Try McKee's 65c Shirts, No. 294

Mr. John Schiebler through a friend requests the LEDGER to say that he has more important business to attend to than running for or holding office, and that while appreciating the complimentary mention of his name, he is not an aspirant and does not intend to be. Sensible man. He knows without trying it that holding office is a poor trade.

A NEW Democratic paper, The News, will make its appearance at St. Louis to-morrow. George Mills will be editor in chief. Thomas Smyth, business manager; George Eddy, city editor, and R. A. Dyer, telegraph editor. More papers have been started only to fail in St. Louis than in any other city in the country. Memphis not excepted. If this one lives a year it will be a journalistic phenomenon.

A NUMBER of pulpits in the city churches will be occupied to-morrow by able ministers, who are here in attendance on the Presbyterian Synod. The ministers of this large and influential denomination are, as a class, noted for broad culture, intellectual development and a high order of talent. Some of the ablest pulpits in the country are Presbyterians. They are earnest, able men, who exercise a powerful influence upon the active, thinking mind of the age.

REV. J. C. COWAN, of Rogersville, East Tennessee, has been here this week on his return from a visit to Texas. He stopped over to attend the Presbyterian Synod, and also to visit Mrs. Flaherty and family of Vance street. Mrs. Moon and other friends who found a delightful home with him in 1879, when so many Memphians spent the summer at Rogersville. Mr. Cowan will be pleasantly remembered by many of our people who heard him preach and became acquainted with him personally. He is an able young minister, and a cultured, affable gentleman. He is greatly pleased with Texas, and has decided to locate at the flourishing little town of McKinney, the home of ex-Governor Throckmorton, between Dallas and Sherman. His family, now at Bristol, will shortly accompany him back to Texas.

WHEN Barrett rushed up to Nashville to get himself vindicated, he was somewhat in the predicament of the Irish servant girl who left a position in Boston to seek employment in New York. Upon landing she discovered that she had lost her recommendations given her at the last place she worked. Being a stranger she felt her loss very keenly and went to a kind hearted country man to tell of her great distress. Pat told her to wait a little and he would make it all right. In a short time he evolved from his brain and pen a certificate signed by himself reading to this effect: "This is to certify that Bridget Maloney had a good character when she left Boston, but she lost it on the ship." Barrett's certificate would read: "He had a character, but he went to the Legislature and changed his vote on the 100-3."

THE Nashville Banner is greatly shocked at the inconsistency of the World in admitting at last that the 100-3 act is not acceptable to the people. Our respected afternoon cotemporary proceeds to open up after this fashion:

"At last the Morning World has thrown off the cloak and hoisted the banner of repudiation. Its motives we do not pretend to fathom, but from the fact that its editors and owners were the most unopposing advocates of the settlement during the late canvass, and that they, in their several spheres, exercised all the influence they possessed to advance it, one can now see why they pursued the course outlined in their yesterday's issue. We recognize the fact that the opposition to 100-3 is great, and we are satisfied that it might have been done in a manner to satisfy the demands of the people to a better advantage, but the settlement was made, and is now the law of the land, and unless set aside by the Supreme Court, will be the law, and for a paper to raise the cry of unpopularity, as a notice of opposition, is to plain for the dullest comprehension not to see, especially as the authors of the cry of fraud were those who most strenuously advocated its terms. Oh, consistency thou art a jewel, the more precious, because thou art scarce. When men, either for expediency or for self-interest, repudiate their oft expressed sentiments, in this manner, then what will become of honesty and public faith?"

We would be very much obliged if some of the State credit papers which can discuss this question without showing bad temper or calling names would explain why a man is called a repudiator now who thinks 50-4 a just settlement and was recognized as an exponent of honesty and State credit in 1879 when he held precisely the same views. If we understand the World, it is in favor of readjustment and settlement upon a basis of 50-4. The Banner says this is repudiation, and also inconsistent. Better be right and inconsistent than forever wrong.

Separated for Home. Boston, November 5.—Our German guest departed this forenoon. A number of prominent citizens assembled at the depot to bid them farewell. Before leaving they were entertained at breakfast by the city committee.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

A Considerable Short Interest—Active Foreign Demand.

Alliance Between Huntington and Gould.

Jewett Soliciting Erie Proxies.

NEW YORK, November 5.—There is a considerable short interest in most of the active stocks. The foreign demand for stocks continues fair. First-class bonds are wanted here and abroad. It is thought the next call for bonds will be for five as well as sixes. Of the last call for $20,000,000 about $9,500,000 remain outstanding. An important traffic agreement has been concluded between Huntington and Gould, by which a large amount of business coming over the Southern Pacific will become tributary to the Texas Pacific, Missouri Pacific and Wabash lines. The alliance will have an important bearing upon the securities of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Wabash, Missouri Pacific, Texas Pacific and Southern Pacific roads.

It is understood that the move for a change in the management of the Erie road had its origin abroad. An impression prevails that Gould and Vanderbilt interests will appear in the board at the approaching election. Jewett is soliciting proxies. An Erie director said yesterday that an important move was pending.

