

THE SENTINEL.

THE SENTINEL is published every Friday morning at 10 o'clock in advance.

Advertising rates furnished on application. Address all communications to THE SENTINEL, OREGON, MO.

OREGON, MO., MARCH 26, 1860.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

In accordance with the call of the Republican State Committee, the Republicans of Holt county are requested to assemble in mass convention at the Court House in Oregon, on SATURDAY, APRIL 10th, 1860, at one o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing delegates to represent Holt county in the Republican State Convention, to be held at Sedalia on Wednesday, April 12th.

All persons, irrespective of past political differences, who wish to join hands with us in the great struggle for the maintenance of Republican principles in both the Nation and State, are cordially invited to come and take part with us.

By order of the County Committee, JOHN SCHWARTZ, Chairman.

It is estimated that the total income of the Government for the year ending in June will be about $300,000,000, and that the total expenditures will be $275,000,000.

DENIS KEANEY—who calls himself a workman because he never does any work—was last week sentenced, in San Francisco, to a fine of one thousand dollars and imprisonment in the work house for six months, for making a riotous speech in that city.

Let De La Matry be credited with one good act in his long catalogue of blunders. His motion to include Alaska in the census was timely. That Territory may supply just the fraction necessary to bring the population of the country up to 50,000,000, and justify the figures which campaign orators will find so indispensable during the approaching canvass.

The compulsory education bill passed a few days ago by the Iowa house of representatives requires the attendance at school of all children between eight and fourteen years of age, under penalties to be collected of their parents or guardians, for at least twelve weeks a year, in every district where public schools are taught. It also provides for the proper clothing of such children as are really indigent and the arrest of the disobedient or incorrigible as truants.

One happy result of the upheaval in Russia is said to be a reconciliation between the Czar and Czarina. The gratitude of the former at his escape from death was so great that he addressed a communication to his wife expressing regret at past misconduct, and promising that in the future there would be no occasion for scandals. The Czarina's health is reported much improved in consequence, and the reconciled royal pair are preparing for a season of retirement in the mountains of the Austrian Tyrol.

"What is the use of asking me? I am known as the original Grant man, and I represent the sentiment of the Republican of the ninth district, when I say we are all for Grant." The above is the answer made by James T. Beach, when asked how the ninth district stood on the Presidential question. Mr. Beach has a perfect right to be so frank, if he wants to be. But in the above answer he does not represent the sentiment of the ninth district, and he knows it—Maryville Republican.

The Republican is right. General Grant is not the first choice of the Republicans in the ninth district, and in consequence, we think it would hardly be an exaggeration to say that four-fifths of them prefer Blaine or Washburn. Yet if Grant is fairly nominated they will give him their earnest support.

No one will deny that the Sedalia Democrat represents the true sentiment of a large portion of the Missouri democrats. In a late issue that paper said: "The electoral commission was a tree from which the Republicans have harvested the first crop of fruit. Turn about is fair play, and the Democrats should look well after the second. They are already suspicious. Some of their scouts have already been seen and recognized. As deftly as they have covered up their tracks they have not entirely obliterated all traces of the armed host. Hence the universal Republican outcry for Grant. They think the Democratic House cannot count him out."

"We have the house of representatives; we have the senate; we have a majority of one million white voters; we have four-fifths of the fighting men in the country; let's vote, therefore, the presidency. Didn't Grant concentrate infantry, cavalry and artillery at Washington to help do this? At the front again!"

VIRGINIA is the Southern State which is likely to give the Democrats the most trouble this year. The State Committee met on Wednesday last week and decided to call a convention at Richmond on May 19. The three Readjuster members protested that the Committee did not represent the party, because it had been packed against the Readjusters; they dissented from the call for a convention and issued a protest declaring that the Readjusters would call a separate convention when the proper time arrives. Their plan is to nominate an independent electoral ticket, made up in equal parts of Readjusters and Republicans, which shall be committed to no particular Presidential candidate, but be free to vote as its members decide after the election in November. If the Republicans consent to this arrangement, and support such a ticket unanimously, the Regular Democratic ticket will very likely be defeated, for the combined opposition is an undoubted majority. The eleven electoral votes of Virginia may, therefore, play an important part in the next Presidential election. They may be, in the event of a close election, the means of throwing the election into the House. If Virginia were a Republican State, the effect would be to make the election of a Democratic President certain. Being a Democratic State, the effect will be to diminish the sure Democratic vote and possibly to put that party into the power of the Greenbacks.

