

You've hit the right tobacco

when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

It's an easy job to change the shape and color of unsalable brands to imitate the Prince Albert tidy red tin, but it is impossible to imitate the flavor of Prince Albert tobacco! The patented process protects that!

the national joy smoke

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

UNPROFITABLE COWS.

Animals of Short Lactation Period Not Worth Feed and Care.

A number of years ago we had a cow that had the habit of falling abruptly when the season was about three-fourths over, writes a correspondent of the Iowa Homestead. Up to that time she was a splendid cow, giving a good mess of milk, and good milk, too, but without any apparent cause all at once she would begin to fall off in milk yield, and no amount of care in feeding or coaxing in other ways would avail to bring her back until the beginning of another season. And I was unwise enough to keep that cow on the farm a good many years, although I know now that she robbed me of a great deal of money for feed and care.

With my present experience I would turn such a cow off as soon as I became satisfied that she had this bad

The Ayrshire cow here pictured is Lily of Willowmoor, who has just completed her fifth consecutive official record for advanced registry with a record of only 424 pounds of milk less than the present record of the world's champion Ayrshire for milk and 37.95 pounds more fat. Her average for the five years is 16,991 pounds of milk and 672.47 pounds of fat, with a grand total of 84,991 pounds of milk and 3,362.35 pounds of fat for the five years. Lily of Willowmoor was bred and is owned by J. W. Chase, Redmond, Wash.

Mr. Kirkwood Tells His Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Paw Paw man will be read with keen interest by every citizen: Wm. M. Kirkwood, wagon maker, Cedar street, Paw Paw, says: "I suffered from a constant ache in my back. I was so bad that I could hardly get up or down. The kidney secretions were scanty and too frequent in passage and accompanied by a burning sensation. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me in a short time and finally rid me of the trouble."

(Statement given Nov. 10, 1908) Over four years later Mr. Kirkwood said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they cured me some years ago." Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kirkwood recommends. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Runciman and Henley.

It is related that shortly after Runciman, the well known writer on seafarers and smugglers and poachers, had bitterly fallen out with W. E. Henley he lay dying in London. To Henley in Edinburgh, lame and ill, came an indirect message that Runciman believed that if Henley would come and look on him he would get well. It was a dying man's whim, but Henley took the train from Edinburgh and arrived in London to find his friend dead.

Growing Bananas.

Bananas are, as a rule, planted out systematically in rows, the "snickers" being placed at an average of ten feet apart. The banana plant bears only one bunch at a time, but it is a quick grower, yielding its fruit in twelve to fourteen months. When the plant is about six months old a second "sucker" or shoot is allowed to spring from the root, a third after the ninth month and so on, so that after the first year there is a continuous crop being reaped.—London Standard fault. It is more than a habit. One may by the right kind of treatment overcome a bad habit, but this is something that is born with the cow, as a rule. We find it in certain family relations. If the mother is addicted to being a short milker her offspring will be apt to have the same characteristic.

The only way I know of to overcome such a falling in a family of short milkers is to cross them with a bull that is known to come from a long milking ancestry. Some cows have the characteristic of holding out a long time. Another cow I had for many years could scarcely be dried off at all. It seemed to me best to give my cows a time of rest every year after a long period of lactation. But when I tried to dry that cow off I found I had a job of no small proportions on my hands. She was so persistent in keeping on as the other cow was in stopping. I am sure I could have milked her the year round.

Now, by taking a bull from a long milker and mating him with a cow that does not hold out long we may get a cross that will hold out longer, and so we may after a time breed the fault out entirely, but does it pay? Seems to me not, especially if one is situated so that he can get a good cow in the place of the poor one, as most of us are.

We do not always stop to think what it means to have a cow finish up her season's work several months before she should. We lose not only the milk she should give, but all the feed and care we bestow upon her comes to nothing, or almost nothing. One thing every dairymen may well aim to do is to get about him cows that will be long milkers.

GETTING BULL ON FEED.

Treatment For Animal That is Weak From Excessive Bleeding.

Several times you have had inquiries about what to do after excessive bleeding following dehorning, writes J. E. Allyn in Hoard's Dairymen. We had such a case. A yearling bull of some value became so weak that he could stand only with difficulty and wholly refused food or drink for nearly two days. Apparently nothing would tempt him.

The first expedient I tried was fresh milk. He would not drink, but every three or four hours I "drenched" him with a pint, which he would readily swallow and which probably helped him to hold on. Finally the second day, after several trials, I found that a pinch of salt on his tongue seemed to arouse his interest a little. This set me to puzzling over what I had heard about intravenous injections of saline solution that physicians use in the case of loss of blood. Not being expert in that sort of thing, I did not care to venture exactly that, but instead offered him a warm brine to drink. Rather to my surprise he drank it readily and perhaps a half hour later began to eat a little. From that time on everything seemed to go well, and in a few weeks the "old man" was himself again.

Pumpkin Seeds For Cows. Pumpkin seeds are nutritious, and there is no danger whatsoever in feeding them to milk cows. There is a common idea afloat that pumpkin seeds are injurious, but it is a rumor for which there is no foundation.
