Miss Caroline, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Johnson has already received honorable mention for excellence of work in the college in Winnepeg, Canada. She is taking a course in Journalism in the Canadian college.

A very helpful meeting was held at the Baptist church last Wednesday afternoon and evening. The executive board of the Kalamazoo River Baptist association held a very helpful conference on Associational work. In the evening addresses were delivered by Rev. L. I. About one hundred members of the Grand Rapids Wholesale association visited Paw Paw Thursday morning on their swing around Southwestern Michigan. Auto mobiles were furnished from Lawton and Paw Paw to bring the party here from Lawton. The Furniture city band gave a street concert and the Grand Rapids boys mingled with the business men of the village during their brief visit. They are a pleasant bunch to meet and will be welcomed in Paw Paw any time. Each carried home from Paw Paw a small basket of choice grapes, a gift from the Paw Paw business men.

Does any one know what has become of the "Slovak Resolution" authorizing the expenditure of $10,000 to provide a suitable memorial to the Van Buren county boys who made the Supreme Sacrifice in the World War? Nearly every county in the state has already done something along this line. The Board of Supervisors provided the necessary machinery to start the ball rolling in Van Buren county by unanimously endorsing the "Slovak Resolution." Up to date however, no move has been made, and many are wondering if the resolution is to be permitted to repose serenely and securely in some pigeon hole until the boys who were fortunate enough to return from that memorable struggle, shall join their comrades who now sleep beneath the sod on the hillsides of sunny France.

Considerable fault is found by Prosecuting Attorney Horace B. Adams over the unfair attitude of the Kalamazoo Gazette in publishing portions of news given out from his office and suppressing the balance. On Wednesday of this week Mr. Adams states, The Gazette called up his office and asked the details concerning the automobile accident at Hartford last week involving several prominent Kalamazoo citizens, and also regarding the pending criminal case against a Van Buren county physician. The facts were freely given by Mr. Adams with the understanding that the Kalamazoo affair should be given equal publicity with the Van Buren county case. The Gazette came out the same evening with a full story about the Van Buren County Doctor's troubles, but no mention was made of the affair involving the prominent Kalamazoo parties. To say that the Prosecutor is righteously indignant, is expressing it mildly.

A teachers' Institute for Van Buren county is being held in Paw Paw this week Thursday and Friday. The local schools have closed and the sessions are held in the High school room. A fine program is on for today. The speakers include, Charles T. Grawn, former Normal School President, President Crooks of Alma and Dr. E. A. Steiner of Grinnell, Iowa.

The war department of the government has established twenty-four retail stores in the United States. The one for Michigan is located in the city of Detroit. Sales from these stores will be made both over the counter and on mail orders. The lists of commodities offered for sale by these stores and the prices at which they will be sold are displayed in the various post offices throughout the state. The price fixed includes the delivery charge to any point within the district.

Twenty-five people enjoyed the thrill of Airplane travel with Pilot G. M. McCabe during the week at the Hartford Fair. Attorney Glenn E. Warner, Supt. O. W. Kaye and Royal E. Decker of Paw Paw were among the number, and Donald F. Cochrane and his wife of Hartford also enjoyed the fun. "Great" is the universal sentiment expressed by those who made the flights. If the most conservative predictions do not fail to materialize, ten years from now will see Airplane travel as common as motor transportation is today.

The funeral of the late C. J. Monroe was held from the Congregational church in the city of South Haven last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Monroe was born on November 20th, 1839 and died at his home in South Haven Thursday morning, October 2nd. His death was due to the hardening of the arteries, and his last illness began a little more than a week prior to his death. He had been a member of the state legislature, and state board of agriculture, state horticultural society, and has been a prominent figure in the political and industrial activities of the state for more than a half century. He was also prominent in banking circles of the state, and was the author of the present banking laws of Michigan. He leaves a widow, and three sons. S. B. Monroe of Kalamazoo and George and C. O. of South Haven. Those in attendance at the funeral from Paw Paw were, J. W. Free, A. Lynn Free, Judge Wm. Killefer R. W. Broughton Gladstone Beattie, Royal E. Decker, Glenn E. Warner, Wm. C. Mosier and Jason Woodman.

Will Braybrooks, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Braybrooks of Lawrence township was recently discharged from military service, and has received word since arriving home, that he has been awarded the "American Distinguished Service Cross" for gallantry in action in the second battle of The Marne in July 1918. Will was a senior in the engineering department of the Western State Normal when the United States declared war on Germany. He left his school to enlist in the Engineering department of the army and was among the first to be sent across. The Faculty however granted his diploma at the close of the year. Will was transferred from the Engineers corps to the infantry and was in active service in many of the big battles of the war. He wears shrapnel scars on one leg and on his side, a bayonet scar in one shoulder and still suffers some of the effects of gas. Several months were spent in the hospital recovering from wounds, but he will soon be as good as new. He speaks with some reticence regarding his part in the great struggle, and wears his decorations with modesty.

