Will Simmons and wife were guests at A. E. Jacobs' last Sunday.
The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Halbert this week.
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Palmer of Waverly were visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Jacobs, last Saturday and Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Chase were called to Ceresco last week to attend the funeral of Mr. Chase's uncle, Frank Francisco. Mr. Chase has returned, but Mrs. C. will stay a few weeks visiting friends.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use: that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Longwell Bros., Paw Paw and J. F. Barrows', Lawrence. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Decatur.

M. Cronin of Arlington was in town Sunday.
Mrs. Geo. Peterson has returned from Kalamazoo.
Mrs. Wm. Secord has returned from Galesburg, Ill.
Charles Secord of Fennville is visiting friends here.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Pick of Decatur, Ill., are the parents of a baby girl.
Mrs. Laming and son leave this week for Chicago, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Hugh Shearer and children of Melrose, Kansas, are visiting relatives and friends in Decatur.

Mr. A. Southworth died suddenly Saturday morning of heart disease. He had been a resident of this place for a number of years and was respected by all. The funeral was held at the Disciple church on Tuesday morning; burial in the Wilkey cemetery.

Did You Ever

Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exerting a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have Loss of Appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholy or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Large bottles only 50c. at Longwell Bros., Paw Paw, and J. F. Barrows', Lawrence. [3]

Corwin.

The Hamilton fair was a success, as usual.
Miss Melithia Abbott has gone to Flint to spend the winter.

John Calvin has returned from Illinois and is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.
Mr. Amos Cole and wife of Hartford were guests of her sister, Mrs. Byron Ostrander, over Sunday.

Clem Manley and wife drove over to Kalamazoo on Friday last to visit a sister, returning Sunday.

After a vacation, during the summer, the L. M. A. society met yesterday (Thursday) with Mrs. Amos Dopp.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cullinane, a son; the little one lived only about twenty-four hours. The remains were taken to Silver Creek for burial.

Corwin is becoming quite famous for accidents. First—Roll Harris started in with a broken rib; then John Utter followed with a collar bone ditto, while Riley Zimmerman brings up the rear with a dislocated and sprained ankle, received while engaged in a game of ball. Riley will keep tally for the boys as soon as he is able to get out in the field.

Between disease and the many cheap preparations which are palmed off under the name of blood purifiers, take your chances with disease until you can procure Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the only reliable blood purifier. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

Did you ever see one of the famous waterproof Interlined Collars or Cuffs? It's very easy to tell, for they are all marked this way

They are the only Interlined Collars and Cuffs, and are made of linen, covered with waterproof "CELLULOID." They'll stand right by you day and night, and they are all marked this way

The first cost is the only cost, for they keep clean a long time, and when soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth—that is the kind marked this way

These collars and cuffs will outlast six linen ones. The wearer escapes laundry trials and laundry bills—no chafed neck and no wilting down if you get a collar marked this way

Ask your dealer first, and take nothing that has not above trade mark, if you desire perfect satisfaction. All others are imitations absolutely.

If you can't find collars or cuffs marked this way, we will send you a sample postpaid on receipt of price. Collars, 25 cts. each. Cuffs, 50 cts. pair. Give your size and say whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

Glendale.

E. A. Chase has been on the sick list.
Mr. George Qua has returned to his home in Gaylord, Mich.
The ball boys made ten dollars at their dance last Friday evening.
W. F. Chase and Phil Archer made a visit to Benton Harbor last week.
Will Sirrine is suffering from an attack of inflammation of the lungs.
Mr. and Mrs. Abner Dolbee have returned from their visit to Paw Paw.
Mrs. John Congdon and family, who have been living here this summer, returned Wednesday to their home in Chicago.

A splendid game of ball was played here, Oct. 6, by our home team and Alma. After playing ten innings, the score standing 5 to 5, the Alma boys became dissatisfied with their umpire and threw up the game. The Alma club is composed of good boys, but their umpire is "rank."

Gobleville.

Will Stedman was in town last week.
Mrs. Greenman has moved to Duck Lake.

Geo. Devoe has the wall laid for his new house.
Ed. Covey is fixing his dwelling for the winter.

A heavy frost Sunday night and water froze quite solid.

Mrs. George Davis' girls returned to Grand Rapids Monday.

Mrs. Frank Streater has two sisters from the North visiting here.

The ball ground is nicely fenced now; it isn't painted yet but we're not proud.

The little child of Geo. Gilson, who was left motherless a few weeks ago, died last week.

Bush & Lyle have sold, or bargained, their meat market, if the trade does not fall through, as is often the case.

