FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1867.

Clover in the Orchard.

Theoretically clover is one of the most unfavorable crops to grow in the orchard if it is removed from the land.

The perennial grasses, the roots of which make their growth nearer the surface, are less exhaustive to the soil.

However, clover may be used to advantage in the orchard in three ways:
1. It may be pastured off with sheep and hogs, plowed under, or mown and left on the surface as a mulch.

Property of the Company. The property of the company consists of leasehold interests in the counties of Morgan, Lawrence, Franklin, Lauderdale, Limestone, Madison and Jackson, Ala., and Franklin, Lincoln, Giles, Lawrence, Wayne, Perry, Humphries, Lewis, Hickman, Maury, Dickson, Chester and Williamson, Tenn., amounting to more than One Hundred Thousand Acres. The leases generally give the company nine-tenths of the oil, have from twenty to thirty years to run, and allow from three to five per cent. for the commencement of the work. Upon many of them, no time for development is mentioned, making them, so far as mining purposes are concerned, nearly as good as if owned by the company in fee simple. Such an amount of territory is also believed to have never been placed in any hands, and taken for one or two of the directors of the Company.
