

The True Northerner.

PAW PAW, MICHIGAN.

NEWS SUMMARY.

The East.

The New York State Superintendent of Public Instruction has decided against excluding children from public schools for refusal to read the Bible.

Three expeditions have left this country, within a few days, to succor the struggling Cuban patriots.

In Allegheny City, Pa., on the 12th inst., Ambrose Lynch fatally stabbed and killed John Hatfield, aged 49 years, for criminal intimacy with his (Lynch's) sister.

A man was knocked down and robbed by two abandoned women, in Broadway, New York, last week.

Paterson, N. J., has just had the fiercest tornado she ever experienced. A number of buildings were demolished.

The seventeenth international convention of the Young Men's Christian Association was in session at Lowell, Mass., last week. H. Thane Miller, of Cincinnati, presided.

Twenty-three Ku-Klux prisoners arrived at Albany (N. Y.) Penitentiary, last week, from Charleston.

A New York telegram announces the sad intelligence that Mr. Joseph Jefferson, the celebrated comedian, has become suddenly blind. The constant glare of gas and calcium lights is said to have produced the painful affliction.

Mr. Jefferson is under the care of the ablest oculists of the metropolis, and hopes are indulged of his ultimate recovery.

Hot weather in New York on the 13th; thermometer 90.

The earthly remains of James Gordon Bennett were deposited in their final resting place, in Greenwood Cemetery, New York, on Thursday, the 13th inst. The funeral ceremonies of the great journalist were very imposing, many noted men appearing in the cortege.

The streets along the line of the procession were lined with spectators, and flags throughout the city were hung at half mast.

Fred. Kramer and Richard D. Maxwell, machinists, were crushed to death by an immense steel bed-plate, at Pittsburgh, on the 13th inst.

The Republicans of Maine have renominated Hon. Sidney Perham for Governor.

Col. Forney and Col. Thos. A. Scott, the railroad king, have gone on several months' jaunt to Texas.

Emil Andre, a Frenchman, shot and killed his wife, in New York, on the 13th inst.

Miss Tennie C. Clafin has been elected Colonel of the Eighty-seventh regiment of New York recruits (colored).

During a floral concert in Henry Ward Beecher's church, New York, on the 14th inst., Miss Margaret Richardson was fatally burned by the explosion of a kerosene lamp.

Thirty persons were poisoned at a New York boarding house, on the 14th inst., by eating custard. One has died, and others are in a dangerous condition.

Bainbridge Wadleigh (Republican) is New Hampshire's new United States Senator, vice James W. Patterson.

By the falling of a new smoke-stack in process of erection, at West Conshohocken, Pa., on the 14th inst., six persons were killed outright, and eight wounded.

Four cases of sun-stroke in New York on the 14th inst.

An attempt was made to burn the Cuban headquarters, in New York, on the 14th inst.

The steamship Rhein, which arrived at New York on the 14th inst., had on board the German Imperial Band, Herr Strauss, Mme. Pascha Lautner (en route for the Jubilee), and the wife and daughter of Horace Greeley.

New York and Brooklyn, and their suburbs, were visited by a fierce hurricane on the evening of the 14th inst., doing considerable damage to property. Many persons were injured, and in Brooklyn three were killed outright.

The citizens of East New York have been annoyed by incendiaries to such an extent that they formed a vigilance committee, and propose to deal summarily with these dangerous fire-bugs.

La Grave, the swindling New York merchant, carried away some $300,000. Detectives announce that he has fled to Europe.

The New York Orangemen have determined to parade on July 12, fully armed for any emergency.

The water in White Lake, Sullivan county, N. Y., near Port Jarvis, has receded several feet the past few days, and is still rapidly sinking. The lake is on the mountain top, and has probably found a subterranean outlet.

By the explosion of a locomotive near Hornellsville, N. Y., on June 15, two persons were killed and one wounded.

