but straight Hardware talk. You may think you'll not read it, but you will. The beauty of business is to do business in a business-like way—keep a good clean dollar-getting stock, sell at reasonable prices, treat customers politely, and rake in the cash when it comes your way. Its time of year to get in out of the cold—hover over the fire—and the need of the hour is

HEATING STOVES.

I have some solid comforts in the old reliable "ROUND OAK," which needs no song of praise to sound its worth.

The GARLAND—closing grate, latest improved; highly ornamental and nicely trimmed in nickel—a beauty.

Detroit Stove Co's WOOD BASE BURNER, a late pattern—handsome, well made—a regular earth-warmer.

COOKING STOVES.

I have a complete line of best makes and latest styles. But don't come here to buy a cheap stove. I don't keep them. They don't suit my patrons. None but the best for me.

CUTLERY.

Let me jog your memory to the fact that I have the finest line of AMERICAN CUTLERY in this county—which includes the best makes of Razors—Pocket Knives for a regiment of whittlers, etc.

Fred Bilborrow.

The annual meeting of Paw Paw lodge No. 25, F. & A. M., will convene on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29, for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come before the lodge.

A reception was tendered Hon. H. F. Thomas, congressman-elect from this district, Thursday evening. It is spoken of as a brilliant affair and attended by many Republicans of prominence in state and national affairs.

The ladies of the M. E. church will have a social and "house-warming" at the new parsonage next Tuesday evening. A chicken pie supper will be served and a pleasant time is anticipated. All friends are cordially invited.

The Marcellus correspondent of the Cassopolis Vigilant says: "The democratic jubilee here Wednesday night was a corker. It consisted of bonfires, boys, men, tin horns and kettles, drums, budge, big noise and a wheelbarrow."

The Presbyterian ladies of the 5th division will give a New England supper at the church parlors on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30. Refreshments will be served from 5:30 to 8:30. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

It is said that the recent lake gales have damaged shipping to the extent of $450,000, twenty-five seamen perished and fully a dozen valuable boats have been wrecked. Underwriters say that the losses exceed those of any previous year.

Hon. A. B. French of Clyde, Ohio, will address the quarterly meeting of the Spiritualists of Southwestern Michigan at Longwell's opera house on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4, commencing Saturday at 2:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

The Detroit International Exposition company is going out of business. The loss of $16,000 this year led the directors two weeks ago to appoint a committee to advise them. The committee has advised to sell out, and probably that is what the stockholders will do.

The masquerade at the skating rink last Saturday evening was largely attended and a very enjoyable affair. Shortly after 9 o'clock the masks were removed and the floor given to R. H. Chapman of Benton Harbor who, for fifteen or twenty minutes, gave a brilliant display of fine work on wheels.

Of course everybody will be on the lookout for Biela's comet, which is approaching the earth head on at lightning speed and will only lack eight hours of colliding with us next Sunday. But as that eight hours means about 1,000,000 miles, nervous people may feel assured that they will suffer no inconvenience from the visit of the celestial wanderer.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Adriaance to the number of sixty or seventy gave them a rousing surprise party last Saturday evening, that being their twentieth wedding anniversary. A sumptuous repast was served and a most enjoyable evening spent. Among the number present was Mrs. A.'s mother, Mrs. Blackford, of Detroit. Conspicuous among the presents was a full set of decorated china and an elegant silver pickle dish.

We hasten to apologize to our neighbor of the Courier. He was right when he claimed that a portion of the Democratic state ticket "was saved." Complete and official returns from nearly every county in the state indicate the election of Ellis, fusion candidate for attorney-general, over Diekema by a small plurality. He is, however, the only one on the ticket to pull through. Rich carries the state by 16,000, while Harrison's plurality is 20,000.

The circuit court convened Monday morning. First on call was the case of Monroe Parker, charged with robbery, which case claims the attention of the jury as we close our report. Court will adjourn this afternoon over Thanksgiving, and possibly until next Monday.