We rambled around Paw Paw somewhat last week and found the village apparently in a thriving condition.

Geo. Young's dog got a dose of poison some of the neighbors had set out to cool and took a trip to the hereafter.

The Hon. Victor M. Gore will speak here on Monday evening, Oct. 22, in the interest of the Republican party.

To-day (Friday) a matched game of ball will be played between Gobles and Paw Paw; $50.00 is the stake played for.

Marb. Thayer was out from Battle Creek; reports his wife as improving rapidly; he himself can walk without crutches.

Elder Holly has commenced the erection of a large two-story brick dwelling house on his lots in the Killefer (Dennis) addition.

It has been said that ball playing for money is no worse than selling votes to give a quilt to some particular person. Guess that's so.

We noticed several of our supervisors taking notes at the recent ball game at Paw Paw. No doubt their views will be inaugurated in the forthcoming report.

The custom of donating cigars whenever a person is married is bound to become obsolete. The quality of the cigars passed around is doing the business.

We understand that the census was increased the other day at the perambulating "merry-go-round" now doing business here. Mother and father doing well.

Those cigars sent to the supervisors by Prof. Aseltine were very highly appreciated by them and we rejoiced when we saw them puffing over their labors' (?) duties.

Prof. Aseltine of our high school was elected as one of our county examiners. The honor is well placed, as the professor is an ardent worker in the profession which he has chosen and has been the means of placing our school on a high plane.

Elder Holly preached a sound temperance lecture last Sunday evening. In the course of the lecture he showed that the person running a "blind tiger" was dressing for winter in fine clothes and some of those who were feeding the "animal" were wearing their summer raiment. The moral was in plain sight.

"It is hard times." This we hear on all sides, but it does not seem to affect our supervisors. We fail to see the justice of paying them three dollars per day for labor which is done on the "catch-as-catch-can" order. These same men no doubt find it rather difficult to pay a laboring man one-third of the wages they get and cry the price of wheat. It is claimed that the people make the laws, but that is sheer nonsense; the popular vote would equalize the payment of wages. Gentlemen, if you feel a bit squeamish about it you can donate the half of your wages to your respective towns. Who'll be the first?

It was somewhat of a surprise to the first nine of this place when they read the squib in the last NORTHERNER in regard to the ball game at Paw Paw last week Tuesday. The first surprise was that they entered town with any unusual demonstrations. They supposed they came as usual, in a gentlemanly manner, taking their dinner at the hotel instead of bringing a piece of bologna to eat on the way and thus save their twenty-five cents as some of the high-toned ones did on their visit to this place. But the greatest surprise to the boys was the statement in the NORTHERNER that the gate receipts were over $180, when they received a per centage on less than $50.00. We can find no excuse for the bad playing of our boys, except that they overfed at Mine Host Longwell's table, and we have thought it was a put up job by Mat. We have seen poorer playing only once this season, and that was done by the Paw Paws in a former game at this place. P. S.—Please forward the rest of the gate receipts due Gobleville.

MANITOBA GRIZZLIES.

MONSTROUS BEARS IN THE FORESTS BACK IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Some of Them Tower Six Feet Above a Man, and It Takes Nerve to Stand in That Tremendous Presence—A Hunter Saved His Life by Doing a Circus Act.

Fifteen years ago, said George W. Rae, a Manitoba pioneer, the grizzly bear was so plentiful among the Manitoba Rockies that the Hudson Bay company annually secured many hundreds of their skins from the army of hunters and trappers that had its range in that wild region, but today this fierce and ponderous beast—nowhere so fierce or of such enormous proportions as among the Manitoba fastnesses—is quite a rarity in its old haunts, and I doubt if one can now be come upon without a difficult and tedious journey of at least 300 miles into the interior wilderness of the province.

The grizzly has met with almost as hard a fate as the buffalo, although, from the nature and isolation of its present retreats and the difficulties attendant on hunting and trapping for it, the grizzly bear, like the Manitoba moose, will never become extinct in that country. I believe that the moose, although the flesh of 2,000 of them is required to supply the military stations in the territory alone with fresh meat every year, is as plentiful today in its wild retreats as it has been at any time since the great inroads of fur and pelt hunters were begun in the territory.

I know no reason why the grizzly bear of the Manitoba Rockies should grow so much larger than the grizzly of the same mountains in the States, but a long and varied experience in hunting these animals in their respective localities has proved to me that such is the fact. No grizzly bear that I ever captured or that I ever knew to be captured south of Manitoba measured more than 7 1/2 feet from muzzle to tail, or weighed more than 1,200 pounds. But it was no uncommon thing in the palmy days of grizzly bears in Manitoba for the hunter or trapper to be confronted by one of these monsters 9 feet in length and with a bulk of 1,500 pounds or more. I have seen Manitoba grizzlies that when they threw themselves on their haunches and rose erect towered five feet and six feet above me, and I want to tell you that it takes a man with a large quantity and the best quality of nerve to stand in that tremendous presence and prepared to do battle coolly and with a level head.

