner highly creditable to his executive abilities.

The audience exceeded four hundred, and most excellent order was observed. The exercises were commenced with singing the beautiful hymn, entitled

"Let us meet beyond the river."

When Major Murphy was introduced, who demonstrated the advantages of the Sabbath School system, giving many interesting statistics from its organization up to the present time. His remarks were listened to with marked attention.

He was followed by Col. Stacy, who addressed the children in his well known felicitous style, and kept the little folks in a state of the liveliest interest until he closed.

Dinner was announced as the next thing on the programme, and though no signs of anything edible were visible, yet in a marvellous short space of time baskets full almost to bursting were produced, and soon the ground was spread with snowy cloths, on which were arrayed a tempting display of substantial and delicacies. We partook of the hospitality of Mr. J. M. Luttrell, of Strawberry Plains, in company with others, prominent among whom were several young ladies, the fairest on the ground.

After dinner we visited a grove on Dr. Ruthers' farm, close by, in which is a spring of the clear and cool as the waves of Cydnus. The descent to the grove is at a descent of about forty-five degrees, and extends for under a hill more than a hundred feet below the level of the road.

In company with Colonel Stacy, we strolled through Derriuxtown, without finding anything of special moment, and returned to the stand and listened to an address from Mr. T. H. Heald, which was both entertaining and instructive.

Rev. G. W. Coleman, of this city, took the stand, and did the subject the fullest justice. But time flies, and we were compelled to leave. Reluctantly we did so. Our horses were brought from the stable, where for four hours they had been standing up to their knees in oats, in Esp. A. C. E. Callen's stable, and harnessed up, when we left, having spent a very pleasant day, arriving in Knoxville at six in the afternoon.

Accident.

We learn a man employed at a saw mill, near Clinton, met with a serious accident on yesterday. It seems that the fly wheel was sunk in the ground and the excavation contained a quantity of water, which he entered to bail out, while the engine was still, but the engineer, not knowing the circumstances, turned on steam and the wheel commenced to revolve, bruising the man severely about the head and shoulders. We did not learn his name.

Select School for Little Girls and Young Ladies.

The winter session of Miss Anderson's school will open at her residence, on the corner of Gay and Aylum streets, on Thursday, the 1st of September, 1870. The marked and thorough improvement and progress of the pupils of this school is the only recommendation given by its teacher—the trust criterion asked for by the community.

Camp Meeting.

The Knoxville District Camp Meeting will commence at Fountain Head, five miles north of Knoxville, on Thursday, September 8, at 3 o'clock, p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all the friends of Christ's Kingdom to attend this feast of tabernacles. Ministers of the Gospel are specially invited. J. S. SPENCE, T. H. RUSSELL.

The Woody Murder.

The Athens Post states that the inquisition in the case of the Woody murder, which occurred on the 19th day of May, 1870, closed its session last Saturday, the 6th instant, and the finding, evidence, &c., was turned over to the proper authority. The Court met on Monday and adjourned at noon on Tuesday.

A Sad Case.

Mr. Hall, who lives on Hinds' Creek, in Anderson county, was severely afflicted last week by the fell destroyer. The corpses of three of his family lay unburied in his house on Thursday evening. First, his mother died on Tuesday afternoon, his eldest boy on Wednesday morning, and his wife on Thursday morning.

Sewing Machines.

A German statistical writer remarks: "The invention of the sewing machine has enabled one woman to sew as much as a hundred could sew by hand a century ago; but," he continues, "one woman now demands as much clothing as a hundred did a century ago—so that matters are not much changed, after all."

Our Courts.

The next term of the Circuit Court for Knox County, will be held on the first Monday in October. Parties having civil cases in this Court will make a note of this. Criminal cases will, of course, be tried in the Criminal Court, which is held on the fourth Monday in September.

Married.

Last evening at the Catholic Church, by Rev. Father Finagan, Mr. Wm. Kirk and Miss Mary Fenton. The happy couple were waited upon by Messrs. Lydia McCarthy and Annie Rosilyn and Messrs. Wm. Eckle and Johnny Hodgson.

Cider Mills.

Messrs. Church & Hough, at the Farmer's Depot, McGhee's Block, have a number of Buckeye and Scully Cider Mills, which are in great demand. As cider is one of the few articles not taxed, one of these mills should be in the hands of every fruit grower.

Wife Murder.

[Iris, of the Athens Post, says that a report is in circulation that a brute, whose name is said to be McAllister, beat his wife to death, in the neighborhood of Rierville, a few days ago. He was arrested, but subsequently escaped.