The International Peace Jubilee, which opened at Boston on Monday, June 17, may be set down as a success. The telegraph informs us that the audience was immense and enthusiastic, and the chorus, though gigantic, proved perfectly manageable.

The notorious bank robber, Dutch Heinrich, or inmate of Sing Sing, has become a raving maniac.

Rev. O. B. Frothingham, of New York, has been fulminating from his pulpit against the striking laborers.

There is much tribulation in Pittsburgh, produced by the announcement of a fatal case of undoubted Asiatic cholera.

Tom Thumb has sailed for Europe. It is announced that Thomas has salted down $500,000.

A director of the St. Petersburg (Russia) Prison Commission was in Pittsburgh, the other day, picking up prison statistics.

The West.

The Democrats of Indiana have nominated Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks for Governor.

Chicago had $40,000 worth of fires on the 12th inst.

John Atwater, of Canton, Ill., got his foot entangled in a halter and was dragged to death by a horse, last week.

Michael Noonan was killed by a locomotive, at Fort Wayne, Ind., on the 12th inst. The Springfield (Ill.) rolling mills have commenced operations.

The National Saengerfest opened at St. Louis on the 12th. Over 70,000 strangers were in attendance.

Near Peoria, Ill., on the 13th inst., ten freight cars became detached from a train on the Peoria and Rock Island railroad, and, starting off on a steep down grade, at the rate of 65 miles an hour, collided, with terrific force, with some empty cars on the track, smashing the cars into millions of fragments. William Thompson, a theater actor—the only person on the train—was instantly killed.

Valentine Fisher and Frank Lower, while driving in a hack, at Chicago, on the 12th inst., were crushed to death by the falling of a derrick.

Two precocious Chicago youths last week stole $3,000 and started out to see the world. They were overhauled at Detroit, having squandered the greater portion of the money.

Kate Kousen, aged sweet 16, shuffled off her mortal coil, at Chicago, on the 12th inst., by hanging herself in her father's woodshed.

Iowa glories in 170,000 dogs.

The Michigan Prohibitionists have nominated a ticket for State officers and Presidential Electors. Henry Fish, of Port Huron, is the gubernatorial nominee.

Ex-Alderman Whitaker, of Chicago, under indictment for malfeasance and bribery, has been pronounced insane by competent experts, and the prosecution dismissed.

Notwithstanding the late frosts, California will produce, this season, over eight million gallons of wine, and more than her usual quota of brandy.

The assessed value of property in California is over $600,000,000.

But three polygamous marriages occurred in Utah for the month ending June 1.

R. C. Gordon, a wealthy citizen of St. Louis, while spreading a tarpaulin over a newly-made wall of an addition to his residence, to protect it from the storm, last week, slipped and fell, rupturing a blood-vessel, and died in half an hour.

Bennett Pieters, a former wealthy citizen of Chicago, and the inventor and proprietor of the once famous Red Jacket Bitters, has just enlisted as a private soldier in the regular army.

By the explosion of the raft-boat D. A. McDonald, on the Mississippi river, opposite McGregor, Iowa, June 15, about thirty persons were killed, and a great many wounded.

The murderer of Hon. Sharon Tyndale, of Springfield, Ill., has at last been discovered in the person of James Kennedy, an Illinois Penitentiary convict. Gov. Palmer has just pardoned the culprit out of prison, in order that he may be put on trial for the deed.

The credit of unearthing the author of this foul and mysterious murder is said to belong to Mr. Charles T. Askins, a St. Clair county, Ill., farmer, who, obtaining a faint clue, pursued it for months, in the face of the most discouraging obstacles—even after the professional detectives had abandoned the scent—until he has succeeded in establishing a chain of testimony which, it is claimed, cannot be rebutted in the conviction of the man Kennedy.

A Mrs. Logan, residing near Rockford, Ill., last week, in a fit of despondency, superinduced by domestic troubles, threw her babe into the river, and then jumped in herself, both being drowned.

