Oregon School Election. Saturday, Sept. 9, 1876. Notice is hereby given to the qualified voters of the Oregon School District, that there will be held an election at the Court House, Oregon, on Saturday, September 9th, 1876, for the purpose of choosing two members of the Oregon Board of Education in place of George Cummins and Jephthah Martin, whose term is expired. Polls open at 10 A. M., and close at 5 P. M. LEVI OREN, Sec. pro temp.

Republicans and Democrats LOOK OUT Next week for a BIG RED HAT advertisement from the Red Front, announcing the LARGEST, Finest, Cheapest and most stylish lot of clothing ever brought to Holt County. Knowing that the people are tired of buying shoddy goods at high prices, Messrs. H. L. Williams & Co., have bought a large line of GOOD clothing from the justly celebrated house of C. P. Kellogg & Co., Chicago, which they will sell as low as inferior work can be bought elsewhere. 1117

Sorghum Factory. Mr. S. H. Whitmer wishes to inform his cane-growing customers that he is now prepared to manufacture sorghum molasses. The best time to harvest the several varieties of cane, according to his experience and the experience of the Ohio agriculturists, is as follows: Do not harvest the black sorghum before the seed is in a dot stage. The red Libarian, the golden sycop and white sycop, can be harvested when the seed is in a milky state. It should be cut as soon as it is bladed. Secure a sawbuck and lay on enough to tie in a bundle. You can cut with cane blades or forklift gear. I have my straw which is the best. 100

HOME NEWS.

All Kinds of Personal and Neighborhood Items-Jotted Down by Our "Localist."

The census taker is abroad. Let no one be forgotten.

The weather has played some curious pranks of late. Aug. 31, at 3 P. M., the thermometer stood at 91 degrees in the shade. At 10 P. M., of the same evening it fell to 60.

Nicholas Stock, our excellent merchant tailor, is in receipt of a very fine stock of cloth goods for gentlemen and boys' fall and winter wear. If you want a real handsome suit made to order, go to Nicholas Stock, north-side Public Square, Oregon, 1017.

Rev. E. Evans, formerly of this county, but for the past two years pastor of a German Evangelical Church at Fort Wayne, Indiana, arrived here on Saturday, accompanied by his family. We understand Mr. Evans intends taking up his residence in Holt county, where he owns a farm.

The octogenarian Lawrence Van-Baskirk, father of our fellow-townsmen Ellzey Van Baskirk, has recently accomplished a visit to his friends in Ohio. Since his return to White Cloud, we understand, he has been quite feeble.

Sam Bird of Forbes, is now engaged building a new school house for the Huliat district. The structure is to be 26x36 feet, and is to be completed for occupancy by October 1st.

The grape crop of this vicinity is immense, and grapes are retailing at 3 cents per pound.

The railroad men going south on Monday, Sept. 4th, report the hoppers very plenty at Hamburg and contiguous stations. They raised that day and the wind wanted them in a northerly direction. Straggling grasshoppers fell from the clouds in various places of northern Atchison and Nowaday county.

Andrew Meyer is having a 38 foot addition built to his already spacious mansion. Mr. Peter Louchs is the boss carpenter.

Mr. E. F. Weller's new store-house, now under construction at Whig Valley is nearing completion.

Mr. George Harmon, one of our well-to-do young bachelor friends, is improving his farm by adding a new frame house. Wonder what George means? Look a little out, girls!

The Nowaday township Hayes & Wheeler club will meet at Ancestral's school house, Nichol's Grove, on Thursday evening, Sept. 14th. Good speakers will be present to address the meeting. Other clubs are invited to attend.

The democracy of Forbes, we understand, had a nice Tilden and Hendricks flag palooka which they do not feel very willing to exhibit. It is three weeks since they got it, and yet it has not been thrown to the breeze. How is that?

The following very complimentary notice about our former fellow-townsmen is extracted from the Northville, Mich., Record, of August 26th: Mr. H. S. Gardner, the accomplished elocutionist has been spending a portion of his vacation here, visiting his uncle, Mr. Benj. Gardner. He returns to school again the first of September. We understand Henry is fitting himself for the study of law. He has few superiors as a speaker, and we bespeak eminent success for him in his chosen profession.

Mr. W. B. Davis will accept our thanks for a batch of valuable eastern campaign papers. We learn from these papers that the Republican cause is succeeding most gloriously in the Empire State. New York will give 30,000 majority for Hayes and Wheeler.

By reference to announcement column it will be seen that Bailey M. Beesly of Bigelow township, is a candidate for the office of treasurer, Wm. M. Morris of Liberty township, and Joel Hester of this city, are candidates for the office of Surveyor of Holt County.

Mr. Leigh Irvine will accept our thanks for a copy of the Ballot Box, a new woman's suffrage paper. It is a beautifully printed sheet, and is a vigorous advocate of the cause it espouses.

Judge Henry M. Vories of St. Joe, is lying at the point of death, with no prospects of his recovery.

Messrs. J. W. White & James Cook, having associated themselves in the blacksmithing business have rented Wm. Cook's brick blacksmith shop on East Nowaday street, where they are prepared to wait on customers.

The colored people of Oregon and vicinity will hold a festival at Masters' Hall, Oregon, on Friday night, Sept. 15th, 1876. Admission 10 cents. Proceeds of festival to go toward purchasing instruments for a colored band.

