Wednesday Morning, August 30, 1871.

The Gold Market. Gold closed in New York, on last Monday, at $1.12 1/2.

Old John Robinson's Circus is posted for Chattanooga.

Scott county is crowding the Comptroller's office at Nashville with wild-cat scalps.

The M. D.'s of Nashville are about to test the constitutionality of the tax on Doctors.

There were ten marriage licenses issued from the Clerk's office in Carroll county last week.

The Hawkins county Sabbath-school Convention will meet at Rogersville on Friday, the 12th of October.

The Memphis and Charleston Railroad Company have purchased the McMinnville and Manchester Road for the sum of $440,000.

East Tennessee farmers are putting up canned fruit. A gentleman of Meigs county put up and sold about $2,500 worth of canned peaches last year.

The next session of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is to meet in Lebanon, Tennessee, in October next.

The Blount county corn crop, it is said, will be a total failure. With the exception of that in the river and creek bottoms, the entire crop is burned to a crisp.

Charles Boshell, a boy of sixteen years, has been committed to jail in Greene county for forging the name of Patrick Marshall to an order for goods.

Federal troops are being quietly sent to all parts of the South by Gen. Grant. This is the way he expects to force a re-nomination and re-election.

The Supreme Court of the State and the United States District Court will both convene in Knoxville on Monday, September 11. In the United States Court the quo warranto cases will come up.

The negro, Jack Fuqua, charged with having committed an atrocious murder in Huntington on the 15th inst., had an examination on the 17th, and was lodged in jail to await his trial.

Edward R. Burr, of Batesville, Ark., was murdered by a desperado named Luke Purdon, at the Magnolia Garden, Memphis, on the 18th inst. Purdon surrendered himself and was lodged in jail.

The Lebanon Press says, the Hon. James W. Deaderick, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Tennessee, has a son elected to the Kentucky Legislature, at the late election, on the Democratic ticket, from Pendleton county.

The Nashville Banner says arrangements are being made to ship wheat to the way stations and to the mills along the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, in consequence of the failure of the wheat crop, a thing unheard of before, wheat having always been exported instead of imported.

Mary Silvey, white, of Campbell county, in this State, was recently married to Willis Harris, black. They went down to Atlanta, Georgia, where they were arrested for miscegenation. The Court decided last Wednesday week that the marriage was not a legal one, and they were fined $1,000 each, in default of which they were sent to jail for six months.

A young lady, at an evening party, some time ago, found it hard to use the expression, "Jordan is a hard road to travel," but thinking that too vulgar, substituted the following: "Perambulating progression in pedestrian excursion along the far-famed thoroughfare of fortune cast up by the banks of the sparkling river of Palestine is indeed attended with a heterogeneous conglomeration of unforeseen difficulties."

Dr. Wm. R. Sevier. Dr. William R. Sevier, of Jonesboro, says the Memphis Avalanche will be one of the candidates for Speaker of the Senate, upon the assembling of the Legislature in October. The name of Sevier is historic in the early annals of Tennessee, and he is of the family who made it so. He is descended from John Sevier, the first Governor of the State, and is of the same order of men. The election of men of this stamp to important positions would indicate a return of the better days of the Republic.

Farmers' Sons.

