PULASKI, TENN.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 7, 1866.

THE GREAT CONVENTION.

Declaration of Principles.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES OF THE NATIONAL UNION CONVENTION, NOW ASSEMBLED IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, COMPOSED OF DELEGATES FROM EVERY STATE AND TERRITORY IN THE UNION.

Admonished by the solemn lessons which for the last five years it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe to give to the American people, profoundly grateful for the return of peace, desirous in all sincerity to forget and forgive the past, reverencing the Constitution as it comes to us from our ancestors, regarding the Union in its restoration as more sacred than ever, looking with deep anxiety to the future, we hereby proclaim the following Declaration of Principles and Purposes on which we have, with perfect unanimity, agreed:

1. We hail with gratitude to Almighty God the end of war and the return of peace to an afflicted and beloved land.

2. The war just closed has maintained the authority of the Constitution with all the powers which it confers and all the restrictions which it imposes on the General Government, unbridged and unaltered; and it has preserved the Union with the lawful rights, dignity and authority of the States, perfect and unimpaired.

3. Representation in the Congress of the United States and in the Electoral College is a right recognized by the Constitution as abiding in every State, and is a duty imposed on the people, fundamental in its nature and essential to the exercise of our Republican institutions; and neither Congress nor the General Government has any authority or power to deny this right to any, nor to withhold its enjoyment, under the Constitution, from the people.

4. We call upon the people of the United States to elect to Congress, members who admit the fundamental principles of representation, and who will receive loyal representatives from every State in allegiance to the United States, subject to the constitutional power of each House to judge of election returns and qualifications of its own members.

5. The Constitution of the United States and the laws thereof are the supreme law of the land, anything in the constitution or laws of any State, to the contrary notwithstanding. All the power not conferred by the Constitution upon the General Government, nor prohibited by the States, are reserved to the State or the people thereof, and among these the right to prescribe qualification for the elective franchise therein, which right Congress cannot interfere with. No State or convention of States has the right to withdraw from the Union, nor to exclude through their action in Congress or otherwise, any State or States from the Union. The Union of the States is perpetual, and amendments to the Constitution of the United States may be made by the people thereof as they may deem expedient, but only in the mode pointed out by the resolution proposing such amendments, whether by Congress or by a convention, and in ratifying the same all States of the Union have an equal and indisputable right to vote therein.

7. Slavery is abolished and forever prohibited, and there is neither desire nor purpose of the Southern States, that it should ever be re-established upon the soil nor within jurisdiction; and the enfranchised slaves in all the States of the Union should receive, in common with all their inhabitants, equal protection in every right of person and property.

8. While we regard as utterly invalid, and never to be assumed or made of binding force, any obligation incurred or undertaken in making war against the United States, we hold the debt of the nation to be sacred and inviolable, and we proclaim our purpose, in discharging this, as in performing all other national obligations, to maintain, unimpaired and unimpeached, the honor and faith of the Republic.

9. It is the duty of the National Convention to recognize the services of the Federal soldiers and sailors in the contest just closed, by meeting promptly and fully all their just and rightful claims for the services they have rendered the nation, and by the extension to those of them who have survived, and to the widows and orphans of those who have fallen, the most generous and considerate care.

10. In Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, who in his great office has proved steadfast in his devotion to the laws and interests of his country, unmoved by persecutions and undeserved reproach, having faith immeasurable in the people and the principles of the Government, we recognize a Chief Magistrate worthy of the nation and equal to the great crisis upon which his lot is cast, and we tender to him in the discharge of his high and responsible duties, our profound respect and assurance of our cordial and sincere support.

The Camphor Remedy for Cholera.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette.]

Great interest is just now felt in the successful cure of the cholera by Dr. Rubini, of Naples. Camphor, as a cure for cholera, has long been used by both schools of medicine, and Dr. Rubini's innovation, consists in the method of preparing the remedy. The essential facts of the case I will now state as they have been reported here by an English gentleman.

Dr. Rubini's preparation consists of equal parts by weight of camphor and spirits, and to the power thus obtained he attributes his success in the treatment of the disease. And here I may say that the quantity of camphor which water will take up is small. To obtain, therefore, the "saturated spirits of camphor of Rubini," it is necessary to detail spirits of wine, and get rid of so much of its water as will bring it to sixty degrees over proof, in which condition it will dissolve and hold in solution its own weight of camphor.