THE "MACHINE" IN MISSOURI.

We hope the Republicans of Missouri will make a prompt and determined effort to rescue themselves from the control of the "machine" politicians. Unless they do so, the convention at Sedalia on the 14th of April will be a repetition of the scandalous fraud upon the Republicans of Pennsylvania at their recent State convention at Harrisburg. It is now a fact patent that it can no longer be denied, that at least four-fifths of the Republicans of Pennsylvania are opposed to the nomination of General Grant for President; yet the "machine" politicians so manipulated the convention as to secure the passage of a resolution instructing the delegates to vote for him as a unit! It was a shameful perversion of the will of the people, which ought to send its instigators into permanent retirement.

It is undoubtedly the intention of the "machine" politicians to pursue a similar course in this State, at the convention at Sedalia on the 14th of April, and the desperate and thus far successful effort of Filley and his gang to get control of the State Committee was the first step in the movement.

These conspirators, however, can be checked if the people will turn out at the various county conventions and choose such delegates to Sedalia as really represent the sentiments of the Republicans in their respective localities, and who cannot be hoodwinked or intimidated by political tricksters into voting for delegates to Chicago who will not reflect the wishes of the majority of the Republicans of the State.

We think there is little doubt that a large majority of the Republicans of Missouri prefer that some other man than General Grant shall be the nominee of the party for President. If fairly nominated, they will support him, with rare exceptions; but they are in no mood to let the wireworkers in his interest manipulate the State Convention into sending delegates to Chicago to vote for him as their preference.

Let good and true men be sent as delegates to Sedalia, who will elect a new State Committee whose views are in harmony with the great mass of the Republicans of the State, and we will then be rid of the "rule or ruin" faction which is now seeking to control the party machinery.

A man had a tooth extracted by a Chicago dentist, and expressed regret for the loss. A girl whose jaws were overcrowded with teeth entered the office to have two of them taken out. The dentist suggested the experiment of transferring one of those sound teeth to the vacancy in the man's mouth, and the operation was performed with success, the tooth growing fast and firm in ten days.

This Congress has been an unusually quiet one so far, but it has succeeded, nevertheless, in saddling the Democratic party with some healthy white elephants. The Curtin-Yocum contested seat case has never been brought to a vote for fear of offending the Greenbackers. The Washburn-Donnelly case is so palpable a steal that the party dare not perpetrate it before election. And the Fitz-John Porter bill has only succeeded in revealing the disloyal tendencies of those who have championed his cause. The Democratic party stands as sponsor in each of these cases, and while it has derived no benefit from any of them, they will all go to swell the indictment against it which will be presented to the people this year.

The numerous scrapes into which Congressman Acklen of Louisiana has recently gotten himself, provokes the New York Times to tell, for its delectation, the following story: Congressman Acklen should remember the little story of the very ugly man who met a woman on the bridge-path and considerably reined his horse to one side to let her pass. Instead of passing she stopped her horse and gazed upon him. Growing uneasy, "like a bird the charming serpent draws," under this prolonged scrutiny, he said politely, "Madam, the road is clear." To this she paid no attention except to remark with great deliberation, "Well stranger, if you ain't the homeliest man I ever see!" "Oh, I can not help that, you know," said the gentleman uneasily. "No, but you might stay at home!"

We are glad to observe that the Maryville Republican and Rock Port Journal take identically the same position as the SENTINEL in regard to the Filley-Shields quarrel for the chairmanship of the Republican State Committee. In fact if the articles in the three papers had been written by the same person they could not have more precisely expressed the same views. We think there is no doubt that the Republicans of Northwest Missouri are almost a unit in opposition to the "machine" operations of Filley and his conspirators; but they do not intend to commiserate any split in the party which will result in two conventions and two sets of delegates to Chicago. When the Sedalia convention meets, however, Mr. Filley will hear from the Republicans of the State in a manner that will astonish him.

AMONG the SENTINEL'S staunchest friends and most attentive readers are the members of the clergy, and for their especial enjoyment we publish the following tough story from the Boston Journal: A clergyman recently left Liverpool in a steamer, and beginning to feel uncomfortable after leaving the mouth of the river, sought the Captain to learn if there was any danger. The Captain, in response, led the clergyman to the forecastle and told him to listen to what was going on. The clergyman was shocked to hear the sailors swearing vigorously, and expressed his horror to the Captain. The Captain merely remarked: "Do you think these men would swear in such a manner if there was any real danger?" whereupon the parson seemed satisfied, and retired.