The Oregon public school and the Normal School opened last Monday under the most favorable auspices. At the ringing of the old "College Bell" the students could be seen wending their way toward the school house, all eager to commence the labors of the term. After the ringing of the bell and when the students were all in, President Hill commenced the exercises by reading a brief but appropriate selection from the Book of Books, and an address to the throng of Grace for the success of the school, followed by a short speech to the students. Prof. Hill and his efficient corps of assistants have succeeded in gaining the good will of all the students.

Holt County Sunday School Convention.

The semi-annual meeting of the Sunday School Convention of Holt county will convene at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, the 13th of September, 1876, in the City of Oregon, at half past nine o'clock, "sharp." Elder John Burns, of St. Louis, Corresponding Secretary of the State Sunday School Institute, will be present and assist in conducting the convention. Arrangements will be made to provide homes for all teachers and officers of Sunday Schools from abroad, and it is hoped we will have a full attendance during the session. The committee feel safe in pronouncing a pleasant and profitable meeting. A programme of exercises for each day, has been agreed upon by the committee, which will add much to the interest.

Our County Atlas and History.

We Notice that Messrs. Brink, McDonough & Co., are pushing their experimental canvass of the county for sale as rapidly as possible. If Holt county will sustain this work as she should, we will unquestionably have a history of the early settlement and settlers of the county, which will be valuable as a matter of reference for future generations, such an one as but few counties in the State have had an opportunity of obtaining. It will require an order from every one able to afford it, and then the best efforts of our influential citizens, to make the enterprise pay the net cost of getting it up. We hope our county will not lag behind in subscribing for the new map, as it is of inestimable value to every property owner and business man in the county. The history of many of her gray haired veterans will appear on the pages of the work. All these considerations demand that we secure squarely up to the support of this enterprise, and, thereby, so far as we are concerned, assure the success of the work. No man, however limited his means, should refuse to aid this enterprise.

Mass Meeting of the Christian Church. In order to a closer union of the disciples of Christ in Holt County. It is necessary we should become better acquainted. We therefore propose having a mass meeting of the brethren at Oregon, commencing on Friday, September 15th, and continuing over the third Lord'sday.

Brethren, as our Heavenly Father, has greatly blessed us in the bountiful return for our labor this year, it is meet we should remember the hand from whom all our blessings come. Let us meet, therefore, at the time and place named, to give thanks to Him for his mercies, and endeavor to enlist our fellow men in the cause so dear to our hearts, and which cost the Author of our salvation so much pain and suffering.

Ample preparations will be made to entertain all who may come. Meeting to begin at ten o'clock A. M. at the Presbyterian church. P. K. DUNN, JOHN W. KELSEY, J. COM. WM. A. GARDNER.

FOR CONGRESS—DAVID RAE. The Democrats of the 9th Congressional District have just passed thro' a severe ordeal, in their Congressional caucus. From the Mound City Globe. THE ROW.

It is known to most of our readers that little difficulty was experienced Monday last between John F. Davis of this place, and the editor of this paper. We had decided to say nothing about it in the Globe, but since we learn that very erroneous statements have been made as to the cause of the trouble, we propose to give our readers a plain unvarnished and correct history of the whole matter, and to do so we will have to go back a few weeks.

On the 10th of the present month, it will be remembered, the Globe contained three articles concerning the Democratic meeting which was held in this town, and the effort to turn the musical picnic at the springs into a political meeting. In the articles mentioned we ridiculed the speakers and censured those who sent for them, and represented to them that there would be Republicans here to address the people.

We thought we had a perfect right to do so, it appears that Mr. Davis thought differently. He took offense at what we said, and threatened to run us and our paper out of town.

We heard that these threats had been made, but paid little attention to them, thinking that Mr. Davis was a man of better judgment than to make threats of this kind. He then called on Mr. Davis, and demanded his pay. We told him we would pay him in a short time—as soon as we could make some collections. A few days later he stopped us in the street, and demanded his pay. We told him we had not yet collected the money, and could not pay him. This was about the time our convention, and Mr. Davis was about to institute legal proceedings to get possession of the room we occupied.

This annoyed us somewhat, and soon after we heard Mr. Davis came into the office. We were busy writing up the proceedings, and when we had finished we laid down our pen and asked him how much we owed him for five months rent. He told him that we had contracted to pay $75 per year, and that was all we proposed to pay. He insisted that Dr. Jackson, of whom we had rented the room, told him that we owed him $88 per month, and that we had agreed to pay $75 per year, and that was all we proposed to pay. He then inquired how much he owed us. We turned to his account and figured it up. It amounted to $4. He said we had charged him too much, and that Mr. Klippel did the work advertising for much less. We told him that our rates were uniform, and that we had charged the same as we did other men. He said that we were exorbitant, and intimated that we were trying to swindle him. This intimation was more than we could bear, and we ordered our mind to him in no very flattering terms. This enraged him, and he jumped from his chair and aimed three or four very hard blows at our head, which we parried. He then closed in upon us, and tried to force us to the door, at the same time endeavoring to get us by the throat. We saw that we were sure to be overpowered, and we did what we did other men. We did what we did other men. We did what we did other men.

At this juncture other parties interfered and the row ended. These are the plain facts in the case, and we trust that the public will, without the least fear of an adverse verdict. Some very serious threats have been made by Mr. Davis and some of his relatives, but we are charitable enough to believe that they now regret having made them.

If we inflicted any injury upon the person of Mr. Davis, we did it in self-defense, which can be proven by eye witnesses.
