ABLAZE WITH ENTHUSIASM.

That Was the Condition of Pine Bluff.

Major Breckinridge's Return Home.

Special to Little Rock Gazette.

PINE BLUFF, June 17.—A special train, in charge of Colonel J. A. Woodson, Superintendent of the Arkansas Valley road, arrived here at 6 o'clock this evening with Major C. R. Breckinridge, the Democratic nominee for Congressman at large, and a large number of friends from all parts of the State. The train was received by the people of Pine Bluff with open arms. The Garland Grays, in full uniform, escorted Major Breckinridge from the depot to his residence. To night a banquet will be had at the courthouse, and general jollity will reign supreme. Never before did a candidate receive a more hearty welcome from his home people. From the time the car left Little Rock until its arrival here there was one continued ovation. Colonel Grace delivered the welcome oration, which was responded to by Major Breckinridge. At this writing Pine Bluff is ablaze with enthusiasm.

The Memphis Jockey Club.

New York Spirit of the Times, 17.

Memphis promises to resume the position she once occupied as one of the prominent racing points of the Southwest. The only wonder to us has been that the movement has been so long deferred. The fact is that some years since the Chickasaw Jockey Club made a brave endeavor to re-establish racing, but that section of the country was then slowly recovering from the disastrous effects of the late civil war, and died for want of patronage. The Memphis Jockey Club has recently been organized with a paid-up stock of $10,000, which is certainly a good beginning. It is the purpose of its organizers to take an initiatory step by giving a four days' meeting immediately after the close of the Nashville meeting in October. Indeed, the idea has started of forming a circuit, which, beginning with Lexington, will be followed by Louisville, Nashville and Memphis, and continuing at Little Rock, Dallas, Houston, Galveston, and finishing at New Orleans.

We understand that it is the intention of the Memphis Jockey Club to make its inaugural meeting worthy the name. The prizes will, it is expected, reach some eight or ten thousand dollars in value, and efforts will be made to attract the leading stables of Kentucky and Tennessee. The Shelby County Fair Association held a meeting the 27th of last month, and arrangements were perfected whereby that Association and the Jockey Club will work in unison. Both organizations are composed of the leading citizens of the section, and the management of the meeting will be perfect. Memphis will thus resume her old position among the turf centers of America, and, situated as she is, with her wealth and population, there is no reason why the efforts of the promoters of her new jockey club should not be crowned with success at the outset. The hotels, as well as the railroads running into the city, will find it to their interest to assist in the new movement, as the people from the surrounding country will be certain to pour in and spend the entire week in enjoyment of the sport.

The Chickasaw Guards, Memphis, Tenn.

New York Spirit of the Times, June 17.

A correspondent at Memphis sends us the following communication regarding the crack company of the West, and their coming drills for the championship with the Porter Guards, Memphis; Porter Rifles, Nashville, and the Crescent City Rifles, New Orleans. An effort was made early in the spring to induce some of the companies of New York City and Brooklyn, especially those of the Seventh and Twenty-third Regiments, to compete with the famous Chicks and Porter Rifles at New York City, during the coming fall; but it failed, the New York State soldiers being absolutely afraid to enter into a competition in marching and the manual of arms with the companies from the West. It was expected that the Seventh New York would visit Indianapolis, but this, too, has proved a failure, the Seventh deciding to go as far as Buffalo, so that the great prize drills of 1882 will be left to the crack companies of Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, and Louisiana.

MEMPHIS, June 12, 1882.

"Excitement is at fever heat, and the entire community is aroused to the necessity of having the Chickasaw Guards again thoroughly drilled to that standard of excellence and perfection for which they were famed at the competitive drills held at Nashville, Huntsville, St. Louis, Columbus and New Orleans, so that they will again be victorious in the coming contest at Louisville on the 23rd and Indianapolis July 4. Captain Carnes, who was complimented by General Sherman upon the field at St. Louis as being the best drillmaster in the United States, has the 'Chicks' under charge. He is a strict disciplinarian, and is putting the boys through a rigid course of instruction, which, when completed, will be convincing proof to both Kentuckians and Indians that the Blue City boys are somewhat up in tactics. The following companies are to take part in competing for prizes: Chickasaw and Porter Guards, of Memphis; Porter Rifles, Nashville; Crescent City Rifles, New Orleans; Quappan Guards, Little Rock, and companies from St. Louis, Chicago and other Western cities. It has been reported that several crack companies of the Seventh Regiment, New York, are to take part in the drill at Indianapolis. Notwithstanding the fact that the committee in charge of military matters at Louisville have decided that twenty-four be the maximum upon which a count is to be made, still the 'Chicks' will have thirty-two men in line, and propose to put up a better drill than any other company. Mark the following prediction: The company defeating the Chickasaw Guards at Louisville will take first prize at Indianapolis."

