

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, August 29, 1860. The Census Office has assumed considerable proportions since the returns from Assistant Marshals have begun to arrive. It has been divided into social statistics, &c. Several divisions, in charge of competent men, have been created for carrying on the work of compiling the population. Col. Henry Stine, of Nashville, has charge of one of these divisions. Up to this time about 3,000,000 names have been received, and returns are coming in rapidly every day. Between three and four hundred clerks are now employed in the Census Bureau. Some idea of the work to be done may be derived from the fact that about fifteen hundred large volumes will be required for compiling the statistics of population. It is estimated, from partial returns, that the population of this District will not be more than 180,000. The general expectation has been that it would reach 160,000. This city will have one hundred and ten or fifteen thousand, Georgetown 11,000, and Alexandria, Va., 14,000, making about 140,000 people in Washington and suburbs. The population of the cities and towns is less than the estimates made by the people. New Hampshire, it is said, will show an actual decrease of several thousands. This is probably caused by heavy emigration to the West. New York city, proper, will show but a small increase, but the increase in Brooklyn, Jersey City, and other suburbs, will be very large. The business men of cities, more than formerly, go to the environs of the city to build their residences. The returns will show a large increase of population at the South. It is said that the present census will show more thoroughly the conditions of the country, its manufacturing, agricultural and other resources, than any previous census. R.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE CROWN PRINCE.

M. Chabrillat, a correspondent of the Figaro (Paris), was captured by the Prussians after the battle of Woerth. He had an interview with the Crown Prince. He gives a full account of it, and states that he was treated with the greatest respect and kindness. He said he feared to write of him as he felt, for fear it would be said he was sold to the Prussians. He writes as follows:

Prince Frederick William, heir to the crown of Prussia, is a man of tall stature, thin, with a calm and placid countenance, but in the curve of his aquiline nose and his dilating nostrils, there are evidences of energy, while the rapidity of his glance betrays the hesitancy of his decision. A full fair beard softens the somewhat stern expression of his features. He has great simplicity of manner, and affects rather a kind of bourgeois style of speaking, thinking and general behavior. He was dressed in a black tunic with red facings, without any embroidery or gold braid, upon the shoulder a small epaulet to indicate his rank, but no other distinguishing ornament. He wore a small black cap, bordered with red, and the whole uniform was severely simple. He spoke French with great purity, without foreign accent beyond a slight German intonation and occasional hesitancy at certain words. "Do you speak German, sir?" said he to me. "No, Prince, not sufficiently." "I am sorry for it, as otherwise you would have heard in what manner our troops speak of yours, and in what esteem they hold them." "I thank you very much for that opinion." "Oh, it is quite deserved. We have all admitted the tenacity and the courage which have been evinced even by the humblest of your soldiers." Then, with much delicate consideration, and almost making excuses for mentioning the facts to us, he told us that they had taken between 3,000 and 4,000 prisoners, thirty guns, six mitrailleuses, and two eagles. "Among the prisoners," said he, "is Gen. Rasolet. I went this morning to see him at Reichshofen, where he lies wounded, his hip and thigh being broken. I fear that he is now dying. He is a brave officer, and he has given me some addresses in Paris to which he wishes letters to be sent." "But Prince," I observed, "the other prisoners also have families." "I have thought of that. I have had them supplied with writing materials; the letters will be sent unsealed to our Consul at Geneva, who will forward them to France." Prince, we thank you on behalf of the mothers whose grief you are about to assuage. "I do not like war, gentlemen. I should reign if I could never make it. Now, despite my love of peace, this is the third campaign that I have been compelled to make. I went over the battlefield yesterday. It was frightful. If it only depended upon myself this war would end here. It is your ministers and the Emperor who would have it, it was not we who wanted it."

The New York Tribune advertises: "Lost stolen or mislaid, a French Prince, fourteen years of age, of tranquil temperament; wears red trousers, and carries a bullet in his pocket. Was last seen going home from a baptism of fire. Is supposed at Paris to be in Metz, is supposed at Metz to be in Paris; is supposed at any other place to be in London. Any information concerning him will be received with the greatest indifference by the Corps Legislatif."

