What is Said of the People's Cyclopedias.
From Prof. Eds. Olney, University of Mich.—"I am fully satisfied that it is the Cyclopedias for the people. Its exceeding cheapness puts it within the reach of all, while it is good enough for any. It is a great educational agency."
From Henry Ward Beecher, D. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I deem it an admirable work. It covers the field of knowledge effectively, and gives just that information which all want. Its price puts it within the reach of multitudes who cannot afford to buy the costly Cyclopedias. In short, it is just the book for reading, thinking American citizens."

New York Daily Graphic.—"Take them all in all, it is no exaggeration to say that these two volumes contain more useful knowledge than any other ten volumes that can be named, and they amply prove their claim to supply a place that was not filled before."
From Rev. A. C. George, D. D., pastor Centenary M. E. church, Chicago, Ill.—"The People's Cyclopedias of Universal Knowledge" is appropriately named, as these two huge volumes, with immense contents, demonstrate, I do not know of any work furnishing, in such limited space, so great a variety of useful information in respect to so many important topics. There is condensation everywhere, but fullness where fullness is demanded, and brevity only where brevity suffices. The maps and diagrams are of inestimable value, and the 200 pages of appendices, treating discursively and tabularly almost every interest of civilization, are alone worth many times the cost of this Cyclopedias."

Photographs.
I take pleasure in announcing to the public that I have re-opened my Picture Gallery, at my old stand, on Main St., in Paw Paw. My apparatus is entirely new, and of the most approved pattern, and I am prepared to take pictures of all kinds in the highest style of art. Give me a call and I am sure I can please you. 511f

To the many friends who rendered us such efficient aid in our recent affliction, to the nurses who neglected their own duties that our loved son might be ministered unto, and to the more than generous hospitality of the family who freely gave the use of their home to, as it were, a stranger in a strange land, we desire to return our heartfelt thanks.

Better delay writing that letter until Oct. 1st. You can send it then for two cents.
The Disciples are about to paint their church, which will be a great improvement.

Many thanks to those kind friends who sent us copies of our paper asked for last week.
The recent warm rains make a bad outlook for harvesting. There is danger of having grown wheat.

A new residence is to be built by Mr. L. B. Sheldon, on the corner of Paw Paw and Niles streets.
M. J. Smiley, Esq., has been appointed as attorney of the G. R. and I. R. R. vice Hughes, deceased.

Jim. Leech looks very downhearted. His wife and babies are visiting in Chelsea, Mich., and Jim is——
They had quite a breeze up in Waverly last Friday. Some timber was blown down and fruit trees were uprooted.

During the past week it has been cold enough to make a white man's teeth chatter, and hot enough to make a darkey lol.
Dr. Scott is having his office calcimined and floored up generally. He has a couple of very fine rooms and a good location.

Mr. Ed. Gilman has bought out his partner in the grange store, Mr. M. DeLaVergne, and will conduct the business himself.
A gentleman at Lawton says that he had a lot of hogs that gained 100 pounds each in 48 days, which is a pretty rapid growth.

Randall, the baker, has got his soda fountain in operation and is prepared to dispense the cooling beverage to all who may call for it.
President Dargin, of Hillsdale college made a pleasant call at the Northerner office one day last week, in company with Elder Burns.

On Saturday last Uncle John Bartrick had a paralytic stroke, not a very severe one, however, but it was not pleasant. He is able to be around.
Some of the men at work on the steeple of the Disciple church are nearer Heaven than they ever were before. We can't say how it will be in the future.

Will Mackellar intends to start on a trip to the sea shore some day this week. He has an idea that it will do him good to fill up on clams, etc.
Last Friday the lightning which was playing around very freely, struck the barn of S. Cox, Esq., in this village. Fortunately, but little damage was done.

Mr. Burroughs says his coal has arrived and the sooner parties who have contracted with him for their fuel receive the same, the better he will be satisfied.
Charley Mosier came home from a long trip last Saturday, but, as his wife is in California, he is still out at pasture. He has lost his "flowing beard" and he looks a good deal "no handsomer."

Our friend, W. H. Filley, Esq., must be doing a good hotel business at St. Joe. The Lakeview House, of which he is proprietor, roomed sixty-six guests on the 17th inst. A pretty good showing.
Oak Park Seminary will remain in session here until Aug. 17, when it will be removed to Three Rivers. The people there have appropriated to the use of same a large hotel that cost $8000. Fall term will open Sept. 4.

Mr. L. J. Brown, the missing saloon keeper from South Haven, put in an appearance before Esq. Warner last Monday, plead guilty, and was fined $40 and costs, which he paid like a little man, and went home rejoicing.
There will be a county teachers' institute held under direction of the State Sup't of Instruction, at Lawrence, beginning Aug. 27, 1883, at two o'clock p. m. A general attendance of the teachers of the county is very desirable.

The drug store of G. W. Tyler & Co. is being called overhead. The old plastering had nearly all fallen off. It isn't a very pleasant place to do business just at present, as the platforms are liable to come in contact with one's head.
Col. J. B. Culver, formerly in business in this place, a son-in-law of Uncle David Woodman, died very suddenly in a barber shop in Buffalo, N. Y., on Wednesday of last week. He was Col. of the 13th Mich. Infantry, and well known by many of our citizens.

