

Pulaski Citizen.

P. O. McFORD, Local Editor. PULASKI TENN. FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 21, 1886.

We have a No. 1 Remington Navy Repeater for sale at cost—$25. Also a Shaw and Clark Family Sewing Machine in good order, for sale at cost—$25.

Important to Physicians. The Physicians of Giles county are earnestly requested to meet in Pulaski on the 1st Monday in January, 1887, for the transaction of important Professional business.

"Secrets worth Knowing." Twenty-five per cent can be saved by buying holiday presents at Osborn & Co's.

Blank Books. Osborn knows what the people want and is always ready to supply them. Among other things, he has now on hand the largest lot and best assortment of blank books ever brought to Pulaski.

ANONYMOUS.—We had hoped that all of our readers understood that we publish no communication without the name of the writer accompanying the article.

RT. REV. C. T. QUINCY, Bishop of the Diocese of Tennessee, visited this place on Thursday last week, and on Friday evening administered the rite of Confirmation to eight candidates.

COTTON.—We heard of a few sales of the staple in this market yesterday at 22 1/2c and a small lot of extra fine at 23c.

Our indulgent readers can readily excuse the scantiness of local and other editorial matter in this paper, when they are informed that both editors have been absent since the last issue up to a day or two ago, and by referring to another column, understand the reason of our absence.

Our young friend J. CALVIN JONES, Esq., delivered his maiden speech before a jury last Monday in defense of Silas R. Cox, a youth indicted for murder in the first degree.

Circuit Court.—The case of the State against Willis Beard, which has engrossed the time of the court for several days, was on last Wednesday night, given to the jury, after able argument on both sides.

As we go to press a jury is being empaneled to try the case of the State against young Worsham, charged with stealing a horse.

The Nashville Union & Dispatch complains that many of its country exchanges are extremely barren of local news, and volunteers the following good advice to country papers, which is timely, and which we, if our friends in the different parts of the county will assist us, shall endeavor to profit by.

"If there are no murders, robberies, accidents, or under your own editorial nose, make inquiries of those you meet from different portions of the county—give us news of the crops, and tell us what is going on generally." By giving more attention to this department, your readers will thank you, and we, certainly, shall say a word in your favor.

PERSONAL.—Maj. MOORE, representative from this District in the Legislature, paid our office a short visit a day or two ago. The Maj. looks well and seems to be perfectly loyal, although some of the "intensely" at the Capitol accuse him of being a rebel.

LAND FOR SALE.—There is a valuable tract of Giles county land advertised for sale in this paper by Mr. J. A. BRASLEY.—Any one with a small capital can get into a good business and have a good partner by accepting Mr. B.'s proposition.

Our streets presented quite a busy and lively appearance yesterday during the business portion of the day. We noticed a great many wagons in town, as many as twenty-five or thirty on the square at one time, some loaded with cotton, wood, and the various productions of the county; others loading with groceries and provisions for another year. Our merchants seemed to have their countenances brightened up a little, and the old year to put on an appearance of business which it has not assumed in this locality for some time.

HYMENIAL RERORT.

MARRIED.—In this place, Thursday evening, December 20th, by the Rev. Mr. Ewing, Mr. PETTON SROTAWOOD, of Huntville, Ala., to Miss CELESTIA ROSS, daughter of Ed. W. Ross, Esq., of this place.

On the 18th inst., at Tulip street church, Edgefield, Maj. JOHN M. WINSTEAD to Miss FANNIE C. MORROW.

DEATHS.

DIED.—At Fayetteville, Tenn., on Saturday morning, 15th inst., at 4 o'clock, Mrs. CAROLINE W. E. McCOY—relict of S. H. McCoy, Esq., of Fayetteville, and mother of the editor of this paper.

Her last darling wish that all of her children should be with her in the dying hour, was gratified, and her last words were those of affection for and admiration to her husband and children. She had been a sufferer for many years, but never complained. She never spoke harshly or unkindly to any one, but always had a kind word for every ear.
