WASHINGTON.

The Progress of Centralization. A Proposition to Double the Number of Office-Holders.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Secretary of the Treasury may recommend Congress to make the pilots of all steamers government officers and require them before taking a vessel out of port to be fully satisfied that she has complied with the law on every respect.

NEW YORK.

Wholesale Customhouse Corruption. Closing the August Steamer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—A Washington dispatch says the Secretary of the Treasury has just sent by a special messenger to Collector Arthur T. Tappan an order for the immediate removal of nearly a hundred custom officers, some of them occupying responsible places, on charge of fraud and corruption, and that the dismissal of another lot of dishonest officers is expected in a few days.

THE EASTERN STORM.

Further Incidents of Its Ravages. New York Harbor in a Storm. NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The storm broke so unexpectedly on New York, that shipmasters and freighters had a busy time for a while making secure their vessels and goods exposed on the docks.

THE RAILROADS.

Who Owns the Streets of St. Louis? ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14.—The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company entered suit today in the United States District Court for $100,000 damages against Jos. Brown, Mayor of the city, and J. B. Mouton, City Engineer, for tearing up their track between the 7th street depot and the river front last Monday evening.

POLITICAL.

The American Almighty. Seething Exposure of Railroad Monopoly.

A Disgraced Republican Denouncing the President. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—The great speech of Gov. Booth upon the railroad question has been the principal topic of conversation to-day, and created a profound sensation. Speaking of the Central Pacific monopoly he said: Attempt an organization to resist a railroad demand no matter how bold and unscrupulous. How many merchants will it injure, if it should like to join you, but I will injure me in my business. The railroad will take away my special rate or give it to my neighbor. They can give you all along the line that none of their employees shall be employed on the road.

CHICAGO'S CLAIM ON THE CLAIMANT.

A Boon Companion of Sir Roger Tarnas up in the Shape of a Horse. CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The Tribune will publish to-morrow the following letter from John Crowley, a resident of Springfield, Ill., to a gentleman in this city: "I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst. in relation to the claim of Sir Roger Tarnas, a member of Parliament, arrived in New York for the purpose of collecting money in this Tarnas case in England. I want you, if you please, to find out the name of the man who is now stopping in New York, and then to write to him and tell him he can get more information from me about his claim than he can get in all England, if he wants it. Don't let me hear of it at once."

THE AMERICAN GIRL.

The Diary of a "Minnie" at Saratoga Springs. Monday—Horribly cold. Arrived from Lake George to-day. Looked like a fright-knew I did—when I got out of the omnibus. Wonder if you will remember me. Phew! had to walk through fifty men smoking on the balcony—Eight dresses—eight days. Know Virginia is dying to see them! Such luck! Such luck! Had some club-house small as Fred. Walking wine cellar. She kissed me in the hall twice. Pumped her about Dick. Didn't show in the prior-to-night. Make a sensation at breakfast. Who is this Dick? Looks like a pole.

ANOTHER MAN OF DESTINY.

How is it that a secret force has suddenly brought all the conservative forces to act in his favor? What does he represent? Who is he? What does he do? In times of great civil troubles, orators, politicians and statesmen are soon worn out; and it always happens that there rises at the end some enigmatic man, who made arrangements for the sale of stock and all kinds of machinery on the grounds at the St. Louis Fair this fall.

THE GENERAL LOSSES OF PUBLIC MONIES.

A Deficit of $142,000. CINCINNATI, Aug. 14.—An Engineer special from Lancaster to the committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Auditor and Treasurer of Fairfield county reported to the Commissioners of that county to-day that they had a deficit of $142,000 of the public money. The present incumbents are exculpated and the blame is attached to their predecessors in office.

JONESBORO.

Some Touching Particulars of the Recent Dreadful Scourge and Epidemic in the History of Jonesboro.

JONESBORO, Aug. 11, 1873.—After an absence of two weeks from this place, I returned this morning. The prevailing epidemic seems to have lost much of its virulence in the last few days. I was kindly and warmly greeted by the few friends who have remained in town and perished their lives in the interest of suffering humanity. Some men have acted nobly, heroically, at the time when men were tried. Their deeds of charity and acts of kindness may never be known to the public, but their record is on high. Many who left with their families would have cheerfully remained, and devoted their time, their property, and even their lives to the noble purpose of relieving the afflicted. If their situations had been such to authorize it. Men and women, with large families of children, some of whom were all the while complaining, were better out of town than in. It is conceded that if all had remained the number of deaths would probably have been in the ratio of the population. Who would have thought one short year ago that our beautiful mountain town would have seen the scenes of such a scourge? In our little cemetery at the east end of town on the hill may now be seen thirty-three new graves, all filled by the victims of the dreadful scourge. Many of our towns, and by the incidents might be gathered from the history of the last two weeks in Jonesboro. Strong men at once have been buried before their eyes. Many have been buried by the slim light of the moon. He died for that purpose, with no loved ones to drop upon their new made graves the tear of affection. The Rev. G. C. Thresher, Baptist minister of our town, sent his wife with two of their children to their friends in Virginia, while he remained with two interesting little boys. In a few days a dispatch was received from the wife, saying their precious and only daughter was dead. The dispatch was read to a dying father, and in return a dispatch was sent to the already stricken mother, announcing the death of her husband. Where is the heart that is not touched with the deep sympathy at such a recital? Although Mr. Thresher had only lived in our midst a few years, he and his family had endeared themselves to the whole community, and especially so to the church, of which he was a devoted and faithful minister.