A day or two after, during a severe storm, the Captain saw the clergyman proceeding with difficulty to the forecastle, and on his return overheard him exclaim: "Thank heaven, they're swearing yet!"

"WHEN ROGUES FALL OUT," ETC.

It has long been a maxim that "when rogues fall out, honest men get their dues." We are reminded of this by a very interesting fight now going on between United States Senator Vest and Dr. Munford of the Kansas City Times.

It all grew out of the removal of E. W. Ayres, the Washington correspondent of the Times, from a clerkship under Bright, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. Ayres, in his letters to the Times, most shamefully abused Senator Ingalls. When the latter was declared innocent of the charges against him, he asked Senator Vest to aid him in securing the removal of Ayres. Senator Vest did so, and Ayres was made to step down and out. This aroused the ire of Munford, who went post-haste to Washington and called on Vest to know what it meant. Vest was drunk, as usual, and gave Munford a cursing, insulting and a damned ungrateful dog. And now the Kansas City Times is making it lively for Vest, and more than lively for Bright, the Democratic Sergeant-at-Arms who withdrew from office for refusing to withdraw from Vest to know what it meant.

The worst enemy of General Grant could not possibly wish him to occupy a more humiliating position than would befall the illustrious war hero, if, after having deliberately become a candidate in a bitter partisan struggle for the nomination for President, he should have to be abandoned by his friends in advance of the meeting of the convention, in obedience to a general revolt of Republican public sentiment. Yet this now seems to be the prospect.

SOUTHERN TEXT BOOKS. The charge has often been made, and as often denied, that text books laudatory of the rebellion are now used in the schools in the Southern States. Below we present some extracts from "Derry's History of the United States," now used in the public schools of Alabama, which seems to conclusively settle the question. The extracts are taken at most at random and are necessarily very brief. We might fill a dozen columns with similar extracts. They will be found very interesting.

Q. What did the abolition agitators do (Buchanan's Administration)? A. They made every effort to bring on a conflict of arms in Kansas, and by their influence the Legislatures of several Southern States passed laws which practically nullified the laws of Congress as to the rendition of fugitive slaves.

Q. What took place during the debates on the admission of Kansas? A. A split in the Democratic party which was destined to bring great suffering and disaster upon the whole country. A noble white-haired old gentleman expressed the sentiments of thousands of honest men, not only in Illinois but throughout the whole country, in the following terse sentences: Fellow citizens, I met with you today for the purpose of conferring about the best policy to be adopted by the Republican party in regard to the pending Presidential election. For some time I was not in harmony with the Republican party. I am placed however, in this condition; I must either help to elect a man who has aided and abetted in the rebellion, or help to elect a man who tried to destroy this nation. [Applause, and voice, Good.] I cannot hesitate for one moment, and so I am here to recommend harmony about this matter, on the part of the Republican party. I believe that under the control of the Republican party this nation is safe. I believe that we may as well surrender the government to the Republicans as to the Democratic party [applause]. The rebels will control the party organization and compose the majority. I have some personal preferences about this matter, but I intend to sink every personal consideration to assist in putting the Republican party again into power, and if it makes a fool of itself it is its fault. [Laughter and applause.] I cannot bear the thought of putting the control of this government into the hands of men who, in 1864, in solemn convention declared that it was wrong to attempt to put down the rebellion. [Applause.] Therefore, gentlemen, I am with you in this fight. [Applause.] I have nothing to expect myself; my course is nearly that of God Almighty; I will permit me to live long enough to contribute all in my power to put the party in power again that saved the country. [Loud applause.]

The famous comet of 1843 is making the grand rounds again, and is expected to illuminate the Presidential canvass this summer. In 1106 it shone with a brightness which equaled the sun itself; in 1402 it was so brilliant as to be visible at noonday; in 1454 it is said to have eclipsed the moon; in 1749 it inspired with terror the unlettered throughout the world, and in 1843 it gave aid and comfort to the Millersites, assisting to alarm those who heeded their predictions of the speedy destruction of the world by fire. Should it return this year with its accustomed style, it may be expected to so conduct itself as to create a profound sensation.

