LOCAL JOTTINGS.

See the notice of the Town Assessor, in another column.

Call at the Chief office for cheap job printing, executed in the highest style of the art.

See advertisement of sale of property to be made at auction by the Sheriff on the 8th day of March.

The popular steamer Henry Tete has resumed her regular semi-weekly trips down the Bayou Lafourche.

The Police Jury Committee on Claims will hold a session at the Court-House, next Saturday, at 12 o'clock M. Persons having claims against the parish are notified to present them to the committee for approval.

We are not at all sorry to note that the building heretofore situated on the corner of Railroad Avenue and Iberville street, and used as a coffee-house, has been removed to one of the vacant lots near the railroad depot.

Yesterday was St. Valentine's day. The custom prevails here of sending valentines during an entire week, commencing with the 14th, and those who failed to dispatch one of the missives yesterday can purchase one at Wilkinson's news depot.

We call the special attention of sugar planters to the advertisement of the Southern invention, a machine for ratoon grubbing, by which a great saving of labor and time may be effected. This machine has given the most perfect satisfaction to all who have used it, and no sugar planter should be without it.

Mr. Weinschenk claims to be Mayor of Donaldsonville by virtue of a section of the Revised Statutes which provides that Executive appointments to fill unexpired terms in municipal offices are not subject to confirmation or rejection by the Senate. Mr. Weinschenk has enjoined Mr. C. F. Smith from acting as Mayor.

Right Reverend Joseph P. B. Wilmer, D. D., Bishop of Louisiana, will make his annual visitation to Ascension parish on Sunday, the 23rd inst., and services will be held at the Episcopal church, in this town, at 11 o'clock A. M. of that day. Candidates for the sacred rite of confirmation will present themselves at that time.

A movement is now on foot among the merchants and property holders of this town to organize a fire company—and there hasn't been a fire here lately, either! The enterprise is meritorious and should prove a success. Insurance rates upon property in Donaldsonville are enormously high, and the organization of a fire company will tend to reduce them nearly, if not quite, one-half.

Johnson's Novelty Circus is spoken of by the press in all sections of country it has visited as one of the best institutions of the kind traveling. It makes no pretensions to grandeur or great outdoor display, but the members of the troupe have all been selected for their superiority in their respective fortes, while the trained animals are the wonder of the arena. The Johnson company will be here in a few days, and all who would witness an entertainment of the highest order of merit are recommended to attend their exhibition.

FRUIT TREES, ETC.—A gentleman with a large and well assorted stock of fruit trees, etc., cultivated in France, is now in town, making his headquarters at the store of Mr. Blumenthal, Esq., on Mississippi street, where he will remain but a few days. His collection comprises pear, apple, apricot and other fruit trees and such bulbous roots as camellia, rhododendron, paronia, new monthly rose trees, etc. These trees and plants are for sale at very reasonable prices, and persons desiring to purchase can not find better opportunity than now.

Horse thieves are about, and owners of stock should keep a sharp lookout for the rascals. A horse belonging to Mr. Alexander Hull was taken from the yard of Mr. Ant. Rodriguez, Wednesday evening, and another, belonging to Mr. Frank Sharp, from the vacant lot adjoining the Court-House, Thursday evening. A reward of $50 secured the return of the former animal, while Mr. Sharp recovered his property by a prompt pursuit of the thief, whom he discovered about twenty miles down the river and captured. The rogue has been lodged in jail.

THE ST. JAMES ELECTION.—The special election for a State Senator, held in St. James parish on the 1st inst., simultaneously with the election in this parish, was as quietly conducted as our own, and the result was far more satisfactory. We give herewith the detailed returns, as furnished us by Mr. H. L. Tureaud, Supervisor of Registration of St. James:

POLLS NOS. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.
Geo. E. Bovee, 22 29 133 78 74 13 116 38
Jesse Keyes, 22 13 3 4 8 12 3 —
Total, Bovee 528, Keyes 155.

Thus, Mr. Bovee's total vote in the district foots up 680, and Mr. Keyes' but 355, the former's majority being 325.