[We are informed that our druggists find it necessary to use alcohol of 98 per cent. above proof. The composition is simply to put in as much camphor as the spirits will dissolve.—Ed. Gaz.]

With this "saturated spirits of camphor," Dr. Rubini, an eminent Neapolitan physician, has treated in Naples five hundred and ninety-two cases of Asiatic cholera without the loss of a single patient. Of these five hundred and ninety-two cases, two hundred were cured in the royal almshouse; eleven in the royal poor house, and one hundred and sixty-six in the third Swiss regiment of Wolf. That the three hundred and seventy-seven cases treated by Dr. Rubini in the public institutions were all genuine cases of Asiatic cholera, and some "terribly severe," and that all recovered, the evidence of many distinguished individuals, with their official seals attached, sufficiently attest.

"When a man is seized with the cholera he should at once," says Rubini, "lie down, be well wrapped up in blankets, and take every five minutes four drops of the saturated tincture of camphor. In very severe cases the dose ought to be increased to from five to twenty drops every five minutes. In the case of a man in advanced age accustomed to take wine and spirits, where the drug given in drops has no effect, give a small coffee spoonful every five minutes, and in a very short time the coveted reaction will occur. Ordinarily, in two, three or four hours, abundant perspiration will come out, and then cure will follow. "The preventative method," writes Dr. Rubini, "is this: Let those who are in good health, while living in accordance with their usual habits, take, every day, five drops of the saturated spirits of camphor upon a small lump of sugar (water must never be used as a medium, or the camphor will become solid, and its curative qualities cease), and repeat the dose three or four times a day. Spices, aromatic herbs, coffee, tea, and spirituous liquors should be avoided."

Have Courage. Have the courage to obey your Maker at the risk of being ridiculed by man.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and propriety to fashion, in all things.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance rather than to seek credit for knowledge under false pretenses.

Have the courage to discountenance vice and uphold virtue.

Have the courage to provide entertainment for your friends within your means—not beyond.

Have the courage to tell a man why you will not lend him your money.

The Hartford Press tells of a dog in that city who has lost his voice. When strangers pass, he rushes out, goes through the motions of barking, bristles up, jumps about and wags his jaws, and yet not a sound issues from them.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Central Southern Railroad Co. STOCKHOLDERS in this Company are hereby notified that there will be a meeting of their body at Pulaski, 2d Wednesday of September, for the purpose of taking into consideration the consolidation of their road with the Tennessee and Alabama, and Tennessee and Alabama Central Railroads, thereby forming one company from Nashville to Decatur. THE FINE ARTS.

The Elite Art Gallery,

OPENED IN PULASKI, TENN.

A PHOTOGRAPHER who understands his business, (from North of Hantecastle, Madison Co., Ala.) has opened his Fine Art Gallery in Pulaski, and very respectfully solicits the patronage of the generous and enlightened people of Giles.

Size, Coloring, etc.

In this Celebrated Establishment are made those beautiful pictures of Every Style, and of All Sizes, from Life-size to the smallest Finger-Ring-Miniature, and very respectfully solicited the patronage of the generous and enlightened people of Giles.

PEARL MINIATURES.

These Portraits are Rich, Complete and Beautiful. They can be highly colored and given a delicacy of complexion not possessed by the Fair Lady, or even the Pure Alabaster Whiteness of a Babe. In this respect only are these likenesses inferior. Of the myriads of pictures taken in number the various styles of art, the "Pearl" is unquestionably the prettiest and most remarkably Life-like Portrait the world ever saw. It is Elegant.

Photographs, Vignettes, Cartes de Visite, etc.

Taken in the latest, most popular and approved styles known to the art of Daguerre. My productions of all other kinds known to the profession, will also compare favorably with any Heliographic specimens of the kind. Hence you see the folly of expending on railroads and at hotels—lost time and risk of life to distant cities or foreign countries. They have the middle tint—no rich in tone, complete in detail, bold in feature, and as to finish and durability, there is no question of their superiority.

