E. L. GOODALE'S.

This is not a

GHOST STORY

but straight Hardware talk. You may think you'll not read it, but you will. The beauty of business is to do business in a business-like way—keep a good clean dollar-getting stock, sell at reasonable prices, treat customers politely, and rake in the cash when it comes your way. Its time of year to get in out of the cold—hover over the fire—and the need of the hour is

HEATING STOVES.

I have some solid comforts in the old reliable "ROUND OAK," which needs no song of praise to sound its worth. The GARLAND—closing grate, latest improved; highly ornamental and nicely trimmed in nickel—a beauty. Detroit Stove Co's WOOD BASE BURNER, a late pattern—handsome, well made—a regular earth-warmer.

COOKING STOVES.

I have a complete line of best makes and latest styles. But don't come here to buy a cheap stove. I don't keep them. They don't suit my patrons. None but the best for me.

CUTLERY.

Let me jog your memory to the fact that I have the finest line of AMERICAN CUTLERY in this county—which includes the best makes of Razors—Pocket Knives for a regiment of whittlers, etc.

Mrs. C. M. Hudson of Battle Creek has been spending the past two weeks with her relatives in this vicinity, and is now visiting her many friends in the village.

On Wednesday evening of last week there was a pole raising at the town hall in Porter, followed by a rousing Republican meeting addressed by C. D. Lawton.

Quite a number of our people are in Chicago, and many more will go to-day and to-morrow, to be as near as possible to the World's Fair dedicatory exercises.

Joe Hanson, Jr., aged thirteen months, died Friday morning in convulsions incident to teething and was buried at Prospect Hill on Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

The Firemen wish it distinctly understood that they not only desire the money of their friends, but also their presence on Friday evening; for the more, the merrier.

On Wednesday, the 12th, Ray, the sixteen month's old baby of Wm. and Helen Brown, died from the effects of a bowel difficulty and was buried at the Bangs cemetery on Friday.

The NORTHERNER press came to the rescue of last week's issue of the Decatur Republican, as the latter found itself in a dilemma caused by the going astray of the rollers which were sent to the city to be recast.

Our town resounds to-day with wedding bells, the marriage of Miss Jennie Bennett taking place this morning at St. Mary's and that of Miss Nellie Richardson at high noon at her father's residence. Full particulars will be given next week.

Commr. Hinckley wishes the teachers to remember that the examination at Hartford on Oct. 29 is the last one before March, and those who desire to teach this winter should appear at that time, as he intends being very strict about the issuing of permits.

Rev. G. P. Linderman leaves to-morrow for a visit to N. Y., accompanied by his wife's mother, Mrs. Huntley. Eight more converts were baptized at West Oshemo last Sunday, as a result of the meetings conducted by him, and Mr. Linderman will carry with him the consciousness of a good work accomplished.

A delegation comprising about 30 pupils of our school is now drilling preparatory to acting as escort on Columbus Day to the G. A. R. Post. The latter will proceed to the school house in season to assist in the raising of the flag and other opening exercises, after which its members will listen to the rendition of the program.

The launching of H. W. Williams' new propeller at South Haven on Saturday next at 3 p. m. has caused Mr. Ihling to arrange for a special train leaving Lawton at 11:45, and Paw Paw at 12 m. The fare for the round trip will be as follows:—From Lawton and Paw Paw, $1.00; Lake Cora and Lawrence, 75 cts.; Hartford, 55 cts.; Covert, 40 cts. Children under twelve, half fare.

The Detroit school board has done a very strange thing in passing a resolution declaring that hereafter the teachers of their public schools must be persons who have received their entire education within the Detroit public schools. Thus college-bred teachers are to be boycotted and, as about half of those now employed obtained their education outside the city, great consternation prevails.

The famous Labadie combination will appear at Longwell's Opera House to-morrow (Thursday) night. This popular company which is well known here, is headed by the clever young English actress Miss May Loranger, and the well known American actors, Hubert and Oliver Labadie. The company carries its own special scenery and has new and appropriate costumes. Reserved seats are now on sale.

Oct. 12 was not only Columbian Day with our old friend A. V. Pantlind of Grand Rapids, but it was also the 18th anniversary of the opening of the Morton House, and "Pant" celebrated it by keeping open house to his friends. The city papers speak in the highest terms of both A. V. and J. Boyd Pantlind, the present proprietors of this popular hostelry, and mention a serenade given by Frank Wurzburg's brass band as a pleasant feature of the day.

John Reynolds, the aged father of Jay Reynolds, died at his home in this village on Wednesday night, having reached the allotted age of man some twelve years ago. He was in very feeble health when the family moved into town a few weeks since and his demise was not unexpected. The funeral was held at the Methodist church on Friday afternoon, and the remains taken to Lawton for burial. The wife who survives him has journeyed by his side for 59 years and will sadly miss the companion of a lifetime.

Many of those attractions which combine to make Paris the most delightful city in the world will be described by Theodore Child in the November number of Harper's Magazine. He will conduct the reader "Along the Parisian Boulevards," and will show how the city appears at different seasons of the year, as well as some of the conditions of fashionable life, the brilliant sunshine of living Paris, its intensity and ardor. The article will be illustrated with seven full-page engravings from drawings by Lepere and Renouard.

Last Sunday all the city and suburban pastors of Chicago had one theme for their text, and that was the lessons in the story of Columbus' life. At Plymouth church, Rev. Frank Gunsaulus preached an eloquent sermon on "Spiritual Laws Illustrated by Columbus" from which the following is an extract—Christopher Columbus was less than God's purpose in history, but great character in the November number of Harper's Magazine. He will conduct the reader "Along the Parisian Boulevards," and will show how the city appears at different seasons of the year, as well as some of the conditions of fashionable life, the brilliant sunshine of living Paris, its intensity and ardor. The article will be illustrated with seven full-page engravings from drawings by Lepere and Renouard.

School Items.
Tenth grade classes are very large this year.

The work of the school passes off very smoothly with a very large attendance. Paul Broughton, who broke his arm on Saturday, was in his usual place at school on Monday.

Owing to the sickness of Miss Simmons, Miss Hattie Maynard taught in the 4th and 5th grade room on Monday afternoon.

Let business men all come out to Columbus day exercises on Friday forenoon, Oct. 21st, for such an occasion will never come to us again. At 9:15 the school will assemble about the flag pole in the form of a hollow square, and listen to the reading of the President's Proclamation by Roscoe W. Broughton, the master of ceremonies. Then the veterans will raise the flag and, after it has been saluted by the school, prayer will be offered by Rev. A. C. Jones. The pupils will then return to their various departments and complete the exercises.

O. W. Rowland has the color guard in charge and they will conduct the veterans from Grange hall to the school building. The young ladies are well trained for this duty. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Emma Paige, Misses Katie, Sadie and Fannie Harris, also by Misses Snow and Stanton. Mrs. Ida Hudson and the male quartet will also render several selections.

Marriage Licenses.

See Sellick's new ad. giving prices for a fine line of cloaks, and when you go to look at them, don't forget to notice his five-cent campaign badges.

The meeting of Judge Heckert at the Leighton opera house Thursday evening must have been satisfactory to him as his address was to the good-sized audience who listened to him. From the opening to the finish he was listened to with closest attention, and that his remarks were tenable and believed in by a majority of those present was manifested by frequent applauding. The principles he advocates are those of protection to American labor and honest money with which to pay for that labor, and as the belief of the Judge is that those principles are thoroughly right, he has no hesitancy in finding language in which to express his belief, and as he is more than ordinarily popular with our citizens his remarks could have had none but a good effect.—So. Haven Sentinel.