The interesting youth who has just been arrested in New Hampshire for outraging and murdering his uncle's wife is another product of dime novels and flash newspapers. He is said to have been an incessant reader of that department of literature. It is not about time that Missouri followed the example of Georgia and Canada in suppressing at least the public sale of publications as bad in some essential respects as the technically obscene works which are already prohibited?

The career of Dr. Brandreth, who died in New York recently, was a vivid illustration of what may be accomplished by energy and perseverance. More than fifty years ago he landed in New York a poor boy, who had left his English home to seek his fortune in the New World. A few days after his arrival he found that he would soon be without a penny. He had in his possession certain recipes for medicines which had attained some local celebrity in the section of England from which he emigrated and purchasing the necessary materials from one of them a lot of pills which he peddled about in boxes. The pills found a ready sale and now "Brandreth's Pills" are one of the best known "patent" medicines. Dr. Brandreth attributed much of his great success to liberal advertising, which he estimated not long ago had cost $1,000,000.

The new Senator from Virginia seems to regard himself a baronial lord of a chap, a highland chief, an imperial personage, or something of that kind. He has the stupendous egotism to register himself when arriving at a Washington hotel as simply "Malheur."

THERE is said to be a movement among the Republicans at Washington to have Bob Toombs elected to Congress.

They are tired of unsuccessful efforts to stir up tamed animals. The entire aspect of Grant's canvass has been altered. It is no longer a question whether he will accept, but whether he will get a chance to accept. He is in exactly the same position as regards the nomination as the other aspirants.

WILLIAM M. GROSVENOR, formerly editor of the St. Louis Democrat and the senior member of the celebrated firm of Bill and Joe, in the Gratz Brown campaign for Governor, has been elected a Blaine delegate from Morgan county to the New Jersey Republican State convention.

The worst enemy of General Grant could not possibly wish him to occupy a more humiliating position than would befall the illustrious war hero, if, after having deliberately become a candidate in a bitter partisan struggle for the nomination for President, he should have to be abandoned by his friends in advance of the meeting of the convention, in obedience to a general revolt of Republican public sentiment. Yet this now seems to be the prospect.

SOUTHERN TEXT BOOKS. The charge has often been made, and as often denied, that text books laudatory of the rebellion are now used in the schools in the Southern States. Below we present some extracts from "Derry's History of the United States," now used in the public schools of Alabama, which seems to conclusively settle the question. The extracts are taken at most at random and are necessarily very brief. We might fill a dozen columns with similar extracts. They will be found very interesting.

Q. What did the abolition agitators do (Buchanan's Administration)? A. They made every effort to bring on a conflict of arms in Kansas, and by their influence the Legislatures of several Southern States passed laws which practically nullified the laws of Congress as to the rendition of fugitive slaves.

Q. What took place during the debates on the admission of Kansas? A. A split in the Democratic party which was destined to bring great suffering and disaster upon the whole country. A noble white-haired old gentleman expressed the sentiments of thousands of honest men, not only in Illinois but throughout the whole country, in the following terse sentences: Fellow citizens, I met with you today for the purpose of conferring about the best policy to be adopted by the Republican party in regard to the pending Presidential election. For some time I was not in harmony with the Republican party. I am placed however, in this condition; I must either help to elect a man who has aided and abetted in the rebellion, or help to elect a man who tried to destroy this nation. [Applause, and voice, Good.] I cannot hesitate for one moment, and so I am here to recommend harmony about this matter, on the part of the Republican party. I believe that under the control of the Republican party this nation is safe. I believe that we may as well surrender the government to the Republicans as to the Democratic party [applause]. The rebels will control the party organization and compose the majority. I have some personal preferences about this matter, but I intend to sink every personal consideration to assist in putting the Republican party again into power, and if it makes a fool of itself it is its fault. [Laughter and applause.] I cannot bear the thought of putting the control of this government into the hands of men who, in 1864, in solemn convention declared that it was wrong to attempt to put down the rebellion. [Applause.] Therefore, gentlemen, I am with you in this fight. [Applause.] I have nothing to expect myself; my course is nearly that of God Almighty; I will permit me to live long enough to contribute all in my power to put the party in power again that saved the country. [Loud applause.]