There is no article more useful in a household than a good sewing machine, and there is no sewing machine superior to the celebrated "Singer." The latest patent of this machine combines all the modern improvements, and for simplicity of construction and the excellence of its work it is unequalled. L. A. Roussel, Esq., agent of the New Orleans S. M. Agency of Wm. E. Cooper & Co., will arrive in Donaldsonville in the course of a week or so with a supply of machines, and those desiring to purchase can not secure a better article upon better terms than by applying to him.

The ball given under the auspices of eight "kings" at the D. S. C. B. Hall last Tuesday evening was a very agreeable entertainment, as all the guests in attendance will testify. A great many persons who contemplated attending were prevented from doing so by the rain which fell in the evening, but carriages were sent throughout town by the young men who formed the committee of managers, and enough young ladies were conveyed to the Hall to make the affair truly pleasant, there being neither a dearth or too great a crowd of dancers. Kings were selected for the ball of next Tuesday night, when, by the way, promises to eclipse all its predecessors. All the young people of the town and vicinity, and especially those of Catholic persuasion, are preparing to attend, and there will be but two more balls given before the Lenten season commences.

A COLLECTION.—Mr. J. S. Landry, conductor upon the daily passenger train running between this place and New Orleans, has called our attention to an error in our report of the accident of last Friday, which we take pleasure in correcting. The switch below the depot was not left open through the carelessness of a railroad employe, as we had it, for Mr. Landry examined it after the accident and found it properly locked. The displacement of the switch rail was an unaccountable occurrence, for which no one can be censured. The brakemen of the passenger train were very prompt in responding to the alarm whistle blown by the engineer as the locomotive jumped from the track, and to their rapid handling of the brakes is probably due the fact of the two passenger coaches remaining upon the track and the inmates escaping injury. Some of the passengers remained in their seats a quarter of an hour after the accident, wondering why the train had stopped.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH FAIR.

The D. S. C. B. Hall in a Blaze of Brilliance—A Successful Entertainment for a Good Object.

The Fair projected and conducted by the ladies of the Ascension Episcopal Church, of this town, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the benefit of that sanctuary, was held in the D. S. C. B. Hall Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and proved in every particular a pleasant, successful entertainment.

The doors of the Hall were thrown open to visitors about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the fact being made known by an evening air from the Silver Cornet Band, and soon quite a number of guests had assembled and were admiring the beauty of the elaborate decorations and fixtures fashioned by the fair hands of the ladies having the management of the Fair.

A BEAUTIFUL SPECTACLE.
Entering the elegant Hall Wednesday evening after dark, we were so dazzled by the brilliancy of the scene that we involuntarily paused to contemplate the general effect before examining details. The reflection of the sitting light, furnished by a score of porcelain lamps, upon the thousand and one fancy articles, decked with glass beads and spangles, which adorned the walls and tables, combined with the bright dresses and faces of the ladies mingling with the surging throng of visitors, produced a perfect vision of beauty to charm the beholder and enrapture all his senses.

