"HANDY ANDY" AS A COBBLER

He's the best little shoe fixer in town and he wants to tell you how to save those shoes that are sort of worn looking. "Half-soled shoes are badges of honor" nowadays, says Secretary McAdoo. "I like to think I am releasing leather for our soldiers feet as he battles for our protection at the front."

And that's why "Handy Andy" says "repair your old shoes and make the sickest pair do more duty." We carry a full line of Cobbler's supplies—lasts, leathers, heels, needles threads, hammers, tools and everything that you need to fix your own shoes. Learn to mend your own shoes in spare time and incidentally save money. "Handy Andy" will tell you what you need to do the job.

THINGS TO MAKE

Here's a good way to waterproof your shoes. Paint the shoes very thoroughly with a coat of "Dry Foot" and repeat the operation three or four times until the leather becomes so saturated that it will not absorb any more. Then let the shoes dry for a day and you'll have them absolutely proofed against all moisture.