In boring an artesian well, at Jacksonville, Ill., on the 15th inst., a vein of water was struck, which burst up with such tremendous force as to drive off the workmen. At last accounts the sugar was still in the well, and the water spouting up through a four-inch pipe to the height of fifty feet.

Reports as to the state of the winter wheat sown in five of the prominent Northwestern States indicate the failure of the crop. In many instances the crop has been plowed in, being useless but as manure, and in the remaining cases the yield has scarcely been one-third or one-half of that of last year.

Studebaker Brothers' extensive wagon manufactory, at South Bend, Ind., was burned Monday, June 17. Two adjoining dwelling-houses were also consumed. Loss, $50,000.

Four persons were killed and twenty injured by the wrecking of a construction train near Paxton, Ill., June 17.

At Cincinnati, a few days since, Rev. J. J. Thompson, pastor of Christie M. E. Chapel, had his head split open with a hatchet in the hands of Thomas Bond, Cause—Thompson kissed Bond's sweetheart.

P. T. Barnum is on a temperance lecturing tour out west. The great humbugger lectured the Clevelanders on June 17.

A correspondent, writing from Fort Benton on June 9, says the Sioux Indians are all on the war path, and the wood choppers and traders have left the country, not one remaining between Fort Buford and Camp Cook, a distance of several hundred miles. A dispatch from Fort Sully says the Indians are getting extremely troublesome and it is the opinion of men who have been among them many years that open war is sure to ensue this season.

Articles of consolidation were entered into at Indianapolis, on June 17, by and between the New York and Western railway, a company organized to build a railroad, or railroads, with one or more tracks, within the States of Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, and Ohio, party of the first part, and the Continental Railway Company, a corporation created by the laws of Pennsylvania. The capital stock of the company is named at $100,000,000. The object is to make a trunk line from New York to Council Bluffs, connecting by branch or laterals with other cities.

The South.

Rev. Dr. Berkely, of St. Louis, who was accused of taking improper liberties with a young girl, has been acquitted by an ecclesiastical court.

A Baltimore grand jury has indicted Rev. Dr. Huston for adultery.

Over 100,000 people attended the great picnic of the National Saengerfest, at St. Louis Fair Grounds, on the 16th inst.

A mad-dog raged through the streets of Louisville, Ky., on the night of June 15, snapping right and left, and creating the utmost consternation. Over twenty persons were bitten before the rabid animal was killed—some of them being shockingly lacerated.

Judge Flippen, of Memphis, sentenced three murderers to death on June 15.

The receipts from the Saengerfest concerts, at St. Louis, reached $55,000. The receipts for beer sold in the vicinity of the hall were probably greatly in excess of this figure, as it is announced that one man alone, who employed 42 bar-keepers, sold one million glasses, or $50,000 worth.

The Agricultural Department reports an increase in the cotton area in every Southern State.

An approximate statement of receipts and expenditures of the National Saengerfest at St. Louis is as follows: Subscription to the building, $55,000; receipts from concerts, picnic, etc., $42,000; total, $97,000. Expended on building, $52,000; music, $11,000; entertainment of singers, $15,000; incidental, $4,000; total, $82,000.

Washington.

The negotiations in relation to the Washington Treaty still hang fire, and it is impossible to predict the final result.

Senator Harlan has bought a half interest in the Washington Chronicle, which, a telegram announces, "is to be brought into closer relations with the Administration."

And now comes the announcement that our Government has made no imperative demand on Spain for the release of Dr. Hound, as was stated a day or two ago, but that his release is daily expected.

The report of the House Committee on Pacific Railroads shows the affairs of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to be in a sound and clear condition. There will be in operation at the end of the year 517 miles of the main line. In addition to the portion already completed, there is now under contract 1,031 miles. Grading is progressing in Dakota and Washington Territories. The company has platted and prepared for market 1,578,890 acres of its lands in Minnesota and Washington Territory. It is the policy of the company to sell its lands cheap to actual settlers.

