this village, on the 22d inst., by Rev. A.
B. Hayden assisted by Rev. H. A. Pallister, Mark Hixson of Utica, Mich., and Miss Mattie E. Hayden.

Died, in Hutchinson, Minn., May 11, Eva May Kelly, wife of Frank Kelly, aged 32 years and 7 months. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Moon, formerly of Autwerp.

Mrs. Chas. Scott has had some friends from Hyde Park, Ill., visiting her of late, and local fishermen might as well keep away from the lakes for the present, or until another generation of fishes nature their place of worship.

C. R. Avery has just returned from Chicago, where he has purchased an extensive stock of seasonal goods for his popular dry goods house. He will have something to say for himself next week.

We learn that Messrs. Conner & Osborn are doing an immense business in the line of agricultural implements, wagons, carriages, etc. They are first-class men to deal with and give 16 ounces to the pound.

Two of the official members of the M. E. church of Keeler were in this place last Friday looking over the M.
E. church here. They are considering plans for remodeling and improving their place of worship.

A number of base ball cranks from this place went over to Decatur last Friday to witness the game between the Blues, of Kalamazoo, and the Decatur team. They report it as a fine game, resulting in favor of Kalamazoo, 6 to 3.

The matter of the estate of Nathan H. and Joseph L. Bitley, like Banquo's ghost, will not go down. This time it pops up in an appeal by Fred Bitley to the findings of Judge Heckert, a synopsis of which was published in this journal in its issue of May 1st.

Mrs. Mary A. Hopping, mother of H.
Hopping and Mrs. Robt. Chapman, of this place, and Silas Hopping, of Kalamazoo, died at the home of the latter on Sunday morning, aged 79 years. The remains were brought here and buried in the Clapp cemetery Tuesday.

On Friday evening June 7th Elder W.
J. Russell, of Indianapolis, formerly pastor of the Christian church of this place, will deliver a lecture in behalf of the Young Ladies' Mission Band on "The Wedding Ring." Admission-- Adults, 15 cents; children, 10 cents.

R. W. Broughton gives his thousands of readers a learned discourse on Women's rights. He firmly believes that they have rights, and have a right to have them. He will do business to the end that women--and men, too-- shall have everything that belongs to them.

In the Chicago Herald of the 22d inst. we find a description of a device for getting cable cars over bridges, invented by Guy F. Harrison, formerly of this place. The Herald intimates that if the device will work as well practically as it appears to theoretically, it is a valuable invention.

At Longwell's opera house this (Wednesday) evening the famous Lottie May burlesque company will appear in a satire on Vassar college girls, entitled, "The Vassar Girls' Lark." The burlesque was written for Miss May by Gilbert, of Pinafore fame; music composed by Fred Solomon.

We were glad to learn that we were misinformed regarding the death of S.
B. Hagar, of Hamilton, as announced in our issue of the 15th inst. Our informant was a Hamilton man, and he had heard it on the morning of the day before our issue. Mr. Hagar was alive at last reports, though very low.

M. E. quarterly meeting on Saturday and Sunday. Rev. E. H. Day, pastor of the M. E. church at Lawton, will preach Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning. An invitation is extended to all the friends. On Sunday evening there will be a union temperance meeting at this house, addressed by Mrs.
Barton.

Having occasion to visit Marcellus a few days since, we had an opportunity of examining the soldiers' monument erected in that cemetery by Mr. I. A.
Whitman, of this place. It is an elegant piece of workmanship, and the G. A. R. and W. R. C. of that place are displaying excellent taste in beautifying its surroundings.

L. Porridge & Co., Bartram & Milling-ton's annex, are putting up an immense quantity of goods in their special line, which comprises sarsaparillas, elixirs, tonics, essences, extracts, catarrh remedies, corn and bunion cures, etc., etc.
The NORTHERNER is running a job press almost continually on their labels, wrappers and directions, and some idea may be formed of the magnitude of this work from the fact that from a single "form," of which we have a score or more in type, some fifty thousand impressions is to be taken.

Those having flowers to donate for the purpose of decorating graves at the cemetery in this village to-morrow, (Thursday), will confer a favor on the committees by leaving the same at Ira Hulbert's store this evening or early tomorrow morning. If they are tied in bouquets it will relieve the committee of much work.