At the present time, while the scarcity of farm labor exists, why is it then that so many of our well to do farmers' sons are leaving the paternal roof, and seeking employment in the already overcrowded cities? It seems to us that if proper inducements were held out to such young men, that they would choose a country life amid the birds and flowers, in preference to any other situation in which it was possible to be placed. To make farming attractive to our boys, the old style of routine farming year after year must be given up, and farming on more scientific principles resorted to, and the ways and wherefores must be taught. They must be taught that a farmer need not be an ignorant clod-hopper, and that farming, if rightly managed, can be made to pay; that the farmer need not be the uneducated toiler he has heretofore been, but that he may become a gentleman of culture and refinement, who will esteem it a pleasure and a privilege to till the soil. The homestead must be made more attractive, for a lad with quick perceptions sees that even the thrifty farmer's house is carelessly built and more penuriously furnished than the city merchant's. And his first inference is, that the fine houses and beautiful and convenient furniture, are the exclusive product of the city; and his next conclusion, "that's the place for me to live." Now, if our enterprising farmers would build more commodious houses, and furnish them more tastefully, and adorn their grounds from time to time with shrubs and flowers, their homes might be embellished and rendered beautiful; and only in this way can intelligent and energetic young men be induced to remain on the homestead of their fathers. It is astonishing to see how much can be done year by year, to adorn and beautify the farmers' houses. A few trees set out here and there, and old and decayed ones removed out of the way; indeed in many ways beauty may be made to spring out of deformity, and that, too, with very little expense of time and money. It has indeed become one of the great errors of our time that young men desert the true nobility of the country, for the false allurements of the city life. This is all wrong. Young men should be taught to regard agriculture as the grandest and most honorable of all professions. Then we should hear less complaint of young men breaking away from the restraints of home. How often we see them impatient to leave their paternal acres, to seek as they vainly think, some easier or more genteel way of earning a living; they would rather make a graceful bow, and show a lily white hand to a lady as they measure off a yard of tape, than exhibit a manly masculine frame with a brown band, that does not shrink from contact with implements of husbandry. Hence we find all trades and professions overstocked, because many a man who should have followed the plow and been one of God's husbandmen, has become too proud for that, and has vainly aspired to become a gentleman.

Bounty and Pension Frauds.

Bounty and pension frauds continue to develop themselves under the present administration of affairs in the Pension Bureau. A special dispatch to the Courier-Journal, from Washington states that notwithstanding the spasmodic efforts occasionally made to investigate the method in which these frauds are perpetrated, the offenders are most always political favorites, and are permitted to escape without notice, and their attempts winked at, as in the late case of Tennessee Butler. The latest developments of the present character go to show that certain claim agents, through collusions with the employees in the Department who have access to the muster and pay rolls, have nearly perfected a plan for a wholesale raid upon the Treasury. Through the action of the Solicitor, aided by a corps of detectives, this scheme has been overreached, and the names of the principal perpetrators discovered. A favorite field of action for these swindlers has been in the Southern States in the collection of colored claims, and the authorities for some time have been quietly at work undermining their operations. A report now comes from the United States District Attorney at Salem, North Carolina, that a gang of swindlers, of the present class, have been unearthed there, and they will soon be brought to justice. Recent developments in New York, and other Eastern cities, reveal a state of affairs there, in the present connection, that requires the most careful scrutiny.

House Burned Down!

The Knoxville Chronicle of Sunday, says: "We are informed that the dwelling house of Mr. J. Emmet Monday, near Gap Creek, in the 15th civil district, was burned on Tuesday night last, with all the furniture and clothing. It is the impression in the neighborhood that Monday set it on fire himself, as during the day he is said to have had an altercation with his wife, which caused her and her son, a lad about seventeen years of age, to leave. During the afternoon of Tuesday she returned to get her clothing, which Monday would not allow her to take, and threatened to burn the house and kill himself. She, however, paid no attention to his threat, and about half past twelve the building was discovered to be on fire, and had made such progress that the flames could not be checked. A crowd of the neighbors collected, but Monday was nowhere visible, though it was afterward discovered that he was lying in a shack-pen while the house was burning. He denied setting it on fire, but as he made the threat his wife alleges, and there was no fire in the house during the day, his denial is not deemed truthful. What a touching instance of marital affection! Crazed with grief at the departure of his wife, the loving husband can not live alone in prosperity but kindles the flame that renders him homeless, which burns fiercer than the love that once animated him.

Agricultural and Mechanical Association.