The Secretary of the Interior has appointed a commission, consisting of Gen. B. R. Oowan, John L. Delano and J. W. Wham, to visit the hostile Indian tribes demonstrating against the Union Pacific railroad.

The War Department is reinforcing all the Southern forts with the latest improved ordnance, while the Navy Department is accumulating large supplies at all the naval stations on the Southern and Gulf coasts. So says a Washington telegram.

The War Department has ordered all available troops to the plains, to look after the hostile Indian tribes.

The small-pox is on the increase in Washington.

The United States and Japan are negotiating a new commercial treaty.

The internal receipts for the fiscal year up to June 15 were over $25,000,000.

The President and nearly all the Cabinet officers attended the Boston Jubilee.

Foreign.

Canada has abolished the duty on tea and coffee—except when it is imported from the United States.

A bill will shortly be introduced in the German Parliament expelling all Jesuits from Germany.

Kaiser William is ready to deliver his decision on the San Juan boundary question as soon as requested.

Under the treaty giving Germany control of the Luxembourg railways, that power stipulates that it will never use the roads for the transportation of war munitions except in time of peace.

The boat with which the Cambridge crew so badly scouted the Atlantas has been carefully laid away in the Crystal Palace.

A London telegram announces that, so far from the Persian famine being over, it is even now worse than ever.

Thiers' demeanor during the debate on the French Army bill has greatly irritated members of all parties in the Assembly. Some of the deputies charge him openly with all the arrogance of the first Napoleon.

If the New York Herald correspondent is to be believed, the Czar of Russia was very cool in his demeanor toward Lieut. Fred. Grant, on the occasion of the latter's recent visit to Moscow. The autocrat did not shake hands with the son of the American President. It is argued from this that Alexis' reception in Washington is not quite forgotten by the Czar.

There is now no longer any doubt but that Dr. Livingston still lives. But the great traveler refuses to leave Africa until he has explored some more.

The vicinity of Prague, in Bohemia, has been visited by a great flood, involving an appalling destruction of life and property. Whole districts were inundated and villages swept out of existence. Over 700 people are reported drowned.

The cable announces the usual weekly "ministerial crisis" in Spain.

The Austrian polar expedition has sailed from Bremen.

Gen. Sherman was in Vienna on the 14th inst.

The cholera has broken out in Southern Russia.

Advices from Bagdad state that the British mail steamship Cashmere was boarded by pirates at Bassorah. The buccaners killed and wounded a number of persons on board, and carried off 43,000 rupees.

A new Spanish Cabinet has been formed, with Zorrilla at its head.

The Protestant Synod, in session at Paris, has just passed through an animated discussion regarding the divinity of the Scriptures, which has resulted in a schism of the Church.

The negotiations for the gradual evacuation of France by the Germans, as the installments of the indemnity are paid, are proceeding satisfactorily.

Marguerite Dixblanc has been sentenced, in London, to be hanged, for the murder of her mistress.

Miss Rye has opened a home for deserted girls at Peckham, England, from which a certain number will be sent regularly to Canada.

The tribunal for the arbitration of the Alabama claims met in Geneva, Switzerland, on Saturday, June 15. All the members were present, consisting of Count Sclopis, representing the King of Italy, President of the court; Charles Francis Adams, on the part of the United States; Alexander Gockburn, representing Great Britain; Jacob Stempel, representative of the Swiss Government; and Baron D'Almeida, representing the Emperor of Brazil.

Gen. Sherman and Lieut. Fred. Grant are in Paris.

In England the weather is fair, and favorable to crops.

The new Spanish Cabinet promises vigorous prosecution of the war in Cuba.

Fifty-five persons were killed, and a large number wounded, by the explosion of the boilers of a Spanish steamer in the port of Marseilles, on June 16.

A Paris correspondent writes of Marshal Bazaine, in prison at Versailles, that, with the exception of a few relatives and intimate personal friends, nearly everybody holds aloof from the unfortunate Marshal.