If there is any one thing we dislike more than another it is to see a newspaper man's airing his erudition by hunting up mispelled words in a neighborhood shop and hanging them out on his scholarly line to dry. Such breaks would be more graceful from any of us were we infallible; but even then they would be contemptible. What's the difference, pray, whether it is spelled "grease" or "greecce"? 'Twill make the wheels go round smoothly, just the same.

Nathan Mears and wife and their daughter, Mrs. Slade, formerly and for many years residents here, now of Chicago, were here on a visit of a few days' duration, leaving for Kalamazoo on Monday. Col. W. R. Harkins acted as guide and chaperon of Mrs. Mears during his stay, and took great delight in narrating to everybody how Mr. M.
"set him up" in business in 1849 by selling him his store and stock of goods on credit and guaranteeing his paper with eastern merchants till he got a start in the world. Mr. Mears appears to be in excellent physical health.

The Sunday school convention held here last week was a success. The programme as published was carried out with but few omissions. The papers read were excellent in character and elicited lively discussions. The several sessions were fairly well attended, but very few of the delegates took part in the discussions, leaving most of the talking for the ministers to do. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, Geo. W. Myers, Paw Paw; vice-presidents, W. H. Taylor Paw Paw, James Ellis, Decatur, and H.
Jacobs, Lawrence; secretary, Waldwin J. Bale, Paw Paw.

Last Friday afternoon Under-Sheriff McCabe arrested a couple of suspicious characters as vagrants and locked them up. They gave their names as A. J.
West, of Detroit, and C. H. Tuttle, of Ontario. On their persons was found a large assortment of keys, a screw-driver, and other industrial implements, while the commissariat was stocked with but one bottle of whisky. The pair had made a pretty thorough canvass of the dwelling houses of the village, begging for money and clothing, timing their visits so as to find women only at the houses. As no specific charge could be brought against them they were sent adrift Saturday morning.

We are a nation of kickers. It is just as natural for us to kick as to breathe.
And the very instant an objectionable anything is kicked beyond our reach we are in search of something else on which to vent our spleen. A short time ago 'twas a perfect deluge of invective directed against the weather bureau on account of the long-continued drouth.

Then there was too much wet and the farmer couldn't till his fields. Then the out-worm took his dose--of garden-truck and cuse-words--and now 'tis the morning mail that isn't opened till eight o'clock, or thereabouts. It is highly probable if even and exact justice were meted out to us, not one-half of us would be content.

As announced last week, union services were held at the Disciple church Sunday evening to discuss the Sunday Rest bill introduced in the U. S. senate by Senator Blair, of New Hampshire. The services were opened with prayer by Rev. Harvey. The bill was then discussed from a scriptural, legal and commercial standpoint, by Rev. Taft, Judge Heckert and O. W. Rowland, in the order named. Rev. W. J. Hathaway read that part of the laws of Michigan which were applicable to the question under consideration. The several addressers were characterized by earnestness and deep thought and seemed to carry conviction with them to the hearts of the large audience of attentive listeners.

That mistakes will occur in first-class hotels as well as in well-regulated families, was demonstrated a day or two since in this place. A traveling man, a guest at the Dyckman, was somewhat indisposed and ordered a dish of gruel to be prepared and sent to his room at bedtime. The gruel was made and left on the top of the range to keep it warm till time to send it up. Meanwhile the baker had prepared a large bowl of emptings, which also were placed on the range for future use and beside the dish of gruel. The "palate and gentlemanly clerk," misreading the fact that one dish was equipped with a strong iron spoon and the other with one of a more aristocratic material, took the dish of emptings to the guest's room, where a goodly portion of it was "discussed" in one, two, three order. It didn't commence to "raise" till morning, when the traveler presented himself at the office declaring there wasn't a button left on his clothing.

The services at the Christian church last Sunday morning, commemorative of the fallen heroes of the late war, were of a very interesting nature. The church was handsomely decorated with flags, banners, evergreens, pictures and flowers, and its capacity was tested to the utmost some time before the services were to begin. Seats for about 50, at the extreme front, were reserved for the members of the G. A. R. and other ex-soldiers. Brothead Post turned out 47 men, and quite a number were present from other localities. A male quartet furnished excellent vocal music. The address was delivered by Rev. H. A.
Pallister, and there is but one word descriptive of the effort--'twas sublime.
Such gems of thought should be preserved in a more enduring form than in the treacherous memories of man, for they are grand teachings for any and all peoples on any and all occasions. Rev.
Messrs. Harvey, Taft and Hathaway, and Mrs. Barton, each contributed to the occasion by prayer, scripture reading, and benediction.