Religious Notice.

The Fourth Quarterly meeting of the Maryville and Louisville Circuit will be held at Carpenter's Camp Ground, in Blount county, the first Saturday and Sunday of September, next. L. F. DRAKE, P. E.

State Items.

The skeleton of a child was found the other night under the floor of one of the rooms in the Gayoso House, Memphis.

Last Wednesday night a party of disguised men occupied the Dyersburg court house. They sent after certain negroes supposed to be engaged in mischief. They ordered the negroes to quit carrying pistols and disks, and to sell the same, or they would be taken from them. Charles Council, colored, was whipped, and Dennis Echols ordered to leave the place. The men then left.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Boy Caught in a Threshing Machine and His Leg Frightfully Crushed.

Yesterday morning a frightful accident occurred at the Crawford place, a colored boy about twelve years of age, named Robert Gillespie, had his left leg caught in the tumbling shaft of a machine of Messrs. Boll & Chavannes, used in threshing broom corn, which was crushed in a frightful manner from the ankle to the middle of his thigh, the bones protruding through the lacerated flesh in every imaginable direction.

The attention of surgeons was secured as soon as possible, but it was not until seven hours had elapsed that the unfortunate boy had rallied sufficiently to undergo an operation. Drs. Bailey, Hill and Matt. Alexander were present, and about seven o'clock his leg was amputated about the middle of the thigh. Dr. F. K. Bailey performing the operation in the most skillful manner, the other professional gentlemen mentioned above being present.

The sufferer evinced the utmost fortitude before and during the operation, and acquiesced in the decision of the surgeons with the greatest sang froid. His health has been excellent hitherto, and having a good constitution, no doubt is entertained of his recovery, without something unforeseen occurs.

The surgeon in attendance informs us that the colored boy, Robert Gillespie, who lost his leg last week in a threshing machine, is doing gratefully, with every indication of being up and well in a month.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Sullivan county.

The official vote of Sullivan county is as follows:

For Chancellor—McFarland, 1210; Smith, 464.
For Circuit Judge—Reeves, 1196; Gillenwaters, 499.
For Attorney General—Haynes, 1125; Hacker, 434.

Johnson county.

The vote of Johnson county, as furnished us, was as follows:

For Chancellor—Smith, 701; McFarland, 101.
For Circuit Judge—Gillenwaters, 698; Reeve, 114.
For Attorney General—Hacker, 674; Haynes, 97.

The Circuit Judgeship.

We learn that Cumberland county gave Col. D. K. Young 139 majority. Judge Hall's majority is not about 250, with two districts in Monroe and two in Fentress to hear from, which we calculate will reduce his majority to about 200.

The Chronicle Endorsed.

We, the undersigned, members of the Grand Jury in attendance at the July term of the Federal Court, at Knoxville, desire to express our thanks to Messrs. Rulo & Tarwater, proprietors of the KNOXVILLE DAILY CHRONICLE, for their valuable paper, during our attendance upon Court, and that we recommend it to our friends throughout East Tennessee, as an able, faithful and worthy exponent of Republican principles and an eminently worthy of the support of every true Republican.

G. W. Bridges, Foreman; M. L. Phillips, J. R. Robinson, W. H. Swan, R. J. Allen, J. A. Doughty, M. J. Childress, Joel Parker, C. L. Bowling, J. S. Trotter, Isaac Low, John Howard, H. L. W. Mynatt, J. J. Angell, W. P. Jones, J. D. Mullenix, S. H. Burnett, J. P. Allen, J. J. Hudgson, J. J. Crippen, J. C. Duff.
KNOXVILLE, August 12th, 1870.

A Card.

TO THE PUBLIC: I am constrained from causes beyond my control, to state to the public that I am no longer connected with the Knoxville Whig. I do this for the following reasons.

1. I am inquired of about matters connected with that ill-fated journal.
2. My valetudinary, which appeared in the daily, was not permitted to appear in the weekly. Consequently, the country readers are not aware of my withdrawal.
3. The daily papers of this city were requested not to take any notice of my retirement.

From these facts, it will be seen that but few know anything of my absence from that concern, and, hence, I am frequently annoyed with business. I have nothing to do with it.

And now I repeat what I had before announced, that I propose, at no distant day, embarking in another department of journalistic enterprise. I have been encouraged to do so by a number of persons, who assure me that they will give me their support. The country needs a paper which will bend its energies towards developing the material interests of all classes.