Seventy-five Communists have been so far sentenced to death, 212 to hard labor for life, 3,794 to transportation, and 5,862 to lesser grades of punishment; 2,112 have been acquitted.

Rev. Norman McLeod, leader of the Scottish Church, is dead.

The extensive cotton mills in the town of Warrington, in Lancashire, have been burned; loss, £100,000.

The bill depriving the members of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) of the rights of citizenship has passed its second reading in the German Parliament—yeas, 183; nays, 101.

The twenty-sixth anniversary of the ascension of the Pope to the Pontifical chair was celebrated with great pomp at Rome, on Monday, June 17. A delegation of 1,000, representing all the nations of the earth, paid their respects to his holiness at the Vatican.

A new and hitherto unknown epidemic is said to have broken out in some of the Brazilian towns. It is terribly fatal, and thousands have been carried off by it.

Yellow fever and small-pox are raging at Montevideo.

Prof. Agassiz's scientific expedition was at Callao, May 24, and proceeded thence to Panama.

Current Items.

THERE ARE 20,180 Odd-Fellows in Indiana.

OLD-FASHIONED Fourth of July celebrations have been arranged for all over Iowa.

THE SACRAMENTO Union thinks the total wood clip of California for 1872 will be between 26,000,000 and 28,000,000 pounds.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., has 167 saloons.

MRS. GRIFFITH, who whipped her step-daughter to death, has been indicted, in Montgomery county, Iowa, for murder in the first degree.

THREE Boston papers—the Journal, Traveller and Transcript—have been reduced to 3 cents each.

WHEELING, W. Va., has voted $300,000 in aid of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad, and $300,000 for a union railway bridge across the Ohio.

THE wife of McGuinness, editor of the Albuquerque (N. M.) Review, was good enough to set the type, do the press work, get out her husband's paper in good shape, and have a baby, during her worse half's recent illness. There is a "woman-woman" for you.

THE wife of a Northfield, Vt., man left a hot pie in his favorite chair. That's all.

EVERY Prime Minister in Europe has at some period of his life been stridden the goat on which A. F. and A. M.'s ride up to the 33d degree.

ACCORDING to Archdeacon Fuller, of Toronto, it costs the people of China $400,000,000 a year to support their religious institutions, and they waste no money in missionary enterprises to convert the heathens of America.

THERE are now in this country three permanently established schools for teaching the deaf and dumb articulation. There is also a private school of that kind in Columbus. Howard Glyndon, who is enthusiastic in this useful work, says: "Trained teachers will soon be the great want in every locality where the teaching of speech to the deaf and the deaf-dumb is encouraged."

"CALLED," the New York correspondent of the Springfield Republican, writes to that paper that the Tribune began in 1841 on a capital of $1,000 borrowed money; in 1850 it yielded a profit of $60,000, and of late years its profits have exceeded $100,000.

THERE are in the United States 63,000 church edifices, affording accommodation for twenty-one millions and a half of worshippers.

DURING 1870, Philadelphia produced $10,000,000 worth of carpets, $5,500,000 of prints, $3,000,000 of silks, and other fabrics to the value of over $40,000,000.

Wonderful Escape.

The Gardiner (Me.) Journal says Mr. Joseph Glazier, of that city, was examining a paper mill in Topsham; and while so engaged the skirt of his coat caught in the roll. He immediately thought himself to throw off his coat, but in doing so his hand was drawn into the rolls. "I'll let it pull my arm out," he thought to himself, but as the merciless machinery pulled at the stout muscles and tendons, Mr. Glazier found that his arm would not pull off without breaking his neck. Just think of such a situation for a man to be in! Coolly submitting to his fate, he turned his head over on the side to save his nose, and through the space of about four inches he was drawn up to his hips. He says as the rolls passed over his head it made a noise like grinding coffee in a mill, and that's the last he remembers. The blood spouted from his eyes, ears and mouth so as to go on to the dryer, twelve feet distant. He was taken up for dead, but, strange to say, he is now about the streets.