The famous comet of 1843 is making the grand rounds again, and is expected to illuminate the Presidential canvass this summer. In 1106 it shone with a brightness which equaled the sun itself; in 1402 it was so brilliant as to be visible at noonday; in 1454 it is said to have eclipsed the moon; in 1749 it inspired with terror the unlettered throughout the world, and in 1843 it gave aid and comfort to the Millersites, assisting to alarm those who heeded their predictions of the speedy destruction of the world by fire. Should it return this year with its accustomed style, it may be expected to so conduct itself as to create a profound sensation.

The interesting youth who has just been arrested in New Hampshire for outraging and murdering his uncle's wife is another product of dime novels and flash newspapers. He is said to have been an incessant reader of that department of literature. It is not about time that Missouri followed the example of Georgia and Canada in suppressing at least the public sale of publications as bad in some essential respects as the technically obscene works which are already prohibited?

The career of Dr. Brandreth, who died in New York recently, was a vivid illustration of what may be accomplished by energy and perseverance. More than fifty years ago he landed in New York a poor boy, who had left his English home to seek his fortune in the New World. A few days after his arrival he found that he would soon be without a penny. He had in his possession certain recipes for medicines which had attained some local celebrity in the section of England from which he emigrated and purchasing the necessary materials from one of them a lot of pills which he peddled about in boxes. The pills found a ready sale and now "Brandreth's Pills" are one of the best known "patent" medicines. Dr. Brandreth attributed much of his great success to liberal advertising, which he estimated not long ago had cost $1,000,000.

The new Senator from Virginia seems to regard himself a baronial lord of a chap, a highland chief, an imperial personage, or something of that kind. He has the stupendous egotism to register himself when arriving at a Washington hotel as simply "Malheur."

THE Chicago Times published a few days ago one hundred and eighty-five special telegrams from eleven North-western States, giving an estimate of the yield of winter wheat this year.

If the figures are trustworthy, and if reasonably fair weather prevail, the increase in the yield over the large yield of last year will be about sixty per cent. This depends, however, on the weather of the next month, as a severe frost on fields bare of snow might produce disastrous results.

The abandonment of the Fitz John Porter case by the Democrats because of the fear of an adverse effect upon their party; their persistent refusal to do anything with the tariff, although one of the planks in the St. Louis platform was a stringent declaration for tariff reform, and their rumored intention to declare that eight hours' work shall receive ten hours pay, stamps them as a cowardly set of demagogues. We have more respect for the "Pickburns, with their sulphurous "Whipping out" policy, than this nerveless, don'ting, two-faced insincerity.

To settle a dispute between some of the SENTINEL readers we state that the rank of Major-General was the highest in the career of the United States prior to the late war. Gen. Washington held the rank, of Lieutenant-General but it died with him. Gen. Scott was complimented with the rank of brevet Lieutenant General. Gen. Grant was appointed Lieutenant General, March 23 1861, and was raised to the rank of General, July 26th 1866. Sherman succeeded Grant as Lieutenant General. When the latter became president, Sherman was made General and Sheridan Lieutenant General. When Sherman retired, as he proposes to do in 1882, then Sheridan, if he lives, will become General and Hancock will probably become Lieutenant General.

The Republican State Convention of Rhode Island was held on the 18th inst., and elected a full set (eight) of Blaine delegates to the Chicago convention.

Colonel Forney's Progress is responsible for the statement that the following epitaph is copied from a tomb near Versailles: "Except in 1859, during which for several days she took lessons on the piano, her life was without stain."

We can recommend our readers to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in all cases of Coughs, etc. It cost only 25 cents a bottle and is warranted to cure.

Four of Brigham Young's widows have remarried. Saved From The Poorhouse. For years David Allingworth suffered with Rheumatism, and notwithstanding the best medical attendance, could not find relief. He came to the Scioa County Poorhouse, and had to be carried into and out of bed, on account of his helpless condition. After the failure of all the remedies which had been applied, the Directors of the Poorhouse resolved to use the celebrated German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, and this was a fortunate resolution; for, with the trial of one bottle, the patient was already much better, and when four bottles had been used upon him, he could again walk with about the use of a cane.

The fact as above stated, will be verified by the Editor of the Portsmouth Ohio, Correspondent. Poor Benedict Arnold: he didn't live long enough to be reinstated with full rank and back pay. He was born too early and died too soon.

Employment For Ladies. The Queen City Suspenders Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, is now manufacturing and introducing their new Stocking Supporters for Ladies and Children and their Unusually Skirt Suspenders. These articles are made in the most perfect manner, and are of the highest quality. They are made in the most perfect manner, and are of the highest quality. They are made in the most perfect manner, and are of the highest quality.