On Wednesday last, a number of the citizens of our county met at the Court House for the purpose of taking some steps looking to the organization of an Agricultural and Mechanical Association for Hamblen county. A committee was appointed to suggest a plan of operations, which reported the following: The Committee, charged with the duty of reporting a plan for the organization of a Farmers' and Mechanics' Association for Hamblen county, and in conformity to an Act of our Legislature, passed February 23d, 1869, constituting John Murphy, D. Morris, P. Smith and their associates and successors a body politic and corporate, under such name as they may select, for the purpose of promoting improvements in the various departments of Agriculture, including, not only the staples and industry of trade, but also Fruits, Vegetables, Gardening and Mechanic Arts and Manufactures in various branches, the improvement of the race of all useful and domestic animals, the general advancement of rural economy and household manufactures, and the dissemination of useful knowledge upon these subjects, respectfully submit the following: This association, when organized, shall be known as the Farmers' and Mechanics' Association of Hamblen County, Tennessee. Its officers shall consist of a President, Secretary, Treasurer and one Director from each Civil District of Hamblen County having a membership. The officers shall be elected at the first general meeting of the members of the Association, and shall continue in office one year and until successors are elected. The first annual election for officers shall take place on the first Monday in October, 1871, at the Court House at Morristown. Every person having subscribed One Dollar, or more, shall be entitled to vote, and to a full membership on the payment of One Dollar annually. Every person having subscribed Five Dollars, or more, shall be entitled to a Life Membership. Ladies shall be entitled to membership on subscription of one-half the above fees. The first annual meeting shall determine the scale of voting for the second election of officers, and shall alter, or amend and make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary. Thomas C. Miller, James C. Davis, D. Morris, Robt Lyle, Wilson C. Witt, James Hale, Robt H. McGhee, C. S. Harris, C. J. Burnett, Samuel Smith and Wm. Courtney are hereby appointed an Executive Committee to procure membership and stock subscribed, to open and hold the first annual election for officers, or to procure the same done under such rules and regulations as they may establish in compliance with the aforesaid rules. The report was adopted by the meeting, and our people have now gone to work in earnest in this matter. We trust that the people of Hamblen county will come up manfully to this work and make it a grand success. We can do it if we but try, and in a work of so much importance to all, none should be found lagging back.

Supreme Court at Knoxville.

To the Bar and People of East Tennessee: By direction of the Judges of the Supreme Court, I hereby inform the members of the bar and suitors in the Supreme Court at Knoxville, that the Court will commence its session on the second Monday in September next, in the Union Bank building, in consequence of the occupation of the Supreme Court room by the Federal Courts; that the Supreme Court will be held in sections under the provisions of the constitution; that in one of the sections the business of the second circuit will be first taken up and proceeded with as it stands upon the docket; that the business of the fourth circuit will be taken up at the same time and proceeded with in like manner as the other section; that when the business of said circuit is finished, one of the sections will then proceed with the docket of the third circuit at the same time. The same course will be pursued at Nashville and Jackson. All opinions of the court will be considered in full council before they are delivered. All the Judges will meet every morning to hear and sign the minutes—opinions will be delivered on Wednesdays and Saturdays in full bench. Motions will be heard on Tuesdays and Fridays. J. F. DEADERICK, Clerk.

Home Enterprise.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of Upper East Tennessee that there is established in Nashville, Tennessee, one of the most reliable Life Insurance Companies that can be found in the United States. It was organized by a portion of the best and most successful business men in the State, and for the purpose of stopping the heavy drain that is annually made upon the money resources of the State; to this end it was necessary they should present an organization that could invite the strictest scrutiny into its solvency, integrity and capacity; therefore we present the claims of the Nashville Life Insurance Company to the business and thinking men of this Division of the State, as an institution in which they can invest their annual premiums upon Life Policies with the full assurance their widows and orphans will receive the amount assured to them within thirty days after death. The table rates, we think, are as favorable as any Northern company. Its Policies are liberal and contain no unnecessary or illiberal restrictions. It has not a single stain on its good name. It is managed with economy and energy. On July 1st, 1871, its assets to liabilities, 270 to 100, or nearly 3 to 1. It is now paying 2d annual dividend (contribution plan) 22 per cent. Rate of interest (legal) in Tennessee ten (10) per cent. It has $100,000 00 deposited with the State Comptroller. Ordinary Life Plan non-forfeiting after three annual payments. To my friends, I most cheerfully ask to examine the claims of this Company to their confidence. I fully endorse it from my personal knowledge of its management, as being entirely reliable, as evidence I am the 24th policy holder in it of over 2,000. I will remain in Morristown for the next thirty days, and will be pleased to extend my acquaintance and talk with the people interested upon the subject, and if they desire, will take their application as to myself. I will refer you to the business and professional men, and others of Morristown, generally to whom I am known. Room 15, Turley House. TOWNSEND A. THOMAS, Agent for Tennessee.