The intense hardness of the black, un-clearable diamonds, which are used in boring machines and for dressing mill-stones, is such that a single one has been employed for more than a year in dressing a pair of mill-stones daily, without perceptible wear or diminution of cutting power. The application of the diamonds to boring and drilling is due to a Swiss engineer, M. Leschet.

FOR PRESIDENT, U. S. GRANT, OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, HENRY WILSON, OF MASSACHUSETTS.

My Dream.

I dream of a beautiful time When the world shall happy be: When elephants and hyenas shall live on every tree. When tamarinds and potatoes shall cease their dreadful roar, When turnip trees shall blossom in the garden forevermore. I dream of a great republic, Whose people shall go west, Sow plums and reap tomatoes In the land they love the best; Where blue-iron and molasses shall bloom on every hill, And chickens low in the barnyard, While geeseberries toil at the mill. I am weary of seeing the cabbage handle the rake and hoe; I am weary of watching and waiting For the grasshopper bush to grow. I am weary of the time when spinach shall come with bread and milk; When hens shall lay tomatoes And horses spin raw silk. Oh, sweet were the vanished hours When I wandered down the glen, And recalled my brow with tomatoes Or plucked the ripened hen. When the donkey twined up the trellis, And the cucumber chirped in the grass, And the sweet potato whistled To its mate in the mountain pass. But gone are the days of childhood, And manhood's oceans are mine, Yet I long for the bygone hours, As I sit beneath the turkey-vine. Oh, woe were the vanished hours, And soothe my aching breast, While the gooseberry indistinctly warbles, And lulls me into rest.

NASBY.

Mr. Nasby Goes to a County in Southern Indiana to Assist in Fixing up the Constitution of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans.

CONFEDERATE X ROAD, (which is in the State of Kentucky.)

I was invited to go to a county in Southern Indiana, in which I had some friends, and assist in fixing the coalition between the Democracy and the Liberal Republicans, that they might march to victory without question. I didn't like to leave the Corners. The spring time here comes again, gentle Anne, and it is pleasant here. The trees are out into blossom, the little birds is lifting up their voices harmoniously, the weather is warm and soft, and so barbed, and the stop in front of us, because it is never so pleasant sleep up to now. The warmth disposes you to slumber, and the flies ain't come yet to murder it. Like never tastes of wit in Kentucky as in Iowa. But when did I ever hesitate to go where duty calls? I went. The county here alluz bin silted Republican; that is, Republican by perhaps two hundred majority; just enough to let our people get a slice at the promised land without ever entering into it. The Liberal movement took so well here, that it became a certain thing that of the Democracy and the Republican bolters could only pull together, triumph wuz assured. But, I thought to myself, this can't possibly be. It will go well enough till they come to make a platform, and then they'll split into fragments. There is too lefty a difference between the Independent Democrat and Republican—a difference based on principle—to admit us a hope that they kin ever pull troo together. But I determined to do my best and smoothe things so as to make agreement ez easy ez possible. I agreed, to wuzst, that an advisory consultation be held, and that six representative men from the Democratic party, and six from the Republican party who had gone over to Greeley, should be appointed, and empowered, to fix up a platform, and to make a platform to stand upon, no Democrat need go into a campaign with any foolish wuzst. He wuzd propose the discussion by the different issues affore the people. It wuzd be necessary, ay, to whittle down in one spot, and sweep out in another, to get the principles adapted to the slightly diverse ideas of us wuz had'n't kept step together, ez it wuzd and he wuzd select that wuzd be the first discuss. "Now," sez I to myself, "the first instalment of trouble is over us." "But it wuzn't!" The other eleven had bin wuzst fearfully doorn this oration, but they each choked off their respective yawns long snuff to exclaim in their hearts: "Oh, blarst! You universal amnesty! There ain't no doubt but wuz we should agree on that pint! Go on!" I wuz delighted to see themuff pints get over so easy. "Wuzt shud we do with the suffrage question?" asked Mr. Smith. "Blarst the suffrage question!" exclaimed the eleven with one voice. "We shud hev no trouble with that!" "The tariff—" "D—n the tariff!" sneaked the sturdy eleven, "here can't possibly be trouble about the tariff, nor will there be any difference in opinion regardin' Nashud banks, Civil Service, Revenue, or anything else. We shud agree on all y' that. Pass it!" "Thank Heaven!" I thot "they see the necessity of success, and are tractable. There ain't nothing else that kin make trouble." They all yawned terribly. There wuz an anxious silence for perhaps a minute, which Mr. Peters (Dem.) finally burst. "Wuzt we want to kin?" sez he, "is who shall we nominate for Sheriff?" Mr. Jones (Lib. Rep.) sez, with much warmth and feeling, that his friends hed urged him to accept that place, and he hed, after much solicitation, consented to take it. Mr. Peters remarkt in a sarcastic tone that Mr. Jones hed bin, of so good that his word for it, solicited by his friends in the Republican party to take that position for ten years, but ez his friends wuz composed principally in hisself, his father, one son and a brother-in-law, he had never lookt it very much. He wuzd see the coalition in Turkey afore he wuzd consent to see it made the while for carryin' played-out Abolitionists. "I'll never consent," sez Mr. Peters excitedly, "to see the best office in the country filled by a rotten, decayed renegade. I want that office myself!" Immediately Mr. Jones and Mr. Peters were settin' their personal differences on the floor,

