For State Senator.

Hon. Guy J. Wicksall of South Haven, Republican Candidate for State Senator From the Eighth Senatorial District.

Hon. Guy J. Wicksall of South Haven is waging a vigorous campaign for state senator from the eighth district, and his candidacy is meeting the popular approval of republican electors of the district. Mr. Wicksall is a prominent attorney and served his district with credit in the constitutional convention. He is a young man of marked ability, a profound thinker and a man of excellent business judgment. He is held in high esteem by the citizens of both Allegan and Van Buren counties and, if nominated and elected to the state senate, will serve his constituents faithfully and well. The True Northerner bespeaks for him success at the primaries on September 6.

Let Them Forget.

In view of the fact that the primary campaign is getting warmer every minute and will reach the sizzling point before September 6, The True Northerner desires to press upon the candidates' minds some of the salient features of the new primary law relative to newspaper advertising and the circulation of campaign literature, lest in the heat of the campaign some candidate may thoughtlessly violate some part of the law. Therefore we publish herewith an editorial printed in the columns of The True Northerner, September 10, 1909, and which covers fully the points in question:

After a person announces himself a candidate for any office, it shall be unlawful by himself, or any other person, to post, pay for posting, or cause to be posted upon or in any building, or upon any tree, post, fence, bill board, telegraph or telephone pole, vehicle or other object within the territory where he is a candidate, any campaign card, banner, hand-bill, poster, lithograph, half tone engraving, photograph or other likeness of himself, or other advertising matter used or intended for the purpose of advertising or advancing his candidacy for office.

Nor shall any such proposed candidate, for the purpose of promoting his candidacy, either directly or indirectly, print or cause to be printed, pay or cause to be paid for printing, circulate or distribute, or cause to be circulated or distributed, any camaign card, hand bill, banner, poster or other advertising matter larger than two and one-half inches in width by four inches in length, except postal cards and letters, or which contains any lithograph, half-tone engraving, photograph or other likeness of himself, which likeness is larger than one and one-half inches in width by two inches in height, excepting advertisements in newspapers, or to publish or cause to be published any printed matter whatever, or lithograph, half-tone engraving or other likeness of himself, or any other political advertisement of any kind which is intended, published or manufactured for the purpose of promoting or advancing his candidacy for such office, or influencing voters relative to his said candidacy in or upon any magazine, program, bill of fare, ticket for any ball or other entertainment, or for any other substance or publication whatever, except in a daily, weekly or monthly newspaper which has been regularly and bona fide published and circulated for at least three months before such advertisement is to be inserted therein. And no other person shall do or perform the same for such candidate.

It shall be unlawful to solicit from any candidate for nomination any money or other property for services done, or to be done by him for such candidate. But this provision shall not apply to requests for contributions of money by or to an authorized representative of the political party committee of the organization to which such candidate belongs, and shall not apply to any regular business transaction between any such candidate and any other person which is not intended for or connected with the securing of votes or influencing voters in connection with such nomination.

It shall be unlawful for any candidate for nomination at any place within the territory from which he seeks a nomination, directly or indirectly, to buy or give to, or cause to be bought for or given to, any elector any spirituous, malt, brewed, fermented or other intoxicating liquors or beverage. Nor shall any person for or on behalf of any such candidate, or to help or injure the candidate in any place, buy for, give, or cause to be bought for or given to any elector, any of the liquors or beverages mentioned above, it being the intention to prohibit the custom of treating by candidates for nomination for office.

For a violation of this law the person or candidate will be guilty of a misdemeanor. If convicted, the penalty shall not be to exceed $500 fine, or not more than six months' imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Let Townsend Write a Tariff Bill.

An esteemed correspondent in Monday's Free Press, referring to our recent review of the Payne-Aldrich tariff in the light of the annual report of the treasury, quaintly and naively suggests that the dissatisfied "insurgents" who complain of the tariff's inadequacy be invited to prepare one of their own, one with which they would be entirely contented, for purposes of comparison. Mr. Burke asks too much of insurgent human nature. Insurgency is not constructive and does not pretend to be. There are not two insurgents in the country who would write the same sort of tariff or the same sort of anything else. The only thing they agree upon is to disagree with the majority of their party. If the whole insurgent bunch in congress had been appointed as a tariff committee, they would have had more trouble with it amongst themselves than the whole house had. A tariff bill is always a compromise in which each fights for all he can get for his own district or state, and insurgents never compromise. Always with one exception, Mr. Townsend of the second district, now a candidate for the senatorship, for which he is unanimously supporting himself. He is different. He would compromise. Indeed, has he not said that he would pay no more attention to the interests of his own district or state than to those of Massachusetts or Texas? Wanting scarcely anything for Michigan, he would be in a position to support the demands of the members from Massachusetts and Texas with all his well known energy. Still he is not content with the Payne-Aldrich act. He is probably convinced that Florida didn't get all she wished.