We would like to propound a question for the thoughtful consideration of lecture-goers: Would it not be to the comfort of all concerned, if less crowding were done upon entering the church on lecture evenings; and do not our patrons, made up as they are from the most respectable portion of the community, present too much the appearance of a rabble on these occasions?

John Dennis, an old army veteran living near Muir, Mich., lost an arm and a leg at Gettysburg, besides receiving severe wounds in the head, chest and the other leg. He has been drawing a pension of $72 per month. This was thought by some to be too much for him. He feared he was in danger of having it cut down or lost to him entirely as a result of the election of Cleveland, which worried him so much that he has become violently insane. He has been taken to the Kalamazoo asylum.

The Marcellus News well says: "Patronize home merchants. If you want to raise money for any public affair who subscribes the money? Do the peddlers and itinerant salesmen who are here for a few days and away, taking the money that ought to pay bills at your home stores? We think not. The man who patronizes the business men of his own town is the one who is building up his place. Think of these things when you are tempted to purchase of traveling salesmen."

Editors of Democratic newspapers in this congressional district must have a heap of gall to ask the Cleveland administration for appointment to office in payment of services rendered. They traded their birthright under him for a mess of Weaver pottage; they tooted and voted for Weaver, and in what sense Cleveland is indebted to them is something we cannot discern. Yet they are already training the wires for a strong pull on the flesh pots of the incoming powers that are to be. Why should not the prohibitionists demand recognition? They were also a tail to the big kite.

On awaking at 4:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Geo. W. Kimble, who resides near the basket factory, in Lawton was horrified to find his wife cold and lifeless. Mr. Kimble had been up at midnight to fix the fire. His wife awoke, apparently as well as usual, and asked if it was morning. He retired again and slept until morning when he found his wife in the condition mentioned. Mrs. Kimble had been in poor health for a number of years, but was able to attend to a portion of her household duties. The immediate cause of her death is unknown. Deceased was 62 years of age. —Leader.

Next Monday evening Mrs. Edna Chaffee Noble will entertain our lecture-goers by her realistic account of the Passion Play as witnessed by her at its last rendition in Oberammergau. Mrs. Noble was one of nine ladies who journeyed to this quaint little German village for the express purpose of making a study of this world-renowned Play, and she is therefore well qualified to describe it. Being also an elocutionist of rare talent, for many years at the head of the Detroit training school, no one can doubt her ability to make this lecture not only instructive, but also one of the most entertaining ones in the Course.

The state officers-elect are already flooded with applications for places by those patriots who are willing to serve the state. C. E. Baxter, assistant secretary of the Republican state committee, is booked for assistant state treasurer. Hon. C. L. Eaton of this place is most prominently mentioned for the position of adjutant-general, although he has made no formal application for the place. Mr. E. Thresher of Kalamazoo and ex-Senator Neil McMillan of Rockford are candidates for the office of game warden. Theron E. Giddings of Kalamazoo is looking towards the appointment of insurance commissioner and George S. Cooper of Ionia is credited with an ambition for the state oil inspector's shoes. Judge Gordon of Midland, W. A. Tateum of Grand Rapids, J. F. McKinlay of Detroit and Col. Sumner of Kalamazoo are after the speakership. Secretary of state-elect John W. Joachim has settled upon an Ishpeming man for the position of deputy in his office and the aspirants in the lower peninsula can look for something else.

The second union meeting of the young people's societies of the various churches in this village was held Sunday evening at the Disciple church. Representatives were present in large numbers from five different societies. Rev. Van Winkle acted as chairman of the meeting, allotting fifteen minutes each to the societies in the following order: The meeting was opened with an address of Welcome by Miss Ball in behalf of the Disciple society, which was followed by a very interesting and well written paper by Mrs. May Long. The Baptist society was represented by their president, and the A. C. F. were prepared with appropriate Bible readings selected by Mrs. Barton. The Epworth League was well represented and the reading by their president was very interesting. The Presbyterian society were present in the largest numbers and closed the meeting with a special Thanksgiving service which was both instructive and entertaining, an enjoyable feature being an appropriate solo by Miss Katie Harris. It was decided that the next meeting be with the Epworth League.