Eastern Division Fair.

The Eastern Division Agricultural Fair will commence on the fair grounds, at Knoxville, on Tuesday, the 10th day of October next, and continue until the Saturday following. Every arrangement and preparation has been made by the managers to render it a success in every department. This is not a local fair, held for the benefit of Knoxville and Knox county, but it is an exhibition of the agricultural and mechanical resources of East Tennessee. We would urge upon our people to aid and assist in giving interest to this laudable enterprise. Those of our farmers who have fine stock—Hambly county can boast something should by all means have it in exhibition. Show it to your brother farmers and encourage them to engage in the breeding of horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, &c. Take samples of your crops to the fair, and let the world know what your land will produce. It is this way that the attention of people abroad is drawn to a section. Farmers of Hamblen, we would urge you to give this matter attention, and let the fair at Knoxville, in October next, have your representation from among you. You can not possibly lose anything by devoting a few days in attendance there.

CARPENTER & ROSS, Brown's Block, Gay Street, Knoxville, Tennessee. [April 15-ly] Chancery Court at Newport. James Vincent et al. vs Anderson Vincent et al. appearing to the Court that Anderson Bush, Lydia Bush, Wm. Davis, Nancy Kelly and C. Kelly, defendants in this cause are non-residents of the State of Tennessee, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served on them; it is therefore ordered that publication be made for four successive weeks in the Morristown Gazette, inviting said non-resident defendants to appear before the Chancery of the Court at our next chancery court to be held for the county of Cocke, on Wednesday, after the 4th Monday of August next, then and there to plead, answer or demur, to complainant's bill, or the same will be taken as confessed as to them, and set for hearing ex parte. [aug 24w. Printers fee $5.] VALUABLE LANDS FOR SALE ON THE FIRST MONDAY, BEING THE 4th DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1871. At the Court House door in Morristown, Tenn. the heirs of the late Hugh Cain, dec'd, will sell by public sale, at public sale, to the highest bidder, on the following terms: $500 00 to be paid down, or secured by personal security, within 30 days from day of sale; $1200 00 more to be paid by the 1st of January, 1872, and secured by personal security; the balance to be in four equal payments of 6, 12, 18 and 24 months, with interest from January 1st, 1872, and secured by lien on the land only. The lands now offered for sale comprise the farms formerly known as the Taylor and Cain Farms, now in one survey, and contains over 700 acres. These lands are of the most desirable character, to those wishing a large farm, or to families desiring small and comfortable homes. They are situated in the new county of Hamblen, and within five miles of the prosperous county seat of Morristown, and within three miles of Russellville Depot on the E. T. Va. & G. R. R. They front one mile on the Holston river, one of the most beautiful and many streams in the South, and are navigable for flat boats. There is a large body of very fine timber—oak, pine, poplar, &c., on the lands and within 1/2 of a mile of the houses, are mills and fine sites for mills with never failing water power which can be purchased. There is also 303 acres of cleared land and well adapted to corn, small grain and grass—the improvements consist of a large number of dwelling houses, stables and other buildings, orchards, &c. The vendors propose to divide these lands before the day of sale, into small lots, suitable for homes for small farmers and to sell them as a whole and also in the several lots into which they may be divided and then to adopt the sale that brings the largest amount. At the same time and place we will sell the large, new and commodious brick store and the frame house, now lately occupied by T. C. Cain, and formerly known as the Wm. Nenny property. This is a very desirable and healthy location convenient to the Depot and stores, and is situated upon a large two-story frame building not quite complete. Possession given for seedling purposes immediately and full possession given 1st January, 1872. Title to all the above lands is perfect. For particulars apply to T. C. CAIN, Morristown, or J. L. CAIN, Russellville. NOTIONS, Jewelry, Trimmings and Fancy Goods in abundance. EARNEST, PENCE & BRISCOE.