THE TABLES, ETC.
If the reader will take our arm we will make a tour of the hall in company, and form the acquaintance of the ladies and gentlemen in attendance upon the numerous candy, cake, restaurant and fancy tables, etc., which abounded. The first we encounter to the right of the entrance is a cake table, presided over by Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. M. Israel and Misses Ogier and M. Hanson. After being served with a piece of palatable cake by one of these accomplished ladies, we pass on to the fancy table adjoining, where we find the Misses M. Bradford, L. Hanson, Edesie Dugas and Mrs. M. Blum surrounded by a perfect wilderness of hanging baskets, pin cushions, fans, neckties, etc., which they dispose of readily at reasonable rates. The arrangement of the articles adorning this table exhibited a great degree of fine taste, making it one of the most conspicuous in the room. Adjoining we find a candy stand under the care of Mrs. Willers, and beyond it a coffee-stand where the exhilarating beverage is dispensed by Mrs. Proffitt. Both of these ladies are very attentive, and it is a pleasure to patronize their stands. Having now reached the stage, we will retrace our steps and traverse the left side of the hall, starting from the entrance as before. First comes a fruit stand under the management of Mrs. Darrow, assisted by Misses Darrow, Kate Bradford, Jeannie and Carrie Hanson. The most tempting fruit is displayed here, and few can resist the desire to purchase from the charming ladies named. Next in order is the voting table, above which are hanging upon the wall three beautiful framed pictures, "Faith," "Hope" and "Charity," which are to be awarded to the young lady receiving the highest number of the votes in the little ballot-box upon the table. Twenty-five cents is all that is asked for the privilege of casting a vote, and Misses Elmira Dillon and Faony Miller will be happy to receive the change. [Miss Billcisen was the fortunate winner of these handsome pictures.] Continuous to the voting table is a "fish pond," the banks of which are adorned with evergreen. Miss Billcisen takes your dimes and baits the hook. You land a toy of some kind on the shore, pocket it, and walk on. Now we come to the fancy table under the care of Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Miss Dillon, wife and daughter of the beloved pastor of the Episcopal Church. This table presents a charming appearance, and chiefly pretty among the objects upon it is a beautiful shell cross in a glass case. This cross is a magnificent piece of workmanship, and was made by the nimble fingers of Mrs. Dillon. [By way of parenthesis, we will say that the cross is up for raffle, and as all the chances were not taken during the fair the drawing was postponed until Monday next, at Mr. Henry Loeb's store.] After passing the fancy table just mentioned, we come to the "Grand Tombollo," a lottery under the direction of Mr. C. F. Smith, in which every ticket draws a prize. In the centre of the hall is an evergreen fortune tree, under whose spreading branches sit those handsome and agreeable young ladies Misses Celine Dugas and Harriet Levy, ready at all times to dispose of the fruit of their tree to all who feel disposed to learn their fortune! We have now mentioned all but the restaurant tables, which are placed in the back part of the hall, near the stage. These tables are under the care of Mrs. Bailey, assisted by Misses A. and M. Gondran, the Misses Blumenthal, Misses Mollere, Misses S. L. Hanson, Ruth Miller, and others, while the roast turkey, pig, etc., is carved by Messrs. J. J. Claverie and Henry Loeb. Numerous young ladies with laces for the raffle of various articles, from pin cushions to sewing machines, mingle with the crowd of visitors and solicit names for their lists. Among these we notice Misses Helen Gungry, Emma Sharp, and Rosa Behler. Finally, we notice the bar, situated in the little room to the left of the front entrance, and efficiently presided over by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rose.

WEDNESDAY'S ENTERTAINMENT closed at midnight, and the guests repaired to their homes in happy moods, filled with recollections of the evening's pleasure and anticipations of its continuance on the morrow. On THURSDAY the fair opened at 4 P. M., and this time it was the Ascension Brass Band whose fine music gave notice of the opening. The scenes of the previous evening were repeated, the number of visitors being still greater. The tables all did good business, while raffles flourished. A rather curious incident came to our notice: a Jewish rabbi, with a Catholic lady on his arm, promenade the hall at this Episcopal Fair, soliciting subscriptions to a raffle of two tickets to Heaven! What a beautiful spirit of religious tolerance and brotherhood was here personified! At 10 o'clock P. M. the floor was cleared for

A DANCE, the string band of the D. S. C. B. appeared upon the stage and struck up the music, and for two hours the tripping of light fantastic toes continued almost without intermission. At midnight the music stopped, the guests reluctantly departed, and the Fair was over. A more agreeable or a better conducted entertainment has never been given here, and we rejoice that it was so successful. We can not now give the exact amount of money realized, but it is considerable, and fully equal to the most sanguine expectations of the projectors.

On Friday the "Tombollo" was drawn, and various articles not disposed of during the Fair were sold at auction, bringing, for the most part, very fair prices.

THE OCEANIC FAIR.—The fair to be given under the auspices of the Sisters of the St. Vincent Orphan Asylum, for the benefit of the orphaned inmates of that institution, will open in the vacant lot alongside the Catholic church next Saturday, and continue three days. The arrangements for the fair are in rapid progress, and are of such extensive character as to indicate an imposing and successful entertainment.

JOB PRINTING.—Having made arrangements with the proprietor of the Pelican Job Printing Office, New Orleans, whereby we can furnish any and all description of job work at New Orleans prices, we respectfully solicit the patronage of our friends and the public generally. None but work of the very best kind will be delivered, and the prices will be satisfactory to all. Call at the Chief office, Crescent place, and leave your orders.