The Van Buren County Fair at Hartford last week, was a record breaker from every standpoint. The week opened with heavy rains, but the clouds cleared away on Wednesday and the weather was ideal for the balance of the week, the gates of the fair being left open until Saturday night. Practically every inch of space on the fair grounds was crowded to capacity with exhibits and concessions. The crowds exceeded by far the attendance of any previous year, the races were good, the appointments and management first class, and taking it all in all, it was a great fair. "Better by far than the West Michigan Fair at Grand Rapids" was the way a visitor from the Furniture City expressed it on Thursday.

The following news item was clipped from the "Watertown Daily News" of Watertown South Dakota, and refers to a former Paw Paw boy, who grew to young manhood in this community:--Dr. E. E. Snow, who recently moved to this city with his family, has opened dental parlors in the Lebert Block, Suite 40, where he has installed everything new. His equipment and different appliances are of the very latest vintage. His X-ray machine is a marvel of simplicity and effectiveness. It is known as the Fisher Cooledge Unit and is made exclusively for dentists. Dr. Snow bought the first one of these machines displayed in the factory and has the only one in this city. Dr. Snow came from Eureka, S. D. where he practiced for the past fifteen years. He selected Watertown as his future home not only because of its reputation as a live progressive city, but also of its school facilities. He said his children are growing old enough to need the facilities offered in the schools of Watertown. In leaving his old home town the doctor closed out everything, including his office and home. Shortly after arriving in Watertown he bought the home of Henry Walta, just being erected at 904 Park Street N. W. He leased offices in the Lebert block but was delayed in the opening until now as he had to buy all new equipment which took some time in reaching here.

The matter of Victory Buttons for discharged Service Men has occasioned a little confusion. The Kalamazoo Recruiting Officer returned the blank forms made out by men in Van Buren county refusing the buttons. The Home Service Station had this up with Washington, with the result that we are in receipt of a letter from the Grand Rapids Recruiting office to the effect that the Kalamazoo branch was in error in returning these blanks, that it should have issued the buttons, and has been so advised. Service men may secure blanks from the Red Cross at Paw Paw and upon filling them out and sending them to the U. S. Army Recruiting office, 211 Monroe Avenue, Grand Rapids, Michigan they will receive their Victory Buttons. The Home Service Section regrets the inconvenience to the men and the delay in securing the buttons, for which the Red Cross is not to blame. Red Cross Chapters are again asked to help find a missing soldier. His name is Harold A. Moorhouse, but he has forgotten his name and his past life and is now using an unknown name. He was a Corporal in Company F. 148th, U. S. Infantry, and was reported killed at the battle of Osenne, Belgium, but was seen after that battle. He was wounded on the left side of the head and on both arms. He is believed to have been at Camp Mills, Hampton Roads, and Camp Sherman. He is five feet seven inches tall, weight about 140 pounds, has wavy hair grey blue eyes and heavy brows, light moles over left eye and under chin and cross grain large toe-nail. You are asked to notify the Red Cross Home Service Section Standard Parts Building, Cleveland, Ohio, if you know of this soldier's whereabouts.

Kalamazoo Normal football team opened its 1919 season in that city last Saturday afternoon by defeating the fast Detroit college eleven by a one sided score of 88 to 0. Warren Smith, a former Paw Paw boy has joined the team and within a short time according to Coach William Spaulding, he will be a big part of the Normal team. He is Homer's brother and is said to possess much speed and grit. Coach Spaulding appears to have a powerful scoring team capable of playing the hardest and cleverest sort of football. Next Saturday the Normal meets the heavy M. A. C. team at Lansing. The farmers have an eleven composed of veterans and the game will be a tough one for the Kalamazoo aggregation especially thus early in the season. The real game of the season however, and the one in which Paw Paw fans will take the greatest amount of interest, takes place at Kalamazoo a week from Saturday, October 18th, when the Normal eleven tackles the Wabash team. The Indiana school has hung up a splendid record this season and several of its men are now given a chance to land a place on the All-Western aggregation. Coach Spaulding with Sam Dunlap, Ole Oleson and Howard Shears in the backfield and with a line that contains plenty of beef and speed has a chance to clean up on the Hoosiers it is thought. Football is more popular than ever this year and crowds at all games show a marked increase and the interest taken in this greatest of American sports is keener than formerly.