The Emperor, attended by Melaton and other eminent surgeons, is with Marshal McMahon.

THE LATE BATTLE.

Bulletin of Victory from the King of Prussia. BRUSSELS, August 31.—VIA LONDON, September 1.—12:30 A. M.—The King of Prussia has sent the following to the Queen: "VARENNES, August 30.—The Crown Prince has been in action with the fourth, twelfth and seventeenth corps and the fourteenth corps of Bavarians. McMahon was beaten and driven beyond the Meuse. Twelve guns, several thousand prisoners and an immense quantity of material of war were captured. WILLIAM." BRUSSELS, Sept. 3.—The Prince Imperial of France has arrived at Chenay, 32 miles south-east of Mous, and has been lodged at the palace of the Prince of Chenay.

PRUSSIAN NEWS.

Great Enthusiasm at Berlin. BERLIN, Sept. 3.—On receipt of the news that the Emperor and McMahon had capitulated there was the most prodigious enthusiasm here. Thousands of people throng the streets this morning in ranks singing patriotic songs, shouting and exhibiting every other sign of enthusiasm.

The Crowd at the Palace.

Crowds assembled before the Palace, when, in response to the cheering, the Queen appeared and made a short address. All the schools were closed and the monument to Frederick the II, were literally buried with flags. Demonstrations were made before the residences of Bismarck, Moltke and the Minister of War. Stores were closed all day and the city was given up to festivities.

FRENCH NEWS.

Heavy Cannonading Heard. LONDON, August 31.—A dispatch from Carignan says cannonading was heard south of that place all day yesterday and last night. The result is unknown. Napoleon has certainly left Carignan for Sedan. Carignan is a few miles north-east of Beaumont.

Death of War News.

PARIS, August 31.—No official information from the scene of war was made public to-day. The Constitutional says that assurances of an unofficial character were given in the Chambers yesterday that McMahon had crossed the Meuse.

Without opposition, and that the Minister of Foreign Affairs had received from the Ambassador of France at Brussels news that Bazaine on the 26th and 27th had disengaged his right arm.

Successful Encounter.

With the enemy. Other journals here continue to give news from private sources of French successes in minor engagements.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—The fortifications are completed. Trochu is virtually military dictator.

FOREIGN.

McMahon's Movement Thwarted. LONDON, August 31.—The Prussians conceiving that it was McMahon's aim to gain the frontier and effect a junction with Bazaine, they advanced on three lines. The Crown Prince marched via Commercy, Bar-le-Duc, St. Dizier and Vitry; the fourth army, under the Prince Royal of Saxony. Keeping north of Point a Mousson, moved towards Châlons, at the same time observing Metz, while Steinmetz, reinforced, proceeded through Verdun to Rheims, his right sweeping the Belgian frontier in the hope of Meeting McMahon. Thus, the German advance covered the country from Belgium along the Meuse to the Aube and rendered it impossible for McMahon to reach Metz.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Germans are urging King William to declare himself Emperor of Germany.

The News Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A Tribune special from London to-day says that King William's headquarters are at Venders, near Sedan.

The battle of Sedan began on Friday morning at 6 o'clock. On September 1st, two Prussian corps were in position on the west of Sedan, having got there by long, forced marches, to cut off the French retreat to Metziers. South of Sedan was the first Bavarian corps, and east, across the Meuse, was the second Bavarian corps, while the Saxons were on the northeast with the Guards.

Point of Observation. The King of Prussia throughout the day was on a hill above the Meuse, commanding a splendid view of the Valley of the Meuse and the field. After a tremendous battle, the Prussians having entered the fortifications at Sedan, the Emperor capitulated at 5 o'clock, P.M.

Napoleon's Letter to the King. Napoleon's letter to King William said: "As I cannot die at the head of my army, I lay my sword at the feet of your Majesty."

Napoleon left Sedan for Prussian headquarters at Venders at 7 o'clock on the morning of September 2d.

Strength of the Armies. McMahon's whole army, comprising 100,000 prisoners, capitulated without conditions. The Prussians had 400,000 men engaged or in reserve. The French had 120,000.