Political Notes.

Is there be anything in life funnier than H. G.'s running for the Presidency, it is to see a big man running after three little pigs. It may not be generally known that John Morrissy is a gambler, and that Horace is no better—never bet in his life, he says.—New Haven Palladium. EX-PRESIDENT JOHNSON says that the great speech of Senator Sumner is blazing through the South. By this he means that the darkies boil their kettles with the pamphlets furnished by the Tribune.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser. A CORRESPONDENT of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Alabama, gives it as his impression, derived from extended and unusual opportunities for acquiring information, that Greeley will not receive as many of the votes of colored men as Seymour got. IN 1860, when the tariff was simple, the Democratic party required $625 to collect every $100 of customs duty. In 1871, when the tariff was relatively very complicated, the Republican party collected these duties at the rate of $3.11 for $100. The Democrats now ask for control of the Government on the ground that they can manage it more cheaply. WITHIN the past thirty-nine months the Republican party, under President Grant, has reduced the debt about $322,000,000 ($31,945,884), while taking off $140,000,000 of taxes. In the same time the Tammany rulers—the now avowed, and for a long time the secret allies of Mr. Greeley—stole $28,000,000 from the City Treasury. And we are asked to vote for "Horace Greeley and Honesty in Government."—New York Times. THE shoemakers are awl for Wilson. The latter will keep pegging away at the opposition until election day makes a wax'd end of the motley herd, whose hides the Galena tanner will then take care of. THE other day an enthusiastic Georgian changed the name of his hotel in Dalton from the "Georgia House" to the "Greeley House." A week afterward it was struck by lightning. The owner is considering the propriety of making another change. BECKALEW, nominated for Governor by the Pennsylvania Democrats, was a square, open and undisguised secessionist during the war, and received the bitterest denunciation of the New York Tribune in those days. Now, the same paper thinks him an eminently fit and proper man for the place to which he has been nominated, though there is no shadow of evidence that he has changed his political opinions. Coalitions make strange bedfellows. A VENERABLE secesser citizen of South Carolina recovered his speech, after being dumb for nine years, on reading of Greeley's nomination by the Democratic Convention in that State. He glanced at the paper in dumb amazement for a while, and then, with a mighty effort,