Al. McNeil has commenced operations for his new brick veneered house. He will have a good one, as he has engaged a good set of workmen. Half on the stone work, Morris the brick, and Davey, Reed and Oelbeck the wood work. There are no better workmen any where.

Most men will acknowledge that there are some things in this world that they do not fully understand. Some will even own that they do not know how to "keep hold." But there is one thing that everybody—except editors—knows all about, and that is the best way to run a newspaper.

Married, at the residence of Geo. A. Hunt, on Wednesday, the 18th inst., by President Dargin of Hillsdale college, Jennie B. Elliott to Rev. Samuel A. Schnell of Strongsville, Ohio. The couple left on the evening train for their home in Tuscola county via Detroit, where they will remain a few days.

Saturday evening last, Draper and Vandever went through town with a new "Agitator" threshing machine purchased by them at Racine, Wis., and shipped to Gobie on the lake. It is a beauty, and J. B. says they expect to be able to thresh 1000 bushels of wheat per hour, and do good work.

The Messenger severely criticizes Pros. Atty. Chandler for his action in the liquor cases. If, as the Messenger says, the attempted prosecution down there was a farce put up for the purpose of protecting instead of punishing transgressors, it is difficult to see just where Mr. Chandler is at fault.

We acknowledge the receipt from our former townsmen, Geo. W. Matthews, of a late copy of the Sioux Falls Daily Press. We observe an announcement therein that Mr. M. has opened a new book and music emporium. The residents of that town will find him to be a man who thoroughly understands his business, and an upright, square dealer.

The second annual encampment of the Van Buren Co. Battalion, G. A. R., will be held at Bloomingdale, August 7th to 10th inclusive. It is to be hoped that every member of the Grand Army in the county will make an effort to be present. Posts and individual members outside the county, and all old soldiers will be heartily welcomed.

The Sentinel denies the truth of the Messenger's "thug and border ruffian" story and intimates that it was inspired by too much firewater. We don't know anything about that, but we had a well defined impression that the picture was overdrawn. If there were any such fearful state of affairs in South Haven, the public would probably have heard more about it.

The Messenger says it is a fact that the saloon keepers of that village had the "stagnant consent" of the village authorities to keep open on the Fourth, and that the attempted prosecutions at that place were a farce, intended to protect instead of punish the violators of law. We had heard such was the case but were in doubt as to the truth of the report until we read the last Messenger.

The new arrangement in reference to the mail, changing the route from Lawton to Hartford to a railroad route causes great dissatisfaction. Under the new order of things Paw Paw gets no mail from the east during the afternoon as there is no train to bring it over from Lawton. A strenuous and determined effort will be made to remedy this matter in some way, even if the route is changed back to a star route. Later—Since the above was in type a temporary arrangement has been made by which the p. m. mail is received again, until some other way may be devised.

Messrs. Cole and Stone are putting in their machinery for the new shirt factory. They have their engine set up and in running order. They are setting up to begin with sixteen Wheeler & Wilson machines, and expect to commence operations the first of August. Their machinery, including their engine, is all on the second floor. The engine is a neat little affair of two horse power. If the business proves as successful as they expect they will put in a larger one next year.

Grand Oriental wedding—everybody invited. Japanese ceremony with imported costumes. A novel and interesting entertainment to be given at the Opera house, Wednesday evening, Aug. 1, under the auspices of the Ladies' Society of the First Baptist church. With a liberality as great as the superior excellence of the attraction itself, the society has placed the admission at fifteen cents. Wedding supper—cake and ice cream—10 cents. Tickets at Chappell's.

Because one of the citizens of this town saw a violation of law in South Haven, and deemed it his duty to make complaint, therefore, Paw Paw wants some of South Haven's money, is the logic of the Messenger. The village of Paw Paw had as little to do with the prosecution of the South Haven saloonists as did the man in the moon. As for the money paid, it has gone the way of all fines, into the county treasury, and don't belong to Paw Paw any more than it does to any other town in the county.

The First National Bank has got its new safe which we mentioned a short time since. It was manufactured by the Detroit Safe Co., weighs 7150 pounds, and cost $1450. It is a perfect beauty, has two five number combination locks, and also a double time lock. It is so arranged with a combination of levers that it shuts absolutely air tight. It is thoroughly fire proof and as near burglar proof as human ingenuity has been able to make. If robbers ever got into it, which is extremely improbable, it will not be the fault of the managers of the bank, who have done all that could be done, to provide a safe that is absolutely safe.

In another column we publish a statement from Mr. Threagould in which he denies neglecting his sister and her family. As stated in our last week's paper, our information came from one of the members of the Board of Saps of the poor. We presume that he relied largely on the statements of that family and others, as he could not of course have personal knowledge of the facts. The Board, no doubt, were satisfied that the case called for their intervention or they would not have rendered the assistance asked. We have no means of knowing whether they were deceived or not, and have given Mr. T. ample space to make public his version of the matter.

The Northerner under date of July 13th stated that Mr. and Mrs. Judge Mills and Mrs. C. G. Nash had gone east to spend the summer. In its issue of July 13th the Courier, which "makes no mistakes" but nevertheless reads the Northerner, repeats the above item of news, while the Northerner, which went to press the same day, states that Mrs. Nash did not go but abandoned the trip at the last moment. We have no objection to the Courier's appropriating our items, but its astute local editor ought to be sharp enough not to copy a mistake that is a week old.