OLD PICTURES, ETC.

of any kind copied to any size. I also take pictures of individuals on Horse-back or in Equipage. Playing at Games, Groups, and Schools, Relics in Uniform, Masons and Odd Fellows in Regalia, etc., and colored, if desired, by the most accomplished Artist in this country.

IF MONEY IS

If Cash is paid in advance for pictures not good, they shall be re-taken, or the amount Refunded.

I Warrant Every Picture, and Guarantee Satisfaction to Every Customer, or Make No Charge.

IMPORTANCE OF PICTURES.

If you want likenesses for your friends and relatives, come at once, for sickness or some other hidden monster may forever deprive you from another opportunity so favorable. It is a privilege to have likenesses of dear ones—whether we see them again or not. These little Resemblances are jewels. Many who read this will testify to the truth in these lines, for they, like myself, in this respect, feel and have felt the want of miniatures to recall the features of dear brothers who fell in Battle or were otherwise separated upon the altar of our beloved South—Fond and peaceful recollections to their precious memories.

CEDAR BLUFF FEMALE COLLEGE.

THE members of the community in which the College is located are sufficiently acquainted with its history, progress and prospects. A brief statement, however, may be required for the benefit of those whose residences are more remote. The College is three miles South-east of Woodburn, a village on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, midway between Bowling Green and Franklin, Ky. It is situated upon a high point of ground, commanding a picturesque and beautiful prospect, in a remarkably healthful portion of the country, sufficiently retired to secure quiet and freedom from all disturbing causes, abundantly supplied with pure water and comprising all the facilities for exercise and enjoyment pertaining to country life. The healthfulness, morality, enterprise and advancement of the Institution are fully established. As it has increased in public favor more extensive accommodations were demanded, the buildings have therefore been enlarged, and an additional number of boarders can be received and accommodated. The discipline is mild, yet thorough and decisive. The law of kindness is the law of the Institute, and no harsh or extreme measures will ever be resorted to, unless the conduct of the pupil should require such a course. But in no case will a member be permitted to remain, who is ungovernable, or whose influence on her companions is injurious. The penalties are: Admonition and reproof, suspension for repeated offenses, and expulsion.

It is the purpose of the Faculty to promote a thorough, rather than a superficial education, and to give careful attention to proper exercise and recreation on the part of the pupils, that health may not suffer while the mind is profited, and it is also an important object while endeavoring to increase the mental vigor of the pupils, and add to their stores of knowledge, to cultivate that grace of manner, propriety of taste, and amiability of disposition, which characterize well bred and well informed ladies, and which will entitle them to the respect of refined and cultivated society.

The family and teachers reside in the same building with the pupils. This favors the exercise of that care and solicitude of which young ladies should not be deprived while absent from the parental roof.

The school is strictly select which effectually prevents that miscellaneous association so common in public schools. All the boarders are considered members of the family and as such are cared for and controlled. For the ensuing term the number of pupils will be limited to fifty.

Regulations for Boarding Pupils.

The rooms of the young ladies are furnished and supplied with water, fuel and lights; but they are required to keep them cleanly and in good order.

The pupils are required to prepare lessons during the appointed hours, at night and morning.

The signal for retiring is given at half past nine o'clock, A. M. Thirty minutes after that time, no lights are permitted in the rooms.

In the morning all are required to rise at the ringing of the bell.

The young ladies are not permitted to attend during the season, any party or place of amusement, incompatible with habits of study; to receive the attentions of young gentlemen while they remain members of the Institution; to visit any stores or confectionaries without being accompanied by their teachers or parents; to open accounts at any store without written permission from their parents or guardians; to leave the college premises without being accompanied by a teacher or some relative of their own family. Day pupils are required to bring a note in case of absence, tardiness, or when permission is desired to leave before the regular time, to leave the Institution in a quiet and orderly manner immediately upon dismissal; to conform in other respects to the rules and regulations for the internal government of the Institution.

No deduction made in board or tuition for voluntary absence.

Sessions.

The school year commences on the first Monday in September, and is divided into two sessions of twenty weeks each, without any intervening vacation; thus giving a term of forty weeks, and affording an ample vacation in the hot season of the year.