Grizzly bears, like all the rest of the bear family, have the curious habit of rising against a tree, and, reaching up as far as they can with their fore paws, making marks in the bark by digging it with their claws. I have more than once come across these measuring marks of a grizzly, as the marks on the bark are called, 12 feet above the ground. Imagine coming suddenly upon a beast like that in some deep ravine or isolated spot almost impassable owing to the down timber heaped and tangled on the ground and surrounded by rocks and thick underbrush. The sight of his great jaws, open and red, and his eyes flashing in fury at you from the enormous head that towers so far above you, is something only to be appreciated when once seen.

When there were buffaloes on the plains, Manitoba grizzly bears were keen and persistent hunters of them. When a grizzly and a buffalo met, there was sure to be a fearful contest, although it seldom lasted long, and the buffalo was usually the victim. The buffalo bull, when confronted by a bear, would invariably charge ferociously upon its big and ugly foe. This was just what the bear desired, and he awaited, erect on his haunches, the onset of the buffalo. As the latter rushed forward with lowered head and was almost upon the bear the immense grizzly threw himself quickly to one side, and with a blow as quick as lightning with one of his great forepaws seldom failed to break his antagonist's neck. A Manitoba grizzly has been known to engage in rapid succession four and even five infuriated buffalo bulls and kill every one of them. It sometimes happened, though, that a bull younger and more agile than his companion succeeded in evading the fatal blow of the grizzly's terrible paw long enough to give in turn a deadly thrust of his horn into the bear's side, puncturing his vitals and making the contest a mutual slaughter.

In general characteristics, of course, the Manitoba grizzly is not in any way different from others of the family. While I believe that a grizzly bear will sometimes wait and precipitate a fight with a man and take pains to put himself in the way of one, in the great majority of cases he will take a second thought about the matter and back out. A queer instance of this disposition came to my knowledge once where a famous Manitoba guide courageously advanced upon three grizzlies, an old she one and two half grown cubs, and, by a series of ridiculous monkeyshines and acrobatic maneuvers within a rod or two of the threatening bears, filled them with such astonishment and apparent fear as they retreated to the woods as fast as they could go.

The hunter's gun had snapped in both barrels, he having drawn on the old bear before the young ones came upon the scene. It was in a fit of desperation that he tried the turning of a handspring and jumping up and down, clapping his hands and resorting to other unhunter-like measures. He had been told once that a hunter had frightened a mountain lion away by similar absurd movements, and he found that it worked to perfection in the case of the three grizzly bears, but he never, even in the face of that fact, advised or encouraged any one to go hunting Manitoba or any other kind of grizzlies armed with nothing more than a capacity to turn grotesque somersaults.—New York Sun.

Lawrence.

Louie White is quite sick with fever. Leverett Gant spent Sunday in town. Ed. Everett spent Monday night at home. Miss Cora Henry is spending a few days in town. Dick Fisher and family were in Paw Paw Saturday. Al. Wiggins took in the excursion to Grand Rapids.

Geo. McFern had a nephew visiting him last Sunday.

Byron Gross visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall Monday.

Drying apples are bringing from 16 to 20 cents, according to quality.

McFern shipped forty boxes of evaporated apples to Waterloo, Iowa, Tuesday.

McFern recently made 125 gallons of apple butter for Charles Northrup of Hartford.

Mrs. Anson Barnes and Mrs. George Northrup have gone to Chicago for a few days' visit.

A Mr. Green preached at the Baptist church last Sunday, also gave a lecture on Tuesday evening.

There were forty loads of apples at McFern's cider mill Wednesday and he made 2,000 gallons of cider.

Do You Use Salt?

It will pay you in numerous ways to use the salt that's all salt. This is especially true as to the butter maker. You recognize a difference in butter. We can point you out a difference in salt. You strive for the best milk, why not search for the best salt? Test, compare, ask questions. Investigate what has done for others. There's no secret about it. Write and get particulars. We grant that salt is cheap, but is that a good reason why you should not have the best? Look fairly and fully into the salt question, and you'll find the way to better flavored butter, and better prices through our Dairy Salt. Indispensable for cooking and table use also. Write us about it.

Diamond Crystal Dairy Salt
