Local Department.

Who stole Tom's grip-sack?

Our street sprinkler has started again.

Fred Bassett has a bran new gilt and gold sign in front of his store.

Joe Luce's pension has been allowed. O. W. did the business for him.

Elder Cole attended the Methodist educational convention at Albion, Mich.

Broughton is "on deck" again with a new advertisement. Give him a call and get the word of your money.

John Rickard, Esq., has been retained as janitor and lamp-lighter of this village for another year at a salary of $275.

"Joe" the resident partner of Carroll & Co., talks to the readers of our paper this week. They keep a nobby and stylish stock.

Our friend 'Gene Park, formerly of this village, made us a pleasant call on Monday last. He is in the employ of the M. C. R. R. Co. at Jackson.

The amount of primary school money apportioned to Van Buren county is $11,665.92, being about $1.24 per scholar. The apportionment to this town is $979.90.

N. H. Doyle met with quite an accident on Monday last. He was engaged in hauling logs, and one of the skids struck him on his right arm, nearly breaking it. He carries it in a sling.

Our correspondents will please excuse the non-appearance of their communications. We have had such a press of matter that much has been unavoidably excluded.

The railroad depot in this village has been much improved by putting down new floor, and ceiling and painting the ticket office, making it much more comfortable and convenient.

The Van Buren Light Guard Band have a nice collection of music and are ready for engagements. Herbert Salt, of Paw Paw, is Secretary, to whom all communications should be addressed.

The newspapers have it that G. Paul Smith, the elocutionist, is married—to a man. If the report is true, his impersonations of different female characters was "natural as life." But he (or she) wore the breeches, in a very masculine way.

Parties who desire vocal music for Decoration Day, should send for the new choruses, "We come, Silent Heroes," written expressly for such occasions. It can be had of the publishers, S. Brainard's Sons, Cleveland, O., and Chicago, Ill. Price 40 cents.

We did not intend to send people into the neighbors houses east of the post-office to find Dr. Champion when they were afflicted with the toothache. The types made us say two doors east, when we meant west. He can be found over Bassett's jewelry store.

At the meeting of Brodhead Post, G. A. R., it was decided to observe Decoration Day in this village. A committee of arrangements was appointed to make the necessary preparations. We shall publish a full programme of exercises in the next issue of this paper.

Bangor people are arguing the question of purchasing a steam fire engine, and seem to be about equally divided. If they only wait until they get badly scorched once or twice they will have one, if the flames leave them enough to buy it with. Delays are dangerous.

We have just received a new Irish Ballad by Stephen S. Bonbright the celebrated song writer, published by F. W. Helmick, Cincinnati, O., which is said to be one of the finest ever written in America. It is entitled, "A Beautiful Wreath of Shamrock." Price 40 cts. For sale by music dealers.

If Elder Ebert will tell us next time when he is going to preach the doctrine that a man is a liar and a fool when he pleads the baby act and says he can't refrain from doing this, or doing that, when he knows it is wrong, and will also suspend the rules, we will clap our hands, if we don't say amen.

They met with quite a smash-up at Briggs & Nash's mill on Monday last. One of the hands had been using an iron wedge to split a stave bolt, and by some means the wedge was left sticking in the bolt and was fed into the machine, resulting in a bad break, which will compel the stave mill to lie still some time.

E. C. Reid, in the first issue of the Allegan Gazette, presents his side of the Henderson-Reid controversy, over the affairs of the Allegan Journal. As we said in reference to Don's statement, we remark in reference to Reid's, if correct, it presents Henderson in rather an unenviable light. The new paper is handsome.

The annual sheep shearing festival of the sheep breeders association of eastern Van Buren and western Kalamazoo counties, will be held at the residence of James Buekhout, near West Ostemo church, on Thursday, May 25th. A show of stock and farm implements will be had in connection therewith. Also a basket picnic. Everybody invited.

The hotel men at Marcellus don't want to see that Paw Paw crowd again, that visited them on Sunday last. Their boarders went hungry three days, while the proprietors were laying in a new stock of provisions. Marcellus offers to back "Patch" against anything in the State as a "pic eater." Patch knows his "biz," and one of these days will try them another whack.

One of the friends of THE NORTHERNER, who is engaged in the life insurance business, writes us that the comparison made a short time since between the "United Workmen" and the "Mutual Life" was not strictly correct. He says the rate in the latter company at age 35 is only $44.84 instead of $52.76 and that such premiums will be diminished by dividends until the policy is self-supporting. Lack of space prevents us from publishing the entire communication.

Judge Mills and wife, H. S. Williams, C. A. Harrison and Dr. Andrews of this village, patronized the new Academy of Music at Kalamazoo on Thursday evening of last week, and witnessed the rendition of the comic opera, "Patience." The citizens of the Big Village can congratulate themselves on having one of the finest opera houses in the west, and they are deserving of much credit for the enterprise they have displayed in getting it.

We did not get that wedding cake which Rebecca Hawley, nee Willerton, sent around, but Hank did. We wish the newly married couple much happiness, just the same.

Mrs. Crofoot, mother of Mrs. Henry Hoppling, lately residing at Pine Grove sold her place a few days since and received the sum of $275 therefor. She is an old lady and nearly blind. During the night some dastardly villain, having forced open a window and entered her bed-room, seized her by the throat, choking her severely, and demanded her money or her life. Fortunately she had let another person have her money and the scoundrel finally left her, carrying away her clothing but getting no money. She carries the marks of violence on her neck. Hanging is too good for such villains.

Quite a number of the farmers of this county, owing to the prospect of a large harvest and higher wages than usual, are talking of buying twine binding reapers this season. It is no doubt the object of every one to obtain the best machine at the least price. There is, however, some question whether those who are using the Appleby binder, are not infringing on the patent which will subject the user to a lawsuit in the future. We caution our readers to be careful on this point. Purchase of your local dealers and of those who have an established reputation for honesty and fair dealing, rather than of a traveling agent whose only aim is to sell you a machine.

Notices.

Reserved seats at Chappell's without extra charge.

An institution has been established at Petoskey, Mich., known as the North-Western Summer Institute, which will hold a session of five weeks during the summer. The 7th annual reunion of the Loomis Battery Association, will be held at Coldwater, on Wednesday, May 24th, 1882, with headquarters at the Michigan Southern Hotel. The following resolution was adopted by the committee of arrangements:

Resolved, That the members of the several Batteries of the Michigan Regiment of Light Artillery be and they are hereby invited to unite with the Loomis Battery in its Seventh Annual Reunion, to be held in Coldwater on Wednesday, the 24th day of May, 1882.

The annual reunion of the old veterans of the county, will be held at Four Mile Lake on the 15th and 16th days of June next. The boys will assemble this year under a new name, The Van Buren County Battalion, Grand Army of the Republic. Each Post will be thoroughly officered and most of the comrades unformed, so that the encampment will present much more of a military aspect than heretofore. Doubtless an interesting time will be had.
