To Wear Them Is to Wear the Best

Anyone, familiar with men's fashions, will tell you that the finest men's clothing in this country is made by Hart, Schaffner & Marx, of Chicago.

The handsomest patterns in the rarest fabrics, made on the great looms of Europe and the United States, are selected for their suits and overcoats.

Every piece of cloth is carefully examined, and sponged, and shrunk before being cut; the cutting is done after a new and original system, insuring a perfection of fit never attained before in ready-made goods.

These garments are celebrated for their grace of outline, their beauty of fabric, their elegance of fit and finish, their sturdy wearing qualities, and a peculiar character and individuality that stamps them at once as superior to anything else in the clothing world.

They are worn by congressmen, senators, professional men, business men and clergymen in preference to the finest tailor-made clothes, because they are elegant in appearance and economical in price. One suit out-wears two ordinary suits and costs no more than the inferior kinds.