The stock market opened strong and generally a fraction higher, but in the early dealings prices declined 1/2 to 1c. Metropolitan Elevated, Northwestern and Texas Pacific leading in the downward movement. The depression, however, was of brief duration, and at the first hour a strong tone prevailed, resulting in an improvement of 1/2 to 1c, the latter for Texas Pacific, which sold up to 56 1/2. Other shares prominent in the advance were Denver and Rio Grande, St. Paul, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Northwestern and Delaware. Lackawanna and Western. Northwestern preferred continues a favorite as investment stock.

ST. LOUIS.

Death of Dance House Proprietor from Rough Treatment.

St. Louis, November 5.—This morning John Mathall, proprietor of Central Turner Hall, died of injuries received last Sunday afternoon at the hands of a gang of hoodlums. Dancing was in progress at the hall when six or seven roughs demanded admission. Mathall refused unless they paid the usual fee. The hoodlums at once attacked him, threw him down, stamped upon him and kicked him, finally throwing him down stairs. Mathall remained in an almost unconscious condition to the moment of his death. The police arrested four men, viz: Frank and Ambrose McGary, Jack Walsh alias Black Jack, and one Ryan who are strongly suspected of the murder.

DETROIT.

Bad Boys Who Raided a Melon Patch—A Snow.

DETROIT, November 5.—Some time ago a melon patch was raided near the Agricultural College at Lansing. The matter was settled by one of the raiders next night. "All the students compelled the owner of the melons to refund the amount paid. The Faculty have tried to get the students to return the money, but they have refused. Wednesday night all the students engaged in the raid were suspended. The students held a meeting and voted 85 to 35 to rebel and leave in a body to-day. The outcome remains to be seen.

Snow fell at the Straits of the Mackinac yesterday to the depth of six inches.

Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, November 5.—Loans increased $4,066,400. Specie decrease $1,004,600; legal tenders decrease $430,600; deposits increase $4,043,700; circulation increase $60,400; reserve decrease $606,125. The banks now hold $3,104,675 in excess of legal requirements.

The Star Route Cases.

WASHINGTON, November 5.—Ingersoll continued his argument in the Star Route cases this morning. He contended that the charge of conspiracy was an absurdity.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

ALBANY, November 4.—Governor Cornell has issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 24th, as a day of Thanksgiving.

BY CABLE.

How Ireland is to be Held Down.

The Methods of 1843 Adopted

An Ingenious "No Rent" Device by the League.

DUBLIN, November 5.—The military authorities have inaugurated a system of alarm drills to train troops to fall rapidly into a defensive position in case of attack. This is a revival of the practice which prevailed during the repeal movement in 1843.

BERLIN, November 5.—The Reichstag will open on the 17th inst. The prospect of a coalition between the Clericals and the Conservatives is growing daily.

LONDON, November 5.—A curious plan has been adopted in some parts west of Ireland with a view of keeping the "no rent" manifest before the tenants. It takes the form of a promissory note, which has been circulated among the farmers attending the fair. The note is a promise to pay rent on the day of the release of Parnell, Davitt and other suspects from jail. It is intended that this note shall be signed by the tenants and sent to the landlords.

The Standard, commenting on the alleged protest of Blaine against any annexation of the Peruvian Territory by Chili, says that considering the circumstances existing in South America, it would be simply offering a premium for the aggressive combinations. If the annexation were recognized as a right of the more powerful, so far therefore, Blaine has acted with a vigor which ought to commend itself to the world at large, but if he is not misinterpreted he seems to aim at constituting the United States an arbiter of the politics of the whole American Continent. In view of the great colonial interests of England and other powers such pretensions if ever meant to be seriously advanced is inadmissible. Nothing is more calculated to excite susceptibilities in the petty South American republics. The United States and other American governments have, however, every right to protect against any European power gaining further footing on the continent of America.

ROME, November 3.—Several lives were lost in a hurricane here.

ZURICH, November 5.—Burglars entered the bank of Walker & Co. in this city, Tuesday night, and stole 75,000 francs and all the securities, and burned the greater part of the books. The bank closed doors Wednesday. Unpleasant surmises regarding the affair are current.

New Oyster Saloon.

Mrs. Ida Cicalls widow of the late well known Alderman Paul Cicalls opened to-day a new and elegant oyster saloon at No. 13 Jefferson street. An elegant lunch was set, and many friends called to pay their respects to the lady, the eatables and drinkables. The house is well stocked with fine liquors, wines, brandies, ales, cigars, etc., etc. To-night there will be a splendid lunch set of turkey, oysters, macaroni, etc., from six to ten o'clock, and the public is respectfully invited to attend. The place is fitted up in nice style, and will doubtless be liberally patronized. Oysters served in all styles and on short notice. Call and see.

THE Philadelphia American adds its mite, as follows: "Mr. Key, we have no doubt, acted on his own responsibility in the bad advice he gave Mr. Tynor, and was construed as speaking for the President. The publication of Mr. Tynor's report does make out a somewhat better case for himself. But it makes the relation of Mr. Key to the whole business very much worse. If the former Postmaster-General knew the contents of Mr. Tynor's report, then his refusal to believe anything bad of Mr. Brady and Mr. Dorsay is a good deal worse than inexcusable."