A special to the Tribune, dated at Arlon, Friday afternoon says: "Every hotel here is filled with refugees from across the frontier."

Financial Matters. The bank statement shows a continued loss in reserve, but is favorable. There is a little currency going to the interior. Loans have decreased $2,750,000. Specie has decreased over $1,250,000. Currency has decreased a trifle. Deposits have decreased $1,250,000. Legal tenders have increased $750,000.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Continental securities, except French, tend strongly upwards. At Liverpool everything is unsettled, but generally tending up. Consols 92½. Bonds 89½.

CUBAN NEWS.

Insurgents Well Armed. NEW YORK, August 31.—Official news from the Cuban Insurgent army states that 8,000 rifles, of Upton's first cargo, are now in the hands of the rebels. There is good reason to believe they saved the greater portion of the second cargo.

Céspedes' government at Oriente will soon remove to Conceguay.

For Bronchitis, Asthma, &c., of long standing, it will be necessary to take them frequently, as occasion requires.

Stop the little cough or soreness of the throat and Lungs in time, and HART'S LOZENGES WILL DO IT. TRY THEM. Price 25 Cents per Box.

Dr. M. Lytle's Elixir! FOR THE CURE OF Diarrhea, Dysentery, Bloody Flux, CHOLERA MORBUS, PAINFUL PURGING, SUMMER COMPLAINT, CRAMP AND COLIC.

The want of a medicine of this character has long been felt by the community, and has induced the proprietors, by over thirty years' trial in private, to introduce it for the benefit of the public as a staple family medicine. It does not act as an astringent alone, but by reducing the acidity of the secretory membrane of the bowels, reduces the inflammation, hence performs a thorough cure.

The proprietors take the liberty of stating to the public, that no more perfect receipt (which is guaranteed for the cure of the above-mentioned diseases) exists in the world, being entirely vegetable and containing no sugar of lead or other noxious drug or mineral. And they would further say that the preparation has met the hearty approval of numerous physicians who have used it.

DIRECTIONS: To adults, a tablespoonful after each passage, or four times a day. To children under ten, a half-teaspoonful as required. To children under two or three, a half-teaspoonful, as required, and by carefully administering as directed it will never fail.

Hart's Magnolian Cough Drops. PRICE PER BOTTLE 25 CENTS.

This medicine can confidently be recommended for all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and Lungs. It is invaluable as a remedy for Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Spitting of Blood. It does not prove to cure consumption, but from the largely dependent and balsamic character of the ingredients of which it is composed, it is claimed that it will do all for this dire disease that any Cough Medicine can do.

This medicine contains NO OPIUM, or other ingredient of a deleterious character, and may be given with the utmost confidence and safety in every stage of the disease and to patients of every age. Dose from ten drops to a teaspoonful, according to the age of the patient, and repeated in every instance as the urgency of the case requires. In one, two, three or four hours.

Damon's Stock Powders. THESE POWDERS ARE PREPARED FROM Medicines which possess Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties, and when administered to Horses produce the most beneficial results. As a laxative, they expel from the stomach and intestines all foreign substances. As a tonic they increase the tone and strength of the system; and as a purifier they cleanse the blood and lay the foundation for a strong and healthy circulation. They are a preventive of Lung Fever, and an excellent remedy for all the diseases to which this noble animal is subject. Their use strengthens the lungs and gives a smooth and glossy appearance to the skin, and by increasing the appetite, give vigor and strength to the whole system.

Price, 25 cents per Box. DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

For Lung Fever, or any symptoms of the disease, give a tablespoonful three times a day.

For Glanders, Heaves, Distemper, Founder, Coughs, and other complaints to which the Horse is subject, give a tablespoonful three times a day until a cure is effected—which is generally produced in a few days.

These powders, if used two or three times a week, during the spring and winter months, will prevent your horse from being attacked by these dangerous diseases and greatly increase their usefulness.

DAMON'S STOCK POWDERS FOR MILCH COWS. These Powders are valuable in increasing the quantity of Milk in the Cow, and should be used by every farmer. It increases the appetite and fattens and strengthens the animal, and while increasing the quantity of the milk, makes the butter firm and sweet.