INTERVIEWED.

What the Governor Knows About the Bonds and Bondholders.

Nashville World, 17.

A representative of the World, while at the capital yesterday called on the Governor to ascertain the objects of his recent visit to New York. He was deeply engaged in examining a number of letters which had accumulated during his absence, and when approached expressed some dislike to be interviewed, pleading like of time and etc., but finally consented to answer a few interrogatories, as follows:

"Governor how long were you in New York, and what were the objects of your visit there?"
 "I was in New York three days, and went there for the purpose of contracting for and having prepared the bonds of the State as directed by the fifth section of the late act 'to compromise and fund our State debt.'"

Have you any positive information as to how many of the creditors of the State will fund under said act? He replied that "in addition to those who made the proposition to settle as shown by his message to the late session of the General Assembly, he had information that others would fund their bonds, but could not state the number, nor the amounts." He stated he had never had anything to do with procuring a proposition from the creditors of the State, and that any statement that he had done so was untrue, and that all the information he had outside of what was contained in his message to the Legislature, was only such as any private individual might obtain.

The Governor left the city last night for Huntingdon, where he will spend a few days with his family and friends.

Population of Chattanooga

Times, 17th.

The Standard Directory Company, publishers of the Chattanooga city directory, after a careful count of the people residing in Chattanooga on May 1, 1882, reported that there are 11,017 whites and 6937 colored, making a total of 17,954. We are instructed by the publishers to say that the delivery of the new directory of this city has been unavoidably delayed, and that within a month it will be ready for delivery. The new book is very complete, and will meet with general approval.

Oscar's Lecture.

New Orleans States of Saturday.

Mr. Oscar Wilde, the English art sharp, gave the public an eighty minute glimpse of himself and his theory at the Grand Opera-house last evening. The audience was respectable in size and quality, and paid attention to the remarks upon house decoration, although it is fair to presume that not one-half the people in the house understood the subject, and not a tenth part understood the language in which the lecture was delivered.

The lecture was coldly received throughout, and the applause given at its conclusion was lukewarm and somewhat dampened by hisses.

The Assassini's Faith.

Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Rev. Dr. Hartzell, of Cincinnati and New Orleans, visited President Garfield's assassin at the jail to-day. He prayed with him and for him fervently, and was himself affected to tears. The assassin was not at all affected. When, however, Dr. Hartzell asked him solemnly whether he realized that he was standing in the presence of death, his frame shook and his voice trembled as he strove to reply in a firm tone that he did not think he was. Dr. Hartzell warned him to prepare for the certain speedy change at hand. He replied: I am ready, if it is to come; I don't believe it will. If Reed don't save me, Arthur will.

Texas Mosquitoes.

New York Press.

All seaport towns suffer from those marine monsters known as mosquitoes. In inland towns you have to raise them in a cistern, or worry along without them. Both coast towns, Galveston and Houston, have fine natural facilities for raising mosquitoes. I have tried both brands of mosquitoes, or rather both of them have tried me, and I cannot tell which is the best to avoid associating with. In regard to the merits of the rival breeds of mosquitoes, it is with pain I state that both Galveston and other maritime havens are prone to clothe the naked truth with the flowery garments of fiction. In Houston they showed me affidavits stating that in Galveston the mosquitoes were so large as to be included in the cow ordinance, while in Galveston I was told that the Houston mosquitoes were forty-five inch under-shirts. There is probably a happy medium between the two. I do not know how happy the medium is, but if he is not under a mosquito bar there is no limit to his bliss. The truth is, that the coast town mosquito rarely exceeds in size the ordinary Texas mocking bird.

