The Nodaway County Fair will commence on September 15, and continue throughout the week.

The two editors of the Maryville Republican write locals in which they speak of "our wife."

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON left $5,000 to the Woman's Journal and the same amount to Berea College in Central Kentucky which educates all colors and ages and both sexes.

By a recent law of Congress the biennial examination of pensioners is done away with. Therefore no pensioners need trouble the surgeon for an examination, without he receives specific orders to that effect.

Of the 80,250,000 English speaking people in the world, 17,700,000 are Episcopalians, 14,800,000 Methodists, 15,500,000 Catholics, 10,000,000 Presbyterians, 8,000,000 Baptists, and 7,000,000 Congregationalists.

They are working trains by electricity now, and one consisting of three cars, capable of carrying twenty passengers, is actually now running at Berlin. The road is 220 yards long, and the train travels at the rate of about seven miles an hour.

A YOUNG MAN died in Binghamton, N. Y., last week from the effects of swallowing a silver half-dollar about three weeks ago. He was tossing the coin in the air and catching it in his mouth, to amuse a child, when it lodged in his throat and passed into his stomach.

The Southern journals have shut up suddenly on the subject of State Rights, alarmed by the alacrity with which the Republicans rose to meet the issue. Silence comes too late to do any good. They cannot take back or destroy what they have said, and the issue will be the leading one in the fall elections.

The July tornadoes in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin did not create such terrible havoc as those of May in Kansas and Missouri, but they were sufficiently disastrous. Nine people were killed and thirty seriously injured in a single county in Minnesota. Mr. Finley, of the weather bureau, who has recently investigated the cyclones of this region will probably retrace his steps from Washington on a similar errand to the Northwest.

A LIGHTNING ROD peddler was struck by lightning in Indiana, while seated on his wagon during a thunder storm, talking through the window of a farmer's residence trying to induce the farmer to let him rod the barn. It was the largest funeral ever seen in Indiana. People went miles to see the deceased. They couldn't believe it until they saw it with their own eyes.

GENERAL WALKER estimates that the coming census will add 10,000,000 to the official population of the country, making it 48,000,000. It is safe to predict that at least two-thirds of this increase will be found located in the West and Northwest. It is easy to figure a very large increase in congressional representation from such figures. The Mississippi Valley States will hold the majority after the next apportionment.

The following is the statute law of Missouri in regard to the Sabbath: "Section XXXII—Every person who shall either labor himself, or compel or permit his apprentice or servant or any other person under his charge or control, to labor or perform any work other than the household offices of daily necessity or charity, or who shall be guilty of hunting game or shooting on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding $50."

The Hon. Hugh McCulloch is reported to have given Secretary Sherman exceedingly high but entirely deserved praise during a recent visit to Washington. He declared that the Secretary's handling operations had never before been equalled in magnitude or success. He thinks the business of the country is gradually improving, and that after the next Presidential election we shall enter upon a career of unexampled prosperity. He is evidently confident of Republican success in 1880.

During the last session of Congress, Senator Wallace, Chairman of the Census Committee, announced that the Democrats had not discharged and would not discharge any wounded Union soldier in the employ of the Senate. Since his announcement the discharge of maimed Union soldiers to make room for ex-Confederates or Democrats, has been going on steadily.

The last man shot off at Gettysburg. He had discharged his duties as a doorkeeper faithfully for ten years, and though a Republican, was never active in politics.

Among other provisions, the legislative bill passed at the recent session of Congress contained an appropriation of $20,000 for negotiations with foreign governments in reference to the international remonetization of silver. It is understood that Secretary Evans will at once open the necessary correspondence upon the subject, and if the questions at issue are favorably discussed, commissioners will probably be sent abroad to operate in connection with foreign governments in perfecting any plans that may seem feasible, just and expedient.

The Inter-Ocean says: "It makes Democrats lose in large spots to see John Sherman honored. An organ sneeringly says: 'Let John Sherman make a green-bank speech in Maine.' Certainly, why not? Who has a better right to talk greenbacks than the old line Republicans? They made the greenbacks, and they have defended them. Greenbacks came in a necessity, and they will stay, for the reason that they are not only useful but honest, and fully to be trusted. With whom could they be more certainly trusted than with the men and the party that made them?"

HOW THEY LOVE JEFF.

The Holy Springs Reporter says: "The cordial greeting and warm reception extended to Mr. Jefferson Davis by the Press Association at Pascagoula was evidence strong as proof of Holy Writ of the high esteem in which the grand old chieftain is yet held by his countrymen. He is not in power now, and has no fat offices to bestow upon those who do honor to him. Yet as he stood before that convention of editors he was greeted with such shouts of applause and tokens of admiration as were never extended to any man before in Mississippi. Jefferson Davis, when the President of the Southern Confederacy, was never honored with a more affectionate greeting than he received at Pascagoula upon the occasion referred to. The words that fell from his lips in the short address he made were like the words of a prophet. They melted all hearts, they burned in every ear of that vast assembly. The people of the North may continue to taunt and jeer him—his hatred will no doubt follow him to his grave, but in the hearts of the brave and true of Mississippi will be forever engrained the memory of the noble and true of things, is soon to be revealed from the crumbling mortal remains will be to them and their children's children as 'holy ground.'"

Since the Bourbon element has gained complete control of the Democratic party the cooler headed members of the organization see that it is being driven straight to disruption, and even the Vicksburg Herald is moved to say:

The Bourbons in this State are driving the machine and applying the same principles to the Democratic party as they have applied to the Unionists. They are driving the party to the wall, and they are doing it with a vengeance. They are driving the party to the wall, and they are doing it with a vengeance. STATE RIGHTS THE ISSUE.

Republican State Conventions were held last week in Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, and the platforms adopted clearly the main issues on which the campaign will be conducted.

