Negroes Kill Each Other.

A dual killing at Bolinger is the result of a moonshine party and a personal grudge of long standing, and John McDonald, aged thirty-five, and Son Jenkins (Dooley), aged twenty, (both negroes) are the dead.

It is reported that John, who has long been a kind of bully among his own people, was the cause of a renewal of the quarrel at a supper Saturday night, which led up to the killing Sunday at 12:30 at Bolinger. According to reports, John advanced on the other negro and, throwing his gun on him, demanded that he (Son) hand over his gun, and to hasten matters, or make his threat more impressive, fired a shot over Son's head. Son pulled out his gun, but instead of handing it over he began shooting. Both pistols were emptied and then the two grappled, fighting until both fell. Son died immediately, John dying about 15 minutes later, never regaining consciousness.

Fourteen Deer Brought In.

The Banner has heretofore given pretty faithful accounts of the big game hunt in Pointe Coupee Parish, joined in by sportsmen of Bossier and Caddo parishes and enjoyed the first two weeks of December, but additional information is gleaned from an article contributed by Sheriff Adair for last week's issue, but which was crowded out. As a list of those taking part in the hunt has already appeared in the Banner, their names are not given.

It is to be learned from Mr. Adair's contribution that the party left Shreveport aboard a special coach on the night of the 2d, taking along every thing necessary to make the hunt a success, including a pack of thirty-four hounds to run deer, and in camp they were waited on by seven negroes. The trip was made over the T. and P. as far as Melville and at that place the party boarded trucks for a 17-mile run down the Atchafalaya River to the camp site, on the Little Alabama River. Mr. Adair says this stream abounds in fine fishing and that good water for camp use was to be had in plenty.

According to Mr. Adair, "The final result of the hunt was fourteen deer brought into camp and two others killed that were found dead in the woods; also, one catamount was bagged." He closes his contribution by saying:

"It was a most delightful trip. Not a word of discord was heard to mar the pleasure of anyone. Everything was as if it was ordered to be." And elsewhere he thanks the owners of the property made use of as a camp site, Mr. Henry Sherbourne and Mr. Barber, who joined in the hunt, and other residents of the section who freely visited the car, rendering valuable service in acting as guides, etc. All of them were exceptionally courteous and kind. Mr. Adair says

Your 1918 War Savings Stamps.

War Savings Certificates of the 1918 Series, held by residents of the Dallas, Texas, district in amounts totaling about $100,000,000 mature for paying January 1st at the rate of $5 for each 1918 Series War Savings Stamp affixed.

The privilege of immediately exchanging their holdings of 1918 War Savings Stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates of the Series, 1923, or the cashing of them as of January 1st is given owners by the Treasury Department, according to announcement made by Dinsmore W. Hume, federal savings director, whose headquarters are in the Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas.

The stamps of the 1918 series, affixed to 1918 Series War Savings Certificates, should now be presented to money order postoffices, banks, federal reserve banks or their branches for payment as of January 1st, or in immediate exchange for 1923 Series Treasury Savings Certificates, the director points out.

Owners are requested to ask their postmasters or bankers for detailed information and the proper forms (P. D. 750) which accompany surrendered 1918 Series War Savings Stamps.

The Securities for which these stamps may be exchanged are Treasury Savings Certificates issued in (maturity value) denominations of $25, $100 and $1000, the cost of which is $20.50, $82 and $820, respectively, all of which are obtainable at postoffices. When issued they are automatically registered in the owner's name against any form of loss or depreciation. They yield a total of about 21.95 per cent if held sixty months. They are readily convertible into cash at the owner's desire.

Exchanges will now be made as of January 1st upon applications presented between November 15th and January 15th. Immediate payment will be made in cash and of difference due the holder of War Savings Stamps if he takes the largest possible amount of Treasury Savings Certificates on the exchange. In other instances cash payments will be made as of January 1st.

Registered War Savings Stamps should be presented only to the post-office where registered.

Nearly every person in this district, including children, purchased one or more $5 War Savings Stamps during 1918. They are widely owned, Mr. Hume says. In this district children of school age alone are credited with having invested in $15,000,000 of War Savings Stamps of all issues. This saving by children was due largely to the teaching of thrift as a study in the schools.

When presenting War Savings Certificates of the 1918 series for surrender the owner should sign on the "received payment line" provided therefor, dating the surrender January 1, 1923, or date of later surrender if after that date.

One a Producer. One Dry.

Last week's drillers' report shows there were two completions in Bossier Parish during the week, one a producer, the other (in wild-cat territory) reported dry—as here given:

The Texas Company's Caplis No. 12, in section 24-16-12, is the producer brought in. It is said to be making 60 barrels of oil a day from the depth of 1500 feet.

The Standard Oil Company's Rawls No. 1, in section 15-22-11, is reported to have been abandoned at the depth of 2700 feet, having shown salt water.

Gasoline Needs of 1923.

It is estimated that there will be 13,500,000 gasoline engines in use during 1923. Figuring an average of 420 gallons of fuel a year for each, the petroleum industry will have to provide 5,670,000,000 gallons of gasoline during the twelve months beginning January 1st. At the present rate of one barrel of gasoline to four barrels of crude, this would require a crude production of 540,000,000 barrels.