LIVERPOOL, June 19.—Bacon—Cumberland cut, dull, 56s; long clear, dull, 58s; short rib, dull, 57s; short leg, dull, 61s; shoulders, dull, 47s. Hams—Long cut, dull, 55s; American choice, dull, 55s. Tallow—Brine city, steady, 43s. Turpentine—Spirits—Steady, 33s 3/4; at London, steady, 30s. Receipts of wheat for the week: A charter ports, 850 quarters; Pacific, 2548; other sources, 25,000. Corn, 16,000.

The world's visible supply of cotton on the 17th instant, as given by the New York Financial Chronicle, was 2,287,458 bales, a decrease of 192,550 bales, as compared with last year, also 147,992 bales more than the year before, and 670,310 in excess of 1879 at the same date.

BY CABLE.

DUBLIN, June 19.—The document recently published, purporting to be a circular from the Commander of the Dublin district, with reference to military dispositions to be observed in the event of disturbance in the city, it is said bears evidence of some absurd blunder. It is not authentic, but concocted from some forms which fell into the hands of the compiler.

BERLIN, June 19.—Bundesrath has consented to the motion made by Saxony to extend the State seige at Leipzig another year.

ISMAILIA, June 19.—Alarm is felt here because of the proximity of a large number of Bedouin Arabs, who lately approached close to town, and have been observed hovering along the unguarded banks of the canal.

ALEXANDRIA, June 19.—The banks are mostly prepared to resist a seige. The Ottoman Bank has been converted into an armory, the entrances are blocked up by bales of silk and the clerks are supplied with provisions; they also have ropes ready to haul up refugees from the streets. Arabi Pasha has thanked the Khedive for his appointment as a member of the Ministry and there is no doubt he is straining every nerve to maintain order. He is beginning to realize that he has proved an exodus of Europeans which will ruin the country. The sub-Minister of Justice, who is conducting the inquiry into the cause of the riots, states that he cannot justly punish prisoners as long as he is unable to arrest the instigators of their crimes. He names Arabi Pasha as the chief instigator.

Attorney Dead.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Richard Dyer, assistant United States District Attorney, died yesterday of consumption.

Fire.

TYRONE, BLAIR COUNTY, PA., June 19.—Morrison's large paper mill was burned yesterday. Loss $235,000. Insurance $17,000.

Will He Sign It?

NEW YORK, June 19.—Political pressure is being brought to bear on Governor Cornell to induce him to refrain from signing the elevated railroad tax bill. It is thought, however, that it will become a law.

Schooner Goes Down.

ST. JOHN, N. F., June 19.—The American schooner Massasoit, under full sail, crashed into an immense iceberg, and sank almost immediately. Five of the crew went down with the vessel. A heavy fog prevented the lookout from seeing the berg.

Murder and Suicide.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Genesee (Ill.) special: Eight miles south of this city, on Saturday, after preparing dinner for her husband and hired man and while they were eating, Mrs. Lindquist took her son, aged five years, to a corn crib near the house and cut his throat and then killed herself. No cause is known, but the woman is believed to be insane.

Fargo (D. T.) special: Stephens & Seers' livery stable has been burned. Loss, $28,000; small insurance.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Wheat, 1/2c higher, firm and rather quiet. Money, 2 1/2; prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2. Exchange is steady, at 86 1/2 for long, and 89 for sight. Government bonds are 1/2c higher for extended 6s and 5s; unchanged for 4 1/2s and 4s. State bonds are inactive. Railroad stocks are strong. Stocks opened strong at 1/2 per cent above Saturday's closing prices, the latter for Richmond & Danville.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—For Tennessee and the Ohio valley, slightly cooler and partly cloudy weather, with local rains in the Tennessee and upper Ohio valley, generally higher barometer, with north to west winds, becoming variable.

For the lower lake region, cooler and partly cloudy weather, preceded by light rains, higher barometer, north to west winds, becoming variable.

For the upper lake region, fair weather, north winds, shifting to east and south, rising barometer, followed by the western portion by falling barometer and stationary or slowly rising temperature.

For the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, slowly rising temperature, slowly falling barometer, winds shifting to east and south, and fair weather.