Q. What was one of the reasons assigned for passing the ordinance of secession? A. One of the reasons was that most of the Northern States had failed to fulfill their constitutional obligations in the rendition of fugitives from service. Q. What was another reason which had great weight with the Southern people? A. That Iowa and Ohio refused to surrender fugitives from justice, charged with murder and other offenses, and to receive them into their territory. Q. What was the chief reason? A. The danger to the rights of the States that was to be drafted from the States of the Southern States by the Republican party. Q. Was the proclamation issued by President Lincoln, January 1, 1863, in accordance with the Constitution which the Northern States were professing to support? A. It was not.

Q. What did Mr. Lincoln expect to accomplish by this proclamation? A. He expected to weaken the power of the Confederate States by holding out to the negroes the promise of freedom, and thus causing them to become the enemies of their masters. Q. What was the object of the raid of Kipatrick and Baldwin in Virginia? A. Their object was to surprise Richmond, enter the city, then release the Federal prisoners, and leave them to burn the city and kill the Confederate President and Cabinet. Q. What was the design of the fourteenth amendment? A. Its design was to make citizens of negroes, and to give them the same civil disabilities on which every man in the Southern States who had ever before the war held any office of honor or trust, either Federal or State. Q. Of what were the Republican members of Congress guilty? A. In attempting to compel the Southern States to ratify the fourteenth amendment they were guilty of making war upon the only Constitution, but also the Union, for the preservation of which they had waged a four years' war. Q. When the Southern States refused to ratify the fourteenth amendment, as they had a perfect right to do under the Constitution, what was done by the Republican majority in Congress? They declared that the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas were in a State of rebellion, and divided them into five military districts, each governed by an officer of the Federal Army. Q. What was done under the revolutionary reconstruction measures? A. New conventions were called in the ten Southern States. Q. What was the most outrageous feature of the reconstruction measures? A. The disfranchisement of thousands of the white race in each of the ten Southern States and the conferring of unlimited suffrage on the negro race. Q. To what do the States of Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, Texas and South Carolina owe their prosperity? A. To the fact that the white population in those States are largely in excess of the negro population, and hence their State Governments are entirely in the hands of the whites, the only race that ought to bear rule in this country.

FORD & SMITH, FOREST CITY, MO. SPRING STOCK. We have just received a large invoice of Merchandise suitable for Spring Trade, consisting of every variety of goods usually kept in a first-class store. We call Special Attention to our Line of AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. We will mention only those best known to the trade: Weir Plows, Brown Corn Planters, Studebaker Wagons. With a view to the accommodation of the trade we will keep our stock well assorted. Respectfully inviting our friends and customers to call and examine our stock, we remain Very Respectfully, FORD & SMITH, FOREST CITY, MO.

Something New! SCHULTE BROS. Now have the Largest and Finest Stock of CLOTHING. THEY EVER HAD. Parties wishing to purchase are solicited to examine our goods and learn Prices. Schulte Brothers, West Side of Public Square, OREGON, MO.

Buy Your Dry Goods NOW! THEY WILL BE HIGHER, HIGHER. R. P. ZOOK & CO., FOREST CITY, MO. Have decided to clear their shelves before laying in their spring stock and are offering their stock of Cotton, Woolen and Linen Goods at the very lowest possible price. Never in the history of the Dry Goods Trade have the markets shown such strength in all the departments.

COTTON GOODS ARE HIGHER. WOOLEN GOODS ARE HIGHER. LINEN GOODS ARE HIGHER. And there is no telling how high they may go. Customers can rely on Buying their Goods at Lower Prices now than Later. Our prices are still very low and we shall be pleased to have our friends and customers avail themselves of the opportunity to buy now before they are higher. R. P. Zook & CO., Forest City, Mo.

MAYFIELD WATER ELEVATOR AND PURIFIER. (Patented September 29, 1871.) It is the simplest structure for raising water on the highest hills. It is easily adjusted to any height or distance. Any person can put one up in half an hour, and it has no attachments to any part of the well or the platform. Every Chain is Tested. The motor has no strain, except the weight of the water in the cylinder. The complete chain and pulley are guaranteed after construction, it never breaks. It is the only reliable structure of the kind. It is the only reliable structure of the kind. It is the only reliable structure of the kind.

