—One day, says a six year old daughter, I went into the parlor and creeped under a sofa, and there wasn't holody there. They don't let does nor children go in the narior at hotels, and I think its real mean—and I had, to creep under the sofa, so nobody could see me; and Mr. Boyce came in, and Miss Jackson she said one day that children was worse nutsance than dogs. And Mr. Boyce and Miss Jackson came in and sat down on the sofa, and he said, "Oh, Louisa, I do love you so much," and then he kissed her. I heard it smack. And then she said, "O, Thomas, I do wish I could believe you; don't you pever kiss anybody else?" and he said, "No, deares," and I yelled out, "O, what a big story, for I saw him kiss Bessie Nettle's nurse in flie hall, one night, when the gas was tarned down." Didn't he jump up, you but—and he pulled me out and tore my frock, and said, "O, you wicked child, where do you expect to go when you sie."

There is one fact that is suffient to settle this question of power in the minds af all voters who stand 'ky the Constitution as a republican document. It is this: In nearly half the States citizens are not yet free: in their political action and in the expression of political opinion. In nearly half the States of the Union a "Republican" is still in contempt, and ostracised politic by and often socially. As long as that so the Government cannot safely be turned over to a party that will perpetuate this unconstitutional state of things.

The Platform, in most of i's planks, is a most excellent one; but no one-

The demand for "honest money," when they marry for beauty, or for talent, or style; the sweetest wives are those who possess the magic secret of being and after incorporating the Greenback heresies in numerous State platforms; the declaration for a free ballot, in view of the White Leaguers and Ritle Brigades of the South; the denunciation of troops at the polls, considering these same White Leaguers; and the congratulation of the country upon the return of good times which have been achieved solely by the Republicans and against the fierce opposition of the Democrats, - all these are well calculated to provoke a smile from every one who has kept the run of party maneuvers. The Devil claiming credit for the salvation of mankind would not present a more absurd picture. THE PLATFORM.

The Democrats of the United States in convention assembled declars: First-We pledge ourselves anew to the constitutional doctrines and tradinons of the Democratic party as 1:lusrated by the teaching and example of a long line of Democratic stancesmen and patriots and embodied in the platform of the last national convention of Second-Opposition to centralization

Fourth-The right to a free ballot is a right preservative of all right, and must and shall be maintained in every part of the United States.

Fifth-The existing administration is the representative of a conspiracy only, and its claim of right to surround the ballot-boxes with troops and deputy marshals to intimidate and obstruct the electors and the unprecedented use of the veto to inzintain its corrupt and despotic power, insults the people and im-perils their institutions.

Sixth-We execrate the course of this administration in making places in the civil service a reward for political crime, and demand a reform by stat ute which shall make it forever impos-sible for a defeated candidate to bribe his way to the seat of a usurper by billeting villains upon the people.

The Democratic party, to preserve the country from the horrors of a civil war, submitted for the time, in firm and patriotic faith that the people would punish this crime in 1880. This issue precedes and dwarfs every other. It inspires a more sacred daty upon the people of the Union than ever addressed the consciences of a nation of freemen.

Only fools underrate the strength of was, under the existing circumstances, a great, good, lucky piece of fortune to the Republican party. The nomin-ation of Grant meant an open Republian rebellion: that of Blaine handicapped race and certain defeat ; that of Sherman the certain loss of New York; that of Edmunds the apathy and discontent of the west and the machine. But Garfield means union and harmony. Garfield means the entire Republican partisan vote, Garfield means Ohio. Garfield means the hearty support of the Hay es administration.