We should really like to see Townsend prepare a tariff bill of his own, and since he disapproves of the one we have and which Senator Burrows supported as a party measure, he really should tell the people of Michigan precisely the sort of bill he would approve of. Just let him take the P.-A. act as it stands and go over it schedule by schedule and mark such corrections on it as he would like, enlarging the free list to his mind. We should be happy to publish it for him in The Free Press any time before the primaries, so that the people of the whole state could know what he means.

Where would he cut it or add to it? Would he put automobiles on the free list, or stoves, or iron, or wheat, or corn, or any other product of the farms or factories of Michigan; or would he reduce the protection they now enjoy? That would be something like.—Detroit Free Press.

The Lieutenant Governorship.

THE TRUE NORTHERNER takes pleasure in endorsing the candidacy of Hon. Nelson C. Rice of Berrien county for lieutenant governor to be voted for at the September primaries. Mr. Rice is an ideal candidate, and if nominated and elected, will discharge the duties of that office to his own credit and to the credit and honor of the state.

He has served two terms in the lower house of the legislature, where he held a commanding position, having served on the committee of ways and means. No member during the last session exerted a greater influence in shaping legislation and no member was held in higher esteem by that body. He is well informed on parliamentary usage is fair, conservative and always honest in purpose. He never assumes the role of a "four flusher," and when he took the floor in advocacy of a measure, his sincerity and well known honesty carried great weight. His attitude on moral questions was always on the right side. He had much to do with the shaping and passing of the salutary temperance legislation which found place amongst the laws enacted at the last session of the legislature. He was always found on the right side of every proposition calling for his action. He is a safe and conservative public servant and will make, as already stated, an ideal lieutenant governor. The True Northerner bespeaks for him a strong endorsement at the primaries by the republican electors of Van Buren county.

FROM some of the remarks made by the Hon. Chase Osborn in his gubernatorial campaign many people are led to the belief that he is in the employ of the state democratic campaign committee. His chief talk is along the lines, that every person engaged with the administrations of the past few years has been "wrong," and as he has been an appointee under several of these, he must necessarily be "wrong," to use his own logic. Perhaps Mr. Osborn realizes that he stands little chance for the nomination and is making it as hard as possible for the man who is selected to head the republican ticket to get the votes necessary for election in November.

THE people of Van Buren county will be glad to see Hon. Chase S. Osborn, who makes a tour of the county tomorrow, but he might better spend his time in some other county, where there are some prospects of his winning votes. If Mr. Osborn should camp in Van Buren county from now until primary day, the result would be the same. Hon. Patrick Henry Kelley will get a large majority of the votes in Van Buren county and, unless all signs fail, will be the next governor of the state of Michigan.

CONGRESSMAN EDWARD L. HAMILTON'S nominating petitions are being circulated throughout the district. There is no opposition in the fourth district to his renomination; Mr. Hamilton has made an enviable record in congress and is the peer of the Michigan delegation in the lower house. This district will be well cared for as long as Mr. Hamilton represents us in Congress.

HARRY A. CROSS of Lawrence has been in Paw Paw and vicinity during a part of this week in the interest of his campaign for county clerk. He states that his candidacy is meeting the popular approval of the voters in all sections of the county, and he confidently expects to receive the nomination at the primaries September 6.

If there is any one class of people in the state of Michigan that should stand by Senator Burrows, it is the old soldier. Burrows has always been a true and loyal friend to the old soldier, and many of the benefits they now enjoy as veterans of the war are due to his untiring efforts.

DURING all his long public career Senator Burrows never has been known as a player to the grandstand. When it comes to delivering the goods, however, he has always been on the spot.

It would be hard to state what there was in Congressman Townsend's remarks last Friday that would cause any republican to change his estimate of the merits of the two senatorial candidates.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Announces Platform.

To the republican voters of the Eighth Senatorial district—

I am a candidate for the republican nomination for state senator at the primaries on September 6th, 1910.

I have not and shall not take part in the campaign of any other candidate for any office.

If nominated and elected, I shall vote for the republican candidate for United States Senator receiving the highest vote at the Primaries in the state at large.

The selection of nominees for office by the primary system has become a part of the fixed policy of the state. I believe that the primary law should be amended and strengthened as experience shall prove advisable to enable the people easily and effectively to express their will.

I respectfully ask your support,
GUY J. WICKSALL

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