Agents Wanted MOODY'S Over 850 Large OCTAVO PAGES. NEW 16 Full-Page SERMONS. For only $2.50. This grand volume contains MR. MOODY'S Sermons, delivered in Cleveland and St. Louis, the results of two years hard study. They are all new and never before published. THEY CAN BE OBTAINED EVERYWHERE. For a copy send a rapid sale everywhere for this work. Our terms are unequalled; only $2.50 a copy, and the best of the best. Catalogue and address for Circular. J. E. ASHCROFT, No. 8, GILBERT ST. N. Y.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS IN A GREEN-HOUSE AT YOUR DOOR. We will send you a Green-House, complete with all the necessary apparatus, for only $10.00. It will grow all the flowers you desire, and it will save you the trouble of going to the greenhouse. It is the only reliable structure of the kind. It is the only reliable structure of the kind. It is the only reliable structure of the kind.

Frazer & McDonald BANK. FOREST CITY, MISSOURI. FORECASTS a general banking business. It sells exchange on the chief cities of the United States and Europe. Allows interest on deposits when left a specified time. Collections made in all parts of the country. B. B. FLAZER, President. D. McDONALD, Cashier.

THE CRAIG NURSERIES. I would respectfully inform the public generally that I have purchased of the Stone estate, a location for a Fruit Tree Nursery. This land is well suited for the purpose, and is the best for the healthy growth and early maturity of nursery stock that can be obtained in this country. Having permanently located here I intend working for the interest of the people as well as myself. I will grow fruit trees, vines, shrubs, etc., and will make low prices, growing them in the open air, and will give satisfaction. I refer to any of my old customers. Final Settlement. All creditors and others interested in the estate of Jacob Craig, deceased, are notified that the undersigned administrator of said estate intends to make final settlement of said estate at the next term of the Probate Court of Holt county, Mo., to be held at Oregon, in said county, on the 30th day of February, 1860. J. H. HAWKINS, Public Administrator.

Not Dead BUT STILL LIVING. OREGON TRANSFER AND EXPRESS LINE. To the public I would say that I am still in the field and ready at all times to accommodate my patrons. Anything entrusted to my care will be promptly attended to. Come on With Your Orders HENRY MOLTZER, Proprietor. A. B. KNOWLES, ATTORNEY AT LAW, OREGON, MISSOURI. Will Practice in all Courts. Real Estate business a Collections promptly attended to.

J. Foster Marshall, REAL ESTATE, LOANING AGENT, AND NOTARY PUBLIC. Money to Loan on Improved Farms for a term of Years at a LOW RATE OF INTEREST. CAN PAY OFF NOTE WHEN DESIRED. Parties having improved farms for sale, will find it to their advantage by placing the same in my hands, I am constantly having applications for improved farms. Leave description and price. Office over Schulte Brothers Store, OREGON, MO. GARDNER BROS., AGENTS FOR THE STUART-SINGER SEWING MACHINES. PRICE. $30.00, $35.00, $40.00. With all the Attachments. All Machines warranted for Three Years. We repair all kinds of Machines and warrant our work for one year. We sell all kinds of parts to Sewing Machines and keep all kinds of Needles. Old Machines taken in exchange for new ones. GARDNER BROS., AT SCHULTE BROTHERS STORE, OREGON, MO. H. NAVILLE, M. D., OFFICE OVER T. S. HINDEN DRUG STORE, OREGON, MO. GONORRHOEAS A SPECIALTY. Office—Hawkins from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Consultation at office, free. TIME IS MONEY! KUNZEL'S IMPROVED Washing Machine. IT RECOMMENDS itself because it will not tear or rip the most tender fabric. Does not pull off or break buttons. You can wash in the parlor, kitchen or cellar without splashing the water. The water in the machine is entirely closed up and the steam will not escape, consequently the water will remain hot and longer than in any other tub. The machine is so arranged that it can be set into a common No. 12-tub, and is the most durable machine in existence. You would not do without it for ten times its cost after trying it. All machines are warranted for one year. It is the only right-angle machine in existence, the right-angle being working on the same principle as in washing by hand. It will wash one piece of cloth with a small amount of water, or five or six shirts, 1 blanket, 1 quilt, or its equivalent, with as much water as you choose. Price of machine, $25. Agents Wanted, to whom liberal discounts will be made. The money most invariably secured. Territory for sale. Don't miss this opportunity. For a circular, to whom all communications should be addressed. OREGON, HOIT COUNTY, MO.