C. W. CHARLTON,
Late Editor Knoxville Whig.

Our Next Representative.

MR. EDITOR: The time is fast approaching when we will have to elect our next representative for this county, and it behooves us to look around and see who the best man is. It is necessary that we should select our best men. By so doing we will always be successful. We want an honest, upright, sober man; one that will be above suspicion; and one whose conduct will not have to be investigated before he is in the Legislature next year. The question arises, who is the strongest man? We have a great many good and strong men in this county, and it is the opinion of a great many of our party, that Wm. H. Swan is one of the best and strongest men we have. Let us take up Mr. Swan and rally around him as one man, and victory is ours. Let us take no excuse from him, but elect him, and by so doing, we will elect one of the noblest works of God—an honest man.

KNOX COUNTY.

"For Young Men and Young Women."

The Young Folks' Rural is the novel title of the new Rural and Literary Monthly being issued by H. N. P. Lewis, the publisher of the Western Rural, at Chicago. Prizes are offered for stories and contributions on various subjects by young writers, and fine premiums for clubs of subscribers. Terms, $1.00 per year. The first 500 subscribers are to be credited for two years. We think this paper must excite a great interest among the young men and young women throughout the United States. Address H. N. P. Lewis, Publisher, Chicago.

Amendment to Health Ordinance.

Be it Ordained by the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Knoxville, that section 3 of an ordinance, passed under suspension of the rules, July 2nd, 1870, be amended, so that no person be allowed to skin any such animal within two miles of the corporate limits, under the penalty hereinafter mentioned. aug13-1t.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following is a list of the real estate transfers, registered in the County Court Clerk's office, for the week ending August 15th, 1870:

John F. Spence to D. B. Lawton, tract of land in Knox county, for $15,000.
Sami, Ralston, et al. to John Rodgers and Saml. Davis, tract of land in Knox county, for $2,000.

Cider Mills.

Also, EMPTY BARRELS for Cider and Sorghum Syrup, at aug 13-1t HOGAN & CURCHES.

FINANCIAL.

Knoxville Quotations of Money and Stocks.

Office of the Knoxville Chronicle, August 16, 1870.

During the past week the U. S. sixes of '81 have advanced 3/8 cent, and the five-twenties from 1/4 to 1/2 cent, with the price, at latest quotations from New York, firm. Until to-day the war news from Europe has been in favor of Prussia, and the gold market has been sold down, and the bond and stock markets are advanced, on the sensational inference of foreigners in regard to the conquered and abject condition of France. The same result would probably be the case if the news was favorable to the other side, gold still continues to decline, and it is the opinion of many that it will reach as low a figure as it did a few months ago.

In our home market but little is doing, either in coin or bonds, and the banks are not discounting to any great extent. Until the crops begin to move, we do not expect any easiness in the money market, and unless prices go up, that will not take place for a few weeks.

Knoxville Wholesale Market.

Review of the Produce Market for the week ending August 15, 1870.

Knoxville, August 15, 1870.

Since our last report a heavy decline in wheat has occurred in the Eastern markets, especially in the Virginia markets, caused in part by receipts exceeding the consumptive demand, but more on account of the condition in which Tennessee wheat is offered. We have more than once suggested to the farmers of this country the propriety—nay, the necessity—of putting their wheat in good condition before offering it. To illustrate: the Richmond market reports prime white wheat, on the 12th, at $1.30. On the same day, in the same market, the same variety of wheat from the same place, damp and trashy, could not be sold for $1.20 per bushel. There is then clearly 30 cents per bushel difference, according to Richmond classification. New York classifies quite as closely, and so with all the Eastern markets, and with all these facts before us, the farmer in our section who has sound, plump wheat, but a little damp, with some cockle, chaff, oat or smut, or a little of all in it, will be offended if one of our merchants offers him even ten cents per bushel less for his than his neighbor received for dry and clean wheat. It is, therefore, clearly to the interest of the farmer, of the produce dealer, and above all to the interest of the reputation of East Tennessee, that we ship no grain in bad condition. Spread the wheat out, dry it thoroughly, and then clean it before sacking. Then, and then only, we may expect to realize satisfactory prices for our wheat. The same is true with reference to corn and oats, but especially to corn.

WHEAT—Nominal, $1.00 for white; $0.95 for clean red; damp and trashy unsaleable.
CORN—$1.00 per bushel, loose, from wagons; sacked in depot, $1.05-1.10.
O