The following is a portion of the WISCONSIN PLATFORM: 1. The republic of the United States is a nation, not a confederacy of sovereign States, and its government clothed with permanent authority for the regulation of all subjects of national concern.

2. The elections of members of Congress are national elections, and as such the whole country is interested in having them fairly and honestly conducted, and that every voter may be afforded an opportunity to exercise his right of suffrage freely and without fear of personal violence, to vote once at a given election, and to have his vote counted and returned. It is the duty of the National Government to enforce this right. The Republican party is opposed to any military interference with the exercise of the right of suffrage, and to any such interference as may be necessary to maintain the public peace and protect the constitutional rights of citizens. In no instance under any circumstances shall the United States troops be used to enforce the exercise of free suffrage on the part of the people. The Democratic party, by the votes of the Representatives in Congress, has refused to prohibit the presence in the vicinity of the polls, not only of United States troops, but all men armed with deadly weapons, but would permit an armed mob to surround the polls, and would prohibit the employment of United States soldiers to protect peaceful citizens from intimidation and violence at the hands of the mob.

3. The refusal of a mere majority in Congress to make appropriations of money already collected by a legitimate authority for the purpose of compelling the President by the exercise of his military and executive powers to enforce a measure which he regards as unjust, and which is revolutionary in principle, subversive of the Constitution and deserving the condemnation of all good citizens.

The Republicans of the Keystone State are no less emphatic, as will be seen from the following extract from the Pennsylvania Platform: Resolved, 1. That the Republican party will stand forward for the defense of human rights after a struggle lasting through a generation, and will not be satisfied until freedom and national honor which it has so often overthrown in civil contests and armed conflict.

2. That we appeal to the unobscured voters of Pennsylvania to arrest by their votes the mad career of the Democratic party which insists upon placing National Government under the domination of a few unscrupulous and dishonest men, and who are now plotting to give triumph to the doctrine they failed to establish in the field—the establishment of State sovereignty by the overthrow of national supremacy.

3. We declare our implacable hostility to the repeal of the national laws which protect the purity of our elections. The box and secret ballot, the free election of Congressmen and Presidential Electors being clearly subject to national control, any attempt to throw out of control is simply an effort to establish a system of bribery and corruption, and the supremacy of the National Government in all matters placed under its control, and shall be maintained only by the Republican party, which is alone committed to their defense.

4. That the Democratic party, having committed itself to break up the Government by refusing to appropriate moneys already collected from the people to meet the expenses of the Government, and having refused to sanction a measure intended to foster fraud, violence and corruption at national elections and to impair the constitutional supremacy of the nation, and having invited the participation of every law-abiding and honest citizen.

THE CAT IN THE MEAL BAG. A late Washington dispatch says: "Representative Glover, before leaving here, remarked that he had not abandoned his efforts to bring his report before the country through the authority of the House of Representatives and that the efforts of Gen. Thompson, Sergeant-at-Arms, would in the end prove futile. He said that the cause of the opposition which he has encountered was the threatened exposure of the irregularities in the offices of the Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms; that as long as Republicans were implicated the House was ready enough to give the report publicity, but as soon as a few Democratic delinquents were brought to the surface, the whole party began to squirm. He claimed to have testimony showing conclusively that Adams and Thompson were attempting to suppress the report in order to smother frauds in their own accounts. In this testimony he claims to show that Mr. Morrison sent a sub-committee into one of the Louisiana parishes named, he gave the Chairman $1,000 for expenses, and took his receipt for that amount; and when the sub-committee returned, they gave vouchers for their expenditure; that their receipt, both charged to the Government and the money obtained by the Chairman, were sent to the Sergeant-at-Arms, Louisiana, where they were invited by the Texas Pacific Railroad to visit Galveston, which they did, in a private car placed at their disposal and free of expense. Mr. Glover claims that the actual cost of transportation would have been $100.00, but in Thompson's account three vouchers of that amount were filed and paid for that free. Another case, cited to show what is the matter with Thompson and Adams, is that of a witness who resided in New Orleans, and was used for one day and signed for the lawful compensation of $2, but which was raised, it is charged, to fourteen days at $3 a day, $42, and mileage to Grant Parish, $2, making $82, on a genuine claim of $10. It is charged that the voucher read 'one' in a vague hand resembling 'our' which was preceded by an 'H' and followed by 'teen' in other ink, making fourteen, the 2 changed to 3 and the $2 was proceeded by a 4, making $142. The parish was subsequently written in and mileage as stated allowed. Upon these and similar allegations Mr. Glover expects to get even with his opponents in the House of Representatives.

The computation made at the Bureau of Statistics, but not yet published, for the eleven months ended May 30, 1878, disclose the fact that for the first time in the history of the country the exportation of breadstuffs has exceeded in value that of cotton and tobacco, the two staples of the South combined.

More Truth than Poetry.

When spring puts on her glowing gown And dyes the earth with green and blue, And birds with plumage bright and gay, And flowers in blossom all the day, Then beauty, with sweet feet, Pressing on the daisies on Main street— Whence do they go—the bright, the fair? To Zoek's Forest City Bazaar.

KID GLOVES. To fit the tender hand Of "perfect women, nobly planned," For gloves, mitts and mittens, made by the best workmen, and made to order. When fair-like they grace the street.

COLLARIETTES. Worn on Ladies' shoulders, To fascinate and charm beholders; Those much sought goods, with many others, We find abundant at Zoek Brothers. Where judgment, taste, attention, time, Makes the large share of each purchase. And every customer satisfied.

Sheriff's Sale. WHEREAS H. C. Long by his mortgage with power of sale dated the 24th day of February, 1878, conveyed to Holt County, Mo., the following described real estate
