After the first of January next the LEDGER will cease to exchange with all papers known as patent outside or inside. Our exchange list is unwieldy and must be cut down, and we can better afford to dispense with papers only half printed at home than those that encourage labor and are entirely printed and edited at home.

The Guild Gazette, the organ of the Southwestern Benefit Guild, makes its appearance to-day. It is a neatly printed little paper of six columns to the page. Five thousand copies are printed, to be sent out gratuitously to agents, members and the public at large. It will be issued monthly at the nominal price of fifty cents per annum.

By a correspondence printed elsewhere, it will be seen that the citizens of LaGrange have invited Judge Sneed to address them upon the political issues of the day in Tennessee, and that he will comply next Saturday. The people will be glad to hear from Judge Sneed. He has long been in public life and yet has never been a politician. Eight years upon the Supreme bench, he was practically isolated from politics. He is a conservative man of sound high views, and a safe advisor. He is known to be a State Credit man of the strictest sect, and opposed to repudiation in all its forms.

We have decided to reject all original poetry from these columns on and after the first of January next. Our correspondents can have a monopoly in that line. This is done to give to writers who may have a verse under way, and also to our readers. Much of the so-called poetry that appears in daily newspapers does not deserve the name. Editors often, in a spirit of good nature or sympathy with a contributor, insert rhymes that are no credit to their literary taste.

GUITEAU.

The Van Doubly Guarded. WASHINGTON, November 22.—The prison van in which Guiteau was conveyed to court this morning was escorted by six mounted policemen, in addition to ten officers who rode up. The trip was made without incident and after reaching the prisoner's room Guiteau partook hearty of breakfast, and expressed himself satisfied with the police arrangements which made ensure safety. He thought some precautions should have been observed at the outset. The court room was crowded in every nook and corner. John Guiteau was in the court room soon after 9 o'clock and obtained subpoenas for six additional witnesses. None of the gentlemen publicly invited by Guiteau to assist in the defense have yet responded. It is understood however, that Scoville expects to secure the service of Trude, of Chicago, later in the week several experts were summoned by the defense, who are in attendance this morning, among them Dr. Rice, of Wisconsin, who has long known the prisoner, and who, it is said, advised his commitment to the insane asylum four years ago on the ground of emotional insanity.

WALL STREET. A Feverish Market and Confidence Shaken. Boston Banks Drawing Heavily on New York. Difficulty in Negotiating Loans. Trunk Line Differences Referred to Arbitrators.

NEW YORK, November 22.—The Wall street market opened feverish, and there is no denying for the moment confidence is considerably shaken. Boston advices are reassuring, although the banks are taking the precaution of strengthening themselves by drawing funds from New York. One bank sent $400,000 yesterday, and a leading bank President estimates that Boston will draw about $1,000,000 for protection. Indications favor a stringent market, and time loans are more difficult to negotiate. The bulls, however, comfort themselves with the belief that the government will come to the rescue with a large purchase of bonds. An inside party says the trunk line difference was referred to arbitrators, and that a conference of the managers is to be held to-day. Parties who have been studying the purchases of Lake Shore claim to have satisfactory proof that much of the buying has been for the Vanderbilt account. The market was steadied yesterday by heavy orders for Western Union, and an unusual number of loans called in here and in Boston.

BY CABLE. BERLIN, November 22.—The export of gold from Russia increases rapidly. Tunis, November 22.—Ali Ben Amar escaped three columns French troops. He retreated South. DUBLIN, November 22.—Yesterday a flying column of 500 men, consisting of military and police, assisted the civil power in evictions on the estate of Tottenham, M. P., at Killybegher, County Leitrim. The police dispersed a private meeting of the Ballyferan branch of the Ladies' Land League of County Roscommon.

Among those present were Messrs. Tom Haleman, J. T. Petit, J. T. Fargerson, Col. Josiah Patterson and County Attorney J. A. Taylor.

Water Reeding. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., November 22.—The Sangamon river flood has reached its height, and the water is beginning to recede. It is usually 200 feet broad and inside high banks, but now it spreads over the rich and fertile bottom lands, and in some parts is two miles wide. At Riverton, seven miles east of Springfield, there is a terrible scene of devastation. Field after field of corn lies covered with water, while an occasional island protrudes above the desolate waste, covered with stalks of corn. The shocks of corn were carried bodily down the swiftly flowing stream. In some places wagon roads are covered with four feet of water. The cattle pens of Riverton and 1300 hogs have been turned into the lots. John Black's paper mill has suspended and is threatened with overflow. The Wabash railroad bridge is well protected by strong iron piles, Edward Agce loses 2000 bushels of corn, and many others lose smaller amounts, while many farmers report the loss of cattle, fences, etc. The State Department of Agriculture estimates the loss to the corn crop at a quarter of a million dollars.

General Cheatham's Vindication. Nashville, Nov. 21. General Cheatham's vindication will be published simultaneously in sixty newspapers next Sunday. No doubt the soldiers who rallied to the standard of General Cheatham will hail with joy this public vindication of their chieftain.