DAMAGING STORMS.

Cyclone at Metropolis—A Man Killed—Houses Down—Crops Ruined.

PARTICULARS OF FRIDAY NIGHT'S STORM.

Ten or Twelve Lives Lost at Irish Ridge.

Great Destruction in Boone County, Iowa, and Elsewhere.

CHICAGO, June 19.—A special from Metropolis, Ill., says a terrible cyclone struck that city yesterday evening, blowing down several houses, killing Dick Turner, capsizing and sinking the steamer Jennie Walker, and scattering the harvested wheat in the vicinity. The damage is heavy.

An Atchison, Kas., special says: The mail and travelers bring more accurate reports of the effects of Friday night's storm, showing that it extended southward and westward of Kansas City and did much greater damage than was at first supposed. Many small towns and hamlets were visited, and they are all in mourning over the loss of life and property. A family of three are reported drowned on a flatboat, twelve miles below here.

An Iowa City special reports the loss of life at Irish Ridge at from ten to twelve.

Boone (Iowa) special says: The tornado struck the southwestern part of Boone county Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. It was plainly seen here, and seemed twenty miles away. Report just coming in speak of great destruction in that section. All the buildings on several farms were completely demolished. A church four miles south of Ogden was destroyed.

Many persons have been seriously injured and one man killed. Information is difficult to obtain on account of the heavy roads. A woman and child are reported missing.

Springfield (Ill.) special says: The heavy rains in this vicinity have done great damage to corn fields lately. Wheat and oats are also affected.

FIRE AT KERRVILLE.

Several Stores and Offices Destroyed by the Flames.

This morning, at half past three o'clock, at Kerrville, Tenn., twenty miles out on the Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern railroad, a fire was discovered in the storehouse of W. A. Tucker. Mr. Tucker was sleeping in the back room of his store. When he awoke he found his front door open and the entire front of his store on fire. He had barely time to jump from the back window of the store and thus save himself, but saved no clothing and only a part of his books. There was nothing saved out of the store. The flames quickly enveloped the entire house, and it was evident that the storehouse of W. H. Johnson, occupied by D. M. Witherington & Sons, was in imminent danger, when those present commenced to remove the stock of goods. Most of the goods were saved, some of them in a damaged condition.

The next house in the fire line was the residence of Mr. F. L. Williford. He did not have time to save all his furniture, but saved most of it. The house of W. A. Tucker was insured in the Mutual Benefit Association for the sum of $750, and his stock of goods by Murphy & Murphy, of this city, at $2000. He valued his stock of goods, groceries, etc., at $3500 to $3800. Witherington & Son's loss is estimated at $500—no insurance. There was no insurance on the store house of W. H. Johnson, and none

The sacred cornet solo of Levy drew a throng to Calvary church yesterday. The church was full to its capacity, and several hundred people stood about on the sidewalks outside.

St. Joseph's Sunday school picnic will come off to-morrow at the A. Vaccaro residence, on Kerr avenue. Omnibuses will be in attendance at the south terminus of the Main street car line.

The telegraph wires were down in all directions last night, prostrated by the violent squalls which have been passing to and fro over the western country. The wires are up and all right again to-day.

Picnics supplied with all kinds of printing at the LEDGER job printing office.

The PUBLIC LEDGER book bindery 13 Madison street, is in the same building as the newspaper and job printing establishment; is owned by the same proprietor; embraces all machines and material used in a first-class book bindery, and is conducted by competent workmen, capable of executing work in as good and substantial a style as can be done anywhere.

DEATH.

MELLERSBY—Sunday, June 18th, 1882, at 2:45 p.m. MARTHA F. MELLERSBY, aged 48 years, wife of Frank Mellersby.

Funeral will take place from residence, No. 104 Hernandez street, to-morrow (TUESDAY) morning at 10 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

A MEETING of the Stockholders in the A. Guadalupe & Co. Building Company is hereby called for June 24th current, at the German National Bank, in Memphis, Tenn., for the election of Directors and such other business as may be brought before it. The said meeting to be at 4 p.m.

By order of the Board, J. THOMPSON, Pres't. T. H. MILLER, Sec'y.
